BECK GREETS METTIKI MINERS — Delegate Raymond E. Beck, Congressional candidate for the Sixth District, spent two days campaigning in Garrett County this week. His travels included a visit to Mettiki A, B, and C Mines at shift change to talk with miners. The visit was a follow-up to an underground tour of the mines in June. Monday Beck spoke to the Oakland Lions' Club about his political exchange trip to Russia. Yesterday he met with area farmers and toured the Grantsville and other northern county areas. Pictured standing, center, is Robert E. Railey, of Lakeside Realty, and right, Raymond E. Beck.

Sixth District Representative Beverly Byron was in Garrett County this week wrapping up a final campaign push through the district. Among the places she visited yesterday was Dennett Road School, where she toured the new wing for handicapped students and met with school personnel and parents of handicapped children. In the photo with Mrs. Byron is Kathy Ridder, special education teacher, and Clark Sharpless, school principal. Mrs. Byron will face Del. Ray Beck on the November 4 ballot.

Ray Beck Greets County Residents

Delegate Raymond E. Beck, Congressional candidate for the Sixth District, has spent the past two days campaigning in Garrett County.

Beck presented a lecture and slide presentation to the Oakland Lion's Club Monday night. The slide presentation illustrated his recent trip to the Soviet Union through a political exchange sponsored by the American Council of Young Political Leaders, a non-profit organization in Washington, D.C. Beck was one of ten Americans selected to participate in the one-month exchange. The purpose of the mission was to advance U.S.-Soviet relations among young political leaders, and participants attended seminars regarding that issue.

In his presentation Beck stated that "The country brainwashes the people about the real horrors of war on their own soil, so the people will readily accept the diversion of their Gross National Product toward military technology, rather than developing peaceful economic technology, which would render the country more economically self-sufficient."

Yesterday morning Beck visited the A, B and C mines at Mettiki Coal Corporation, to talk with miners during the shift change. This was a follow-up visit to an underground tour of the mines last June.

Later in the day Beck met with area farmers to discuss his efforts regarding the preservation of agricultural land and general farm issues. He then toured business establishments and residences in Grantsville.

Since the beginning of the campaign Beck has spent considerable time in Garrett County, this visit being at least his tenth multiple-day trip campaigning in the county. Beck said he visited Garrett County "many times previously, to enjoy fishing at the lake, camping opportunities at Swallow Falls and hunting in the mountains. I feel that the county has grown over the last several years' visits here, and it certainly justifies its own Congressional District office, which I pledge to initiate."

He added that the "people of Garrett County are extremely independent types who do not want to be specially considered, but want to realize their fair share of representation by the Congressional representative district."

Beck said he was "particularly impressed" as he met miners, with the "strong sense of comradery among them. They want to be a part of the country's energy future, if only the government will eliminate some regulations and get off their backs."

During a recent interview, Beck cited three of his "major disagreements" in the voting record of incumbent Beverly Byron.

Beck indicated that the United States is in a "high-stakes energy situation" and the country "ought to remain neutral" in the Middle East, "but it can't because of its energy interests." He said he believes that if the U.S. makes better use of its resources here, it could eliminate the dependency on foreign oil, and would not have to protect its interests by becoming involved in a war. He noted that Byron "voted twice to shut down millions of acres of Alaska lands for exploration for oil and other resources."

In regard to the United States budget, "Congress has only acted swiftly in voting themselves a hefty pay increase," he said. Beck stated that Byron voted three times against the pay increase, but when it was tagged to larger appropriations, "she voted for it."

Beck said he feels the "subject of Congressional pay increase should only be considered on a separate bill dealing only with that issue." He added that members of Congress "are in the top one percent wage bracket of the entire country."

Beck stated that "Byron voted with the majority of Congress to postpone a vote on the budget of the United States for 1981, so it would not be considered until after the November 4 election. The reason for this is that there is a 60 billion dollar deficit, despite an 86 billion dollar increase in taxes." He added that "after November 4, a number of legislators still in office will be voting as a 'lame duck' Congress."

Beck said he fears that some returning members of Congress who are not re-elected will be tempted to settle a few outstanding accounts before they go. He added that when they consider the budget after the election, they have nothing to lose in their vote.

Unusual Traffic Accidents Noted By State Police

A variety of unusual accidents injured several people throughout the district last week. Property damage was extensive, a deer was killed when it leaped through the window of a passing vehicle.

Michael Eugene Rhodes, Jr., 30, Oakland, reported he was traveling east on Rt. 50 Saturday afternoon when a deer leaped from the embankment of the road and landed on the hood of the Rhodes pickup truck. The deer then burst through the windshield, injuring the driver.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting Rhodes to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for facial cuts and eye injuries.

Damage to the 1980 Chevrolet C-10 was extensive.

Tfc. William Rice investigated.

A Swanton man, Elmer William Elliot, 68, and a passenger in his car, Daisy Elliot, 66, were involved in a collision on Walnut Bottom Road, near the Mt. Zion Cross Cut Road last Wednesday evening.

According to the report, the Elliot auto, a 1978 Plymouth Volare, was eastbound on Walnut Bottom Road when the driver apparently attempted to avoid an oncoming car, and left the roadway, striking a tree.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting the injured to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Cpl. Ronald Lewis investigated.

According to police, Randall Vernon Bittinger, 18, Lonaconing, was westbound on MD Rt. 135 at an apparent high rate of speed when he attempted to pass two vehicles which were also westbound.

The report further stated that Bittinger ran off the road, lost control, veered back across the highway, and struck a culvert.

Tri-Towns Rescue Squad responded, transporting the victim to Potomac Valley Hospital.

Police charged Bittinger with a speeding violation.

Tfc. William Rice investigated.

Nancy Lea Merrback, 40, Salisbury, Pa., was taken to Meyersdale Community Hospital following an accident last Friday afternoon on the Meyersdale Road, near the U.S. Rt. 40 intersection.

According to the report, the Merrback vehicle was traveling north on the Meyersdale Road when the operator became ill and drove off the left side of the highway, striking a utility pole.

Northern Rescue Squad responded to the call.

In a separate incident, Ronald Wayne Green, 20, Oakland, was traveling north on Deep Creek Drive last Saturday evening when, according to police, he failed to grant the right-of-way after stopping at a stop sign at the spur from Rt. 219. As a result, a car being driven south on Deep Creek Drive by Allen Roy Glotfelty, 23, Oakland, struck the left rear of the Green vehicle, causing it to overturn.

Police charged Green with illegal entrance to a highway after stopping at a sign.

The first snow accumulation of the season caused property damage and injury to a Deer Park man, and the parked vehicle of another resident of Deer Park last Sunday morning.

According to police, Ralph Wilson Livengood, 18, was proceeding east on MD Rt. 135 when his vehicle began sliding on the snow-covered roadway. Livengood lost control, ran off the left side of the road, and struck a parked vehicle owned by Harrison Marley Thrasher, Sr., Deer Park.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting the victim to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Livengood was charged with illegal approach to a right-of-way.

Tfc. J. E. Foley investigated.

World Community Day Service Set At Local Church

World Community Day will be celebrated by the Church Women United in the White United Methodist Church, located off of Rt. 560, on November 7. Registration will begin at 1 p.m. with the Service beginning at 1:30.

Stations of concern for hunger, health, environment, education, justice, family stability, housing, employment, human rights and peace will be featured.

Church Women United is a national, ecumenical movement of Christian women witnessing to their unity and faith in Jesus Christ through worship, study, celebration and action. Women from all Christian traditions, including Protestant, Catholic and Orthodox, participate.

The theme "The Spirit of the Lord Gives Power," was inspired by CWU's triennial Ecumenical Assembly Theme, "The Spirit of the Lord Is Upon Me." The Assembly was held last June in Los Angeles. In the midst of inflation, unemployment and international tension, church women in the nearly 2000 units of CWU throughout the country plan to pray that the power of the Spirit of God will enable them to work effectively for justice and peace in their own communities.

World Community Day was first celebrated in 1943 in the midst of World War II. This year's service, written by members of CWU in Buffalo, New York, develops this emphasis on responsible action for justice and peace.

Installation of officers will be held and gift certificates will be sold. The public is invited.

The Maryland Newsfront

News Briefs

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — A former rock music promoter remained steadfast Tuesday in efforts to get the required zoning changes for a planned country club and amphitheater on 44 acres of Baltimore County farmland.

Dennis "Dino" Smith, who has been working on the country club project since 1975, said, "I'm not giving up," even though a county zoning official denied his petition for a zoning exception to allow construction of the project near Freeland.

Smith wants to build a 2,000-seat amphitheater at a country club that would also include tennis and paddleball courts, an 18-hole golf course, picnic and hiking areas, a swimming pool and a two-story clubhouse.

EDGEWOOD, Md. (UPI) — Police found the bodies of two men and a woman in a jeep stuck in mud early Tuesday and said they may have died from carbon monoxide poisoning.

The victims were identified as Roy Lauer, 29, of White Marsh, Craig Buttion, 23, of Rosedale and Betty LuAnn Thomas, 24, of White Marsh.

The bodies were to be sent to Baltimore for an autopsy.

Police said a couple driving past Singer Park at about 1:30 a.m. noticed the four-wheel-drive vehicle stuck in mud up to its axles and called police.

A spokesman said it was possible that mud clogged the exhaust pipe, killing the three with carbon monoxide.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — David C. Daneker's nomination as the city's school board chief has breezed through the city council.

Only one dissenting voice was heard during a council hearing Monday. Councilman Kweisi Mfume voted against confirmation as a protest against the nominating process. Mfume wanted more consultation with community groups.

Daneker told the council he would try to support the back-to-basics movement that has already started to grow in Baltimore schools. He also said he would strive to improve the school system to make it easier for high school graduates to get jobs.

BEL AIR, Md. (UPI) — Two Baltimore policemen received summonses Tuesday for handgun violations in the shooting last July of a Harford County man.

The summonses were issued to Gary Dresser and James Klock, who shot and wounded Mike Molder, 32, near Molder's home July 9. Molder has been in critical condition since the shooting.

Both officers said they fired in self-defense after Molder shot at them while they were changing a flat tire. Molder was hit nine times. Neither officer was injured.

The summonses require the officers to report to court at a date to be determined later, but they have not been formally charged and will remain on active duty, a police spokesman said.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A previously convicted arsonist has been denied bail on a charge he started the fire that destroyed the former Bay College building Oct. 17.

Gene Munnings, 21, was denied bail Monday after a Central District court commissioner learned Munnings was awaiting trial on three other arson charges.

Munnings pleaded guilty last year to a charge of malicious burning for setting a fire outside his dormitory room at the University of Maryland's College Park campus.

He was arrested at his home Saturday for the Bay College fire.

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Annapolis Mayor John C. Apostol and 12 other city taxpayers have lost their attempt to change the method Anne Arundel County uses to tax property owned by city residents.

The state Court of Appeals dismissed their case Monday, saying Apostol and the others made the issue moot by paying the disputed taxes while the case was pending.

The tax protestors, including the city's five aldermen, claimed the county should have reduced its property tax rate within Annapolis because the city provided public services, such as trash collection and police protection, that the county would otherwise have to provide.

Group Protests State Hospitals Medication, Care

BALTIMORE (UPI) — An advocacy group has filed suit calling for a halt to unwarranted seclusion and capricious use of medicine involving mentally retarded persons housed in state hospitals.

The Maryland Advocacy Unit for the Developmentally Disabled charges the state Department of Health and Mental Hygiene with failing to determine the needs of retarded persons and neglecting to provide programs to meet those needs. The suit asks the state to correct its actions by providing proper treatment "in the least restrictive environment as required by federal and state law."

Specifically, the state has erred by not providing community-based centers and instead expanding the Crownsville State Hospital and other institutions, the suit alleged.

"... the health department's decision to turn Phillips Building at Crownsville into a 100-bed institution for the mentally retarded before they had been evaluated (has) condemned at least 100 of them to remain institutionalized," said Winifred DePalma, a lawyer for the advocacy group.

State inaction has kept all but five of 300 persons earlier ordered removed from institutions in confinement, the suit states.

It also contends Herman Allen, a 31-year-old Baltimore resident, has been given several "mind-altering" drugs without medical basis. The group charges Allen has also been kept secluded "because there is not enough staff to calm him down."

Dr. Stanley R. Platman, an assistant secretary in charge of the mentally retarded, Tuesday confirmed the state has moved only six mentally retarded persons out of confinement. But he noted the Maryland Legislature allocated only $382,000 for such transfers and, "It takes time to develop programs for these people.

"You have to remember a number of these people have been in there for 10 or 20 or 30 years. We received only limited funds, and we chose to place only those people who needed the least supervision. That's what we're being criticized for."

Another 16 retarded persons will be removed from confinement "in five or six weeks," Platman said, and another 52 by June, 1981.

He declined comment on the Allen situation, saying staffers are "looking into the individual allegations now."

How to spend without worry.

Buying the things you want makes you feel good. But spending that "little extra" you should be saving makes you feel guilty. And you worry.

One answer is to buy U.S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Savings Plan. They'll take out that "little extra" from each paycheck for Bonds.

You're automatically saving the amount you want to save, without ever seeing it. So you can't spend it. You won't even miss it. But you can spend what's left of your pay (after bills) without feeling guilty. Without worry.

Take stock in America.

Anderson Workers Carry On Despite Failing Support

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Five weeks ago, on the afternoon of the first presidential debate, organizers at the Baltimore Anderson-for-President office were sky high, working at a fever pitch readying for their man's big chance.

On Tuesday, however, with the second debate far from the Baltimore Convention Center, it was business as usual for the young Anderson workers. The Cleveland debate would not include the independent candidate, whose support in national polls has fallen to about 10 percent.

There were no rallies to organize, no Secret Service agents to deal with, nothing to do but make fund-raising phone calls and pass out brochures on downtown corners.

Still, the campaigners continued to plug away and if the mood in the office was quiet pursuit of the work at hand, no one at the Baltimore office would admit defeat.

Coordinator Olivia Dorn remembered the scene a month ago when Anderson met Republican candidate Ronald Reagan in a debate sponsored by the League of Women Voters.

"Oh, it was really exciting that week. There was tremendous enthusiasm," she said.

In the office hung a poster that said, "Polls are like bikinis, what they reveal is important — but what they conceal is vital." And Ms. Dorn spoke of the undecided vote and the "soft" support of the other two candidates.

"The enthusiasm is still here," she said. "I still have this fantasy of waking up on the morning of Nov. 5 and finding Anderson the winner."

Three volunteers quietly packed brochures into carry bags, heading for the posh Harborplace development.

"We haven't really been given a chance," said volunteer Rob Kaiser, a 23-year-old Duke graduate.

"The press has been hostile, and we have this damn catch-22 syndrome at work," he said.

Kaiser handed a brochure to a well-dressed young woman who was at Harborplace to eat lunch. Catch-22 was suddenly more than a phrase.

"I'd vote for Anderson if I thought he could win," the woman told Kaiser. "But I guess I'll have to vote for Carter."

"But if everyone who thought that way would vote Anderson, things could be different," Kaiser replied.

"Well, I'm not everyone. And I'm scared of Reagan," she said, hustling off to lunch.

Sherry Swindler of Falls Church, Va., told Kaiser she had her mind made up to vote for Anderson ever since he started his independent run.

"I should have voted for Ford last time, but I voted for Carter. I won't make that mistake again," she said. "I think we need someone with experience running the government and Anderson has the experience. But, no, I don't think he'll win."

An elderly man in a business suit refused to let Kaiser hand him an Anderson brochure. "I'm for Reagan," he said.

When asked why, the man replied, "I'm voting for everyone who's out and against everybody who's in."

Highway Study

mated $5.7 million. Consultants labeled this section as "having the poorest pavement and road conditions of any state highway in the county."

—Glendale Road bridge and Glendale Road from U. S. 219 to Beckman Peninsula Road, with a combined cost estimate of $6.1 million.

—Right of way acquisition for a U. S. 219 by-pass at Oakland, with acquisition costs estimated at $700,000.

Consultants recommended improvements to the following highways, but said implementation is not needed for five to ten years:

—U. S. 219 bridge at Deep Creek Lake, at an estimated cost of approximately $8 million.

—U. S. 219 by-pass of Oakland at an estimated cost of approximately $4.4 million.

—Chestnut Ridge/New Germany Road from U. S. 48 to Twin Churches Road, at an estimated cost of approximately $3.2 million.

—MD 135 from U. S. 219 to Sand Flat Road, with a cost estimate of approximately $9.9 million.

—MD 826A from U. S. 219 to MD 135 with a cost estimate of approximately $440,000.

Meanwhile, the study also concluded that there "may be a need" for some rail spur track construction in the southeast part of the county to serve new deep coal mines, but that such construction would likely be done privately.

The report also noted that existing passenger rail service to the county does not provide convenient access. But if energy constraints become tighter, improved rail service from Baltimore and Washington "could become an important factor in sustaining the county's recreation industry," the consultants add.

The transportation study was based on projected 65 to 85 percent employment opportunity growth in the county from 1978 levels by the year 2000 and a 38 to 49 percent population increase in the county during the same period.

Rep. Bauman Is Gaining In Race With Dem. Challenger

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Republican Rep. Robert E. Bauman, forced by a sex scandal to fight for his political life, is gaining on his Democratic opponent and Democratic Rep. Clarence Long is easily outdistancing his GOP challenger, polls released Tuesday show.

A poll of 200 registered voters in the first congressional district, commissioned by WJZ-TV in Baltimore and WDVM-TV in Washington, showed Bauman trailing Delegate Royden Dyson, D-St. Mary's, by 15 percent, am improvement from an Oct. 8 poll by the stations that showed Dyson leading by 22 percent.

Bauman, a conservative Republican, pleaded innocent earlier this month to sex solicitation charges involving a 16-year-old boy and blamed his "homosexual tendencies" on alcoholism.

Poll results indicate Dyson would receive 43 percent of the votes if the election were held now, a decline from 51 percent on Oct. 8.

Twenty-nine percent said they were undecided, an increase from 21 percent in the previous survey.

Only 3 percent of those preferring Dyson named Bauman's personal problems as the reason.

Ninety-five percent of the 200 voters surveyed said they knew about Bauman's personal problems, a 5 percent increase from the earlier poll. Of those who had heard about the scandal, 30 percent said Baumann should withdraw from the race compared to 40 percent in the earlier poll.

Forty-five percent of Bauman's supporters said they would do so because of his experience. Other reasons cited were his stand on the issues, his party affiliation and sympathy for his personal problems.

Twenty-six percent of Dyson's supporters said they would vote for him because of his stand on issues. The others said they oppose Bauman or favor the Democratic party.

Long, seeking re-election in the 2nd Congressional District, appears to be in less trouble than Bauman.

A Baltimore Sun poll of 400 voters, surveyed from Oct. 9 to Oct. 19, showed Long with 64 percent to 30 percent for Republican Helen Delich Bentley. Six percent were undecided.

Long led in every category except among Republicans, who gave Mrs. Bentley a 63-32 advantage. But Long led among women, men, high-income, low-income, Jewish, Catholic, Protestant and Democratic voters,

His biggest advatange came with voters whose incomes were lower than $15,000 a year, who favored him by 80 percent to 11 percent.

Voters interviewed after they participated in the poll said they made up their minds early in the campaign and did not intend to change.

The poll showed that Mrs. Bentley has not attracted voters with her stand in favor of dredging the Baltimore harbor and dumping the spoil at Hart and Miller islands. She has campaigned hard against Long's opposition to the project, which he said could harm the environment.

Mrs. Bentley also has received no significant support from women and has not drawn as many people in the $30,000 a year and up income category as observers had expected, the poll showed.

Long survived the toughest primary fight of his political career this spring when he defeated Delegate Thomas Kernan, D-Baltimore County, by a 57-39 percent margain.

Program For Combating Drug Abuse Expanding

A major expansion in Drug Abuse Prevention programming for the State is now possible because of a grant from the National Institute on Drug Abuse.

Richard L. Hamilton, Director of the Drug Abuse Administration of the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, made the announcement during the State's observance of Drug Abuse Prevention Week proclaimed by Governor Hughes.

Under the new program community Drug Abuse Prevention Seminars will be conducted throughout the State. Three Maryland Counties—Anne Arundel, Howard and Washington—have already experienced success with them, said Director Hamilton.

This Community approach is based on a team concept of local officials, agencies, parents and families meeting to assess their needs, resources, and develop an action plan to combat drug problems within their own community. In addition to providing funds for the seminars, money will be made available to provide new prevention services to the elderly, women, minorities and high risk groups under the age of 18.

The major theme during the week of October 21-28, 1980, was that "Prevention is Everybody's Job." The campaign has three objectives: to increase awareness by the general public that drug abuse can be prevented; to remind persons who are involved with youth of their role in drug abuse prevention; and to explain to concerned individuals, parents, other family members, friends, neighbors, employers and other young persons—that they too can help stop drug abuse before it starts.

"Prevention is being proactive, if children grow with love and security, they can express themselves freely, are realistic, yet optimistic about their abilities, they probably will never become involved with drugs," states James A. Dorsey, Chief of the Administration's Prevention Division.

A checklist for parents suggests that the following will help a young person to avoid drug abuse:

*Provide love and affection as the child grows;

*Be consistent and fair with discipline;

*Open channels for feelings and thoughts;

*Offer opportunities for successful experiences at home and at school;

*Provide a stable family atmosphere;

*Be tolerant of mistakes;

*Set examples for proper adult drug and alcohol attitudes and behavior;

*Supply accurate information on drugs and other topics about which the children may be concerned.

A series of pamphlets explaining drug abuse prevention are available free by writing:

Republicans Label President Carter As Mean, Vicious

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Jimmy Carter has waged a vicious campaign, has unfairly labeled Ronald Reagan as a warmonger, and has hidden the real issue of the campaign, his own record, Maryland Republicans charged Tuesday.

"You always hear what a nice man Jimmy Carter is, that he's a decent man," said Prince George's County Executive Lawrence Hogan. "Well, he's not a nice man!

"He's a vicious, mean and ugly man. The kind of campaign he is conducting is vicious," said Hogan, one of 10 Republican officeholders who joined state party Chairman Allan C. Levey in what they called a "truth squad" concerning the presidential election.

The GOP group, including five state senators, three state delegates and two county executives, plans to take its anti-Carter campaign on the road Thursday and Friday through seven Maryland counties where the GOP has the greatest likelihood of turning out a large pro-Reagan vote.

"You go where the ducks are," said Hogan, referring to the GOP stops in Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties on Thursday, and in Montgomery, Prince George's and Baltimore counties on Friday.

"We could spend probably every waking hour in (heavily Democratic) Baltimore city between now and election day, and we probably still wouldn't carry it," Hogan said.

Hogan, who was the most vehement in his attack on the president's performance in office and in the campaign, said, "Carter is indicating his desperation by stooping to the lowest kind of mudslinging. I think the people are going to be revolted by it and it'll show up on election day."

Other members of the GOP campaign group were: Sens. John Cade and Aris Allen, both R-Anne Arundel; Edward Mason, R-Allegany; Edward Thomas, R-Frederick; and John J. Bishop, R-Baltimore County; Delegates Robert Neall, R-Anne Arundel; Thomas Chamberlain, R-Baltimore County; and Donald Munson, R-Washington; and Anne Arundel County Executive Robert Pascal.

Levey and others said Carter's strategy has been to take away the real issues of the economy and foreign affairs by making Ronald Reagan himself the issue.

"The game plan for Carter forces has been to get away from the record and let's go after Ronald Reagan," said Pascal. "They've tried to create an image of Reagan as a war-monger, and that's not the case."

Thomas, pointing to anti-Carter and pro-Reagan buttons on his lapel, said, "If Gov. Reagan does not get elected, we're stuck with four more years of Jimmy Carter. (Voters) will think about Carter, then vote for Reagan."

Dairymen Will Elect Cooperative Director Friday

It's an election year in Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers' District II and the members of that area will hold their annual membership meeting Friday, October 31, at the Grantsville Fire Hall.

The 104 member-producers will nominate a director to be ratified by the total membership at the cooperative's annual meeting in March, for a three-year term from March 1981 through February 1984. Bailey Herring of Farmington, Pa., is the incumbent director whose term expires in February 1981.

The remainder of the program, to begin with dinner at 7:30 p.m., will consist of reports on national and local milk production and the current status of Holly Milk Plant in Carlisle. In addition, members will be given an update on MCMP's financial condition, including its operating divisions, as well as the current status of the long-range planning commissioned at the 1979 annual meeting.

Reports will be given by MCMP president, Herbert W. Wessel of Hampstead, business manager Ralph L. Strock of Towson, and district directors Herring and Raymond J. Tice of Grantsville. Field representative for the area is Jim Fitzwater of Swanton.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION OF MARYLAND

HEARING EXAMINER'S NOTICE OF PREHEARING CONFERENCE

A Prehearing Conference will be held in the above-entitled matter on Friday, November 14, 1980, in the 14th Floor Hearing Room of the American Building, 231 East Baltimore Street, Baltimore, Maryland, 21202, beginning at 10:00 a.m.

As the Order instituting this proceeding indicates, the subject matter to be considered concerns the Commission's implementation of Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) regulations relating to cogeneration and small power production. It appears that the Commission can accomplish this implementation by adopting the FERC regulations, where appropriate, and by determining the rates to be paid to qualifying cogenerators on a case-by-case basis where the cogenerator and utility cannot agree on a mutually acceptable rate. The parties and intervenors should be prepared to discuss the merits of this procedure, or any other procedure which the parties feel would be more appropriate.

The one exception to this procedure would be the requirement contained in the FERC regulations that the Commission establish for each utility, standard rates for purchases from qualifying facilities with a design capacity of 100 kilowatts or less. The parties and intervenors should also be prepared to discuss this requirement.

Petitions to intervene shall be filed with the Commission at the above address on or before November 14, 1980.

One of the adventures of Autumn is hiding in a pile of leaves. Not really hiding, though. The fun is in poking your head out and surprising someone!

When we're growing up, every season brings its adventures. Our days are full of opportunities for having fun.

Hopefully those days will also be marked by adventures that help build character. With each passing season the soul as well as the body needs to grow.

The opportunity for youngsters whose families are concerned for their spiritual development is in religious education.

We don't belong under the debris of Fall — our convictions are the heralds of a new Spring.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

WHO ARE YOU FOR?

November 2, 1980

Background Scripture:
Luke 4:16-30, John 13:31-35, Mark 14:22-25.

Devotional Reading:
Hebrews 6:1-12.

The 1980 Presidential election campaign has seen the injection of a new factor: the emergence of a partisan religious group that has publicly worked for the election of specific candidates and the rejection of others. Many have questioned the propriety of religious groups becoming directly involved in the campaign. At the same time we must remember that it was a similar point of view that kept the great majority of German churchmen and laity from opposing Hitler in the late 20's and early 30's.

Rev. Althouse

THE SOCIAL MINORITY

It is not so much the direct involvement that disturbs me as it is the manner in which that involvement has been conducted. The position of this so-called "Moral Majority" has been more a matter of what or who these Christians are against, rather than what or who they are for. Even more, I am disturbed by the identity of many of those whom this group seems to be against: the poor (translate as "the welfare cheats"), the captives (translate as "the habitual criminals), and the oppressed (translate as "the vocal minorities").

Yet, when we look at Jesus' own ministry we find him defining it in terms of identifying with these very people: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he has anointed me to preach good news to the poor, He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty those who are oppressed . . ." (Luke 4:18). Standing in his hometown synagogue, Jesus spells out the identifying marks of his covenant ministry.

Much later in his ministry, when the disciples of John the Baptist come asking, "Are you he who is to come, or shall we look for another?" Remember how Jesus answered them? Not with doctrines or dogmas but with the ancient prophesies of Isaiah: "Go and tell John what you hear and see: the blind receive their sight and the lame walk, lepers are cleansed and the deaf hear, and the dead are raised up, and the poor have good news preached to them." (Matthew 11:2-6). These were the ones Jesus was for.

POURED OUT FOR MANY

On the night of the Last Supper Jesus reminded his disciples of the new covenant symbolized in their common meal together, "This is my blood of the covenant, which is poured out for many" (Mark 14:24). Forever after, to participate in that sacrament is a challenge to renew the covenantal mission which Christ has given to us. If we are his followers, there is no way we cannot but be involved in the same mission of serving the down-and-outers, the oppressed who cannot help themselves. We cannot be against these people and still be for him.

These people looked no more attractive to Jesus's followers in his day than they do to us today. It is easy to give them labels and write them off. But if we are not for them, we are not for him and he is not for us.

DHIA, Holstein County Members Attend Banquet

The Garrett County Holstein Club and the Garrett County Dairy Herd Improvement Association held a combined meeting October 10 at the Bittinger Community Building.

The DHIA recognized Herman Schrock, Margroff Brothers, Oren Bender, Phillip Beachy, David W. Yoder and Calvin Schrock, who were each presented a certificate of merit for having herds that showed 10 or more pounds increase in fat production.

Top herds in milk production for Garrett County are managed by Phillip Beachy, with 16,997 pounds of milk and 623 pounds of fat, and Fred Petersheim, with 16,980 milk and 595 fat. During the meeting, Robert Bender and Calvin Schrock were elected as new directors of the association. Roman Yoder is the Association Supervisor.

BUYING BLANKETS TO FIT YOUR NEEDS

With the cool weather and especially the cool nights arriving on the mountaintop, we begin to think about ways we can keep warm. One of the best ways to keep warm at night is with a blanket, but there are so many different kinds available that you may wonder which is the best. The following blanket facts will help you in making this choice.

*Most blankets are now being made of Acrylic or polyester rather than wool, because it has become scarce and expensive. A good quality Acrylic or polyester blanket will feel very much like a wool blanket and will be just as warm.

*The warmth of a blanket is determined by its construction, not by its fiber. The more air incorporated into the blanket fabric, the better the insulation provided and the warmer the blanket.

*For a blanket to wear well and retain its warmth it should have a durable nap. To test the strength of a blanket's nap, pull it lightly with your fingers. If it pulls loose easily, it may shed and reduce the warmth of the blanket.

*Resiliency is also important in maintaining long-term warmth. A matted fabric is not as warm as a fluffy fabric.

*Thermal blankets, which are made with a loose weave that resembles crochet, may or may not have a nap. When used alone, the open spaces permit air to circulate around the body, providing comfort when minimum heat is needed. Used with a top covering, body heat is trapped in the open spaces, giving additional warmth. However, a thermal blanket with a top covering over it may not be as warm as a conventional blanket with a top covering.

*Fiberwoven blankets are made by a kind of felting process. This is a less expensive process than weaving and therefore results in a less expensive blanket than a woven blanket.

*Flocked foam blankets are made of a sheet of polyurethane foam with short nylon fibers bonded in a vertical position. This blanket offers warmth and lightness plus no shrinking, shedding or pilling; and it is non-allergenic. It does tend to have a stiff texture, especially if it has painted designs.

FOOD NOTES

Soups and chowders become quite popular as the evenings get cooler, something to warm the stomach! Homemade soup is especially nice to have but it often takes too much time. To save time, try this quick recipe that's full of nutrients and serve your family homemade chowder.

CREAMY CORN CHOWDER

6 slices bacon
¾ cup chopped celery
¾ cup chopped onion
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
1 tall can (1⅔ cups) evaporated milk
1 can (1 pound) whole kernel or cream-style corn

Cook bacon until crisp; drain and reserve. Place ¼ cup of the bacon drippings in large saucepan. Add celery and onion to bacon drippings and cook until onion is tender, but not brown, about 7 minutes. Add salt, water, evaporated milk and corn. Stir occasionally and heat to serving temperature. Crumble bacon and sprinkle over top.

Yield: 4 servings.

Today is Wednesday, October 29, the 303rd day of 1980 with 63 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Mars.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Scorpio.

American statesman Thomas Bayard was born October 29, 1828.

On this date in history:

In 1618, Sir Walter Raleigh was executed in London, charged with participating in a treasonable plot to oust King James I from the British throne.

In 1901, Leon Czolgosz was electrocuted for the assassination of American President William McKinley.

In 1929, pandemonium reigned on the New York Stock Exchange as collapsing prices set the stage for the Great Depression of the 1930s.

In 1974, former President Richard Nixon went into shock after surgery to combat a potentially lethal blood clot and was pronounced in critical condition. He recovered fully.

A thought for the day: American novelist Willa Cather said, "I like trees because they seem more resigned to the way they have to live than other things do."

Fire And Rescue Institute Given $11,500 Grant

The Maryland fire and Rescue Institute of the University of Maryland received $11,500 from the Maryland Forest Service through federal Rural Community Fire Protection Grants. A check for $11,485.40 was presented to Jim Stevens, Coordinator of the Fire Training Division of the Institute by State Forester Tunis Lyon.

In fiscal 1980 the Institute spent these monies continuing its mission of offering statewide firefighter training to the fire departments of the State. Three hundred and twenty-nine firefighters received training through this grant. A portion of the grant was used to provide training films for fire fighting to the six regional offices of the Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute. Additional sums were expanded to provide an updating of the breathing apparatus used in the training program.

The rural community fire protection grant to the University of Maryland for training was part of the total $37,600 paid out by Maryland in federal rural community fire protection grants.

The program is a cooperative effort between state and federal forestry organizations to organize, train and equip local forces to prevent, control and suppress fire in rural areas. For six years the USDA-Forest Service grant program has been administered by the Maryland Forest Service to assist fire departments in their efforts to improve firefighting in towns with populations under 10,000. The program is based on the matching of government funds by the rural communitites. Fire companies make applications to the Maryland Forest Service for all project proposals. Following established guidelines, applications are received and approved. The matching funds can be used to help purchase equipment for the fire companies. The money used by the Maryland Fire and Rescue Institute assisted in the training of volunteer firemen, and thus strengthened rural fire protection by providing adequate training. Other grant money was used by individual volunteer fire companies to purchase safety equipment such as protective clothing and self-contained air masks. Portable radios and monitors were purchased to provide better communications services. Auxillary pumps and pump generators, hoses and small hose appliances are other examples of supplies purchased with the rural community fire protection matching funds.

Sales Tax Revenues Is Reflected By Increased Spending

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein said recently that the Retail Sales and Use Tax revenue for September 1980 reflect a continuation of the recovery begun in August.

"For the first two months of Fiscal Year 1981, sales tax revenues are above collections for the same period last year and above estimated collections," Goldstein said. "The revenues for the first two months of Fiscal Year 1981 post increases in all but two categories, those being the construction-related categories of Builders & Contractors and Hardware, Machinery & Equipment. The consumer-related categories are all showing increases."

For September 1980, sales tax revenues total $61,036,948, up 4.45% from the $58,433,978 collected during September 1979. For the month period, sales tax revenues total $119,509,630, an increase of 4.39% over the $114,485,759 collected for an identical period of Fiscal Year 1980.

Actors' lament: 'Nobody asked me!'

By RUTH THOMPSON

"Nobody asked me."

Sounds like the wail of a wall flower in a period movie, right? Wrong.

The exact phrase has been used — distressingly often — by actors and actresses whose common sense told them a good role, rave notices — maybe some top awards — would generate big new offers.

Not that those listed below have cause for complaint, mind you, because they're all successes. But they have themselves to thank, for accepting what's available, waiting it out, changing their image ... or staking themselves as Sylvester Stallone did with "Rocky" when his early "Lords of Flatbush" movie didn't bring him the follow-up role that fellow-Flatbusher Henry Winkler struck as the Fonz in "Happy Days."

James Earl Jones thought that when his stage play, "The Great White Hope," evolved into a movie, he'd have to beat off the excess offers. Well, maybe now he does, but initially he didn't. Several years ago in his dressing room between performances of Eugene O'Neill's "The Iceman Cometh," he said, "I find that one thing does not necessarily lead to another."

Since then, public TV has summoned him repeatedly. And he's taken a whack at a network series, "Paris," which flunked in the ratings through no fault of his.

Viewers of the Tony Awards telecast on CBS last June are among those so dazzled by Patti Lupone in Broadway's "Evita" that (when they visit the Big Apple) they help keep the show sold out.

However, one reason the talented Patti renewed her contract is because nobody has offered her either a major film or a television special. To repeat our theme, "Nobody asked me."

Sitting in the gently-beige living room of her elegant east-side Manhattan apartment, as her dogs yapped, that nifty lady, Mary Stuart, said she was still mystified as to why producers weren't offering weighty Broadway roles.

Mary, as she tells (and well) in her memoirs, "Both of Me (Doubleday), had racked up heavy credentials in Hollywood before she signed on as Joanne in CBS's "Search for Tomorrow."

She did — and does — love every minute of the Monday-through-Friday daytime role she's sustained since 1951. She doesn't want to trade it in ... she'd just like to moonlight on Broadway. But, "Nobody asked me."

Karen Valentine, who won an Emmy for Best Actress as the breathless young teacher on "Room 202" and then because a talk and game show favorite because of her spontaneity, resigned from "Hollywood Squares" three years ago because she was afraid that (though she enjoys doing comedy) it would lock her in as a comedienne to the point where the public might not accept her as a straight actress. Yes, maybe it cost her money, but it was worth it, she tells us. Right now she's on the road starring in "Romantic Comedy" with her first post-Broadway stop in Denver and Toronto. And while there are laughs, her role has depth, she assures us.

---

Jamie Lee Curtis, the attractive daughter of Tony Curtis and Janet Leigh, thought her role in "Halloween" might bring her a range of offers in prestige dramas on either the big or little screen. So far it's brought only three more horror movie offers. And she's accepted, figuring it's better to work than wait around.

Liz Garvie plays Austen's Liz Bennet

Elizabeth Garvie

It was a toss-up as to what was bubbling more — the champagne in the glass or the girl who was sipping it.

Elizabeth Garvie hasn't stopped bubbling since she made her initial leap into television stardom as Elizabeth Bennet, the appealingly forthright heroine of Jane Austen's "Pride and Prejudice," which began on PBS's Masterpiece Theatre Oct. 26. The second episode of the five-part series airs Sunday, Nov. 2.

That enormous dimple in her cheek deepens and those expressive brown eyes dance with delight as she tells you all about it in sentences spiced with words like wonderful, marvelous, lovely, lucky, terrific.

"It was a terrific experience that changed my life," says ebullient Elizabeth, taking another sip of the bubbly. "Doing something like this when you've never done any television before ... the responsibility! Yes, I was scared at first. It unnerved me. It was make or break."

Make is what it turned out to be. The British critics were clearly captivated with both Elizabeths — Garvie and Bennet. There was a special affinity between the pert real-life Liz (who read and re-read "Pride and Prejudice" all during filming because "it's such a wonderful book — it makes you laugh") and the heroine of Austen's lighthearted satire.

"I think we're very alike. Elizabeth Bennet is such a determined person. She's absolutely honest, says exactly what she thinks. I can't cover up if something isn't the truth or isn't honest, either. She's Jane Austen's liberated woman," declared the liberated and candid Ms. Garvie. "She knew what she wanted, but she lived in a time when you couldn't be so radical. It was much more narrow, much more resticted than today."

When she finished filming "Pride and Prejudice" Elizabeth stepped into the role of another determined young woman, the heroine of George Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" on stage ... and then into a TV series called "Something in Disguise" by Elizabeth Jane Howard, which happily took her to a lot of far-off places.

Garvie took a final sip of champagne, and said yes, it was true she originally got the "Pride and Prejudice" role because BBC producer Jonathan Powell saw her photograph hanging on the wall in her agent's office.

"I'm so very lucky," she laughed. "It's all been terrific."

IN FOCUS

Moyers' election report sums up the campaign

Bill Moyers

When a viewer wrote to Bill Moyers and said, "I no longer listen to candidates; they make me nervous and a little scared," Moyers tacked her letter to a bulletin board in his office, adding his own comment: "motive for our election series."

That's how the eighth season of PBS's "Bill Moyers Journal" resumed in September with his "Campaign Report" edition. For nine weeks leading up to the presidential election, Moyers concerned himself with the events, people and issues of the 1980 election campaign.

The final episode of "Campaign Report," airing Monday, Nov. 3, is an "Election Eve Special," a wrap-up of the campaign and views on the election, including interviews with citizens from around the country and professional observers.

Moyers believes it is "important to look at the forces and ideas which are contending for the attention of the next president, no matter who he is, and listen to the perceptions of the men and women who can help us understand our times ... (because) most presidents do not rise above their times, they reflect their times.

"We're after information. People want information to help them make up their own minds, and our job is to provide them with as much of that information as possible."

Moyers' programs are often produced on the day of airing or the day before, so they are as up-to-the-minute as possible. In the series, Moyers has traced the campaign trails of the major candidates for the presidency and reported on various congressional races around the country.

The "Campaign Report" has explored what the candidates have said about America's foreign policy, defense, the energy dilemma and the economy, and has examined various aspects of the political process itself.

One edition looked at the president's awesome power to mold the judiciary — and how a vote for a presidential candidate (or the decision to stay home) affects not only the choice of the next president, but the composition of the Supreme Court and its decisions for years to come.

Another episode took viewers to the Republican Candidates' School in Washington, where first-time candidates for Congress learn how the hopes and dreams of running for high public offices can be turned into reality. The program also explored the disruption in the lives of candidates and their families and the professional aspects of campaigning, from such trivial details as how to shake hands to important functions like fundraising.

Moyers' producers, Marty Koughan and Mark and Elizabeth Benjamin, have continually been on the 1980 campaign trail, following the candidates and reporting on their activities. They provided, according to Moyers, "fuller accounts of a candidate's rhetoric — not just the sketchy snippets we're accustomed to seeing on the evening news."

Many of these programs contained multiple segments. Like past editions of "Bill Moyers' Journal," many forms were used to bring information to the viewer — hard news reporting, documentaries, interviews, conversations. "Campaign Report" has also presented forums with candidates or their representatives and audiences of citizens who challenged them with some "hard questions" about defense policy, social justice, the economy and civil rights.

By talking with citizens around the country about the candidates, the campaign and the issues, Moyers has hoped to bring the voters back into the political process.

"A political campaign should be a civics education for the public," Moyers believes. "We all watched as the country's economy, foreign policy and social programs slipped out of control without any meaningful messages from the candidates, their critics, or other minds concerned with these problems. We witnessed racial violence on the domestic front and threatened violence on the international front, with little acknowledgement, much less understanding, from the men who are asking the voters to elect them to lead us through these difficult times.

"Therefore, 'Campaign Report' has focused on what is being said on the campaign trail and on issues arising out of the campaigns all over the country, as well as the total climate in which the elections occur."

TV TATTLE

Election special

Cable TV's SIN National Spanish Television Network will encore its interviews with Jimmy Carter, Ronald Reagan and John Anderson on its "Presidential Candidates' Profiles Special," to be offered to 67 SIN cable affiliates nationwide on election eve, Nov. 3. Correspondent Guillermo Descalzi interviews eadch candidate individually, asking questions dealing with key issues of concern to America's Hispanic population. The program features Descalzi's presentation of a question and each candidate's response to it in turn; the responses are simultaneously translated into Spanish.

"The interviews are part of SIN's (year-long) campaign to persuade Hispanics to participate in the American political process," said Frank Marrero, director of the special program and newly-appointed head of network production at SIN. The election eve program also features exclusive interviews with Puerto Rico's four gubernatorial candidates.

Marlo Thomas sues magazine

Marlo Thomas, actress, producer and feminist, announced that she is suing High Society, a New York based magazine, for printing a photograph that she claims was altered to make her appear unclothed from the waist up.

"A doctored picture is a lie," Ms. Thomas said. "...In addition to the doctored picture and in order to advertise their magazine, these people sent a release to members of the press throughout the country announcing that this photograph would soon appear, giving the false impression that I had dressed indecently in public ... I will not allow my rights as a citizen to be compromised in this outrageous manner, and therefore I have instructed my lawyers to sue."

A suit will be filed in the New York Supreme Court seeking $2 million in damages.

Charitable TV hosts

Alex Trebek, host of "High Rollers," was the winner of a recent contest featuring television's top game show hosts, which concluded on NBC's "Card Sharks." Trebek won over Bill Cullen ("Chain Reaction"), Gene Rayburn ("The Money Game") and Jack Clark ("Crosswits"). The game show personalities donated their winnings to chosen charities.

Trebek's winning total of $35,350 went to the Interagency Council for Child Abuse and Neglect. Cullen won $21,075 for the Salvation Army. Rayburn's $8,475 went to Planned Parenthood. Clark donated a total of $5,925 to the National Committee for the Prevention of Child Abuse.

PPTW unites parents and kids

Civil rights leader Coretta King recently addressed a national conference of the Parent Participation TV Workshop Project in Chicago. The conference, which brought together more than 300 teachers, school administators and parents from around the country, explored ways to use the TV set in the home as a communication channel between parents and children.

PPTW is developing, with the support of the NBC, new techniques to stimulate conversation between children and their parents about sensitive subjects such as sex, drugs and death. Studies show, according to Gloria Kirshner, co-founder of the project, that two out of every three American families cannot talk about these issues. PPTW organizes meetings in church basements, schools and living rooms, using selected TV programs to start families talking.

"The average family now spends seven hours a day watching television but only 14 minutes a day talking with its children," Edward Stanley, president and co-founder of PPTW, points out. "These workshops add many minutes, if not hours, to that communication."

SOAP OPERA WEEK

GH's Rich Simmons is busy these days

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

CALIFORNIA — Exercise and diet wiz Richard Simmons (he portrays himself on "General Hospital") has added a few more feathers to his cap. The most recent ventures Richard has embarked on include his book, "The Never Say Diet Book," published by Werner. Already released was his Braille edition of the diet book.

And, when he's not spending time at his exercise retreat, The Roughage, Richard can be seen conducting his own syndicated television show, which covers the subjects of hair care, makeup use and, of course, diet and exercise. Richard was also interviewed by Us magazine while his castmate, Genie Francis (Laura Baldwin), appeared on the cover of People magazine.

Joining the cast of "Texas" as Eliot Carrington is actor Daniel Davis. Daniel's arrival on the show as Eliot is sure to interfere with Alex's plans to marry Iris Carrington Bancroft.

Actor Victor Mohicha was added to the cast of "The Young and the Restless" recently in the role of Kay's rescuer, Felipe. This is Victor's first soap opera role.

"Search for Tomorrow's" Sherry Mathis (Liza Sentell) often warbles on the show when the script calls for a song to lighten things up, but now Easterners can enjoy her vocal talents in the musical review, "Cole." Sherry can be seen at the Whole Theatre Company production in upper Montclair, New Jersey.

The lovely and gracious Ann Flood (Nancy Karr on "Edge of Night") recently traveled to Lumberton, Miss., where she was the guest of honor at a local church fair. Ann was invited to help with the church benefit by EON's International Fan Club president Frances Monemacher.

Paul Falzone plays Jim Jefferson on "All My Children."

Tara Brent on "All My Children" could soon have a new love interest with the addition of Charlie's school principal Jim Jefferson. The role is being portrayed by Paul Falzone.

Franc Luz (John Bennett on "The Doctors") is currently appearing in the West Beth Theatre production of "Bagels and Luck" in New York City. Franc's hoping that the show may move uptown to Broadway.

CINDY SAYS

De Niro shacks up in lower Manhattan

By CINDY ADAMS

Robert DeNiro bought a duplex penthouse (9th & 10th floors) in one of those expensive, trendy lofts in an old ricky-ticky factory building in what's fast becoming a classy residential neighborhood but used to be the ratty, creepy warehouse area around Canal Street and West Broadway in Manhattan. He's even putting a swimming pool on the roof ... Mrs. Imelda Marcos bypassing her annual schlep to the Big Apple in order to go to Mexico. She's looking for the Big Oil. They're running a little dry in the Philippines...

Listen, I made it to the newly redone Copacabana with the gourmet food, big bands, glossy show (I saw Dakota Staton) and classy patrons. Mary Tyler Moore was there ... Jaclyn Smith vacuumed up a million and a quarter for the Hollywood home she bought a decade ago for a buck and a half ... Onetime porno queen Marilyn Chambers was asked to do a nudie interview. The ex-famous naked lady demurely burped, "Uh-uh, no," then did it...

Mrs. Shelley Berman stayed home in L.A. to take care of the daughter while the husband made his Broadway comeback. Berman's one-man show at the Bijou was excellent ... Baryshnikov and an unknown lady taxi'd all the way down to 18th St. to wine and dine at a brand new restaurant, Joanna's ... June Havoc whizzed over to a party on a motorcycle. In evening clothes, yet...

Gary Coleman, whose mouth is larger than he is, skipped into a shop to buy belts but left with only loud remarks about what he thought of the merchandise ... Danny Kaye in Hong Kong for UNICEF was partied at breakfast. He was given four complete buffets: Jewish with the bagels, lox and cream cheese, English with the kippers, scones and tea, American with the pancakes and ham and eggs and Chinese with the rice and noodles and soup. He went for the Chinese...

Gorgeous Lynn Redgrave in a wall-to-wall black silk jumpsuit hissed to me in the ladies can at a theater party: "I'll never wear this bloody thing again at the theater. People think I'm an usher!"

R. Redford: "If you stay in Hollywood too long you become a Mercedes." ... Cary Grant: "Nobody wants to hear your troubles unless there's a woman involved." ... Suzanne Plesbette: "Ability is the art of grabbing credit for all the success some other schnook makes." ... Lee Marvin: "A good wife understands male chauvinism. Courting has always been done that way and should continue."

The bestseller, "The Real War," arrived in the mail autographed personally by the author on the second page, backwards. It said: "from Richard Nixon to Joey Adams" ... Ted Knight works for free for an organization called the Price Pottenger Food Foundation. It's preventive healthcare like teaching you how to enjoy yummy organic seaweed balls instead of spaghetti marinara...

I guess you all know Viveca Lindfors and my chum Doris Lily used to date Ronald Reagan back in the stone age. Viveca says he was a cheerful sort of soul and Doris remembers him as being a square sort of soul. The only one who hasn't talked about him is Jane Wyman ... Somebody said it: "A dollar doesn't go as far as it used to but it sure goes a lot faster."

SATURDAY

The conclusion of NBC's 26-hour mini-series, "Centennial," airing Saturday, Nov. 1, stars Andy Griffith, David Janssen (in one of his last roles before his death) and Robert Vaughn (l.-r.).

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

BARKING UP A TREE — Is Bob Barker of "The Price Is Right" married and, if so, how many children does he have? — a fan, G.R., Mich.

Barker is married but has no children. He and his wife are great dog lovers, however, and they have two older dogs and a very recently acquired puppy.

MAIL TO HOWARD — Where can I write Howard Cosell, the ABC pro football announcer. — Ralph Dougal, Clarksville, Pa.

If you have opinions you must communicate with no further delay to this sports commentator (his position is much higher than sports announcer), then elucidate with pen, ink and foolscap and mail the result to Howard, a man who loves to waste words, at ABC-TV, 1330 Ave. of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10019

THE OTHER GIRL — Please tell me something about Jan Smithers, who is on WKRP in Cincinnati. — K.L.H. Crown Point, Ind.

Jan is a native of North Hollywood, a step away from the studio where WKRP is filmed. Her original intention was to become a painter. One day she was photographed on the beach at Malibu for a Newsweek story about teenagers and she wound up on the magazine's cover. That got her telephone calls from agents, so she did commercials while continuing her art studies. She is single, enjoys singing and playing the guitar, and she also likes to write. You can write her in care of the show at 4024 Radford Avenue, Studio City, Ca. 91604.

LOOKALIKE — My dad looks just like Dan Haggerty and I would like to send a picture of my dad to Dan. Where can I write him? — Joan DiCuffa, Austin.

That's a twist — usually the writer wants a picture from the star. Anyway, send your picture to Dan in care of his agent, William Morris, 151 El Camino Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif., 90212, and mark that the letter should be forwarded. Good luck.

RARE RECORDING — There is a rare Conway Twitty recording that I would like to hear again on the radio, but no one seems to know about the song called "Star Spangled Heaven." I'm an ex-serviceman's wife and I think it would do other people good to hear this song. Perhaps if I wrote Conway, he could get it played on the radio. Please give me his address. — Mrs. E. Nelson, Richton Park, Ill.

Write Conway at 394 W. Main Street, No. C-16, Hendersonville, Tenn., 37075. Also, it wouldn't hurt to get your friends to start a letter-writing campaign to local disc jockeys requesting the song. They can probably find a record or tape somewhere. If there is enough mail, they'll make an effort to please listeners.

A PAIR OF ALIASES — Recently I saw a program called "Alias Smith and Jones." I would like to know who played Jones and has he been in any other programs? — D. Katz, Hartford.

You were seeing reruns of the old Universal series. Ben Murphy played Jones. He was also in "Gemini Man" and more recently in "The Chisholms."

(Do you have a question about TV? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10166.)

Dan Tanna (series star Robert Urich, center) is dragged in a comatose state onto a Hawaiian beachfront where a luau is in progress, in the special two-hour season premiere of "Vega$," airing Wednesday, Nov. 5 on ABC. Tanna is drugged, kidnapped and crated to Hawaii by a gambling cartel intent upon using him to further a murder plot. Veteran character actor Lorne Green guest stars as Emil Remick, the ruthless boss of the gambling cartel.

Use Of Portable Kerosene Stoves Is Prohibited

General sale or use of portable kerosene stoves and heaters is a violation of the State Fire Prevention Code, the Maryland State Fire Marshal's Office advises. The units can only legally be sold and used in agricultural, uninhabited outbuildings, and buildings under construction, according to State Fire Marshal J. E. Robertson.

This provision has been in effect since 1964 as part of the State Fire Prevention Code, although Baltimore and several other localities had banned their sale and use prior to that time.

Maryland's Fire Prevention Commission prohibited general use of portable kerosene stoves and heaters because of repeated incidents in which fires occurred as a result of these units. In some cases, fatalities ensued. Tests are now being conducted on several types of kerosene heaters by a federal agency. The State Fire Prevention Commission will be reviewing the results of these tests to determine if any modifications of the Fire Prevention Code is warranted.

Wood stove fire safety has also been addressed by regulation. Under provisions of a Maryland Senate Bill enacted in the 1980 session of the General Assembly, detailed instructions for fire safe installation must accompany all wood stoves sold in the State after January 1, 1981. A purchaser, by following these instructions, will be aware of clearances required between stoves and combustible structural material, as well as other measures designed to improve safety. In developing these instructions, manufacturers will need to test their equipment to determine proper safeguards.

CAC Will Begin Housing Inspection In Jennings Area

The Garrett County Community Action Committee, Inc., having completed its initial application and verification period, will begin its second phase of activities related to the Housing Rehabilitation Program in the Jennings area.

Beginning this week, preliminary inspections will be conducted through-out the area. Each applicant will be visited to determine existing conditions such as structural needs of the home, quality and type of water and sewage disposal systems, and health and safety hazards that require attention. H.U.D. low-income housing quality standards will be used as guidelines in this phase of the program.

The accumulated information will be turned over the the Project Advisoty Board for evaluation. The board, composed of interested residents and representatives from local civic and government agencies, will give a final determination of eligible applicants and place the homes on a priority list. The list will indicate the order in which the homes will be rehabilitated. Placement on the list will be determined by factors that include age of applicant, number of family members, income of household, existence of health hazards, existence of safety hazards and amount of work needed.

Detailed structural inspections, septic system designs, cost estimates and requests for bids will be made for those homes at the top of the list upon its completion. Each home will be restored or upgraded to meet all minimum standards related to modern low-income housing, and work will continue until all of the Community Development Block Grank Funds, ($224,000), are exhausted.

No cut-off date for application to this program has been announced. Additional information may be obtained by writing to the Community Action Committee, Inc., P.O. Box 149, Oakland, 21550, or by calling Mel Silber, Housing Rehabilitation Coordinator, at 334-9431.

Real Estate

By DON CARSTENS
Deep Creek Realty

A MATTER OF RECORD

Before you put property up for sale, be sure that you are the owner. Strange things do happen in the world of real estate.

Take the case of the man who decided to sell a woodlot he had been paying taxes on for years. His assumption was that his stewardship vested title of the land with him.

It doesn't work that way. Title to property is passed in very specific ways – ordinarily by a deed signed by all the owners. Also, ownership should be a matter of record in either the Registry of Deeds, Registry of Probate (if the land is acquired by will) or in the Land Court in the case of registered land.

The point is this. If you are paying taxes on land you do not own, or in which you have only a partial interest, you are merely preserving the status quo–not improving the title. If this is your case, don't wait until you decide to sell to perfect the title. Do it now!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

On the last Sunday in October we went back on Eastern Standard Time. This means that our time is back with the Sun again. On Daylight Savings Time we are really on the time of the time zone just east of the Eastern Time Zone, the Atlantic Time Zone. Being on Atlantic Standard Time or Eastern Daylight Time puts us one hour ahead of the Sun in our time zone. Time zones were devised as a way of standardizing time so that nearby towns would have the same time.

MOON

The Last Quarter phase of the Moon will be tomorrow morning at 11:33 a.m. At this time the Moon will be 90 degrees west of the Sun as observed from Earth. Moonrise will be at 10:48 p.m. tonight. Next Tuesday moonrise will be at 3:36 a.m.

On Wednesday, the Moon will be at 406,422 kilometers (252,592 miles) from Earth. This Moon will be at its greatest distance from Earth at this apogee.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Venus, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter will be the visible planets during the week. Venus will be visible for about 3 hours prior to sunrise. Mars will continue to be viewed for a short time after sunset among the stars of Ophiuchus. Saturn and Jupiter are among the stars of Virgo. They rise about 4 hours before the Sun rises.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

By the end of the week, Tuesday, there will be 14 minutes less daylight than there was today. Sunrise was at 6:43 this morning. This evening the Sun will set at 5:19. Next Tuesday sunset will be at 5:12 p.m. Sunrise will have been 10 hours 22 minutes earlier at 6:50 a.m.

Today is the 303rd day of the year. The Sun will follow the same path that it followed last February 23rd.

HOW TO VOTE ON THE VOTING MACHINE

VOTER ABOUT TO CLOSE CURTAIN

1. Move the Red Handle from the Left to the Right as far as it will go. (This will close the curtain around you.)
2. Turn DOWN A POINTER OVER the name of each candidate you wish to vote for (for each office) thus:

from this position — Name of CANDIDATE — to this position — X CANDIDATE

AND LEAVE IT DOWN

3. Continue in the same manner to the end of the ticket, taking care to turn down a pointer for EVERY office that you wish to vote for, and LEAVE THE POINTERS DOWN.
4. Move the Red Handle to the left as far as it will go. (This will register your vote and return the Pointers to their unvoted position, after which it will open the Curtain.)

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION

No votes are registered until you move the Curtain Lever to the Left to open the Curtain. You can therefore make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the Curtain Lever is at the right (curtain closed); Each candidate's voting Pointer is directly ABOVE his name.

The machine is so arranged that you CANNOT TURN DOWN MORE THAN THE PROPER NUMBER OF POINTERS for an office.

BEFORE GOING INTO THE MACHINE ON ELECTION DAY

1. Examine the Specimen Ballot and decide what candidates you will vote for, and know where their names are located.
2. Practice a few times on one of the little Instruction Models, until sure that you know how to cast your ballot.

AFTER ENTERING THE MACHINE

1. Turn down the Pointers OVER each Candidate's name for whom you wish to vote.
2. LEAVE the Pointers DOWN.

Gas Waste Due To Bad Roads Put At 293 Million Gallons

The Average Maryland driver wastes $146 worth of gas each year driving on bumpy and broken pavement, says a study released last week.

Based on current gas prices, motorists statewide waste an estimated $373 million worth of fuel each year due to the poor condition of more than one-third of Maryland's main paved roads. That's according to a report by The Road Information Program (TRIP) of Washington, D. C.

Bad roads increase fuel consumption because of "a loss of traction and uneven power flow through the drive train due to excessive vibration," the study says.

The cost to correct the problem would only be one fourth the cost of continuing to ignore it," says Ray M. Marriner, president of the Maryland Highways Contractors Association, which requested the TRIP study. TRIP is a non-profit research and information agency supported by highway-related industries and organizations interested in better roads.

TRIP recommends a 10-year, $98.2 million-per-year program to resurface or rebuild Maryland's substandard mileage. The total $981.6 million program includes $742.8 million to rebuild 1,238 miles, plus $238.8 million to resurface another 1,990 miles. Cost estimates are based on current costs and do not account for the uncertain rate of future inflation, TRIP noted.

TRIP says the state's road conditions are likely to get even worse if present funding levels continue.

"Maryland's 9-cent-per-gallon motor-fuel tax has remained unchanged since 1972," Marriner says.

"In the meantime, motorists are driving further on each taxable gallon of gas because of wider use of fuel-efficient cars. As a result, roads are wearing out faster than revenues are being generated to repair them at present fuel tax levels," he adds.

TRIP's study includes Maryland's 8,843 miles of paved main roads (arterial and collector) under both state and local jurisdictions.

These roads carry 90 percent of all traffic, even though they account for only 33 percent of the state's total public road system of 26,879 miles.

The study found that 36 percent (3,228 miles) of the state's main paved roads are substandard, by national inspection standards. Maryland's motorists drive some 31.2 million miles a day on these deficient roads, TRIP reports.

One road noted in the study requiring resurfacing and rebuilding in Garrett County is MD Rt. 495 from MD Rt. 135 to North Glade Road.

The study reports that the percentage of substandard road mileage probably would have been even higher were it not for the continuing efforts of the state Department of Transportation and local highway authorities to achieve maximum improvements within extremely limited budgets.

TRIP's findings are based on scientific road tests that measured fuel consumption relative to the physical condition of the pavement in use. Road tests were conducted by Paul J. Claffey and Associates of Potsdam, New York.

Other sources included the Federal Highway Administration, the Maryland Department of Transportation, the American Association of State Highway and Transportation Officials and other government and private agencies.

Alcohol, Tobacco Tax Revenues Up

Maryland State Comptroller Louis Goldstein reported recently that Alcohol and Tobacco Tax revenues for September 1980 totaled $8,273,603 increase of 24.6% over the $6,641,019 collected in September 1979. The increase is largely attributable to the $1,875,711 tobacco tax gain resulting from the new 13 cents per pack tax enacted by the General Assembly and effective July 1, 1980. Previously cigarettes were taxed at a 10 cent per pack tax rate.

The first quarter of Fiscal Year 1981 has produced $26,499,735 total Alcohol and Tobacco Tax revenues, an increase of 39.3% over the $19,018,520 received during the identical quarter of Fiscal Year 1980. Tobacco tax collections of $17,963,826 exceeded revenues for the same three months of Fiscal Year 1980 by $6,260,946 or 53.5%.

Wine tax revenue for the period totaled $775,297, up 7.48%, and beer tax collections of $2,786,825 reflected an increase of 9.08%. Distilled spirits tax revenues totaled $4,096,009 a decline of about three-tenths of one percent.

SOME DO'S AND DON'TS ON CARPETING
When you buy carpeting, you're making a big investment in your home's interior. Here are a few things to keep in mind in order to select the perfect carpet for your home.
First, DO consider the brand of carpeting. The manufacturer's reputation is a good guide to how well the carpet is made. If a manufacturer is well-known and has a long list of satisfied customers to its credit, chances are the carpet you choose will be of good quality. DON'T, on the other hand, choose by brand name alone. Also consider such things as pile height, fiber content, texture and color. DON'T be fooled by ads offering unbelievable savings. Sometimes you can find a genuine carpet bargain if your dealer is reducing his inventory or selling discontinued patterns and colors. But DON'T be fooled into buying cheap, poor quality carpeting. In the long run, it does not pay.
The best way to avoid making mistakes when purchasing carpet for your home is to buy from a reputable dealer. Roderick's has a reputation for quality carpets, helpful sales people and reasonable prices. DO stop in and let us help you make your carpet selection. Ask for Butch or Carolyn if you wish and we shall be pleased to help and make a satisfied customer - you. Come in soon if carpet is on your mind.
Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

FACES OF THE PAST — A pictorial display of people, places and events of the early 1900's is available for the scrutiny of history buffs, at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. The photographs are primarily of northern Garrett County and surrounding areas, captured by the late Leo J. Beachy, a leading Grantsville photographer and writer in his time. The prints were made from a collection of about 3000 glass negatives which recently came into the possession of Mrs. Maxine Beachy Broadwater, Grantsville, Mr. Beachy's niece. Beachy's articles are also on display, and the exhibit will be up through mid November.

Turn Of The Century History Captured In County Photographs

Glimpses of northern Garrett County in the 1900's are now available through 60 photographs on display at the Ruth Enlow Library in Oakland. The photographs were printed from a collection of about 3000 glass negatives taken by the late Leo J. Beachy, a Grantsville photographer and writer. The negatives are now in the possession of Maxine Beachy Broadwater, Grantsville, librarian at Ruth Enlow Library and Mr. Beachy's niece.

Mrs. Broadwater said she "didn't know the negatives were around" until acquaintances of her uncle began turning them over to the family. She added that some negatives had been destroyed before she discovered the existence of the collection.

Leo Beachy was born in Grantsville on May 21, 1874, and he died May 5, 1927 at the age of 53. He was a leading photographer in the Grantsville area from 1901 to 1926, and some of his pictures were made into postcards.

Beachy became crippled in his later years and eventually was unable to walk, however he travelled extensively from his Mt. Nebo studio, when friends and relatives could transport him.

Beachy was a prolific writer, and his booklet "Letters and Pictures for Isabelle" was printed in 1921 by the Mennonite Publishing House, Scottdale, Pa. His articles are published in the Meyersdale Republican paper, and in March 1925, an article entitled, "A Region of Vanished Pines" was printed in the Motor Travel magazine, reprinted in the Glades Star in three editions.

The popularity of Mrs. Broadwater's collection of glass negatives seems to be increasing. Gaye Savant, while working at Allegany Community College, has made prints from close to 400 of the negatives for the school's Learning Resources Division, to be used as research aids. She also developed the prints on display at the library.

Ms. Savant, along with other interested persons, will begin putting together an exhibition, slide-tape presentation and catalogue, using about 30 of Beachy's negatives and 30 photographs from the late Robert Shriver collection, a photographer from Cumberland during the early 1900's. The exhibition is made possible with funds from the Maryland Committee for Humanities, Inc., through a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities, Office of State Programs. The grant was recently approved for the project, in the amount of about $10,000.

Ms. Savant will develop the slides and prints to be used in the presentation, which will be exhibited state-wide. She has studied photography and worked with glass negatives at a museum in Texas, where she observed the age-old printing process.

She will be working with Rita Knox, director of History House, Cumberland; and advisors Harry Stegmaier, Joe Weaver and Dr. John Wiseman, Frostburg State College history instructors; and Thomas Beck, Baltimore, curator of photography collections, University of Maryland.

Ms. Savant said that the printing of the catalogue which will accompany the presentation should be completed within a year. The program will open at the ACC Gallery and Theatre, and will be presented at Frostburg State College, libraries and Senior Citizen Centers in Garrett County, and in Baltimore, Frederick and Hagerstown.

Dr. Connie Shultz of the University of Maryland has also made about 60 slides from the negatives, 26 of which will appear in a slide collection depicting the history of Maryland.

Mrs. Broadwater revealed that most of the glass negatives are of Garrett County, particularly the Grantsville area, and parts of nearby Pennsylvania. Many of the negatives are marked, depicting the history of Garrett County.

Mrs. Broadwater has not been paid for the use of "Uncle Lee's" priceless negatives. She explained that the collection holds for her a value and contribution beyond monetary gain. "To me they are worth an awful lot because they're my Uncle Lee's." In reference to the exhibition Mrs. Broadwater stated, "I'm more proud of this than if it would have been something I'd done myself."

Although her uncle died when she was very young, Mrs. Broadwater seems to know a good bit about Mr. Beachy. In a recent interview she talked of "Uncle Lee's love of nature," which appears evident in his photographs, and she often said, "I wish I could have known him."

Mrs. Broadwater said she hopes to someday have prints from all the negatives, "even if I have to do it myself." She said she hopes to have duplicates of the prints placed in the Garrett County museum, as she is concerned for their preservation.

The library photo exhibit will remain up through mid-November, displaying historic glimpses of another time in Garrett County . . . the people, places and events of long ago.

ON THE TRAIL OF THE SAFE ROBBERS — This photo by the late Leo J. Beachy portrays J. A. Landes and bloodhounds of Fairmont, W. Va., ready to track the safe robbers of Noah Broadwater's General Store, Grantsville, on November 20, 1908. The picture and an article about the incident are part of a display at the Ruth Enlow Library, Oakland. The faded newspaper clipping reveals that a safe inside the store was dynamited and much of what was taken (paid vouchers, dry goods, clothing and a watch) was recovered in the attic of a nearby schoolhouse. The story reveals that Landes followed a trail "to a house occupied by two men. A search of the premises, however, revealed nothing that would warrant the arrest of the parties and the matter was dropped".

HIGH COLLARS AND BUTTON-DOWN SHOES were all the rage in the early 1900s, as is clearly shown in this photograph taken by Leo J. Beachy, Grantsville. Beachy was a leading photographer and writer in the Grantsville area around the turn of the century.

Bus Stop Problem Is Discussed By Officials, Parents

Representatives from the Garrett County Board of Education, State Highway Administration, and the Maryland State Police met with parents and other interested citizens at the Red House Elementary School Thursday evening regarding bus stop locations, bus shelters, the condition of the highway, and the rate of speed of vehicles traveling that portion of Route 50.

The Board of Education was represented by Eugene Flinn, Supervisor of Transportation, and James Lupis, Jr. Assistant Superintendent of Administrative Services, while George Small, Traffic Engineer for the Maryland State Highway Administration, and Sgt. Paul Sanders, Commander of the Garrett County State Police Detachment, represented those agencies.

It was determined that signs would be posted at each end of that portion of the highway warning motorists that bus stops would be present during the next several miles. It was also determined that several bus stops would be consolidated to provide safer locations for the bus students and an increased surveillance by the State Police Detachment would be maintained to deter motorists from traveling through that area at an excessive rate of speed. It was also mentioned that radar units from both the State Highway Administration and the Maryland State Police may be used in that area.

Farmer Held Grain Reserve Program Noted

Farmers who are eligible to place their crops under loan are also offered the opportunity to place their grain in the three-year, farmer-held grain reserve program says Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee.

The reserve was included in the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977 and became effective for the 1978 crop year. The objective of the farmer-held reserve program is to insulate 330 million bushels of wheat and 670 million bushels of feed grains from the marketplace.

The first step, says Crowl, is to put one or more of the eligible crops under a Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) price support loan. Farmers who enroll in the reserve program are paid in advance, annual storage payments of 26½ cents per bushel for wheat, corn, sorghum, and barley, and 20 cents per bushel for oats. These payments are earned by the farmer as long as the national market prices stay below release levels.

The reserve agreement extends the original loan for three years. The farmer agrees not to sell grain in the reserve until the national average market prices reach 125 percent of the current national average loan rate for feed grains or 140 percent of the current national average loan rate for wheat. Once these release levels are reached, the producer may repay the reserve loan and sell the grain without penalty.

When the national average market prices reach 145 percent of the current loan rate for feed grains or 175 percent of the current national loan rate for wheat, reserve loans will be called. A producer then has 30 days to repay the loan or forfeit the grain to CCC.

At the present time, farmers across the country have insulated 875 million bushels of feed grains and wheat from the marketplace through the grain reserve.

"Although few Maryland farmers have participated in the farmer-owned reserve due to the hazards of long-term grain storage in this area, they have benefited from the removal of the reserve grain from the market," said Crowl.

The isolation of reserve grain is only one of the benefits to farmers from the farmer held reserve, it ensures that the United States will continue to be a dependable supplier of grains to other countries and protects the livestock producer from extreme fluctuations in feed costs.

The farmer-owned grain reserve is a valuable marketing tool for wheat and feed grain producers, designed by Congress to help stabilize the marketplace and increase farm prices, said Crowl.

Social Security Tips Are Offered

Persons who telephone, write or visit the Cumberland, social security office, to inquire about monthly social security benefits, or the application filed for benefits, must furnish the social security claim number, Richard H. Fussell, District Manager, announced today.

If inquiring for another person, that individual's claim number can be found on the envelope given when the application for benefits was filed. It can also be gotten from the award letter sent explaining the amount of monthly benefits to be received, or on the monthly benefit check.

With this claim number, the information requested can be located and identified quickly.

Anyone who has not filed an application for benefits and wishes information about his, or someone else's social security record, must furnish the correct social security number to identify that particular record.

All social security records are confidential and only the person or his authorized representative will be furnished information. This does not mean, Mr. Fussell emphasized, that persons should not assist or inquire on behalf of another person.

Free pamphlets on social security, Medicare and Supplemental Security Income can be requested by telephoning 724-0970. Garrett County and Mineral County residents should call collect. Interested persons may write or visit the Cumberland office at 316 Paca Street.

Hunting Safety Urged By DNR

Safety is the key to hunting enjoyment.

That's the autumnal word from the Department of Natural Resources as crisp weather brings hunters into the field and woods.

James B. Coulter, Secretary of Natural Resources, urged hunters to follow the "Ten Commandments of Safety" compiled by the Inland Division of DNR's police force.

"There really should be eleven commandments," Secretary Coulter said, "the first one being to take the Hunter Education Course given by the Inland Division."

Under State law, all first time hunters must take the course before applying for a hunting license.

Here are the Inland Division's Ten Commandments:

1. Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun.
2. Watch that muzzle! Be able to control the direction of the muzzle even if you should stumble.
3. Be sure the barrel and action are clear of obstructions and that you have only ammunition of the proper size for the gun you are carrying.
4. Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger; know identifying features of the game you hunt.
5. Unload guns when not in use. Take down or have actions open; guns should be carried in cases to the shooting area.
6. Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot; avoid all "horseplay" with a firearm.
7. Never climb a fence or tree or jump a ditch with a loaded gun; never pull a gun towards you by the muzzle.
8. Never shoot a bullet at a flat, hard surface or water; at target practice be sure your backstop is adequate.
9. Store guns and ammunition separately beyond the reach of children and careless adults.
10. Avoid alcoholic beverages before or during shooting.

Last hunting season, there were two fatalities: one attributed by police to "horseplay" with a weapon and another involving removal of a weapon from an automobile. There were 16 injuries.

Advice Given For Drought-Stricken Trees and Shrubs

Intense summer heat and lack of rainfall over much of the state have caused many shade trees and ornamental shrubs in Maryland to die, or least appear dead.

The word comes from Dr. John F. Kundt, Extension forestry specialisy and associate professor of horticulture at the University of Maryland in College Park.

"When you go beyond three weeks without rain in the summer, woody plants begin to suffer stress," Dr. Kundt notes. "During this year's drought, we have had up to eight or 10 weeks without a good rain," he points out, "and the drought is still continuing.

Trees that have suffered most from the prolonged drought are those with shallow root systems, like pin Oak, Willow Oak, Red Maple, Silver Maple, Black Gum, Cottonwood, Dogwood, and all types of Cedars.

Even though some of these trees may appear dead, Dr. Kundt cautions against being too hasty in cutting them down. "Let the tree stand until spring and see if it shows new growth then,"he suggests.

"When a tree is suffering from water stress, it will often shed its leaves to conserve moisture," he points out.

If any trees had wilted or premature brown leaves in late summer or early fall, their chances for survival next spring may be improved by copious watering now—before the ground freezes.

The trees should have a thorough soaking once a week with an oscillating lawn sprinkler or a soaker hose. For trees over five feet high, the sprinkler should be left on all night. When using a soaker hose, the water should run for two or three hours before moving the hose to a new location, the report goes on to say.

Do not fertilize your trees this fall, Dr. Kundt warns, since that could stimulate new growth that would be killed with the arrival of cold weather.

For more information on shade trees and ornamental shrubs, interested persons should contact the County extension horticulture or urban agriculture agent. Local offices of the University of Maryland's Cooperative Extension Service are listed under the county government heading in the white pages of the telephone directory.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

The annual Halloween party will be held at the Aurora School on October 31 beginning at 6:30 p.m. The public is invited. There will be a fish pond, cake walks, costume parades, etc., and entertainment.

Trick or Treat night will be October 30, Thursday night, and persons wishing to participate should turn on a porch light or outside light. Children are asked to observe these lights and to stay in their own neighborhoods. Hours are 6 to 8 p.m.

Halloween, October 31, is National UNICEF Day. The Aurora FHA is sponsoring a door-to-door campaign as a part of UNICEF's nationwide fund raising to fight world hunger during the week of October 27-October 31.

"The Spirit of the Lord Gives Power" is the theme for World Community Day which will be observed in Union District on November 7 with a service at the Bethel United Methodist Church near Horse Shoe Run at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend this annual program sponsored by Church Women United.

Preston County 4-H Clubs met Saturday at Rowlesburg High School for their annual officers training and achievement programs. Sheila Delaney and Faith Minnig of Eglon Mountaineers and Darla Stemple and Sharon Wiles of Aurora Pioneers received awards in individual achievement. Winners in County clothing competition were Arlene Roth of Eglon Mountaineers, Lisa Sisler and Cara Sisler of Aurora Pioneers. "Coping With Conflict" was the lesson topic and this was presented by Martha Bolyard who was assisted by Anita Lantz. The group divided into small groups to identify how conflict occurs in the family and in organizations. The positive and negative sides of conflict were studied, the cycle of conflict (beginning with tension development, going through role dilemma, injustice collecting, confrontation and adjustment) was presented.

Mrs. Miser reported on the club trip to the Springs Folk Festival and declared it to be better than the Yankee Peddler Fair by those eight who attended. It was decided to buy 25 chairs for the community building. Dean Sisler, the vice president, reported on the county council meeting held recently in Kingwood. Opal Myers was elected to the post of reporter for the county Homemaker events.

Mildred Kovalck was winner of the pig-in-the-poke. Lucille Miser showed an ash tray made from sea shells found in Florida as the special feature. The next meeting will be at the home of Martha Bolyard.

JOHN LUTHER HORCHLER, ET AL VS MELVIN M. BEILER, ET UX,

and any other persons asserting title or interest to the coal or any minerals underlying Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2067, 2068 and 2069 in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland.

NO. 7831 EQUITY
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND
ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of all coal and minerals in Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2066, 2067, and 2068 to be vested in the complainants and that the respondents, their heirs, devisees and personal representatives, be enjoined from asserting any claim to the said Military Lots. The Bill states:

That the complainants are in constructive and peaceable possession under color of title of all coal and minerals underlying Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2067, 2068 and 2069; situate lying and being in Election District No. 3 of Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed to John Horchler, father of the complainants named above, by deed from the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, dated March 12, 1936, and recorded in Liber A.G.R. No. 116, folio 94, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland; certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Complainant's Exhibit No. 1" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that by advertisement contained in the Republican Newspaper, a weekly newspaper of general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, in 1936, the Garrett County Commissioners advertised for sale certain veins of coal underlying all of "Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2066, 2067 and 2068," a copy of this advertisement being filed herewith marked "Complainant's Exhibit No. 2" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that your complainants contend an issue has existed for a number of years regarding the actual ownership of the coal or particular veins of coal under the subject Military Lots and further allege there is an issue concerning whether the said John Horchler deed (Liber 116, Folio 94) contained the correct description of Military Lots because Complainant's Exhibit No. 2 herein describes Military Lot No. 2066 and the deed (Liber 116, Folio 94) describes Military Lot No. 2069; that it is the contention of your complainants the issue alleged herein does constitute a question of a cloud on the title to the minerals under the subject Military Lots and this action is appropriate and does have merit and is proper to resolve the issue of the proported cloud of title.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 10th day of October 1980, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the complainants having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before th 6th day of November, 1980, giving notice to the respondents and any other persons asserting title or interest to the coal or any minerals underlying the subject Military Lots, to be and appear in this Court by the 8th day of December, 1980, and to show cause, if any they may have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Constitutional Amendments General Election

Tuesday, November 4, 1980

Polls Open 7 A.M. to 8 P.M.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
ANNAPOLIS, MARYLAND

PROCLAMATION OF THE GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND DIRECTING THE PUBLICATION OF BALLOT TITLES AND AMENDMENT SUMMARIES OF BILLS PROPOSING AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION OF MARYLAND

WHEREAS, at its regular session of 1980, the General Assembly enacted Chapters 136, 523, 524, 610 and 630 proposing amendments to the State Constitution; and

WHEREAS, it is the duty of the Governor, under Section 1 of Article XIV of the State Constitution and Section 23-9(a) of Article 33 of the Annotated Code of Maryland to order the publication of the ballot titles and amendment summaries of the bills proposing amendments to the Constitution of Maryland; and

WHEREAS, the publication of the ballot titles and amendment summaries must take place for two weeks immediately preceding the General Election of November 4, 1980; and

WHEREAS, there will be presented on the ballot at said election the following proposed amendments to the Constitution for adoption or rejection by the voters:

CHAPTER 136
(QUESTION NO. 1)

BALLOT LABEL AS IT WILL APPEAR ON THE VOTING DEVICE

QUESTION NO. 1
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

AN ACT, declared by the General Assembly to affect Anne Arundel County only, which provides that the charter for the Government of Anne Arundel County may provide for the election of the members of the County Council of that County by councilmanic districts, or by the voters of the entire county, or by a combination of these methods of election.

(Amending Article XI-A, Section 3A)

SUBJECT: Anne Arundel County — Election of County Council Members

Amendment Summary: This proposal will permit the charter of Anne Arundel County to provide that members of the County Council may be elected by any one of three methods:

1. election by the voters in councilmanic districts;
2. election by the voters of the entire county; or
3. election by a combination of these methods.

At present, the members of the Anne Arundel County Council cannot be elected by districts, but can only be elected at-large by the voters of the entire county.

(QUESTION NO. 2)

BALLOT LABEL AS IT WILL APPEAR ON THE VOTING DEVICE

QUESTION NO. 2
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

AN ACT consolidating the several courts of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City into a single, unified Circuit Court for Baltimore City; and providing for the jurisdiction, organization, judges, officers and employees of the new Circuit Court and for a Clerk of the Court.

(Repealing Article IV, Sections 27-35, 37-39)
(Amending Article IV, Sections 1, 4A, 4B(a), 5, 9, 18, 20, 23, 25, and 26)
(Adding Article XVIII, Sections 2(a), (b), (c), (d), and (e))

SUBJECT: Baltimore City — Consolidation of Courts of General Jurisdiction.

Amendment Summary: This proposal consolidates the six separate courts which comprise the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City into a single, circuit court of general jurisdiction. This consolidated court would be comparable to the circuit courts in the counties and would have a single, elected clerk. The amendment would also provide for the transfer of judges, clerks and court personnel of the present system into the new system.

CHAPTER 524
(QUESTION NO. 3)

BALLOT LABEL AS IT WILL APPEAR ON THE VOTING DEVICE

QUESTION NO. 3
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

AN ACT amending the provisions on removal of cases from one court to another at the request of a party, and providing that there shall be an automatic right of removal only for capital offenses, and that in other criminal actions and in all civil cases one must show cause for removal.

(Amending Article IV, Section 8)

SUBJECT: Courts — Transfer of Cases to Other Courts.

Amendment Summary: This proposal will allow a person who is a party in a civil law case which was begun in one court to have the case transferred to another court only if the person can show that he would be unable to obtain a fair and impartial trial. At the present time, the Constitution provides for an automatic right of removal in civil cases as well as criminal cases punishable by death, but requires a showing of cause for the removal of other criminal cases. However, the Court of Appeals has declared this automatic right of removal inoperative in civil cases. The proposed amendment would retain an automatic right of removal in criminal cases punishable by death.

CHAPTER 610
(QUESTION NO. 4)

BALLOT LABEL AS IT WILL APPEAR ON THE VOTING DEVICE

QUESTION NO. 4
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

AN ACT, declared to affect Baltimore City only, which authorizes the Mayor and City Council of Baltimore to make, guarantee, or insure loans for buildings and structures in Baltimore City for renovation, redevelopment or improvement of buildings or structures for residential purposes, purchase or acquisition of leasehold or fee simple interest in buildings or structures for commercial purposes, and construction, reconstruction, development, renovation, redevelopment or improvement of buildings or structures for commercial purposes.

(Amending Article XI-G, Section 1)

SUBJECT: Baltimore City — Residential Rehabilitation and Commercial Financing Loans.

Amendment Summary: This proposal would permit the expansion of the Baltimore City loan program for the rehabilitation of residential and commercial buildings. At the present time, the Legislature may authorize the City to make or guarantee loans only to the owners of buildings. The proposed amendment would permit the loans to be made or guaranteed not only to owners but to any person. Moreover, in addition to using the loans for renovation work, the proposal would permit them to be used for the purchase or construction of commercial buildings.

CHAPTER 630
(QUESTION NO. 5)

BALLOT LABEL AS IT WILL APPEAR ON THE VOTING DEVICE

QUESTION NO. 5
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

AN ACT, declared by the General Assembly to affect Wicomico County only, which provides that on a finding by the Wicomico County Council that there is an immediate need, the County Council may provide that any property in Wicomico County that is not built on may be acquired immediately for public use; and providing a method of payment to the owner at the fair market value.

(Amending Article III, Section 40A)

SUBJECT: Wicomico County — Taking of Private Property by the County.

Amendment Summary: This proposal would give Wicomico County "quick-take" authority for the acquisition of private land. "Quick-take" is a faster alternative to the usual condemnation procedures. Where there is an immediate need for property, it would permit the county to acquire it by paying the appraised value to the owner or the court. The county would then remain liable for any further amount the court might award. Only land without buildings could be acquired by "quick-take."

NOW, THEREFORE, I, HARRY HUGHES, GOVERNOR OF MARYLAND, by virtue of the power and authority conferred upon me by the Constitution and Election Laws of Maryland, do, by this, my proclamation, ORDER that the ballot titles and amendment summaries of the proposed amendments to the Constitution shall be published in at least two newspapers in each county where so many may be published, and where not more than one may be published, then in that newspaper, and in three newspapers published in Baltimore City, once a week for two weeks immediately preceding the General Election to be held on November 4, 1980, at which election the proposed amendments shall be submitted, in the form prescribed by the General Assembly to the qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

GIVEN Under my Hand and the Great Seal of the State of Maryland, at the City of Annapolis, this 19th day of August in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand, Nine Hundred and Eighty.

THE GREAT SEAL OF MARYLAND

Firewood Theft Is Subject Of New DNR Law

A recently enacted Department of Natural Resources law provides that written permission must be obtained from a landowner before any wood may be cut on his property, according to the Maryland Forest and Park Services. This law was designed to protect landowners from tree thieves that have heretofore been difficult to check.

Upon request of a law enforcement officer, a cutter must display written permission of the owner of the trees to be cutting the trees. This law pertains to all publicly owned lands including state parks and state forests. The law is an amendment to Department of Natural Resources Section 5-409.

Violation of this law results in a misdemeanor charge. The penalty for a first offense conviction can be a fine not to exceed $500 or imprisonment not to exceed three months or both. The second or subsequent offense is punishable by a fine not to exceed $1000, imprisonment up to one year, or both. The aggrieved party can also take the violator to court in a civil suit and receive damages triple the value of the trees cut.

Loch Lynn Man Charged With First Degree Murder

Robert Scott Groves, 20, Loch Lynn, who is charged with the shooting death of John Wayne Rowan, 35, Mt. Lake Park, will be arraigned before Garrett County District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones on Monday.

Rowan died in Garrett County Memorial Hospital at 4:45 p.m. Sunday, after being shot in the abdomen about 3:30 that morning. Local surgeons worked for several hours in an attempt to save Rowan's life.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department was called to the Groves residence in Loch Lynn early Sunday morning to respond to a breaking and entering call. Upon arrival officers found Rowan lying outside the house, suffering from gunshot wounds to the abdomen. The victim was taken to the hospital by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad.

Police said Rowan received the 12-gauge shotgun blast through a wooden door with glass panes. The shot was fired from inside the residence. Sources say someone had placed an object through at least one window of the residence, with sufficient force to wake the neighbors. Police said the incident stemmed from a domestic quarrel.

At the time of arrest, Groves was charged with assault with intent to murder and maiming with intent to murder, and bond was set at $250,000.

The charge is now first degree murder and Groves was held Monday morning without bail. He was released later in the day after posting $10,000 property bond, set by District Court Judge Lewis R. Jones.

The Maryland State Police Mobile Crime Lab was called from the Garrett County Detachment to assist in the investigation, and Maryland State Police administered a breathalyzer test to the accused. The investigation is continuing.

A preliminary hearing will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m., at Garrett County District Court. Attorney Thomas B. Dabney, Jr., will represent the defense.

WHICH WAY TO THE FISHING HOLE?? — The mask seems to be in the way as Huckleberry Finn and friends wait for the judging during the annual Halloween activities at the Friendsville Elementary School on Friday afternoon. Peeking from behind his mask is Shawn Sesse, who came to the party as Mr. Kotter; Deanna Detrick as Tom Sawyer's sidekick; and Brandy Kahl as one of Garrett County's newest female coal miners. (See story on page 12).

Commissioners Review Eleven HUD Block Grant Proposals

The Garrett County Commissioners held a public hearing Monday to review proposals for the Housing and Urban Development Block Grant Preapplication. The Board received a sizable amount of requests this year, totaling over one million dollars. As the county's HUD Block Grant Preapplication can not exceed $600,000, the commissioners will determine the requests to be submitted in the county application after further examination of all proposals. The Board has set a second public hearing for this Monday, November 10, at 2:30 p.m. in the commissioners' meeting room, to reach a decision.

Seven towns submitted municipal proposals for the Garrett County HUD Preapplication. These proposals are as follows:

The Town of Accident is requesting $60,000 to construct a building at the sewer plant to protect settling beds and provide more efficient operation, as recommended by the Town's engineering firm.

The Town of Kitzmiller is requesting $244,000 to decrease the local cost of water line construction. Farmer's Home Administration can not presently approve the project because the local share is too great.

The Town of Friendsville is requesting $86,000 to purchase, renovate and furnish an

A TROPHY TO BE PROUD OF — This 365-pound American black bear was shot during the recent West Virginia bow season by Russell O'Leary, Glade Road, Friendsville. ## Fire Destroys More Area Homes

A number of Garrett County homes were either destroyed or severely damaged by fire over the past week. The number of such incidents is climbing rapidly in the county, with many of the fires due to wood burning stoves.

A small wood frame house located near Gorman, one mile west of Backbone Mountain Inn along U. S. Route 50, was destroyed last Wednesday evening. A resident in the house, Mrs. Cecil Simmons was awakened from a nap at about 6 p.m. to discover the house on fire. She contacted Garrett Central Alarm which dispatched Bayard, Gorman and Oakland fire departments, as well as the county air cascade unit and the Southern Rescue Squad.

The house was owned by Arthur Culp and was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Simmons and their son.

Firefighters found the structure almost totally involved in flame upon their arrival. They remained on the scene until 9:23 p.m. The Simmons family had no insurance on the house or the contents, according to Jim Martin, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties, who investigated the incident.

Martin determined that the fire was the result of an electrical short in a television in the living room.

Earlier that same day, Kitzmiller and Deer Park firefighters were summoned to a reported trailer fire. The call was received by Garrett Central at 2:49 p.m., however the fire was reportedly out on arrival and the units returned to their stations at 3:10 p.m.

Firefighters from Eastern Garrett and Shaft worked for about 2 and one half hours Saturday evening before extinguishing a fire at the Danny McKenzie residence on Route 946 near Finzel. The fire, which was most likely the result of a wood burning stove, gutted the living room and kitchen, however the bedrooms were saved. The call was received at 7:19 p.m. and no one was home at the time of the blaze.

A home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Garlitz and located off Green Lantern Road just west of Frostburg was gutted by fire Monday evening as a result of an improperly installed coal and wood burning furnace, according to fire investigator, Jim Martin.

Fire destroyed the inside structure of the house and all its contents, including nearly $5,000 worth of musical instruments. The family had no insurance on the home or belongings.

Eastern Garrett Volunteer Fire Department was notified at 8:46 a.m. by Allegany County Civil Defense and Garrett Central Alarm. Also dispatched to the scene were Grantsville firemen and the Northern Garrett Rescue Squad. Bittinger volunteer firemen stood by at Grantsville. Firemen were on the scene about three hours. Shaft responded with the air cascade truck.

Martin explained that about 6:30 a.m. yesterday Garlitz got up to go to work, but before leaving he put some extra wood on the fire. A short time later, a smoke detector reportedly went off, and Mrs. Garlitz was awakened to discover smoke coming from the recreation room, where the stove was located.

The rafters in the room were burning, and Mrs. Garlitz unsuccessfully attempted to douse the fire by throwing buckets of water on it. She then fled from the house with her daughter.

Martin said the pipe from the furnace had been installed a mere eight inches beneath the floor rafters. Although the couple had tried to insulate the area, heat penetrated the pipe, causing the fire, Martin said.

Thieves Force Second Entry At Red House School

Thieves once again forced their way into the Red House Elementary School, the second time in six days.

The break-in was discovered early Tuesday morning, and investigation revealed the theft of a 21" RCA color Television. Value of the loss has been set at $450.

According to Cpl. Charles Himmont, Maryland State Police, the culprits broke a cafeteria window to gain entrance to the school, causing approximately $50 damage.

Anyone with information about either crime is asked to contact Cpl. Himmont at the McHenry Barrack at 387-5211.

Crosco Loses All Efforts Of Appeal

Robert Lee Crosco, 31, formerly of Mt. Lake Park, has now reached the end of the appeal process in connection with his conviction last year of first degree murder and subsequent life sentence by Judge James S. Getty, Allegany County Circuit Court.

Crosco was found guilty on October 10, 1979, of first degree murder in the death of his wife, Kotchie Ruth Crosco. Mrs. Crosco disappeared March 25, 1973, and her badly decomposed body was found in July of 1973 in the Lost Land Run area of Potomac State Forest. She was 19 years of age.

Crosco was not indicted by the Garrett County Circuit Court until May of 1979, more than six years after the crime was committed. The case was moved to Allegany County Courts at the request of Crosco's attorney, who felt a fair trial in Garrett County would have been impossible.

The Maryland Court of Appeals denied a petition for a writ of Certiorari for Crosco, who had attempted to get the Court of Appeals to review the action of the Court of Special Appeals. The latter court confirmed Crosco's conviction on August 29, 1979.

Reagan Elected President

73 Percent Turnout

Nearly 73 percent of Garrett County's Voters turned out at the polls yesterday to cast their ballots for candidates running for President and Vice President of the United States, a Maryland U. S. Senate seat and the Sixth Congressional District seat. Also on the ballot were two Court of Appeals judges seeking retention in office, five state amendment questions and one local referendum concerning an elected school board.

The school board issue, a bill drafted by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden calling for an elected school board rather than the present appointed board, passed by a unofficial narrow margin, of 236 votes, 2,648 to 2,412. Thus, with the 1982 election, Garrett County will begin to phase in an elected Board of Education.

Ronald Reagan, who won in a landslide nationwide for President, won Garrett County by a two-to-one margin, 5281 to 2602, over President Jimmy Carter. Carter, however, narrowly won the state of Maryland. Independent candidate John Anderson took 248 votes in Garrett County, while Libertarian candidate Edward Clark won 90 votes.

In the race for Senate, Charles McC. Mathias won handily in Garrett and in the state over Democrat challenger Edward Conroy. The margin in Garrett County was 4891 to 1554. In the Congressional race, Beverly Byron defeated Raymond Beck 5195 to 2363 in Garrett County. Byron also won the district by a wide margin.

Rita C. Davidson, judge, Court of Appeals, took 1859 votes for retention in office and 757 no votes. Edward O. Weant, Jr., judge, Court of Special Appeals, took 1797 votes for retention and 777 against retention.

On the constitutional amendment questions, the Garrett County totals were as follows: No. 1, an amendment affecting the election of county council members in Anne Arundel County, 1398 for, 911 against; No. 2, an amendment consolidating the courts of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore City, 1382 for, 925 against; No. 3, an amendment regarding the removal of cases from one court to another, 1643 for, 1058 against; No. 4, an amendment allowing Baltimore City to make loans for building renovation, 918 for, 1179 against; and No. 5, an amendment which would allow immediate seizure of property for public use in Wicomico County, 653 for, 1448 against. State results on the amendment questions were not available at presstime, however it appeared that the first four questions would be approved and the fifth would be defeated.

A breakdown of all Garrett County returns by precinct, plus absentee votes, will appear in next week's edition of The Republican.

County Voters Support Reagan, Mathias, Byron and Elected Board

Census Figures Show Increase For Garrett County

Garrett County's population rose by more than 23 percent during the 1970s, according to preliminary figures released by the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

The Census Bureau's figures gave Garrett County an increase from 21,476 to 26,502 in the 10-year period.

Neighboring Allegany County's population fell by more than four percent during the ten year period, with figures showing a drop from 84,944 in 1970 to 80,413 in 1980.

Federal funds are allocated to local jurisdictions on the basis of population. Congressional districts and state General Assembly districts may also be rearranged if the population of a county changes substantially.

The preliminary figures may be changed slightly before next month, when final figures are to be released by the Census Bureau.

Carter Victorious In Maryland, Republicans Hold Most Positions

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Maryland voters opted for a president most other states rejected, but shunned a once popular congressman whose personal conduct did not sit well with the state's rural electorate.

While the state backed the national trend and again supported President Carter, voters in the farming and fishing communities of the Eastern Shore and Southern Maryland retired Rep. Robert Bauman, R-Md.

Bauman, a nationally-recognized spokesman for conservative views, had been the favorite to win a fourth term until he revealed problems with alcoholism and "homosexual tendencies" one month before the election.

Otherwise, Tuesday's election was a heyday for Maryland incumbents, with Republican Sen. Charles McC. Mathias Jr.'s landslide victory over state Sen. Edward T. Conroy, the Democratic challenger, heading the list.

Seven incumbent House members, including Rep. Gladys Noon Spellman, D-Md., who is hospitalized in critical condition after a heart arrest six days ago, easily won reelection.

For Carter, it was not so easy.

The president trailed Reagan as early returns came in, but then pulled out the victory when heavily-Democratic Baltimore voted heavily for the Democrats.

Carter carried the city by 132,899 votes — enough to permit him to lose 20 of the state's other 23 major jurisdictions and still win the state. 706,379 votes to Reagan's 654,952, a 47-to-44 percent advantage.

Independent candidate John Anderson cut heavily into both candidate's totals, netting 215,304 votes (8 percent), about half of them coming in the Baltimore and Washington suburbs.

Real Solutions Or Good Intentions? . . .

The votes are in and we have a winner: Ronald Reagan. The majority of voters made it clear that they are quite dissatisfied with the general state of the nation under President Carter.

If one had to reduce into one word the main reason for Jimmy Carter's defeat, the answer would have to be inflation. As one voter put it, "Jimmy Carter is a nice guy, but I can't afford him."

The Iranian crisis undoubtedly took some votes away from Carter. However, most of those who criticized his handling of the situation did so out of sheer frustration, for they could offer no alternative solution to the crisis and still guarantee the safety of the hostages.

An even more significant result of yesterday's voting was the shift of power in the Senate, as many familiar Democrat figures were ousted. Most of the decision-making power in the nation lies in the hands of Congress rather than those of the president. Many of Carter's proposed solutions to our nation's difficulties may have worked, but they never got off the ground because Congress refused to go along with them. With White House and Senate control, and increased power in the House, the Republicans finally have the opportunity to attempt what they have been wanting to do for years: cut government spending, government waste, and government handouts.

Ronald Reagan has a real education ahead of him. As did Jimmy Carter, he will quickly find out that many of his seemingly simple solutions to our problems will end up as only good intentions. He may also realize that things such as inflation may be beyond the control of the White House.

It will be an interesting four years. We hope the Republican forces can make some needed changes which will result in a more pleasant life for everyone.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor

An article on Garrett Crossroads, Inc. appeared in The Republican newspaper in September. At that time we had just opened our office in Oakland. As the article explained, we are a private, non-profit organization established by Garrett citizens to supply small community based residential programs for Garrett County's mentally retarded adults. As we are scheduled to open our first group home this January, we want to inform the public of our services and encourage anyone who is interested in an alternative living arrangement for a mentally retarded adult to contact us by letter: Garrett Crossroads, Inc., 12 South Third Street, Oakland, Maryland 21550 or by phone 1-301-334-9449.

The purpose of our residential program is to provide home-living and community survival skills to mentally retarded persons so that they may assume more responsible roles as individuals and citizens. Home-living skills would include: cooking, cleaning, gardening, how to get along with your housemates, etc. Community survival skills to be taught are such things as: how to use public transportation, how to shop, balance a check book, use the library, etc.

It has been a fairly recent change in public attitude that has increased the possibility of success for a disabled person in the community. Parent groups and concerned citizens were the first to recognize and litigate for the civil and human Rights of the handicapped in the 1950's. It is within this same grassroots spirit that Garrett Crossroads has grown and from which it has a chance to begin our county's long needed residential program. No longer is the large institution the only alternative for mentally retarded citizens who cannot live at home. Everyone has the right to live within the same community as their family — to fulfill their rights and obligations as a responsible citizen.

Sincerely,
Timothy M. Breedlove
Residential Director

To the Editor:

Again we see the rich getting richer while the poor get poorer. Congratulations are in order to the local banks.

The poor people of this county have not been hit hard enough with inflation, high unemployment and high interest rates; now the wealthy bankers have decided that the poor must be penalized further for being poor by the charging of a minimum deposit fee of those who can least afford it.

Since the banks are noted for throwing money around for all kinds of advertising, including a very expensive model train exhibit during the Turkey Festival, it seems strange that they must take even the crumbs from the tables of the poor.

Would one of the compassionate bankers like to put in print a legitimate rationale for penalizing the poor in this fashion?

Editor:

Recently a critic of my "Abe Lincoln Honesty" letter said it was stupid and why did I go back to Adam and Eve? Here is a bit of an answer.

An impressive list of civilizations have come into existence, flourished, declined and collapsed in the span of time between the Garden of Eden and the signing of the Constitution of the United States of America. And that point in time is about as close as I got to Adam and Eve by referring to the inefficiency of the U. S. government. And if it's stupid to be honest and smart to be dishonest then we ought to have the most efficient, well organized and under control government on the face of the earth. And a country that isn't plagued by inflation, unemployment, pollution and crime. But we don't have.

So once again that's how it is in our modern, money oriented society of today, where integrity in politics is about as scarce as hens teeth.

Dear Editor

It was a real pleasure to see our Southern Middle School band marching the Autumn Glory parades. With all the senior high activities, the middle school is seldom heard from.

Certainly Mrs. Clever is doing an excellent job with the band when they can participate successfully beside older, more experienced groups.

We're looking forward to seeing more of the Southern Middle band and wishing them well.

Dear Editor,

I am sick of reading weekly about the feats of the male athletes at Southern High School. Isn't it about time we heard more of the poorly supported and sadly underrated female athletes of that school?

These girls are serious and dedicated athletes who put just as much of themselves into their sports as their male counterparts. Southern High School has one of the best Girl Volleyball teams ever this year with a record of 6-2, and a good chance of attending the Class 'C' playoffs next month. This is the result of the hard work and dedication of these girls and their coach. She does not have a coaching staff of two or three, but alone she provides these girls with encouragement, enthusiasm and the will to win.

I feel it's about time these girls receive some of the recognition they rightly deserve, after all they are doing the utmost to represent their school to the best of their ability and we should be proud of them. I am aware that the results of their matches are printed each week in your newspaper, and that a photographer attended their last home game. Unfortunately when I did speak to him he wasn't even aware of what two teams had been playing.

Your staff even photographed and reported the Youth League games, and surely these girls deserve the same consideration and it's about time they received it.

Yours sincerely
An Ardent Supporter

Dear Supporter,

Southern and Northern compete this evening for the county title and, believe me, we'll be there!

Three Arrested

Three Westernport residents were arrested last Tuesday by Maryland State Police on charges of theft and possession of a controlled drug substance.

A search and seizure warrant was served by Sgt. H.W. Graham and First Sgt. Paul R. Sanders, McHenry Barrack, against Jack Roosevelt Fazenbaker, 47, John Eric Fazenbaker, 19, and Regina Lynn Minnick, 18, all of Rt. 1, Westernport (Garrett County).

The warrant was served on the individuals at the Fazenbaker residence, where approximately one pound of marijuana and two stolen rifles were recovered. The rifles were valued at $550.

Personnel from the Cumberland Barrack, the state's attorney's office, and the federal Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms Bureau assisted in the investigation and arrests.

The trio was released on bond, pending their hearing.

Commissioners

existing building, to serve as a Community Center.

The Town of Grantsville is requesting $35,000 to prepare a feasibility study for adequate water supply, as the Town presently suffers annual water shortages.

The Town of Deer Park is requesting $40,000 for the replacement of an existing vehicular bridge to provide for normal traffic, emergency access and safe pedestrian use.

The Town of Mt. Lake Park is requesting $20,000 for paving of 900 feet of street in a low income neighborhood, and $25,000 for paving 1000 feet of street on Mary Drive, to provide alternate access to the Dennett Road Nursing Home.

The Town of Oakland is requesting, on a priority basis, $39,000 for 800 feet of water line extension along Route 135, to serve present commercial needs and future housing developments; $62,500 for 2500 feet of water line replacement on Liberty Street, serving low income residents; and $38,000 for 1000 feet of water line replacement on Third Street, serving low income residents.

In non-municipal proposals, Bloomington senior Citizens presented a request as a group, for $24,780 for a Senior Citizens Center. The funds will be used to rehabilitate an existing building. The group is presently using the local fire hall as a gathering place.

The Friendsville Volunteer Fire Department is requesting $90,000 for fire equipment.

The Community Action Committee, Inc. is requesting $300,000 for housing rehabilitation in various areas of the county. The possibility of targeting the rehabilitation in specific areas of the county was briefly discussed at the Monday hearing.

The Department of Health and Mental Hygiene is requesting $148,000 for "Center North," a proposed center for emotionally and mentally handicapped persons, to be located in northern Garrett County.

Commissioner Ernest Gregg pointed out that "some of the municipal requests could stand on their own," and would receive the same consideration if submitted individually.

Karen Richmond is the Garrett County HUD Block Grant Administrator. Sources say the reason for the influx of requests this year is that all towns were made aware of the opportunity to apply for the grants, an opportunity which many were not aware of previously.

In other county business, representatives from the Garrett County Sanitary Commission and Sanitary District Inc., met with the Board to discuss the county's participation in funding for those departments.

An item of $45,690 was included in the Sanitary District's 1979-80 budget allocation. The District intended to use that amount for administrative salaries.

The salaries were paid through the county's computer payroll system, a process which is utilized by other county administrations, on the condition that the county is reimbursed for those salaries.

The Sanitary District apparently assumed that the $45,690 would automatically be applied toward that reimbursement. The District therefore failed to take action to use the funds, which were later returned to the general fund. The commissioners stated that the $45,690 was spent at the close of the fiscal year to "clean the slate" by paying county debts.

The Sanitary District is now responsible for reimbursing the county for that amount dispersed for salaries during FY 1979-80, an amount which slightly exceeded the $45,690 figure, due to administrative business expenses.

The Board's funding authority in regard to the Sanitary District was deliberated at the Monday meeting. The Maryland Annotated Code is "ambiguous" with regard to that authority, said one spokesperson for the commissioners.

The Board expressed hesitation in assuming the cost of the salaries, on the premise that the District serves only certain areas of the county at this time.

Dick Nace, Sanitary District Administrator, expressed concern that "our customers should not be penalized for a mistake make in another department." The Sanitary Commission claims that the Board agreed to allocate those funds for administrative salaries.

Nace pointed out that the Sanitary District is a young corporation in need of county funds, but is "about three years away from being largely self-sustaining."

The Board of Commissioners agreed to study further the county's commitments to Sanitary District funding, as well as Sanitary Commission payroll funding, now a comparable issue.

In other county business, Edgar Harman, Garrett County Environmental Health Officer, met with the Board to discuss enforcement problems as they apply to operational procedures of septic systems, in the Deep Creek Lake Drainage Basin.

Harman recommended the deletion, or clarification, of a clause in the existing sewage disposal ordinance for that area, as it has interfered with enforcement of sewage disposal regulations.

The Board concurred in having the proposed change presented through the public hearing process. A hearing date will be advertized through public notification, once determined.

The Garrett County Commissioners office Monday announced the installation of a toll-free telephone exchange to the commissioners, for those in the 890 calling area. The new number, 895-3188, was installed to accommodate citizens in the northern part of the county. The other telephone service numbers are 334-2917 and 359-9094.

Sanitary Commission Awards Bids, Approves Bonding Rehab Project

The Garrett County Sanitary Commission recently awarded contracts to area companies for the completion of the Mt. Lake-Loch Lynn Water Rehabilitation Project. The contract for work on the Oak Park area was awarded to Frank Arnold Contractors, Inc., Oakland, which submitted a low bid of $58,440.30. The contract for rehabilitation of the River Crossing area was granted to Orrie Contracting Company, LaVale, in the amount of $37,000.

The Sanitary District, Inc. plans to more in-house work on this project, which is nearing completion. A spokesman said the District is "hoping to start the Oak Park rehabilitation immediately, to finish before winter."

The District has been working on this project for the past three years, replacing and up-grading deteriorated lines in the water supply system and distribution network, and installing new connecting water mains in the two towns.

The Sanitary Commission held a special meeting last week and voted to approve a resolution to bond the Mt. Lake-Loch Lynn Rehabilitation Project. Robert Fousek, Sanitary District administrative assistant, stated that if the bond resolution meets the approval of the Farmers Home Administration, the District will "hopefully be ready to begin selling bonds in late January or early February" of 1981. The principal amount of the bonds is $850,000, to repay interim financing of the project.

The Garrett County Commissioners last week authorized the issuance and sale of the $85,000 bond.

Sources say the Sanitary District will impose an ad valorem tax to pay the principal and interest on the bonds, for Mt. Lake Park and Loch Lynn.

Schools To Close November 14 For Conference Day

Garrett County's elementary schools will be holding Parent-Teacher conferences in the week ahead, according to the Board of Education. Because of the conferences, which will be held Friday, November 14, all Garrett County schools will be closed so that elementary teachers are free from classroom duties that day and are available for conferences. Middle and secondary school staffs will be involved in professional development activities.

Mrs. Charleen Evans Thomas, the Instructional Supervisor who coordinates the elementary schools' Parent Conference Day, reminds parents that the principals and teachers of the schools will be contacting parents via phone calls, notes sent by teachers, or the individual school's weekly or bi-weekly newsletter-menu to tell of that particular school's plan for the conferences and parents' appointment times.

As the goal of the Garrett County Schools is to have each elementary child to have at least one of his/her parents (or guardian) meet with the teacher on this particular day, it is hoped by Mrs. Thomas, that parents will make an effort to go to the school to meet with the teacher.

Mrs. Thomas relates that the National Committee for Citizens in Education suggests that parents conduct an "educational check-up" for each elementary school-age child once a school year. The N.C.C.E. offers the following conference guidelines.

Education Board States Special Public Meeting

In addition to its regularly scheduled meeting on Thursday, November 13, the Garrett County Board of Education has scheduled a special public meeting that evening to present an extensive description of the curriculums existing in the public schools. This special meeting will be held at the Broad Ford Elementary School at 7:30 p.m.

Albert Ringer, Assistant Superintendent for Curriculum and Instruction, will discuss the school curriculums as they now exist in the elementary, middle, and high school organizational framework. In addition, he will discuss future plans for curriculum development as the Board of Education continues its efforts to integrate the Maryland State Department of Education Project Basic into the locally developed goals and objectives for youngsters attending Garrett County public schools.

The Board of Education encourages as many of the general public to attend this meeting as possible.

The tractor was abandoned when it became stuck in a ditch on Brenneman Road. A reflector was smashed, and a tool box was overturned during the escapade.

The Association is dedicated to providing persons afflicted with diabetes, as well as interested members of the general public, education on insulin and how to control the disease; a list of physicians, clinics and hospitals in local areas; names and locations of social service agencies, community rehabilitation centers, home nursing organizations and senior citizen groups; and employment counseling, travel information and medical emergency cards.

Persons desiring more information about the Garrett County chapter may phone Terry Knotts at 334-4949 or the Garrett County Health Department at 334-8111, or write Rt. 1, Box 274, Oakland.

Mock Election Bids Held Monday At Dennett Rd. School

Presidential politics apparently played more than an average role in the minds of fourth and fifth grade students at the Dennett Road Elementary School this week.

Monday morning activities centered around campaign speeches delivered by the three major candidates themselves—Carter, Reagan, and Anderson. Of course, the candidates' time schedules left them personally unavailable for the appearances, but Robert Bernard stood in for Carter; Tracey Umstot took the place of Reagan, and Arthur Fedde spoke for Anderson.

The political process during an election year has been a basis of study for the fifth grade class at Dennett Road, and Monday's mock election bid, complete with demonstrators, lent reality to the audience, sparing no detail. Friendly attacks on opposing viewpoints were launched by every candidate, complete with pleas to fellow Americans to share those viewpoints and cast their votes. Information was gathered and the speeches were written by the students involved.

Anderson won crowd approval during his pledge to fight baseball card inflation; Reagan supporters seemed noisier and larger in number than others; and Carter made his way through the crowd passing out peanuts.

Vice presidential running mates were portrayed by Kristen McDonald, Scott Damon, and Stan Lambert. Demonstration leaders were Mike Ruff, Rusty Otto, Jeff King, Randy Mellinger, Lori McCain, and Pam Gregg.

Master of Ceremonies was Erin Thomas; Kenny Rinker and Patricia Heatherman presented the flags; instrumental accompaniment was provided by Sean Hershman and Robert Barnard; and the Dennett Road Band provided appropriate musical selections.

Special guests included Dr. Jerome Ryscavage, Garrett County Superintendent of Schools.

cans were concerned, however, the Carter victory in the state took little away from the Reagan victory nationwide.

"I'm flabbergasted," said Thomas Buckmaster, executive director of the state GOP. "We had no reason to believe when we woke up this morning and read the morning newspapers that it would be a landslide of this size."

With 811,704 votes to Conroy's 424,009 — a 2-to-1 margin — Mathias became the first Maryland Republican ever elected to three terms in the U.S. Senate.

"It looks to me as though it will be much bigger than we had expected," Mathias told supporters at a noisy victory party in his hot, crowded Baltimore Campaign headquarters.

Among the other incumbents winning re-election were Rep. Clarence D. Long, age 71 and seeking his 10th term; Rep. Marjorie Holt, a fiscal conservative who with Bauman's loss became the only Maryland Republican in the House; and Rep. Barbara Mikulski, who was a key spokesman last summer for presidential hopeful Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass.

On statewide constitutional issues, voters granted approval for the long sought after reorganization of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore into a circuit court similar to those in Maryland's 23 counties.

They also approved amendments to reorganize the election of Anne Arundel's County Council; to provide an automatic right of removal from one court to another only for capital crimes; and, to allow the mayor and city council of Baltimore to make and guarantee renovation loans.

But the voters turned down one other amendment that would have provided a method for Wicomico County to acquire property for public use.

Vehicle, Other Items Thieved From Bell Bros.

The Garrett County Sheriff's Department released a report this week that Bell Brothers Motor Sales, Route 219 South, Oakland, was broken into during the night of October 27.

Unknown burglars broke into the office of the establishment and removed 13 temporary license tags. Police said they then entered the garage/shop area and stole a 1975 Chevrolet C-10 four-wheel drive pick-up truck, blue and white in color. Also taken was a toolbox containing $1200 in tools, belonging to one of the establishment's mechanics.

The truck is valued at approximately $5595, and anyone who has seen a vehicle matching its description is advised to contact the Sheriff's Department.

Bell Brothers was burglarized the same night the Red House School was broken into and thieves removed equipment having a value in excess of $1900. The Red House investigation is being handled by the Maryland State Police, McHenry Barrack, Garrett County Detachment.

In last week's edition it was reported that two residences at The Ridge development, Deep Creek Lake, were burglarized. A neighbor had reported that the residence of Frank Wallrath, Baltimore, had been entered, as a door of the building was found open.

This week Wallrath reported the items taken from his dwelling, when it was entered between October 24 and 26. Taken were: radios, silverware, pots and pans, a 14-inch portable color television set, a wood-burner stove, a circular saw, binoculars, a 24-inch chain saw, socket sets and various other items. The total loss value is estimated at $1674.

In a separate case, Phillip Crumley, Mt. Lake Park, reported that someone forcibly entered his residence on October 30, by breaking two windows. Nothing was reported missing, however damage to the windows and a screen is estimated at $130.

In other business, the department arrested four persons last week.

Robert M. Laughlin, 41, Oakland, was arrested Sunday for driving while intoxicated. He was released the same day on his own recognizance.

Kenneth L. Slusser, 22, Mt. Lake Park, was incarcerated Sunday for driving while his license was revoked. He was released the same day when he posted $250 bond.

Marvin E. Wiley, Sr., 40, Jenkins, and William H. Teets, 26, Friendsville, were arrested October 30 on bench warrants, for failure to appear in court. Both were released the next day when they each posted $25 bond.

Northern Senior Named To Student Advisory Group

The State Superintendent's Student Advisory Committee, established by Maryland State Superintendent, David W. Hornbeck, during the 1978-79 school year will meet again this year. The committee is made up of one senior from each county in Maryland.

Miss Lisa Ann Clutter, Northern High School, has been selected to represent Garrett County students.

The advisory committee chooses topics which may be overlooked as to their impact on student learning, in light of the more obvious problems schools are attempting to resolve. One of the strengths of the State Superintendent's Student Advisory Committee, according to the Garrett County Board of Education, is that it reflects a student's perception of his/her surrounding educational career rather than that of an observer. The committee will discuss their recommendations with Maryland State Department of Education staff members and, when possible, these recommendations will be implemented.

The advisory committee will meet four times during the school year at the Maryland State Department of Education. The first meeting is to be held in mid-November.

The selection committee for the Garrett County School System was comprised of Robert F. Rodheaver, Supervisor, Luther D. Parrack, principal, Southern High School, and J. Kenneth Bittinger, principal, Northern High School.

As a result of the recommendations of the State Superintendent's Students Advisory Committee students will continue to have a voice in the educational decisions in Maryland schools, the Board said.

Two Men Injured In Vehicle Mishaps

Two men were injured in separate accidents over this past weekend, as reported by the Maryland State Police, McHenry.

Vincent Scott Shaffer, Mt. Lake Park, was injured early Saturday morning in a single-vehicle accident on the Loch Lynn-Gorman Road, approximately one mile from the Bethlehem Road intersection.

According to the report, Shaffer was southbound on Rt. 560 when he lost control of his vehicle. The report further states the car went off the right side of the roadway came back onto the highway, went off the left side, struck a ditch, and overturned.

The victim was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by a private vehicle.

A Bayard, W. Va. man was injured Sunday morning when he lost control of his vehicle along Rt. 219, near the Ben DeWitt Road.

Timothy James Rhodes, 25, was operating his vehicle south on Rt. 219 when, according to police, he lost control, went off the left roadside, and struck a utility pole.

Southern Rescue Squad responded to the call, transporting the victim to Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Police charged Rhodes with a right-of-way violation.

Halloween Party Held Friday At Friendsville School

Ghosts and goblins, witches and scarecrows shared the spotlight Friday afternoon with a friendly grey elephant, a tube of Gleem toothpaste, a gypsy fortune teller, and countless assorted specimens of ghoulish fantasy during the annual Halloween Activity at the Friendsville Elementary School.

The warm fall afternoon allowed the miniature masked persons to parade before the judges and their fellow classmates in the outdoor parking area. Parents and friends lined the sidewalks as the winners were chosen.

Prizes were awarded to: Preschool, Eric Livengood, who appeared as a puppy dog; and Danielle Fike, who appeared as a clown; Kindergarten, Orville Fike, a clown, and Billy Frazee, a feed sack; Grade One, Stephanie Thomas, Red Riding Hood; Michael Nedrow, as a mummy; Grade Two, Stacey Fike, as an elephant; Aletta Frazee, as a fortune teller; Grade Two and Three, Jason Fike as a robot; and Dreama Teets as a harem dancer; Grade Four, Cindy Guthrie as an angel; and Eddie Tabor as a hunchback; Grade Four and Five, Rodney Frazee as a garbage bag; and Scott Kapel as a tube of Gleem toothpaste; Grade Five, Keith Grove as a Hawaiian dancer; and Kendra Frazee as a hillbilly.

Games and refreshments, funded by the P. T. A., followed the parade in the school cafetorium and gymnasium.

Judges for the event included Mrs. Pat Glass and Mrs. Shirley Wass, both of Addison, Pa.; and Winston Teats, Friendsville.

The Halloween committee included Carol Frazee, chairman, Donna Turney, Freda Sines, Linda Tomblin, Darlene Schmidt, and Sandy Gittere.

Playoff-Bound Rams Upset By Spartans, 21-6

The Southern High Rams, champions of the Region I Class C, Potomac Valley Conference and Highland Valley Conference, had their regular season record marred somewhat Friday night by being upset by the Spartans of Bishop Walsh at Fort Hill Stadium in Cumberland. The Rams dropped to 6-3 on the season, while the Spartans gained their fourth win after six consecutive losses, several of which came to some of the top teams in the state. The Rams came into the game riding a big 19-6 victory over powerful Keyser, a team which defeated BW early in the season 35-0.

Paul Cornish, the area's record holder for rushing, was held to just 80 yards on 25 carries, one of his lowest totals in three years. Cornish came into the game with a 146.4 yards per game average.

Southern received the opening kickoff and marched 95 yards in 16 plays, ending with a one-yard scoring sneak by quarterback Todd Lewis with 4:30 remaining in the first quarter. The kick for the extra point was unsuccessful.

The Rams' score was immediately answered by a BW touchdown, as the Spartans took the kickoff and, three plays later, scored on a 32-yard power run by senior full-back Tex Melotti. The extra point kick was also provided by Melotti and the Spartans went ahead to stay, 7-6.

In the second quarter, after a Paul Cornish fumble on his own 18-yard line, it was Melotti again, this time running in from the 13 and kicking his own extra point, to give the home team a 14-6 halftime lead. The score came with only 37 seconds remaining in the half.

Melotti carried the ball for 168 yards on 18 carries and was also the Spartans' outstanding player on defense, recording 11 tackles and one interception.

After a defensive battle in the third period, Scott Adams provided the final score of the game on a four-yard dash around right end with 7:30 remaining in the game. Melotti again added the conversion kick.

The Spartans out-offensed the Rams by a margin of 254 yards to 192.

"We were outplayed as bad as we outplayed Keyser the week before," Coach Tom Woods stated. "Bishop Walsh is a much improved team with a deceiving record. We were emotionally flat after the Keyser game and we remained that way all week and throughout the game.

"I don't want to take anything away from Bishop Walsh, though," Woods said. "If we played them ten times, maybe they would beat us ten times. However, it was definitely not one of our better performances."

Despite the loss, Woods noted the outstanding defensive play of Jim Lyons and Mike Beard.

"The most frustrating thing about this loss," Woods said, "is that we had the chance to show a lot of people in the Cumberland area how far our program had advanced over the past few years. But we didn't show them much Friday evening."

The Rams will finish their regular season play this Friday night as they host cross-county rival Northern in a Homecoming contest. Northern is 4-4 on the season, coming off an upset loss to Valley last week.

"It can be hazardous to compare scores when it comes to attempting to predict the outcome of the Northern-Southern game," Woods said. "All previous season results must be discarded. It is like the first game of the year in a lot of ways. We will face as many problems with Northern as we have with nearly every other team this year. They have been upset a few times this year, but they have a lot of good athletes and all 11 of their defensive players are extremely aggressive. Even though the scores don't always show it, the Northern-Southern game is a tough, physical one every year."

Woods noted in particular the outstanding play of Northern tailback Steve Fratz, fullback Greg Carr and quarterback Robb Carr, as well as offensive and defensive lineman, Pork Wilt, and linebacker, Stan Eggleston.

Among various Homecoming activities at Friday's game will be special recognition of Dave Goldsborough, a lineman for the Rams who became seriously ill early in the season and is now well on the road to recovery. Goldsborough will be the subject of a special article in the Cumberland Evening Times, Thursday edition .

Southern's first playoff game will be next week against an opponent yet to be determined.

Donors Respond During Emergency

Mrs. Norma Hesen, local chairman of the Red Cross Bloodmobile program, stated that 16 persons responded to Garrett County Memorial Hospital Sunday morning after a plea for fresh blood was issued by surgeons. All 16 persons who responded are regular donors in the program. The blood was needed for a gunshot victim and surgeons needed fresh blood rather than blood which had been stored.

Mrs. Hesen said that the fact that these persons were regular donors to Red Cross "greatly expedited" the process because hospital officials did not have to take the time to type and cross match the blood. All of the necessary information is on the Red Cross donor card. Because of this fact, Mrs. Hesen stresses that persons who wish to donate blood should do so at the next visit of the Bloodmobile (January 9 in Oakland) in order to obtain a type card.

She also reminded that the Bloodmobile will be at the Grantsville Fire Hall tomorrow, November 6.

Northern Huskies Upset By Black Knights, 28-13

The Northern High Huskies' chances for a .500 season were placed in jeopardy last Friday night by being upset by previously winless Valley High of Lonaconing, 28-13, on Valley's field. The Huskies, now 4-4, will round out their season this Friday night against powerful cross-county rival Southern High.

| 162 | Net rushing yards | 115 |
| 217 | Total offense | 218 |

"The loss to Valley was once again brought on by ourselves," head coach Jack Settle stated. "We just didn't play football during the second and third quarters."

Northern's tailback Steve Fratz opened the scoring when he dashed over from the four-yard line in the first quarter. Mike Bradshaw's extra-point kick gave the Huskies a 7-0 lead.

The Huskies' lead did not survive, however, as Marty Bennett scored from three yards out and then ran for the two-point conversion, giving the Black Knights an 8-7 edge at intermission.

Valley continued its offensive attack in the third quarter, as Greg Bean scored from eight yards out after picking up a muffed snap on a punt attempt by the Huskies.

After the score by Bean, the Huskies were unable to get the handle on the squibbler kickoff and the Black Knights recovered, again in excellent field position. This drive culminated in a two-yard scoring plunge by Tom Miller and Valley led 20-7 going into the final stanza.

A 20-yard scoring aerial from Valley quarterback to Bean sealed the win for the Black Knights.

The Huskies attempted to rally late in the fourth quarter as Greg Carr hit his brother Robb Carr with a 22-yard pass for a touchdown, but it was too little, too late.

"This was a truly disappointing loss for us," Settle said. "We were flat after our win over Meyersdale last week, we had poor execution and we lacked intensity. We had a poor defensive effort in the second and third quarter and our offense didn't execute in part of the second quarter and all of the third."

Statistically, the Huskies came out on top in several categories, as they rolled up 218 offensive yards, compared to 217 for Valley. The Huskies also had a good passing game, hitting 9 of 16, compared to a 3-for-10 effort by the Black Knights. Northern had two costly turnovers by fumbles, while Valley had no turnovers.

In commenting on Friday night's contest at Southern, Settle stated, "You simply cannot say enough about how good Southern is. They have good running, a sound defense and excellend players. However, we will be prepared, and if we avoid mistakes, we have the talent to compete with any team."

Local Runners Compete In D.C.

Two local runners traveled to Washington, D.C. on Sunday to compete in the Marine Corps Marathon.

Dr. William Pope, Mt. Lake Park, finished the 26.2-mile distance in two hours, 59 minutes, 40 seconds, which placed him in the top ten percent of finishers.

Robert Rentschler, Oakland, completed the run in three hours and 15 minutes, which placed him in the top 20 percent of finishers.

Approximately 10,000 runners competed. The race was won by Michael Hurd, a spray-painter in the British Royal Air Force, with a time of two hours, 16 minutes and 55 seconds.

Lady Lakers Win One, Drop Three

The Lady Lakers of Garrett Community College kicked off a tough week of volleyball competition last week by defeating Frostburg State for the third time this season, 3-1. Frostburg took the second game of the match, 15-13, but Garrett won the other three, 15-3, 15-7 and 15-7.

Patty Harsh led the offense with 16 spikes for points. Amy Stanton hit on nine spikes and Sue Mason served three aces. Defensively, Stanton was 15 for 15 with serve receptions and Chris Shaffer was 11 for 11. Lisa Stark had 13 assists and Shaffer added nine.

The Lakers ran into bad luck on the road as they dropped three straight matches to Dundalk, Charles and Howard.

Garrett won the middle game against Dundalk 15-11, but dropped the other two 15-1 and 15-12.

The Lakers played better in the next match against the 17-5 Charles Community College Hawks, but came up short in two tough games 15-13 and 15-13.

Saturday at Howard Community College the Lakers again came close, however they dropped both games 17-15 and 15-13.

Mike Friend, coach of the Lakers, had this to say about the week:

"I suppose we could come up with a lot of excuses — we've got four players injured, we ran into some tough breaks at Dundalk — and so on — the bottom line is that we could have and perhaps should have won all three of these matches. As a team we need to develop a little more poise and maturity. When we went on this road trip we knew that the first match would be the key. It just turned out that our first match took too much out of us and we didn't have enough left for the next 24 hours. It was the kind of weekend that we're just glad to get behind us, but at the same time these kinds of experiences are part of competition and the girls learned a lot from it. We won't sit around hanging our heads — we'll be back to work this week to finish our season in good form."

The Lakers conclude their season November 7 with an away tri-match at Hagerstown.

Almanac

Today is Wednesday, November 5, the 310th day of 1980 with 56 to follow.

The moon is moving toward its new phase.

The morning stars are Mercury, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Scorpio.

American historian William Durant was born November 5, 1885.

On this day in history:

In 1733, German-born publisher John Peter Zenger began printing the newspaper "The New York Weekly Journal."

In 1911, Galbraith Rogers completed the first transcontinental flight. It took him 49 days to fly from New York City to Pasadena, Calif., with frequent stops because of bad weather and mechanical problems. It was estimated he spent only 82 hours and four minutes actually in flight.

In 1940, President Franklin D. Roosevelt was re-elected to an unprecedented third term.

In 1974, the Democrats won a sweeping victory in congressional and gubernatorial elections.

A thought for the day: Historian Will Durant said, "The health of nations is more important than the wealth of nations."

Demos Contribute To Southern Band

The Southern Highlander Marching Band recently received a donation of $75 from the Garrett County Democrat Central Committee to be used to held defray expenses of the band's trip to Florida later this month to compete in the national finals of the Marching Bands of America field show competition. The donation came as a result of a special performance by the band for Sixth Congressional District representative, Beverly Byron, during the recent Autumn Glory Festival.

The letter accompanying the donation stated that the Committee is "especially proud of our Southern High School Band and of Richard Clever (director) for the fine performances and honors they have earned."

For Your Convenience . . .
Potomac Edison's
UNIFORM PAYMENT PLAN
allows you to pay your electric bill in
EQUAL MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Most Potomac Edison customers are billed every other month for their electricity. Now residential customers may choose to be billed under our monthly Uniform Payment Plan.

Under this plan, we estimate the total annual charges for your electric service and determine from this your "monthly payment" amount. You then receive an electric bill for the same amount every month, thus leveling out seasonally high bills.

After six months participation in the plan, we will review your account to make sure our estimate is in line with your actual use. If it is not, we will make an adjustment in your monthly payment. In the twelfth month, your account will be brought up to date. If the charges for electric service actually used are less than you have paid, we will either credit your account or issue a refund if you prefer. Should the charges be more than you have paid, we will bill you for the difference.

To get more information about our Uniform Payment Plan, just call or stop in at your nearest Potomac Edison office.

The Background Of Integrity

There are millions of men in this world whose word is trusted—whose handshake is a binding contract—whose integrity others accept without question.

We've come a long way from the days when a strong man and a stout club were the social graces.

And this growth in man's capacity for integrity has paralleled his growth in religious expression.

Of course, the cynics will point to men and nations who still live by the code of the cave man. Must we believe that the clock of progress has turned . . . is running backward?

The sound, the sensible, the sincere still feel the strength of God's Bible in every handshake. With their children they are finding new spiritual opportunity and hope in the churches they cherish.

Are you with them? Are you, too, pushing forward the frontiers of faith?

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

TRANSFORMING THE FEAST

November 9, 1980

Background Scripture: Acts 2 through 3.
Devotional Reading: 1 Thessalonians 4:1-12.

Many Christians assume that Pentecost was instituted as a Christian feast on the day that is described in Acts 2. But Pentecost was not something new, it was an old and traditional celebration in the faith of Israel. Acts 2 does not speak, therefore, of the first Pentecost, but rather of an old feast that was suddenly and dramatically transformed.

Rev. Althouse

For centuries the Jews had celebrated Pentecost — literally 50 days after the Passover — as the feast honoring the giving of the law to Israel. Following the destruction of the temple in 586 B.C. and the Babylonian captivity of the people, the law emerged as the central focus of Judaism. It was an honest and sincere attempt to construct a whole way of life that would be positively responsive to the will of God. Yet, regardless how sincere this attempt was, it somehow failed to fulfill the ancient promises of the people of Israel.

WHEN PENTECOST HAD COME

It was for the purpose of celebrating the revered feast of Pentecost that Peter, the apostles and a company of believers was assembled together in one place. It was in keeping with what they had learned from Jesus. The Master had respected the law, even though he interpreted it differently and sometimes went far beyond the law in his teachings.

What happened to the little band of followers at that feast was nothing less than a major transformation of the whole meaning of Pentecost. While they sat or stood in an attitude of worship something surprising and startling happened. "And suddenly a sound came from heaven like the rush of a mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting . . . And they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance" (Acts 2:1-4).

What the writer of Acts describes for us is an ecstatic experience. People were moved with great emotion, but it was something much more than just emotion — there was a sense of being filled with the power and presence of God. Instead of focussing upon the law, these worshippers found a new reality on which to base their faith: the experience of God within.

PROPHECIES, VISIONS, DREAMS

Unlike the "speaking in tongues" of which we hear so much today, this outpouring of the Spirit was not sought and the tongues that were spoken were not gibberish, but languages which someone in the audience could understand. The important thing about the transformed Pentecost was that it testified to the important difference between the old and the new covenants: the old covenant was a school for the teaching of principles, the new covenant was a source of power to bring those dead principles to life.

The Holy Spirit transformed the feast of Pentecost into a celebration of God's power let loose in the world through his people.

Baptist Academy Announces First Term Honor Roll

Wilbur Hinebaugh, principal of the Mt. Lake Baptist Academy, has released the Honor Roll for the first term, which ended October 31.

Students in grades one through three who qualified for the "A" Honor Roll were David Hinebaugh, second grade; Angela Geer and Stephanie Paugh, third grade. Making the "B" Honor Roll were Jason Deal, Shelly Nesbitt, and Matthew Umbel, first grade; Robin Schrimshire and Denise Slaubaugh, second grade.

Students on levels four through twelve must complete at least 12 paces with a balance in each academic subject, plus monthly Scripture memory passages. Those who completed these requirements and maintained an average of 94 percent or above were placed on the "A" Honor Roll. These students were Kevin Bowser, David Deal, Diane Doppel, Becky Frazee, Brenda Heath, Melinda Schrimshire, and Marcy Weeks. An average between 86 and 93.9 percent places a student on the "B" Honor Roll. These students include Paul Doppel, Densil Helmick, Cassie Schrimshire, Scott Wagner, and Wendy Weeks.

The student with the highest average was Kevin Bowser with 97.7%. Completing the most paces was Diane Doppel with 22.

FAMILY CORNER

ENERGY TIP: Consider installing solid state dimmers or hi-low switches when replacing light switches. They make it easy to reduce lighting intensity in a room and therefore save energy.

How to Fight Without Frightening the Children

Parents are not expected to live in perfect agreement nor are they expected to suppress all signs of anger or annoyance with each other. Experts do, however, emphasize the importance of fighting within rules that take children's vulnerability into consideration. As youngsters see many of their friends experiencing the changes brought about by divorce, even common place quarrels between their own parents can cause painful anxiety. If fights are frequent, with no rules, the children's mental health suffers and their behavior reflects this troubled state.

In Family Health, Julius Segal, Ph. D. and Herbert Yahraes offered parents the following five sensible "ground rules for fighting around the kids." Their recommendations are based on the most recent research findings on the effects of parental warfare in children.

*Keep the child out of it. Don't use children as your confidants. Don't try to set them against the other parent. Don't use them as go-betweens when you and your mate are not speaking to each other.

*Make sure children understand that they have absolutely nothing to feel guilty about . . . that nothing they did or said caused the argument. They need to know this; tell them directly.

*Let kids know when the fight is over. Unless parents come right out and say that the fight is over and that peace has been restored, children often go on believing that disaster is imminent long after parents have forgotten the battle. This long-term tension can be quite destructive.

*Don't permit your marital upheavals to affect your individual relationships with your children. Kids should be able to count on parents acting the same to them. Try not to vent your anger and frustration on the child. On the other hand, don't go in the opposite direction and overindulge youngsters to "make up" for the stormy family atmosphere.

*Don't try to conceal quarrels altogether and fake normality for the children's sake. Kids always know when things aren't right between parents, and the disparity between their own intuitions and perceptions and parents' company manners can trigger deep emotional disturbance.

As long as parents keep their children's special needs and vulnerable situation in mind, occasional fights can teach children some important lessons. Youngsters will see that it is okay to disagree with people you love and to stand up for your own point of view. They see that mutual affection and respect can survive squalls. They also come to realize that difficult problems can be solved, even though solutions may be long and hard in coming.

FOOD NOTES:

Children are always hungry for a snack after school and mothers often do their best to provide nutritious snacks. Here is a quick, nutritious snack the kids will enjoy.

CARROT BARS

One 18-oz. pkg. oatmeal cookie mix
¾ cup shredded carrot
⅓ cup raisins
3 tablespoons water
½ teaspoon cinnamon

Heat oven to 350°F. Combine all ingredients in large bowl; mix with spoon about 2 minutes to form stiff dough. Press into greased 9-inch square baking pan. Bake at 350°F. about 35 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool; cut into bars. Store in tightly covered container at room temperature. Makes 9-inch square pan of bars.

QUESTION:
"New gas appliances are more energy efficient. But how much more?"

ANSWER:
"In time, they can pay for themselves in energy savings."

The more energy-efficient your appliances, the more money you can save. And with some of the new gas models, the savings over a number of years can actually equal the original purchase price.*

And that's ESP—Energy Savings Payback.

Included among the many features that make these new ESP gas appliances so energy-efficient are electronic ignitions on ranges, dryers and furnaces (replacing the constant burning pilot light); more water heater insulation and improved burners; and automatic furnace flue dampers to help cut heat loss.

As ways to save money, ESP-designed gas appliances are the most efficient, effective answers yet.

So if you're getting ready to make a decision about new appliances, ask your dealer about ESP gas models. For other ideas on ways to save, stop by your Columbia Gas office for a copy of the free booklet, "The Everyday Energy Saver's Guide."

*Based upon Department of Energy testing procedures and Gas Appliance Manufacturer Association testing results.

COLUMBIA GAS
Still your best energy value.
And we want to keep it that way.

Do Lutherans believe theirs is the only true church?

Lutherans believe there is only one true church, the church of Jesus Christ. They believe that in it God includes all who trust in Jesus Christ as God and Saviour.

The Lutheran Church confesses (acknowledges) Jesus Christ as Lord and the Gospel as the revelation of God's sovereign will and saving grace in Jesus Christ. The church accepts the ancient creeds of Christendom - the Apostles', Nicene, Athanasian - as authentic declarations of Christian faith. The church believes the Unaltered Augsburg Confession and Luther's Small Catechism to be true witness to the Gospel. These statements are not partisan documents but statements of belief for all.

The Lutheran Church is ecumenical; it recognizes the world-wide community of Christians whose faith is in one Lord and Saviour.

We Lutherans in Garrett County rejoice to share in Christian ministry to our community in the spirit of cooperation with our fellow Christians who confess Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour. Such cooperation is a mark of the integrity of our ministry, inasmuch as it advances the Kingdom of Christ, and shares his love with the world about us.

Would you like to know more of this confessional and ecumenical church? A cordial welcome will be yours.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

EASTERN — Please give me information on Toshiro Mifune who played Toronaga and Yoko Shimada who played Mariko in "Shogun." — D.G., Chicago

Mifune is one of the biggest stars in Japan, appearing in Samurai films. He is 60 and was born in China to Japanese parents who were traders. When he was very young, his family returned to Japan. Two of his most famous films were "Rashomon" and "Seven Samurai," both of which were later made into American films called "The Outrage" and "The Magnificent Seven." He has made over 150 films, including such American films as "Grand Prix," "Midway," "Tora, Tora, Tora" and "1941." Yoko Shimada is also a star in Japan and in 1975 was named best actress on Japanese television. She has appeared in 10 Japanese films and two dozen TV shows. She speaks and understands basic English, but is not fluent in the language. She was cast in "Shogun" quite late and learned her entire role phonetically. Quite a feat!

EVER YOUNG — I've got a good question for you. When I was a young girl I saw every picture Loretta Young made. I loved her. She was everything I wanted to be. My idea of an angel. For years I have not known who to ask if she is still alive. If so, do you have an address for her? I'd love to tell this wonderful lady how she added to my life as I grew through my teens. — W.B., Tampa, Fla.

Loretta is very much alive and will be 67 this year. She is still an exquisitely beautiful woman and can be seen at various social functions in town. She is also actively involved in charity work. Write her in care of her agent, William Morris, 151 El Camino Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90212.

LOOKALIKES — Are Dennis Cole and Robert Urich related? I think they look alike. — Z.G., Hackensack, N.J.

Dennis and Robert are not related at all.

WELK FAN — Where can I send to get one of Lawrence Welk's albums that has all the actors and their families in it? I am 90 years old and I still enjoy them all. — A Fan, South Bend, Ind.

You probably mean one of Welk's recordings. But then again, you could mean one of those family album books published about Welk and his TV family. Your best bet is to write Welk's office, Teleklew, 100 Wilshire Blvd., Santa Monica, CA, 90401 and ask the name of the nearest place from which you might get these books.

FRANKLY SPEAKING — We would like an address where we could write to Frank Sinatra. — Robert Gallik, Starkville, Miss.

You have picked a man who is not easy to reach because he travels a lot. However, he does have an office at the Samuel Goldwyn Studios (now called Warners/Hollywood). Write him there, 1041 N. Formosa, Hollywood, CA 90046.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

New love on 'Texas'?; 22 hours on a soap set

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — As you all know by now, Kin Shriner has made his appearance on "Texas." And the first thing that Kin was involved in was a remote shooting with Catherine Hickland (Courtney Marshall). At this time it's not known whether Kin's character, Jeb Hampton, will become romantically involved with Catherine's but they certainly would make a nice TV couple.

While we're on the subject of "Texas," a large number of the cast recently attended a roller skating party in Manhattan. The Roxy Roller Disco, which is a private New York club, invited the members of the newest soap to be their guests for an evening.

The on-screen action happened pretty fast when Barry Ryan met with the bumper of Faith's car (driven by Delia Ryan). But filming the sequence added up to a 22-hour day for Richard Backus, who portrays Barry. The taping finished up around 5:30 a.m. but Richard maintained a cheery attitude, saying, "It wasn't too bad. I spent the last four hours lying on my back." Richard was also interrupted in his work by ardent fans requesting his autograph.

"Search for Tomorrow" has added several new castmembers, including Nicholas Courtland as Winston Kyle, Carlos Carrasco as Detective Hewitt, who could become a regular character if he becomes involved with Pat Dixon's character, Claire Johnson. The other newcomers are Alice Clayton as Dee Dee, a fellow boarding house resident with Sissy, and Lou Criscuolo as Lt. Barbera. You may remember Lou from his long-time role of Danny Micelli on "Edge of Night."

Letters:

I would appreciate knowing if the replacement on "The Young and the Restless" in the role of Jill Brooks is permanant or temprary. — M.W., Albion, Mich.

Deborah Adair (Jill) is definitely permanant. She is the second actress to take over the role since Brenda Dickson's departure.

EPIC DRAMA RETURNS — Marlon Brando stars as Don Vito Corleone, head of a major underworld family, in the nine-hour NBC feature presentation, "Mario Puzo's 'The Godfather': The Complete Novel for Television," to be rebroadcast Thursday, Nov. 13, Friday, Nov. 14, Saturday, Nov. 15 and Sunday, Nov. 16. Also starring Al Pacino, Robert DeNiro, James Caan, Robert Duvall, Diane Keaton, Abe Vigoda and Morganna King. (REPEAT)

STARVIEW

Will 'Shogun' spawn mini-series trend?

By RUTH THOMPSON

The recent success of "Shogun" wasn't wasted, you can be sure, on the programming planners at the networks. Expect more mini-series in seasons to come.

Just where will the stories come from? From the stock that bred "Shogun" as a visual entertainment: big-canvas novels. What seems to assure a supply of great yarns is the awakening interest of novelists in having their works reincarnated as mini-series instead of movies. And that includes such a major figure as Irving Wallace, who routinely tops the best-seller lists.

Wallace, comfortably philosophical as he shrugged, "I guess all of my novels have been made into movies, and I never liked any of them," showed genuine enthusiasm, however, regarding talks underway to route his current best-seller, "The Second Lady," to the home screen.

"I've never had a novel adapted into long-form television before but I think it might be good for 'The Second Lady.' No, of course I wouldn't want to do an adaptation myself, but I can see where the story would break naturally at the places it would need to for television."

The talks have gotten to the point of dropping names of actresses for the lead. A couple of major stars are already in line. "I know why they like it. There's the challenge of a dual role." (The novel is about a Russian spy look-alike trained to adopt the mannerisms of the wife of the U.S. president so successfully that she can be slipped into the White House and substituted for the kidnapped First Lady — and fool everybody, including the prez.)

Wallace continues, "When I write a character, I don't see an actor or actress. I want each reader to make up a face. But Joanne Woodward, whom I know, loves it and I'd love to see her do it. She has great understanding and humor. And Shirley Jones has been suggested. I wouldn't have thought of her, but now that I do, I guess she would be good, too. And somebody else, as long as we're at it, who hasn't even been approached but could be right, is Jill Clayburgh."

On another day, in another interview with another Wallace — Sylvia, the talented wife of Irving — we got another vote for the mini-series format as the most apt way of dramatizing her novel, "Empress." Sylvia didn't show the draft to Irving until she had it finished. But she, too, knows how to build suspense ... and then some. Her contemporary heroine (or is she an anti-heroine?) is a non-aristocratic Bostonian who manages to marry, manage, outwit and succeed a Mid-Eastern ruler. Says the very likeable Sylvia, who still seems stunned by her personal achievement, "I guess 'Empress' would need more hours (to re-tell) than movies give."

Two others who think multi-part television formats are more likely than movies to reprise the stuff their novels are made of are suave, veteran screenwriter Niven Busch and newcomer Martin Boris.

Busch, who scripted "Duel in the Sun," "The Postman Rings Twice" and "Pride of the Yankees," among others, moved to San Francisco when he turned novelist. Of his current Literary Guild alternate, "Continent's Edge," he says, "I put so much into this, it won't compress. I need the big canvas of a mini-series."

Boris, whose first book, "Two Plus Two," is being adapted for the movies by Larry Gelbart (creator of "M.A.S.H."), says his newest, "Woodbridge, 1946," would not compress nearly so well. And so ... a TV mini-series.

CINDY SAYS

Deneuve dines in NYC; Morey is in the cold

By CINDY ADAMS

Catherine Deneuve and an unnamed small-sized Frenchman lunched a deux, as we international types say, on Madison Avenue recently. Miss Deneuve, in no makeup, chocolate-brown pants, matching sweater, matching shoes, matching blouse and practically floor-length blond hair, ate from the buffet as though dieting were just a word in Webster ... In New York for a few days and paying $250 per for their hotel room, the Morey Amsterdams were freezing their rates off. It was cold in the room, and there was no heat. Sorry, said the management, too early for steam. At $250 per day, they had to borrow a heater from a pal.

Ann Miller flies to L.A. every weekend to visit her ailing mom and makes it back for her Monday night curtain on Broadway ... Mary Tyler Moore sent her OK to jazz up the dais when The Troupers honor Mickey Rooney at the Pierre Grand Ballroom Nov. 9 ... The board of a classy co-op Fifth Avenue building put the kibosh on having John Travolta in the joint ... June Havoc is to narrate the Norwalk (Conn.) Symphony before diving into rehearsals for a new Broadway show ... Paris' hotshot couturier Hubert de Givency is designing suites for the Hilton in Singapore.

Glad to know the recession hasn't dampened everyone: Jackie Onassis' shoe repairman lost her boots. They paid her for the lost boots. Price? $600. They were snakeskin. At that price, the snake must've been the original from Genesis! ... Brownette Nancy Reagan's new blondish coif is courtesy of Manhattan hairdresser Monsieur Marc.

At that glorious star-sprinkled tribute to Andre Kostelantz in Avery Fisher Hall, CBS execs told me "Sixty Minutes" is doing Zubin Mehta ... Hey, kiddies, if your hands look like chicken feet, read Simon & Schuster's "Hands" by Linda Rose. She tells you about soaps, lotions, Brand X and how to scratch your head with the pinky extended. She's a top hand model ... Valerie Bertinelli, who is not in her early 20s, has gone off her rocker for one who is. He's rock 'n roller Ed Van Halen ... Israeli psychic Uri Geller, who made spoons bend with mind power, just knocked off a psychic novel entitled, "Pampini." It's being published by Roland Gammon's new firm, World Authors Ltd ... The teacher behind the jumps, spins and quickie moves of Robin "Mork" Williams is ex-acrobatic dancer Lou Wills, Jr.

Bette Midler: "Now that I'm over 30 people tell me I'm getting mellow. I don't know what that means. I only hope it's not another phrase meaning 'old and fat.'" ... Barbra Streisand, confessing to chums she hasn't got the ambition she used to have, is half mumbling about kicking the career altogether.

IN FOCUS

Election-day story for kids on 'Marble'

Dina Merrill, Broadway, television and film star, and Kelly Reno, 13-year-old star of "The Black Stallion," have teamed up for a four-part special on ITT's Emmy and Peabody Award-winning children's series, "Big Blue Marble," which is seen on more than 264 commercial and PBS stations around the country.

Titled "Do Me a Favor ... Don't Vote for My Mom," the serial began on Nov. 8, to coincide with election week. Part II airs Saturday, Nov. 15. The story is about young Brian Adams and his widowed mother, Katherine, who is running for the senate in a Midwestern state. Her campaign's effect on her relationship with her son is the focal point of the drama.

Brian is torn between his own interests and his responsibility to his mother's campaign. While Katherine realizes that her rapport with her son is deteriorating, she seems to be swept away by the frenetic pace. The two resolve their conflict by coming to a better understanding of their love for, and importance to, each other.

"Because of 'Big Blue Marble's' documentary format, many issues about children and their needs can be identified but never resolved," says Robert Wiemer, producer of the series. "A dramatic form presents the opportunity to pose a problem and show a resolution. 'Big Blue Marble's' theme remains children talking to children."

"Do Me a Favor" is Kelly's first role since "The Black Stallion." He will begin shooting that film's sequel in December.

Ms. Merrill has appeared in films ("Just Tell Me What You Want," "A Wedding"), on stage ("The Unexpected Guest," "Angel Street," "Any Wednesday"), television series ("Love Boat") and specials ("The Open Window," "The Tenth Month").

"Big Blue Marble," which is about to begin its seventh season on the air, has won six Emmys, a Peabody and numerous other awards, and is offered as a public service by International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation. The series is aired without commercial interruption in the United States and in more than 65 countries around the world.

Interview with pope is American TV first

On Wednesday, Nov. 12, "P.M. Evening Magazine," the Group W Productions' syndicated TV magazine series, will air an intimate moment with Pope John Paul II, an intense and personal portrait of the pope and a man in audience. The man is Ray Murray, the place is the Vatican, and the occasion is a rare one.

Murray, a contributor to "P.M. Magazine," sought an audience with the pope and was told it was impossible. He was advised that scores of other TV people had tried and failed to win an interview. Yet Murray finally succeeded, and his television crew was allowed to walk beside the pope and, at mere arm's length, record on videotape the emotional impact of one man's meeting with a great spiritual leader. In so doing Murray achieved an American television first.

"A P.M. Magazine Audience with Pope John Paul II" comes a little more than a year after the outstanding saturation media coverage engendered by the pope's six-city visit to the United States. This program, however, does not emphasize the historic, the unusual. It is, rather, a quiet look through ordinary eyes at the extraordinary, and offers a glimpse of a great leader at home and at work.

The program is offered in two-parts on. The first segment, which includes the actual audience, will air Wednesday, Nov. 12. On Thursday, Nov. 13, the second segment, "The Pope's 'Secret Service,'" will examine the centuries-old Swiss Guard, an elite group charged with protecting the pope. The story focuses on the life of a Swiss Guard captain and his American wife who live right beneath the pope's window, and whose daughter was the first baby to be baptized by Pope John Paul II.

Murray is the host of "Evening Magazine" at Group W's KYW-TV in Philadelphia. When his two segments about the pope air this week, they will be seen on all 91 "Magazine" stations.

Murray believes that whatever the viewer's religious persuasion, he or she will empathize with the feelings evoked by this meeting. "I never did get the chance to ask him about the changing role of the church or women in the priesthood. And I will admit to being somewhat awed by our meeting, even childishly excited. It must have been one of those things that left me unnerved, even momentarily irreverent, because as we said goodbye, in a moment that is captured forever on videotape, I turned to the holy father and said, 'Thanks, Pope.'"

Bucky Dent trades in uniform for coat, tie

New York Yankee superstar Bucky Dent adds a whole new dimension to his career by hosting his own talk show on the Satellite Program Network's "The Bucky Dent Show," seen every Sunday.

The 29-year-old Yankee shortstop was named most valuable player in the 1978 World Series and was included in the roster for pro baseball's All Star Team. His rugged good looks and charm have made him one of the most popular athletes in pro sports.

Now, Dent trades in the uniform for a coat and tie to host a new kind of interview program on SPN. Many of his guests are other great sports names: Joe Namath, Brooks Robinson, Reggie Jackson and Franco Harris to name a few. Each week Dent and his guests will offer advice for aspiring young athletes. With all this going for him, it's a sure bet that Dent will be one of SPN's most valuable players!

Washington, D.C. — Lem Barney, former all-pro for the Detroit Lions, has been hired as Black Entertainment Television's commentator for the remainder of the 1980 black college football season. Barney, a graduate of Jackson State University, played pro ball for the Lions for 10 years and was selected all pro for three. Barney also appeared in seven pro bowl games and was captain of the Lions for seven years. Barney is currently employed as a public relations representative at Michigan Consolidated Gas Company in Detroit.

In making the announcement a BET spokesperson said, "Lem Barney had a brilliant football career with the Lions and will bring the same skill that made him all-pro to Black Entertainment Television's black college telecasts. As a graduate of one of the nation's black colleges, he is uniquely qualified to comment on both the athletic competition of black college football as well as the academic aspects of black college life. His experience will give BET the kind of in-depth coverage that I'm sure our fans want to see."

Some coming Showtime specials are:

"Playboy's Playmate Reunion" — The empire that Hugh Hefner built celebrates its 25th anniversary with a gala celebration. Richard Dawson hosts this "fantasy class reunion," which brings together more than 130 beauties who have graced the centerfolds of Playboy. Shot live in Holmby Hills, Calif., at Playboy Mansion West.

"Tom Jones Live in Las Vegas" — The sexy, energetic entertainer performs his most famous numbers, including "Delilah," and a medley featuring "I'll Never Fall in Love Again" and "What's New Pussycat?" Joining Tom in a duet and holding her own singing solo is "golden girl" Susan Anton. The production was taped at Caesar's Palace. A featured highlight is the introduction of a new song by Tom entitled, "But I Do."

"We'll Be Right Back" — Hosted by actor Avery Schreiber and fashion model-actress Cristina Ferrare, "We'll Be Right Back" is a look at 200 of the world's best-known commercials. Reaching back to the 1940s, it presents commercials in the categories of nostalgia, tobacco, automobiles, stunts, special effects, product demonstrations, advertising "stars" and the use of sex to sell a product.

TV TATTLE

That took the wind out of their mills

VARA-TV, Holland's Socialist television station, decided to show viewers just how lucky they are. The station recently aired a "typical day" of American TV programming, designed to demonstrate the "horrors" perpetrated by Freddy Silverman and company. The Amsterdam-based broadcaster exposed audiences to "Tic Tac Dough," "Gilligan's Island," "ABC's Wide World of Sports," "Love Boat" and similar Yankee abominations. One flaw in the whole scheme though: The Dutch loved it. According to Variety, VARA's ratings doubled, wiping out the competition.

Showtime preview

"Broadway on Showtime," one of the most popular features of the Showtime pay cable TV service, will be offering subscribers a variety of top shows in the coming months. Among them: The Peking Opera, "Eubie!" "A Conflict of Interest" and "Little Johnny Jones," a revival of George M. Cohan's now-classic musical comedy.

Plus, Malcolm McDowell will repeat his American theatrical debut in John Osborne's "Look Back In Anger" for Showtime. The production marks McDowell's first American television production as well.

'Best of Sullivan'

Viewers who caught the October segment of the syndicated "Best of Sullivan" special — outtakes from the legendary Sunday night series — will enjoy two more segments, scheduled for viewing in November and December. John Byner is host for the November program, first telecast in 1967 and 1968. This one features Sullivan interviewing the Italian opera mouse, Topo Gigio, and performances by the Mamas and Papas, Richard Pryor, Lucille Ball, Siller and Meara, George Hamilton, Jackie Kahane, the Bee Gees and Fran Jefferies. (Check local listings for air date and time.)

Kate's addiction

No one would really want to get angry with Katharine Hepburn, even temporarily, but people who love sweets and must watch their weight may be tempted to get testy with the actress for a few moments.

The thin-as-a-rail Miss Hepburn, in an interivew in the current issue of Good Housekeeping, said: "What you see before you, my friend, is the result of a lifetime of chocolate. Viennese chocolate. A pound a day, often.

"And I do so love cookies. I don't have to watch my figure because I never had much of one to watch. Exercise, which I love, keeps me in shape."

Miss Hepburn, who is 71, said she doesn't look back on what some call her "former" beauty, "because it was never there.

"Actually, for a time, I was considered quite sexless," she said. "Not by me, heaven knows, but by motion picture makers. I thought I was quite passable. I also hoped to make up for my lack of looks with my thrilling personality."

'BIG BLUE MARBLE' SERIAL — Dina Merrill and Kelly Reno, the 13-year-old star of "The Black Stallion," team up for the three-part serial, "Do Me a Favor ... Don't Vote for My Mom." Part 2 of the nationally syndicated special, presented by the children's program "Big Blue Marble," airs Saturday, Nov. 15; Part 3 is on Saturday, Nov. 22. It's the story of young Brian Adams and his widowed mother, Katherine, who is running for the senate in a Midwestern state.

55 SAVES LIVES

It works!

The 55MPH speed limit... it works! Since 1974, the year the speed limit began, it's been the single biggest factor in reducing highway deaths...by more than 36,000. And don't forget, 55 saves gas. Driving at 55 rather than 70 can improve gas mileage up to 39%. So keep up the good work. Keep your speed at 55. It works – for all of us.

Veterans Receive Larger Checks

Nearly 2.3 million veterans, 240,000 surviving spouses and more than 83,000 children of deceased veterans will receive larger Veterans Administration checks this month, VA announced recently.

According to VA regional director, Milford J. Clayton, the increase is the result of Congressional action signed into law October 7 by the President which compensation rates by 13 percent for those rated from 10 to 40 percent disabled, and 14.3 percent for more seriously disabled veterans.

Dependency and indemnity compensation rates for surviving spouses and children of veterans were increased by 14.3 percent also.

Effective on October 1, the new rates were reflected in checks received November 1, Clayton said.

The legislation made several other changes in VA benefits, including: an increase from $25,000 to $27,500 in the amount of a VA home loan guaranty for conventional homes, and from $17,500 to $20,000 for mobile loans; payment of up to $5,000 for special housing adaptations for veterans with service connected blindness in both eyes (5/200 visual acuity or less), or with the loss, or loss of use, of both hands; provision of headstones or grave markers for a veteran's wife, husband or child buried in a state veterans' cemetery; improved pensions for military retirees whose retirement income falls below the poverty level.

The legislation also provides relief for veterans who obtained mortgages during periods of high interest rates and later find they can obtain refinancing at lower rates.

Previously, VA loan guaranty eligibility required that a mortgage be paid off and the property disposed of before a veteran was once again eligible for a VA mortgage guaranty. The new law permits refinancing of the existing mortgage and VA guarantee of the refinanced loan.

The bill restricts benefits for veterans incarcerated in federal, state or local penal institutions on felony convictions. They will receive compensation or DIC at a lesser rate after they have been confined for 60 days.

The new compensation rates mean that a veteran with a service connected disability rated at ten percent will receive $54 a month, an increase from $48. The rate for a 50 percent disability goes from $255 monthly to $291, and a veteran with 100 percent disability will receive $1,016 monthly instead of the current $889.

Additional amounts, providing a maximun monthly payment of $2,898 (up from $2,536) will be paid for specific severe disabilities.

A detailed explanation of the new rates was included with the November compensation checks, Clayton said.

Ag Conservation Program Underway

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) is currently accepting applications for the 1981 Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP). Funds for this year's program totaled $471,000, with $360,000 of this amount designated for annual agreements and $111,000 for long-term agreements.

Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland State ASC Committee, said the program is designed to treat serious conservation problems and clean up farm-related pollution. "We encourage farmers to correct soil and water conservation problems, and, where needed, assist them with cost-share payments," he said.

Cost-sharing may range from 50 to 75 percent of the farmers' costs for the most critical problems. The assistance will not be used for practices that are primarily production-oriented, or have little or no conservation or pollution abatement benefits to farmers and consumers, the ASCS official said.

"We are primarily concerned with saving soil, improving woodlands, keeping lakes and streams clean, and cleaning up farmland damaged by natural disasters. Soil errosion is a major problem for farmers and with today's more intensive cropping it is vital that they perform good soil and water conservation practices such as those offered under the ACP."

According to Crowl, over 37,000 acres of Maryland farmland received conservation treatment through the 1979 ACP.

To obtain an ACP application or additional program information, contact the county ASCS office.

Funds Available To Defray Cost Of Mining Permit

The State of Maryland Bureau of Mines will soon be implementing a permanent surface coal mining regulatory program approved by the U.S. Department of Interior under the provisions of the Federal Surface Mining Control and Reclamation Act of 1977, according to a release from the Bureau of Mines. The new program will raise the costs of obtaining a coal mining permit. However, financial assistance is available to eligible coal operators to defray a portion of the additional costs.

Under the new program all coal operators will be required to submit applications to repermit all mining operations that will be actively mining coal after July 1, 1981. Applications to repermit such operations must be submitted to the Maryland Bureau of Mines no later than 60 days after the Department of Interior formally approves Maryland's program.

The new permit applications must contain more information than has previously been required, including several months of groundwater and surfacewater data, an estimate of the impact of the mining operation on surface and groundwater quality and quantity, and a chemical analysis of the overburden or the material overlying the coal to be mined.

Coal operators who mine less than 100,000 tons of coal per year are eligible to receive financial assistance covering the cost of gathering and analyzing the overburden material and the groundwater and surfacewater samples. The Maryland Bureau of Mines has contracted with three consulting firms to perform these studies for eligible operators who apply for assistance. The Bureau of Mines advises that a limited amount of funds are currently available. Since assistance will be provided on a first-come, first-serve basis, the Bureau has recommended that eligible operators contact the Bureau as soon as possible. Operators may apply by requesting application forms from the Maryland Bureau of Mines, 69 Hill Street, Frostburg, Maryland 21532.

Interested operators may also call Al Hooker or Patrick Gallagher at the Bureau, (301) 689-4136, for further information.

IRS Attempting To Find Owners Of Refund Checks

Internal Revenue Service has 1,350 tax refunds, averaging $323.00, for area taxpayers they can't find.

Ted Kern, IRS Director for Maryland and the District of Columbia, said today that the 1979 Federal Income Tax refunds range in amounts from as low as $1.00 to as high as $7,494.00. The checks were returned to the IRS as undeliverable by the U.S. Postal Service. "Some taxpayers move and don't leave a forwarding address," said Kern. "Others marry and change both name and address". Still others file tax forms with incorrect address information.

Anyone who is expecting a 1979 refund, and hasn't already contacted IRS, should call 1-800-492-0460.

MAKE YOURSELF A CARPET CHECKLIST

Before coming in to select your carpeting, why not make a checklist so you can see at a glance just what type of carpet you'll need? This checklist will also assist the carpet salesman in helping you select the perfect carpet for every room in your home.

First, list each room that's going to be carpeted. Then indicate which of these rooms will need matching or coordinating carpet. Next, list the number of people that will be using each room - two for the master bedroom, one or two for the children's room, the whole family for the recreation room. Describe the traffic in each room as light, medium or heavy. How many years of use do you expect to get from the carpeting? What surfaces are you carpeting - wood, concrete, terrazzo, etc. What style of furnishings do you have in your room - Traditional, Modern, Early American, Mediterranean? Now, if you have a favorite texture, list it. Finally, list your three favorite colors.

Our salesmen aren't here just to take carpet orders. They're trained to assist our customers in making a wise carpet choice. Stop in and talk with one of them today, or call 334-9598 and ask about our free "Shop at home" services. We'll be glad to bring samples out to your home after you visit our shoppe and choose what swatches you wish us to bring. This way you can see carpet in the light of your home and how it will go with your furniture. Good idea? Call today.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

OPPORTUNITY VS. INCONVENIENCE

Once you list your home with a REALTOR, it's up to him or her to find a buyer fast. Normally, the REALTOR will arrange appointments to view the home which are convenient to all parties. That's always nice.

Sometimes, however, prospects are on tight schedules, requiring your REALTOR to make last-minute appointments. Don't get annoyed. I'd like to have a dollar for every sale consummated on a last-minute appointment. Believe me, these are the best ones. Why?

Often, prospects who are transferring into your area are on short househunting visits. They don't have the luxury of time on their side. And they want and need a house now - not in a year. The busy prospect is also more apt to make an immediate purchase than one who has all the time in the world. So, if you really want to sell your house in a hurry, treat the last-minute appointment as an opportunity - not an inconvenience.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Local Farmers Attend Annual Agway Meeting

Farmers from the Oakland Agway Inc., attending the 16th annual meeting of Agway Inc., October 30 and 31, in Syracuse, N. Y., learned that new sales records were set in 1979-80 by the farmer cooperative.

Attending the meeting from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Lichty and Mr. and Mrs. William Bowman.

Ronald N. Goddard, Agway's executive vice president and chief executive officer, told some 5,000 member/stockholders and guests attending the two-day meeting that volume for Agway internal operations during the year amounted to $1.8 billion. Consolidated sales, including the cooperative's two largest subsidiaries, Texas City Refining, Inc., and Curtice-Burns, Inc., brought the figure to almost $2.7 billion, up nearly 24% over the previous year.

During the two-day meeting in the Onondaga County War Memorial, Agway stockholders attended business sessions and participated in major seminars on various aspects of farm management. Thousands viewed the Agway Farm Show, one of the largest such indoor shows in the northeast.

Agway Inc. is owned by 123,000 farmer-members in 12 northeastern states.

Crime Index Offenses Up By 8%

A total of 261,268 crime index offenses were reported to law enforcement agencies in Maryland during the calendar year 1979, according to a release from the Maryland State Police. This represents an increase of 8% compared to 1978 data which was comprised of a total of 240,840 crime index offenses.

These offenses represent the most common problems to law enforcement, according to the State Police. They are serious crimes by their nature, volume and frequency of occurence. Basically they can be characterized as violent crimes which include murder, forcible rape, robbery, and aggravated assault or property crimes which include breaking or entering, larceny and motor vehicle theft.

An analysis of the total index by month in 1979 shows that July had the highest frequency of occurrence and February had the lowest.

Violent crimes involved the element of personal confrontation between the perpetrator and the victim. Because of their nature, violent crimes are considered more serious than property crimes. These offenses accounted for 13% of the total crime index for 1979, the same as in 1978. The number of property crimes reported in 1979 was more than six times greater than the number of violent crimes reported. As a group, property crimes made up 87% of the total crime index, the same as in 1978.

For uniform crime reporting purposes, a crime is cleared when police have identified the offender, have evidence to charge him and actually take him into custody. Solution of crimes are also recorded in exceptional instances where some element beyond police control precludes formal charges against the offender, such as the victim's refusal to prosecute or local prosecution is declined because the subject is prosecuted somewhere else.

Maryland law enforcement agencies cleared 22% of all index offenses reported to them in 1979. The violent crimes recorded a 44% clearance rate and property crimes at 19% clearance rate.

A total value of property stolen during 1979 was $117,226,778, which was a 27% increase over 1978.

This information represents the fifth annual report produced by the Maryland Uniform Crime Reporting Program. The statistics presented were compiled from monthly reports submitted to the Criminal Records—Central Repository by law enforcement agencies throughout Maryland.

and any other persons asserting title or interest to the coal or any minerals underlying Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2067, 2068 and 2069 in Election District No. 3, of Garrett County, Maryland.

NO. 7831 EQUITY
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT
FOR GARRETT COUNTY, MARYLAND
ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this suit is to obtain a decree declaring absolute ownership of all coal and minerals in Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2066, 2067, and 2068 to be vested in the complainants and that the respondents, their heirs, devisees and personal representatives, be enjoined from asserting any claim to the said Military Lots. The Bill states:

That the complainants are in constructive and peaceable possession under color of title of all coal and minerals underlying Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2067, 2068 and 2069; situate lying and being in Election District No. 3 of Garrett County, Maryland, which was conveyed to John Horchler, father of the complainants named above, by deed from the County Commissioners of Garrett County, Maryland, dated March 12, 1936, and recorded in Liber A.G.R. No. 116, folio 94, one of the Land Records of Garrett County, Maryland, certified copy of said deed being filed herewith marked "Complainant's Exhibit No. 1" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that by advertisement contained in the Republican Newspaper, a weekly newspaper of general circulation in Garrett County, Maryland, in 1936, the Garrett County Commissioners advertised for sale certain veins of coal underlying all of "Military Lot Nos. 2059, 2060, 2061, 2066, 2067 and 2068," a copy of this advertisement being filed herewith marked "Complainant's Exhibit No. 2" and prayed to be taken as a part hereof; that your complainants contend an issue has existed for a number of years regarding the actual ownership of the coal or particular veins of coal under the subject Military Lots and further allege there is an issue concerning whether the said John Horchler deed (Liber 116, Folio 94) contained the correct description of Military Lots because Complainant's Exhibit No. 2 herein describes Military Lot No. 2066 and the deed (Liber 116, Folio 94) describes Military Lot No. 2069; that it is the contention of your complainants the issue alleged herein does constitute a question of a cloud on the title to the minerals under the subject Military Lots and this action is appropriate and does have merit and is proper to resolve the issue of the proported cloud of title.

It is thereupon ORDERED this 10th day of October 1980, by the Circuit Court for Garrett County, Maryland, in Equity, that the complainants having a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Garrett County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before th 6th day of November, 1980, giving notice to the respondents and any other persons asserting title or interest to the coal or any minerals underlying the subject Military Lots, to be and appear in this Court by the 8th day of December, 1980, and to show cause, if any they may have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

IS PROPOSING
THE RELOCATION OF A SECTION OF MARYLAND ROUTE 560, FROM APPROXIMATELY 1200 FEET SOUTH OF GARRETT ROAD TO MARYLAND ROUTE 135, WEST OF WRIGHT STREET, A DISTANCE OF APPROXIMATELY 0.6 MILE

This project is currently in the Department's Consolidated Transportation Program (1980-1985) for Project Engineering (Design), Right of Way Acquisition and Construction.

Project Engineering (Design) begins following location approval. During this phase all major features of the facility are finalized and engineering plans are prepared.

SCHEDULED
DESIGN PUBLIC HEARING
7:30 P.M.
WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1980

The public hearing will be conducted in the cafeteria of the Southern High School, located at 1100 East Oak Street, Oakland, Maryland.

PURPOSE:

The purpose of this hearing is to afford all interested persons the opportunity to present their views regarding the proposed design of the project and of possible alternates, including the social, economic, and environmental effects.

Tentative schedules for right of way acquisition and construction will be discussed and information regarding relocation assistance programs will be explained.

Relocated Maryland Route 560 from south of Garrett Road to Maryland Route 135, will be a controlled access highway with three (3) at grade intersections.

The intersection of Relocated Maryland Route 560 and existing Maryland Route 135 will be at grade. Garrett Road and Relocated Maryland Route 560 will also be at grade, and the project limit where Relocated Maryland Route 560 meets existing Maryland Route 560 south of Garrett Road will be at grade.

The typical section for the project will consist of constructing a two (2) lane highway with a truck climbing lane. The roadway will be thirty-six (36) feet wide, accommodating two (2) twelve (12) foot thru lanes and one (1) twelve (12) foot truck lane, with ten (10) foot shoulders along each side. Beyond each shoulder a safety grading recovery area will be provided.

A bridge will be constructed to span the Little Youghiogheny River and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

The primary purpose of this project is to eliminate the at grade railroad crossing on Paull Street in Loch Lynn Heights. This proposed improvement will also separate local and thru traffic, which will help the total street and highway network to operate more efficiently and safely as well as improve pedestrian safety.

Beginning on October 8, 1980, the location public hearing transcript, environmental assessment, and drawings concerning this project will be publicly available for inspection during normal working hours at the following locations:

Garrett County Crime Rate Shows Increase

The 1979 Maryland Uniform Crime Report was released recently. The report contains facts and figures recorded by police officers throughout the state.

This year's report reveals the largest crime rate increase in Western Maryland – 15.5 percent – occurred in Garrett County.

Statistics indicate the number of reported rapes climbed from one in 1978 to five in 1979, breaking and enterings climbed 20.7 percent, from 164 incidents in 1978 to 198 in 1979. Larcenies and thefts rose from 274 in 1978 to 338 in 1979, an increase of 23.4 percent.

A decrease was reported in the number of aggravated assaults and the number of motor vehicle thefts. The assaults dropped 3.9 percent, from 26 assaults in 1978 to 25 assaults in 1979. The number of motor vehicle thefts fell from 44 in 1978 to 21 in 1979.

Neighboring counties reported crime increases as follows: Allegany, 9.4 percent; Frederick, 14.2 percent; and Washington County, 2.2 percent.

This year's Uniform Crime Report brought a personal note to Western Maryland. The book is dedicated to the five Maryland law enforcement officers who died in 1979. Included is Deputy David G. Livengood, who died January 1 when he was shot while responding to a burglary alarm at Davidson's Discount Store, Oakland.

SOUTHERN GARRETT RAMS FOOTBALL WEEK was designated with the signing of a proclamation by the Garrett County Commissioners Monday afternoon. The Rams, for the second year in a row, have earned a berth in the Class C Maryland State Championships and will open this Saturday near Frederick against Linganore (see story on sports page). In part, the proclamation read, "We urge all citizens of Garrett County to unite with us in saluting these fine people and their coaches for supplying the substance for increasing the civic pride and acknowledgment of our county in the State of Maryland." In the photo, left to right, seated, are commissioners Ernie Gregg, Truman Paugh, and Lester Hunter. Standing, left to right, are Kevin Flanagan and Paul Cornish, two of the Rams' most outstanding players.

General Obligation Bond Sale For Hospital Project Completed

Until last Friday afternoon, one major hurdle remained to be crossed by the Garrett County Memorial Hospital in order to make the hospital's $8.4 million building and renovation project a reality. That hurdle had to do with acquiring a buyer for nearly five million dollars worth of general obligation bonds, which was accomplished Friday when the Garrett County Commissioners signed a 24-page resolution authorizing the sale of the bonds to Alex Brown and Sons of Baltimore, investment bankers. Alex Brown found a buyer in the midwest for something less that two million dollars worth of the bonds and will underwrite the remainder.

Present for the signing were Alex Brown and Sons, Piper and Marbury, the hospital's bond counsel; the commissioners; Kenneth A. Richmond, hospital administrator; Leonard Eiswert, counsel for the hospital, and Jack Turney, counsel for the county.

The bonds, which have a maturity schedule from 1983 to 2018, carry a ten percent average interest rate. The short term bonds were purchased a number of weeks ago, many by local investors, including the Garrett National Bank and the First National Bank of Oakland.

Along with the signing of the resolution Friday, a "good faith" check of $96,000 was presented to the hospital, which represents two percent of the entire bond sale. The county, through which the hospital is selling the bonds, will hold or invest the funds until December 4, when the actual turning over of funds will occur, according to a spokesman for Piper and Marbury. As of that date, all bond proceeds will be placed in a hospital construction fund managed by a trustee. A loan agreement between the hospital and the county will be signed soon after December 4.

The hospital's original $5,284,000 bond sale was reduced to $4.8 million when the Board of Governors decided to remove the debt service reserve fund from the bond total. The bonds will also cover $666,000 for bond insurance, which guarantees the bonds a

Snowdrifters Hold Public Meeting Regarding Proposed Legislation

A public meeting was conducted Monday evening at Garrett Community College by the Deep Creek Lake Snowdrifters, Inc., to hear public response to proposed legislation for snowmobilers in Garrett County. The group is proposing the right for snowmobiles in Garrett County to legally cross a state highway at a 90-degree angle, and granting the Garrett County Commissioners authority to designate certain county roads for snowmobile access.

Those present at the meeting included Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany-Garrett), Senator Edward Mason (R-Allegany-Garrett), Commissioner Lester Hunter, Gene Smith, president of Snowdrifters, and Danny Gladfelty, vice president of Snowdrifters.

Hunter pointed out that roads to be considered for snowmobile use will be unplowed and seldom-used roads. Roads designated would also be marked as snowmobile routes, to alert motorists.

Smith noted that many snowmobilers presently ride on county roads, illegally and with no notification to motorists. He added that the proposed legislation would promote safety for the snowmobiler and the motorist, as routes would be marked. Smith also emphasized the fact that the group is not proposing mandatory registration, and is concentrating only on the two issues mentioned above.

Mention was made at the meeting that before a road can be designated for snowmobile use, the matter will be advertized and public hearings will be held.

Representatives from the Department of Natural Resources, snowmobilers and landowners expressed their views at the meeting. No clear opposition was cited by those present regarding the proposed legislation, however other problems in respect to snowmobiling in Garrett County were discussed.

Other problems noted include enforcement, liability, Motor Vehicle laws and fines, riding on private land, the recent influx of out-of-county riders, State Forest laws, children on snowmobiles and suggestions for alternate places to ride.

It was determined that Senator Mason, Delegate Bolden and Commissioner Hunter will work together to appoint a task force in Garrett County to address these and other issues and to "hash out" the entire snowmobile problem. The group will be composed of a cross-section of all interested parties and officials.

The proposed legislation, having heard no opposition, will be further considered. Mason pointed out that it will not affect the county this 1981 year, but possibly in two or three years. Smith stated that the club is shooting for next year.

George Gilmore, Regional Forester, provided insight on the recent attempts by the Department of Natural Resources to accommodate snowmobilers in Garrett County. Although local foresters have been advised to "proceed cautiously," they are in the process of constructing additional trails and upgrading existing ones.

An expanded trail system is in the planning stage, to run from Meadow Mountain to Deep Creek Lake State Park. Gilmore stated that DNR is under negotiation with private landowners to obtain easement for the trail system. He said he feels the easement problems could be resolved, but it will require "give and take on both sides."

A new convenience will be available this year, as snowmobilers will be able to

Commissioners Announce HUD CDBG Preapplication Proposals

During a public meeting on Monday, the Board of Garrett County Commissioners announced the Housing and Urban Development Block Grant proposals to be included in the county's HUD Community Development Block Grant Preapplication. This year the county received proposals totaling more than one million dollars. The county may only apply for up to $600,000, and some proposals were cut out of the county package. The Board pointed out that incorporated municipalities can also apply for up to $600,000 individually.

The proposals to be included in the county's preapplication are Bloomington Senior Citizens, $39,906 for renovation of a building to be used as a Senior Citizens Center; Community Action Committee, Inc., $260,000 for Housing Rehabilitation; Accident, $56,500 for water and sewer service for the new Accident School (Accident amended its proposal, as the original one was not eligible); Grantsville, $25,000 for planning funds to prepare a feasibility study for adequate water supply to the town; Friendsville, $50,000 for the purchase, renovation and furnishing of an existing building to serve as a Community Center; Mt. Lake Park, $29,000 for paving of 500 feet of street, and Deer Park, $40,000 for replacement of an existing vehicular bridge.

Oakland is also included in the package, for $43,907 for materials for water line replacement, and $36,000 for materials and labor for water line extension along Route 135, a total of $63,907. Oakland amended its proposal by agreeing to provide labor for the water line replacement. The final proposal included in the package is County Administration, $30,196 for the salary for the Block Grant Administrator, and office and administrative expenses.

The total amount of the county's HUD CDBG Preapplication is $575,603. Karen Richmond, Block Grant Administrator, pointed out that there is no guarantee that any of the proposals will be funded, adding that Garrett County received nothing in 1978.

The Board recommended that Kitzmiller apply as a single municipality for funds to decrease the local cost of water line construction. The town's proposal amounts to $244,000. Kitzmiller will hold two public meetings regarding its individual proposal, on November 20 and December 4.

All proposals must be submitted to HUD by December 15. HUD will review the preapplications and will advise of formal county and municipal applications in the spring, 1981.

In other county business, Ernst S. Selig, Consultant in Personnel Training, is scheduled to arrive in Garrett County today to begin work on a county Personnel Management Revue. Selig is with the Department of Economic and Community Development, and his services are provided free through and Appalachian Regional Commission grant.

Selig will interview all county employees for the purpose of job classification, job descriptions, and determining salary grade levels commensurate with the duties of each job. The survey will result in recommendations to various departments throughout the county, regarding the salaries and duties of employees. Each employee will have an opportunity to respond to the recommendations.

Dr. William Pope, Health Offeral, Garrett County Health Department, met with the Board on Monday to discuss a proposed Health Risk Reduction Program in the county. A grant application for the project has been approved by the Appalachian Regional Commission, and was sub-

EMS WEEK PROCLAIMED — The Board of Garrett County Commissioners Monday signed a proclamation for Emergency Medical Services Week in Garrett County, November 16 through 22. The proclamation states that "through the tireless and selfless efforts of emergency medical technicians, nurses and physicians, all Marylanders are assured of a superior level of emergency medical care," and that "it is fitting that our citizens recognize the Emergency Medical Technicians, hospital emergency department personnel, and Central Alarm dispatchers who devote themselves to administering the highest calibre of emergency medical care." Pictured seated, left to right, are commissioners, Ernest Gregg, Truman Paugh and Lester Hunter. Pictured standing, left to right, are Don Newman, EMS Council member; David Ramsey, Regional EMS Coordinator; Brad Stewart, EMS Council member; and Dr. William Pope, president of the EMS Council.

Holiday Plans Finalized By Local Merchants

The Greater Oakland Merchants Association announced yesterday at its monthly meeting that merchants will be giving away $100 gift certificates during the Christmas shopping season, in an effort to promote downtown Oakland.

Approximately 25 merchants will participate in the group effort, each donating a $100 gift certificate plus $25 for advertising and ticket expenses. Area residents can begin signing up in participating stores November 24, to win certificates, and shoppers will receive one ticket for each purchase.

Drawings will be held at the Liberty Street parking lot November 29, and December 6, 13 and 20, Saturday afternoons at 3 p.m. The final drawing is scheduled to take place Wednesday, December 24. About five certificates will be awarded at each drawing, however the certificates awarded will not necessarily be from the store in which the winner signed up.

Immediately following each drawing, all tickets will be discarded and new ones will be put in the barrel each week. Ticket holders need not be present at the drawings.

In other business, the group determined that this year's Christmas Parade will be held Saturday, November 29, at 10 a.m. Popcorn balls will be handed out to the public, and Santa Claus is scheduled to appear. Other possible feature attractions were discussed at yesterday's meeting, however plans are not complete at this time.

Members of the Merchants Association Nominating Committee were appointed at Tuesday's meeting. John Kurilla will serve as chairman of the committee. Others appointed are Tom Ritchey and Emil Germain.

Epilepsy Board Meeting Is Noted

The first official meeting of the board of directors for the Western Maryland Epilepsy Association met Thursday, November 6, at the district office in Hagerstown.

Representing Garrett County at this meeting was Norma Bolding, Garrett County Health Nurse, and Carol Kapel, staff writer for The Republican.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the requirements necessary to become an affiliated provisional chapter, enabling members of the board to take back useful suggestions and plans of action to their home county's local chapter advisory board and self-help group.

Garrett County has formed the newest organization to help promote understanding of epilepsy and to lend support to those persons personally affected by the disease. A massive effort to educate school-aged youth is planned, as well as expanded efforts to unlock the doors of mystery surrounding the facts of epilepsy.

The next meeting of the Garrett County advisory board is scheduled for Tuesday, November 18, at 12 noon in St. Matthew's Episcopal Church meeting room. Persons are reminded to bring their own lunch. Coffee and tea will be provided.

The next meeting of the self-help group will be announced by Hector Gomez, a representative of the Epilepsy Association of Maryland, Inc. Persons interested in learning more about epilepsy are invited to attend any of the newly-forming group meetings, or to call Hector at 733-7579.

Garrett County Service Directory Now Completed

The Homemaker Career Opportunities Program of Garrett Community College, after many months of preparation has announced the completion of the updated Garrett County Directory of Organizations and Agencies.

The original directory was compiled by Philip K. Barton in cooperation with the Ruth Enlow Library in 1974. The 1980 directory contains 138 different agencies and organizations which provide services to the county. The project was initiated in March of this year in an effort to update agencies and organizations that might provide assistance to displaced homemakers under the Homemaker Career Opportunities Program.

It is the hope of Barbara Frey, director of the program, that other agencies in the future will endeavor to continue to keep the Garrett County Directory updated "to maintain its usefulness to the county and the agencies and organizations that make use of it."

A donation of $500.00 from the Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce will enable an initial printing by Garrett Community College of 150 copies to be distributed on a non-profit basis at a cost of $4.00 each with the proceeds above expenses to be repaid to the Chamber of Commerce.

Persons interested in obtaining a 1980 Garrett County Directory, may contact Barbara Frey at 334-9184 to reserve a copy.

Reaching Out . . .

Incredible . . . astonishing . . . unbelievable . . . exciting!.

These are just a few of the words, all of which seem pitifully inadequate, to describe the photo-transmissions of the intriguing planet Saturn, which are now being received from Voyager I, a computerized, nuclear-powered, robot-like space ship which left the earth months ago. Voyager I, which has traveled approximately one billion miles and is now relatively close to Saturn, is right at this moment answering questions which have been on the minds of scientists since Galileo first sighted Saturn and its unusual "rings" in 1610.

Voyager I is traveling at a speed of 38,000 miles per hour. The transmissions being sent back to earth are traveling at the speed of light, 186,000 miles per second, but because of the tremendous distance, take nearly one and one-half hours to reach the earth.

Voyager I is presently being followed by Voyager II, which is also traveling at 38,000 miles per hour, and will reach Saturn by next summer. Voyager II's mission, however, is to transmit similar information from the planet Uranus, which it will not reach until 1986!

All of this is occurring in just one solar system, of which there are millions in just our own galaxy, the Milky Way. There are also millions of galaxies.

Both ships will continue on into the depths of space for thousands of years. Scientists believe they will be capable of receiving data from the Voyagers for several years, perhaps decades. Both are also equipped with phonograph records with sounds of the earth and its inhabitants, as well as photographs, should some alien civilization one day come in contact with them.

These distances and dimensions are far beyond the scope of the human mind. However, God gave us the talents necessary to reach out—way out—and explore our environment and better understand His glorious creation. Even to the non-scientist, such reaching out is indescribably thrilling.

Letters to the Editor

To the People of Garrett County:

Although your votes represent only about 5% of the total, your friendship and hospitality to Delegate Ray Beck and myself have caused your county to become a special place for us.

While the election results were not exactly to our liking, nothing can diminish the great times we have experienced and the long lasting friendships we have started.

All too frequently after an election is held, people very rarely see the persons who have been campaigning for their votes. Quite to the contrary with us. We will be back.

Garrett countians have termed themselves "the forgotten county". We have fallen for your land and your people. You don't know how good you have it. You are not forgotten.

Thanks to all of you and looking forward to being back in Garrett County.

Gary T. Engelstad
Aide to Delegate
Ray Beck

To the Editor:

This is being written with further comments about the policy of both local banks of charging fees for checking accounts less than certain balances. Without getting into the "rich" and the "poor", there are a lot of just plain people in the middle who are going to be hurt by this. We find ourselves between a rock and a hard spot — we need the checking account in order to pay our bills but once the bills are paid, then the account costs us money to have it.

Also there are the students and young people with first time and part time jobs who can no longer afford to have checking accounts.

It seems to me a strange twist of things when money is used by the banks in advertising to bring more customers and then policies are adopted which drive customers away.

Yours truly,
Mrs. H.F. Maffett

Dear Editor:

Garrett County's experiences with an elected school board may not prove to be unfortunate if the individuals so elected are worthy people.

Ever since I came east to Howard County, our school board has been elected. For the most part, the people who ran for election have been dedicated people who have not necessarily had backgrounds in economics or education. They have proved that uppermost in their minds is the progress of schools, including academics, teachers, all pupils, and physical plants. We have not had the disadvantages of parochialism, which I feel is the greatest danger in a body which oversees the total educational scheme.

Perhaps the best answer to a functioning school board is to encourage your local able people who have unprejudiced judgment and time to devote to the matters. They are the ones who will be sincere in standing up for what the county needs, regardless of many sectional interests.

Yours truly,
Margaret M. Harless

Building Concerns Head The Agenda For School Board

Building and curriculum concerns will dominate the Garrett County Board of Education's meeting scheduled for Thursday, November 13, at 1:30 p.m. in the Board meeting room.

Discussion of building concerns will begin at 2 p.m. after the appeal of a bus stop decision on Route 50 by David Caruthers at 1:40 p.m. The board expects to hear information on the Accident design development follow-up, the Southern High School athletic fields, and IAC Maintenance Inspections. Action is expected on the policy denying access to buildings and grounds.

At 3 p.m., administrative concerns will take action on bids for coal, and gather information on the purchase of a wrestling mat at Southern High School.

At 3:15 p.m., discussion of the curriculum concerns will include information on middle school reading, library holdings, and the superintendent's discussion with Dr. Ruhl concerning the vocational education needs assessment.

At 4 p.m., a discussion concerning administrators and supervisors association statement on residency policy will be held, followed by an executive session at 4:30 p.m.

At 5:30 p.m. superintendent concerns will begin, including a discussion on the board goals and objectives; board evaluation of the superintendent, board attendance at AASA and NSBA conventions, and the superintendent's expense request.

Information items and miscellaneous discussions will begin at 6 p.m. mitted by the Garrett County Health Department.

The program will focus on preventive medicine, dealing with such problems as smoking, stress, lack of exercise and cardiac problems. It will be run by an organizational multi-agency, headed by the Health Department and including such entities as the Garrett County Board of Education for programs in the schools and the Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

Pope proposed that the Board appoint a Garrett County Commission on Physical Fitness, comprised of about 15 to 25 members, to coordinate three years of intense campaigning to stimulate citizens to a higher level of health maintenance activities. The commission would also act as an advisory board for the Health Risk Reduction Program.

ARC funding for the program will be about $58,000 per year, to cover costs for personnel, including a Program Director, Health Counselor, office secretary and Human Services Aid, and administrative expenses.

The Board endorsed the Health Department's proceeding with the program, and suggested that Dr. Pope proceed with recommendations for membership on the advisory board.

In other business, Anna McNallie, Senior Planning Officer, conducted a public hearing regarding 504 Transition Plan as it relates to the Garrett Bus System. The U. S. Department of Transportation requires that recipients of federal funds having an Urban Mass Transit System must make public transportation accessible to the handicapped. These requirements must be met by July, 1982.

Ms. McNallie stated that the Garrett Bus System will meet the 1982 deadline at least one year in advance, as two new buses will be purchased for access to ambulatory or wheelchair users. The buses are to be equipped with a wheelchair lift.

Bids for the new vehicles were opened recently, however contracts have not yet been awarded. Federal funds will supply 85 percent of the total cost of the buses, with the remainder coming from state and county funds.

Ms. McNallie pointed out that the Garrett Bus System is the first in the state of Maryland to fulfill the 504 requirements. She will meet next Tuesday with the Commissioners for final adoption of the plan.

John Nelson, Garrett County Zoning Administrator, informed the Board Monday that Adrian Martin, Martin's Auto Body, Deer Park, has complied with most of the requirements of the county junkyard ordinance and an agreement between Martin and the Board. Martin was required to plant 4-foot high evergreen seedlings around the storage area of his property, to screen the storage from public view, according to the junkyard ordinance.

In May, 1979, the Comissioners amended the requirements to provide some flexibility, by requiring that trees be planted only where existing trees are not present. That agreement expired in September, at which time Martin had not complied.

The Board then issued a 60-day notice for revoking his license, in the event that the requirements were not met. The deadline for compliance was Sunday.

Martin has planted about 4000 seedlings, and is scheduled to complete the project this week, by planting a row of seedlings in the center of the property. The ordinance requires that junk be deposited at least 200 feet from the perimeter of the property, which is also scheduled to be done this week.

The Board agreed that Martin's license will be retained, provided that he meets the additional requirements mentioned above.

The junkyard ordinance was established in October, 1978, and is applicable to 12 junkyard dealers throughout the county. All are compelled to screen the storage area from the view of the public, and Nelson stated that all have complied.

In other business, the Board opened bids for inspection and an engineering study of 63 bridges maintained by the Garrett County Roads Department, located on county roads. The Board received 11 bids from various engineering firms, and amounts ranged from $11,850 to $122,400. Some bidders present at the Monday meeting expressed difficulty in clearly understanding the specifications.

All of the bids will be evaluated by the County Roads Department staff before awarding of a contract.

Monday the Commissioners discussed the $45,600 for Sanitary District salaries, which was returned to general funds at the close of FY1980.

The Board agreed to keep that figure in mind when working with budget amendments, as a possible source for unused or adjusted funds. In regard to Sanitary Commission salaries, neither the Sanitary District or the County Commissioners considered that $3,300 per year figure into the budget. The Board discussed the possibility of including that figure in the $45,600 amount.

and tournaments. For the past five years he has been sales manager of one firm and vice-president of a leading boat manufacturing company. He teaches fishing at six universities, and represents the American Institute of Bass Fishing, the only instructional school of its type in the United States.

In tournament competition Murray acts as his own agent. His winnings vary from year to year. His most recent World Championship winnings amounted to $56,000, in the year 1978.

Murray said he plans to be a professional fisherman and promotional representative all his life. "I make my living on what most people do for pleasure," he said, claiming that last year he fished "from the Artic Circle to Cuba, and everywhere in between." His secret of success. . . "the ability to read the water you're fishing in," or not to be bewildered by a new body of water. Murray firmly stated that "fishing is not luck–it is a learned skill."

Murray feels that Deep Creek Lake "is a very good lake–not an easy lake, but a good productive lake. There's a lot of fish in it." In two-day fishing here, in what Murray terms "not good fishing weather," he caught 30 and one half pounds of fish, a total of 16 bass.

Murray and his wife have one son and one daughter who travel with him during the summer months. He said he is "looking forward to this year's competition with great anticipation. His next tournament is November 14, in Florida, the start of this year;s competition. Tournaments will start again in February, 1981, to run through July.

The professional bass fisherman came to Garrett County upon the urging of a friend, Ernie Borrelli of Washington, Pa., who frequently visits Deep Creek Lake. Murray plans to return to the lake this spring to help launch a bass fishing tournament.

"I admire originality, Miss Wallace, but not in spelling."

Agricultural Preservation Board Reviews Easement Application

The Agricultural Preservation Advisory Board met thursday evening to review the county's first application for selling development rights easements. The Board has been in existence since June, 1980. Since that time it has approved three applications for property in the Pleasant Valley area to be included in the Maryland Agricultural Land Preservation Program under the Maryland Farmland Preservation Act, Garrett County District.

The purpose of the farmland preservation program is to preserve farmland for agricultural use, and each district must have at least 100 continuous acres of land. Farmers enter into the district on a voluntary basis, on the condition that they will not sub-divide the land, that it will remain agricultural, and that there is little likelihood of water and sewerage going into the area within the next ten years. One-acre parcels of the land, however, can be granted to children for the purpose of building a home.

The second stage of the Farmland Preservation Act involves the property owner's selling development rights easements to the state of Maryland. Thursday the Board recommended approval of this sale of the property of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason, the original members of the Garrett County District.

The two other petitions approved for the district are for the property of Don Mason and Joe Zook. Tim Dugan, Planning Administrator, stated that one advantage of membership in the district is that it negates existing zoning regulations and provides "instant protection" for the farmer. Another advantage is that membership takes the burden off farmland owners pressured to sell their land for development or industry.

Thursday the Board reviewed the fourth district petition submitted by Milton Riley, Pleasant Vally, and recommended approval for that petition. All petitions must be approved by the Garrett County Planning Commission and the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, before recommendation can be made to the state. Dugan said that the state of Maryland prefers continuous land for each district, therefore requiring that new petitions join some portion of the existing district.

At the meeting it was noted that the state may reconsider its denial of Don Mason's petition on that basis. Mason's property does not join the existing district at this time.

A spokesman said the local advisory board show "strong support" in favor of the reconsideration for adoption of the Mason property.

The remainder of the funding for the hospital project, known as Project G, will come from a $2.5 million Appalachian Regional Commission grant and a local fundraising campaign. Garrett County voters approved the general bond sale by a two-to-one margin in the May primary election.

Groundbreaking and re-dedication ceremonies at Garrett County Memorial Hospital are slated for November 23, the details of which will appear in next week's edition of The Republican.

register at certain places in Garrett County, to ride on State Forest trails. The registration fee is $5, and registration was previously available only in Cumberland and places farther away from Garrett County. Gilmore added DNR will provide flexible hours for snowmobile registration.

Gilmore noted that the State is looking ahead to five and ten-year plans for snowmobiling in Garrett County, and is attempting to "handle issues before they become problems." Gilmore was asked Monday night to serve on the newly-appointed task force.

Hearing On Proposed Relocation Of 560 To Be Held Tonight

A public hearing will be conducted tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Southern High School, to review the proposed relocation of a section of Maryland Route 560, from south of Garrett Road to Maryland Route 135, a distance of approximately .6 mile. The hearing will be conducted by the Maryland Department of Transportation, State Highway Administration.

The purpose of the hearing is to afford interested persons the opportunity to present their views regarding the proposed design of the project, and possible alternates. Tentative schedules for right of way acquisition and construction will be discussed, and information regarding relocation assistance programs will be explained.

The State Department of Transportation notes that the primary purpose of this project is to eliminate the railroad crossing on Paull St. in Loch Lynn Heights. The proposed improvement will also separate local and thru traffic, which will help the highway network to operate more efficiently and safely, as well as improve pedestrian safety, according to the State Highway Administration.

FLORIDA BOUND — The Southern Highlander Band traveled to Weston, West Virginia, on October 17 to compete in the Lewis County Band invitational field show competition. The band received awards for best silks, best rifles, and best marching and maneuvering. With these honors, they also captured first place in their class and received the grand championship trophy. On November 8, the band made another trip to Pittsburgh, Pa., to compete in the Western Pennsylvania Championships. They won second place in their class and ranked third overall. This was their final competition before their trip to Florida later this month to compete for the Marching Bands of America National Championships. The band placed first in their class in one of eight regional competitions, held recently in Toledo, Ohio, which qualified them for the MBA finals.

Southern Band Raising Funds For Florida Trip

So far, the highlight of the Southern Highlander Marching Band's 1980-81 season has been their success in the national-ranking Marching Bands of America competition in Toledo, Ohio, where they placed first in their division. This honor not only included a trophy, but the opportunity to compete in the grand national MBA championships in Jacksonville, Florida.

Maximum efforts by the band members, instructional staff, parents and friends are being made to insure the appearance of the band in this competition, according to a spokesman for the Southern High Band Boosters.

A "Party Games Night" will be held on Saturday, November 15, at Southern High School Cafetorium. "Early Bird Games" will begin at 6:30 p.m., and regular games at 7 p.m. Refreshments will be sold and the public is invited.

Band students will participate in the "Band-A-Thon" starting on Friday evening, November 14, and continuing through Saturday night. Sponsors should contact any Southern band member, or for more information contact Richard Clever, director.

If enough money is raised, the band will leave Oakland early Monday morning, November 24, for Florida, and return home late Sunday night, November 30. Competition will be held Friday and Saturday, November 28 and 29. The trip includes one day at Disney World.

Diabetics Urged To Exercise

Editor's Note: November has been designated as National Diabetes Month. The following article was submitted by the Garrett County Diabetes Association.

It has become increasingly clear that the importance of regular exercise for maintenance of good physical health cannot be over emphasized. Exercise is essential for the general population, but for certain groups of individuals, maintaining activity is even more vital. Among these groups are diabetics.

A diabetic is a person who for one reason or another lacks the proper amounts of insulin in the bloodstream. It is also possible to have sufficient insulin levels in the blood, but have this insulin be ineffective in performing its function. Insulin is a protein hormone which regulates carbohydrate and fat usage by the body. Working muscles need energy in order to maintain their level of activity. This energy is supplied to the muscles or the breakdown of certain foodstuffs into sugars. Insulin is responsible for assisting the muscles in their utilization of sugar, which yields the energy required for proper function.

Without effective insulin, or with decreased blood levels, sugar is not utilized properly by the muscles and fat cells, and increased blood sugar and the presence of sugar in the urine is seen.

When insulin levels are decreased, supplementation is often needed, either through oral administration of Hypoglycemic Agents, which stimulate increased production of insulin by the body or by use of insulin injections.

Care must be taken by the diabetic to assure that a proper level of insulin is in the bloodstream at all times. Either too much or too little insulin in the bloodstream may have serious effects.

Authorities on the subject of diabetes agree that exercise increases the effectiveness of insulin. Therefore increased activity in the person with diabetes using insulin supplementation may cause increased utilization of sugars by the body, yielding a "low blood sugar state." During this state, the diabetic may experience weakness, may start to tremble, begin to perspire and/or feel quite hungry. To combat this, diabetics often carry a quick source of sugar, such as a candy bar, with them at all times so that blood sugar levels can be increased and further complications avoided.

It is easy to see, therefore, that maintenance of activity is necessary to keep blood sugar levels as "normal" as possible. One might ask, "Why then couldn't a diabetic remain quiet, without exercising and maintain his activity at this level."

We know that it is important for everyone to exercise their bodies in order to stay healthy. Diabetics, by virtue of their disease, are prone to numerous physical problems which do not plague the general population. Circulatory insufficiency is only one of these problems.

Circulation, especially in the legs of diabetics can become decreased through arterial occlusion. Occlusion or "closing off" of large and medium sized blood vessels contribute to the fact that diabetics have 20 times the incidence of gangrene of the foot than do non-diabetics.

Regular exercise can increase cardiovascular efficiency and increase circulation. It is also a well known fact that muscular contraction aids blood flowing in the veins to return to the heart, helping to reduce or eliminate pooling of blood in the legs. These facts when applied in a medically supervised program of exercise can significantly reduce the possibility of circulation related disorders.

Anyone wishing to begin an exercise program should consult his or her physician before doing so. A diabetic must be certain to obtain medical advice to decrease the possibility of side effects from unsupervised exercise.

It is also imperative that the diabetic become very familiar with his disease and its manifestations, so that diabetic reactions can be avoided if at all possible, or can be dealt with quickly and properly if they do occur.

Exercise then, if only in the form of performance of activities of daily living, is essential to maintenance of a good level of health for the diabetic. Once again, if diabetic or non-diabetic, consult your physician before beginning any new program of exercise.

For more information about Diabetes, contact the Garrett County Chapter of the American Diabetes Association at 334-8111.

AURORA-EGLON

A Fall Conference Training Program was held at Jackson's Mill near Weston, W. Va., with members of the Aurora Junior Odd Fellows and the Cathedral Theta Rho's in attendance.

Those attending from the two Aurora clubs were: Mike Pritt, Tony Conrad, Dewey Conrad, Page McCrum, Chris Conrad, Gary Conrad, Dave Myers, Charlie Myers, Jane Pritt, Tammy Tackett, Brenda Baker, Lisa Shaffer, and advisor Betty Pritt.

The next meeting of the Union Ambulance Association will be held on November 18, rather than the regular meeting date, at 7:30 p.m. in Aurora Ambulance Squad Hall. The change of date is due to conflict of dates for the guest speaker to be present. Everyone is urged to attend.

The Aurora PTO announces that they will collect Fun 'N Fitness seals for the purchase of athletic equipment for the school. These seals are to be found on Post cereals, Log Cabin syrups and mixes, Awake and Orange Plus breakfast beverages and Wonder Bread.

At their annual Birthday Party held last Sunday evening in the Aurora United Methodist Memorial Building, prizes were awarded to the youngest child, Darrell Fint; to the eldest gentleman, Paul Stemple and to the eldest lady, Eva Wotring. There was recreation, a devotional program based on the theme, Love, and refreshments consisting of cupcakes and a six-foot banana split. About fifty-three attended.

Mrs. Alfred Wotring returned Friday to the home of her granddaughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harsh, and children, at Brookside, and on Sunday, Mr. Wotring also was brought there from Garrett Memorial Hospital where they had both been patients for the past three weeks. For those who have asked about the replacement of blood for Mr. Wotring, this may be done on January 9 when the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Armory in Oakland. Persons will need to state that they are giving blood for Mr. Wotring and it will be credited to his account.

Other patients in Garrett Memorial Hospital are Harry Slawter of Aurora, and Marguerite Shaffer of Brookside. Surgical patients there last week were Kathryn Corbin of Horse Shoe Run and Joan Reeves of Brookside. Michael Sisler of Amboy underwent surgery in Garrett County Memorial Hospital and remains a patient there.

A patient in Broaddus Hospital, Philippi, is Mrs. Winifred White of Eglon.

Mrs. Florence Harsh fell when returning to her home Friday after a trip to the post office and was taken to Garrett Memorial Hospital where she was treated and released.

The World Community Day program was held Friday evening at the Texas Bethel United Methodist Church with worship and group discussion under the theme, The Power of the Holy Spirit. The offering of the evening was given to the men of the Stemple Ridge area who are helping Lawrence and Millie Moats built a new dwelling. This was for the purchase of supplies used in the building.

Mrs. Lester (Marie) Hauser of Stemple Ridge was a patient last week from Wednesday to Friday in Sacred Heart Hospital, Cumberland, where she underwent tests.

Recent visitors of Mrs. Elva Bland, Eglon, were Alverta Kinney and her sister, Alma Buseman, both of Morgantown.

Visiting Friday afternoon with Mrs. Emma Gnegy in Eglon was Mrs. Lena Bachtel of Red House.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. May Beckman, Eglon, were Robert and Bobby Beckman of Terra Alta. Afternoon visitors were Charles and Audra Teets, Eglon, Victor, Ruth and Victoria Beckman, Parsons; Luella Fike, Aurora and her daughter-in-law, Cleta Fike and her three children of Terra Alta, and Joe and Clara Spaid, Eglon.

Robert and Wanda Roth of Morgantown visited Saturday with his mother, Mrs. Lela Roth, Eglon.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Teets of Eglon went last week to Copley, Ohio, where they helped their son and daughter-in-law, Bradley and Robin Teets, move to their new home in Hartsville, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Simpson of Martins Ferry, Ohio, were weekend guests of her mother, Mrs. Mildred Wilt, Eglon. Additional Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Spaid of Aurora and their granddaughters, Annette and Diana Sisler of Cranesville.

State Police File Charges Against Several Drivers

Maryland State Police, McHenry, investigated a variety of traffic accidents around the district over the last ten-day period.

A parked vehicle belonging to Donald W. Turner, Deer Park, was struck by an unknown vehicle which backed out of the parking lot at Joe's Place, Oakland. The vehicle then fled the scene.

Damage was confined to the left rear portion of the vehicle.

Sharon Leola Brennamen, 26, Accident, was making a left turn onto Rt. 495 when she failed to yield the right of way to George W. Bray, 39, Cumberland.

According to police, Bray was operating a Pepsi-Cola Delivery truck northbound on Rt. 495 when he struck the Brenneman auto.

Police charged Ms. Brenneman with failure to yield right of way.

Three persons were injured last Wednesday evening in a three-car accident on U.S. Rt. 219 at the intersection of Bumblebee Road.

Drivers of two of the cars, Deborah Selby, McHenry, and Tracy Harvey, and a passenger in the third car were taken to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Northern Rescue Squad.

The driver of the third car, Leland Welch and his passenger, Vernon Tasker, were unhurt. Carissa Selby, a passenger in her sister's car, and Betty and Dale Harvey, passengers in their daughter's car, were also unhurt.

Police stated the Welch auto was traveling south on Rt. 219; the Selby auto reportedly pulled onto Rt. 219 and was struck broadside by the Welch vehicle. The impact forced the Selby car into the Harvey auto, which was also hit by the Welch vehicle.

Charges are pending.

SEEKING A PATH through Northern High Husky defenders Friday evening is Southern senior tailback Paul Cornish, who rushed for 118 yards and scored the game's only touchdown, as the Rams won the county rivalry, 6-0. Also identifiable in the photo for the Rams is No. 80, George Scheffel, and No. 7, quarterback Todd Lewis. In the photo for the Huskies are No. 62, Jim Swauger; No. 82, Mike Bradshaw; and No. 32, Troy Margroff. The game wrapped up the season for Northern, while the Rams will travel to Frederick this Saturday for a Class C playoff contest with number one rated Linganore.

"Typical N-S Game"

Rams Edge Huskies, 6-0, In Cross-County Contest

The odds-makers and season statistics predicted it would be a lopsided win by the Southern High Rams over the Northern High Huskies last Friday in Oakland. However, longtime followers of both Garrett county High Schools knew the odds, statistics and season records usually mean little when these cross-country rivals meet, and this proved to the case as the state play-off bound Rams narrowly defeated the fired-up Huskies, 6-0. The contest upped Southern's record to 7-3, while Northern finished the season at 4-6.

The lone score of the game came on a six-yard dash by senior tailback Paul Cornish midway through the second period. The two-point conversion attempt failed when Cornish was stopped on the one-yard line.

Cornish led the Rams' offense, gaining 118 yards on 31 carries, while sophomore teammate Ron Bosley picked up 62 yards on 17 carries.

Southern managed a number of drives throughout the evening, only to be stopped by a stubborn Husky defense before reaching the end zone. The Rams had the ball inside Northern's ten-yard line four times, but lost the ball on downs three of those times.

The Southern defense also produced an outstanding performance, not allowing the Huskies to cross the 50-yard line until late in the fourth quarter when it appeared the visitors might upset the Rams. Their drive was stopped, however, on the Rams' 23-yard line and Southern took over and let the clock expire.

Steve Fratz nearly put his teammates on the board in the second period when he nearly picked off a Todd Lewis aerial, which would have been good for six points. Fratz headed for the goal line before he had control of the pigskin, however, and dropped it. Fratz did intercept one of Lewis' other tosses to stop a Southern drive.

Northern's sophomore quarterback, who was starting only his third game, completed nine of 21 passing attempts for 54 yards. Lewis managed to connect on only two of nine tosses, one of them, however, a 25-yarder to George Scheffel, is what set up Cornish's touchdown.

Southern outgained the Huskies on the ground by a margin of 169 to 80 yards.

"Northern was an emotional, well-prepared team," Southern coach Tom Woods stated. "If Northern had played with the same intensity all season, they would have been well in the running for a playoff position."

Woods said that six of his offensive starters had not practiced much during the week previous due to injury and this contributed to poor timing by the Rams. "However, I don't want to take anything away from Northern," he said. "Even if we would have played one of our best games, it would still have been tight. It was a typical Northern, Southern ball game."

Woods praised the defensive play of Wayne Scott, who led in tackles whith ten, Jim Lyons with nine, Pat Rodeheaver and Andrew Orr, with nine apiece. He also noted both the offensive and defensive play of Kevin Flanagan.

Northern coach Jack Settle was quite pleased with the play of his squad despite the loss. "We played up to our maximum potential, and with just one break or one fewer mistake, we could have won the game," he said. "We had poor field position throughout the game."

In reference to the fact that Northern's season record of 4-6 was not indicative of the quality of the team, Settle said, "It just wasn't in the cards for us this year. We never got the big plays when we needed

Rams To Face Linganore In State Playoff Opener

For the second year in a row, the Southern High Rams have a shot at the Maryland Class C Football Championship. However, the first step on the final road to that championship will be a tough one, as the Rams meet number one rated Linganore this Saturday at 1 p.m. The game will be played on Linganore's field, which is located about eight miles east of Frederick.

The Rams earned a playoff spot by winning the Class C Region Championship for the second consecutive year. They also repeated as Highland Conference and Potomac Valley Conference champs.

Southern's bid for the state title in 1979 was stopped short in the opening round of the playoffs by a powerful Smithsburg team, which then went on to claim the championship.

Although the Rams went into the 1979 playoffs with a 10-0 record and presently hold a 7-3 record, head coach Tom Woods believes his team has a much better chance at bringing home the title this year. "Last year, Smithsburg was head and shoulders above all the other teams in the playoffs," he said.

However, this year all four teams are fairly even and any one of them could win the title." Southern is the number four ranked team in the playoffs. Number two ranked Mt. Hebron will host number three ranked Snow Hill at the same time this Saturday and the winners of the two contest will meet the following Saturday, November 22, for the championship.

Linganore will go into Saturday's game with a 9-1 record, their only loss coming to Smithsburg early in the season, 14-6. Woods stated that they have an "explosive offense" which is led by Charles Dorsey, a 5-10, 175-pound halfback, who has racked up 1,567 yards on the ground this season. "With the exception of Kenny Barnett (Central Preston), Dorsey is the quickest back we will face this year," Woods said.

Also adding heavily to the success of Linganore's offense has been fullback Mark Mutulia, 5-10, 160 pounds.

"Linganore is about the same as we are size-wise," Woods stated, "but they're extremely quick, use a lot of mis-direction and trap plays, and get outside about 90% of the time." Linganore utilizes a wishbone offense and has what Woods calls "an adequate passing game."

Linganore uses a 5-2 and 4-4 defense and is anchored by 6-2, 220-pound tackle James Brooks.

Woods said he compares Linganore to Central Preston as to size, quickness and overall talent. "It may well be a high-scoring contest," he said. The Rams lost by a single point in overtime to Central Preston early in the season.

When asked to compare this year's playoff-bound team to last year's, Woods stated, "We are more versatile this year. When our offense has a good night, we are a better offense than last year's. I believe our defense was a little stronger last year, only because it was dominated by experienced seniors. However, our present defense has played several outstanding games this year."

Woods said last evening that the Rams have had two "fantastic practices" so far this week. "Our kids have been a little flat for the past couple of weeks, due to looking ahead to the playoffs. But right now they are as emotionally high as I've seen them all year. We're really looking forward to Saturday's game."

Paul Cornish, according to Woods, is "as sharp and as ready as he has ever been." The record-smashing senior tailback was forced to sit out last season's contest with Smithsburg due to an ankle injury suffered just a few days before the game.

Physically, Woods says the Rams are in the best shape they have been all season, with the exception of quarterback Todd Lewis, who suffered a jammed thumb in Friday night's Northern game. He said Lewis' thumb was much improved yesterday and he should be ready to return to action no later than Friday.

Coach Woods stated he hopes the local fans will turn out in large numbers at the game Saturday. "Obviously, Linganore will have an immediate edge by playing at home," he said.

The field can be located by following Interstate 70 east, traveling past the Frederick exits, taking the New Market exit and following the signs. The weather is predicted to be sunny and mild.

The Rams will leave Southern High School at 10 a.m. Friday. Fans are welcome to come to the school at that time and extend "good luck" to the team.

them, we fumbled the ball entirely too many times and 90% of the breaks went against us. But we'll be back next year." Out of the 32 members on the team, only seven are seniors.

In reference to the Southern game, Settle pointed out the outstanding play of William "Pork" Wilt, both offensively and defensivley. Troy Margroff, Stan Eggleston and Steve Fratz were also noted by Settle for their defensive play. Offensively, Settle commended the performances of fullback Greg Carr, his sophomore quarterback Robb Carr, and the offensive line, composed of Mike Robinson, Pete Frazee, Ken Butler, Greg Durst and Mike Bradshaw. Settle said wingback Randy Yommer also provided some excellent blocking.

Settle stated that he felt the game "spoke highly of Garrett County football. There were few penalties in the game and not one of our kids mentioned any unsportsman-like play by any of the Rams. It's great to be able to compete against each other, and at the same time get along so well. Our entire staff and team wishes the best of luck to the Rams in their bid for the state title."

Lady Laker Volleyball Team Ends Season With 10-11 Record

The Garrett Lakers began the last week of this season's competition with an easy win over Frederick Community College on the Garrett court. Garrett won all three games of the match 15-2, 15-10 and 15-6.

Lisa Stark led the serve attack with seven aces. Chris Shaffer had ten assists and Patty Harsh had 11 spike points. Amy Stanton chipped in five spike points and four ace serves, while Sue Mason and Darlene Queen led the defensive effort.

The Lakers concluded the season in a tri-match at Hagerstown against Hagerstown and Charles Community College. Hagerstown came into the match with a record of 18 wins and 6 defeats, while Charles had posted a 17-5 mark.

Against Hagerstown, Garrett won the first game 15-13, but were soundly beaten in the next two, 15-6 and 15-7.

Sue Mason scored on five ace serves and added 4 spike points. Patty Harsh spiked for 11 points and Amy Stanton was a perfect three for three at the net. Chris Shaffer had eight assists and Sandy Logsdon led the defense with three blocks and four digs.

Garrett dropped two straight games to a strong Charles Community College team by identical scores of 15-9 and 15-9.

Sue Mason led the offense against Charles with three ace serves and six spike points. Sandy Logsdon added four spike points as Chris Shaffer and Amy Stanton were both perfect at the net for six additional spike points. Mason also played outstanding defense with six digs. Lisa Stark led the team in assists with four.

According to head coach of the Lakers, Mike Friend, "the team played an inspired game to open the match against Hagerstown, but then were unable to keep momentum on their side. Basically we were defeated mentally because our game plan worked perfectly for us and we had the skill level to compete with both Hagerstown and Charles. However, that's part of the game so we were just beaten by two superior teams.

"All in all, we had a good season improving a bit on last year. The girls had a lot to learn about the game and in that regard we did a good job. However, we've got to apply our learning to competition in order to win."

Northern Girls' Volleyball Team Takes County Title

Northern High School's outstanding offensive play led them to a double game victory over Southern in girl's volleyball championship play.

The teams met Wednesday evening in a head-on collision to determine the county champions in the Garrett Community College gym.

A best-of-three schedule had been planned, but Northern took an early lead with a 15-12 win, and came back in the second game to soundly defeat the Southern squad with a final score of 15-2.

The win gave the Northern girls the county championship as well as permanent possession of the rotating trophy.

Two outstanding defense players for Northern, Donna Ringer and Linda Yunker, were credited with effective spiking and the most saves. Cindy Sines was Northern's top offensive player in the rival meeting.

Southern regulars Elizabeth Neary, Linda Gnegy, and Mary Nelson gave a joint team effort, with Northern boosting their season record to 9-5.

The Northern Team advanced to the regional tournament. A report of those results will follow.

Adoptive Parents Group Notes National Adoption Week

Editor's Note: November 23 through 29 has been designated as National Adoption Week. The following article was submitted by the local Adoptive Parents Group.

The Adoptive Parents' Group, a local adoption support organization, will meet Friday, November 21, at 7:00 p.m., in the basement of St. Mark's Lutheran Church in Oakland. The program will be an update on local adoption with information provided by Alice Frederick of Garrett County Social Services. Children may accompany parents to the meeting.

The meeting is being held in anticipation of National Adoption Week, November 23-29, which occurs every year around Thanksgiving. A one-hour television special, Adoption in America, will be aired Wednesday, November 26, at 9:00 p.m. on WQED. The program was produced by WQED, Pittsburgh, for national broadcast. Adoption in America will cover a wide range of topics, including current adoption trends and legislation, independent adoption and "baby brokers," adoption of children with special needs, minority adoption and specialized agencies, intercountry adoption and adoptees searching for birth parents. Commentary by several well-known personalities, such as syndicated columnist George Will, are also featured.

The North American Council Adoptable Children, Inc. (NACAC) has compiled an adoption information packet which will be offered free to interested viewers. The offer of adoption resource material prepared by NACAC will be made following each segment of the program. NACAC, with several hundred local affiliates across the United States, originated the celebration of Adoption Week to focus national attention on children without families.

The local Adoptive Parents' Group offers the November meeting as an opportunity for anyone who has an interest in adoption to determine the current facts about adoption, including what children are available. There are a number of individual reasons that a person might be interested in attending the Adoptive Parents' Group. The most obvious would be a desire to adopt a child or a possible future interest in adoption. Persons who were adopted themselves or who have given up children for adoption may also find an opportunity to share feelings and try to reach a better understanding of the adoption triangle. A current project of the Adoptive Parents' Group is to reach expectant mothers who are deciding what to do about an unwanted pregnancy. A member of the group will be available to answer questions about adoption and adoptive families so that the expectant mother may consider adoption as one of her alternatives in addition to abortion or keeping the baby.

The Adoptive Parents' Group urges the community to examine its attitudes and information about adoption. Some members are concerned about myths which many people believe about adoption, such as, "If you can't have children of your own, then adoption is the second best way to have a family," or "if a girl makes one mistake by having an unwanted pregnancy, she should not make a second mistake by giving the baby away," or "The best person to raise a child is the REAL mother." Young people who are inexperienced in the challenges and hardships of parenting often believe that parenting is an instinct which accompanies giving birth. The reality is that parenting is not an instinct, but something which must be learned. A person can give birth and learn to be a good parent, or a person can give birth and never learn to be a good parent, or a person can learn to be a good parent or not without ever giving birth to a child.

Another attitude which should be examined is that of focusing on the birthmother's rights and needs to the exclusion of the rights and needs of the expected child. Today's society says that if a girl gives up a child for adoption, she will experience guilt feelings and a burdensome sense of loss. It has also been suggested that girls who have abortions do not experience this same burden because in the first twelve weeks of pregnancy it is easier to deny the reality that a pregnancy exists. If she does have guilt feelings about adoption, part of this surely comes from having learned negative attitudes about adoption from her environment.

The young person with an unwanted pregnancy is often influenced by her own parents to raise the child herself, even if they are in no position to start all over in the tremendous task of raising an infant to maturity. In some cases it may be the best decision. In other cases, prospective grandparents act out a negative community attitude toward adoption accompanied by a strong desire to do "what is right" or what is morally acceptable. More information about adoption and better community attitudes could provide these people with the reassurance to encourage an adoption placement and believed they are doing "what is right." It takes a great deal of maturity and concern about the best interests of a child for a girl to go through the hardships of nine months of pregnancy, while admitting that she is not yet prepared to undertake the responsibility of caring for a child 24 hours a day for the next 20 years of her life. Placing a child for adoption is not an easy decision to make and many adoptive parents today are able to reassure their children that they were not given up because they were not wanted but because "your birthmother knew she could not take care of you and loved you enough to want you to have a better chance in life."

With revisions in adoption laws currently taking place it is likely that in the future birthparents and children who have been adopted will be able to register with an agency if they wish to be reunited upon the child reaching adulthood. Many adoptive parents support their children in this need to learn more about their biological parents. Placing agencies often provide the birthmother with information about the family in which the child will be placed. Certainly, in today's world there is no need for a birthmother to feel that if she places a child for adoption, she will never know what happened to that child. Sensitivity to human need is making advances in the field of adoption.

Adoption today is considered to be just one way of building a family, not a second-best way. Often, people who have given birth to children choose to expand their families through adoption.

In celebration of National Adoption Week 1980 the Adoptive Parents' Group urges the community to take this opportunity to learn more about adoption—by attending the November 21 meeting, by watching the television special, or by telephoning the group for answers to questions about adoption. For information by telephone, contact Sue Seaks, 334-4282.

Maryland Governor, Senator Visit Veterans Med. Center

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Gov. Harry Hughes and Sen. Paul Sarbanes, D-Md., Tuesday sung the praise of the Veterans Administration Medical Center on a Veterans' Day visit to the hospital.

It was Hughes' first visit to the Baltimore hospital. He, Sarbanes and a host of veterans and hospital volunteers roamed the halls and wards of the facility shaking hands and making friendly conversation with the patients, nurses and doctors.

"I am particularly impressed with the fact that all the patients I talked to said they were receiving excellent care," Hughes said.

Sarbanes echoed the governor, saying "this facility has been free of the problems of many of the other hospitals. The Baltimore community has a high standard of medical care and a very active volunteer movement."

The hospital, built in 1952, had 222 patients Tuesday, most on short-term stays. Hughes said he was impressed with an infectious disease treatment center and also praised the volunteers.

But some of the patients seemed more interested in last week's election than their maladies.

David Fowler, 45, was recovering from head injuries he received during a mugging last week.

"I'm deathly afraid of (president-elect) Reagan. I see devastation, war, the annihilation of the human race," he said.

"This country is going downhill fast. I was in the service 20 years, in Guantanamo Bay mostly, and never got so much as a scratch. But right here in Baltimore I get hit over the head with a lead pipe."

Another veteran, 60-year-old Ray Mitchell, said, "I don't like Reagan. He wasn't in the service, he's just a movie star."

Mitchell was in the Air Corps for three years during World War II, servicing planes for the Flying Tigers in China. He broke his ankle and has been in the hospital for three weeks.

"I've heard Reagan wants to get rid of the VA," Mitchell said.

Mel Foreman, 45, a veteran of Korea, Lebanon, Santo Domingo and for the last seven years a police officer for the VA, was more impressed with the president-elect.

"I think he'll at least do something when the time comes. You know, they sent us into Lebanon in 1958 and that was nothing more than a civil war. Now, we get 52 guys captured in Iran and the president sends in eight people to get them out. Maybe Reagan will do better than that."

And Hillary Matthews, 82, who served in World War I, was unconcerned with the election. "I don't care. It doesn't make a bit of difference who the president is. A person just has to do the best he can by himself," he said.

Corrections Center Head Is Fearful Of Over Crowding

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (UPI) — The superintendent of the Maryland Correctional Training Center says he fears national accreditation could prompt prison officials to send even more inmates to his institution.

"Yes, I'm scared I might end up having to take some more (inmates)," Jon P. Galley said of the prospect of accreditation by the American Correctional Association.

There are currently 1,759 prisoners at the facility, which is designed to hold 1,409. Despite the number of prisoners, Galley said inmate problems have been kept to a minimum.

"I think the largest reason for that is this institution has the turnover capability," Galley said Monday, explaining the average stay is eight to 11 months.

State prison officials transferred dozens of prisoners to MCTC earlier this year, in trying to meet a federal court order to end overcrowding at the Maryland Penitentiary and Maryland House of Correction.

Galley said he would rather MCTC not be accredited, but added it might help it gain funds.

Girl's Body Found, No Concrete Leads

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) — Howard County police Tuesday expanded their quest to identify a girl's body found along Interstate 70 to surrounding states, saying efforts in Maryland have not turned up "concrete leads."

Two hunters found the body of the girl, believed between 9 and 13 years old, hanging from an eight-foot-high fence near West Friendship early Saturday. Her jacket was caught on the fence, suspending her off the ground.

Cpl. Randolph Roby said an autopsy showed the girl died late Friday, but he said the cause of death is not known and investigators are not sure if foul play was involved.

Police investigators spent Monday asking Howard and Carroll County school officials to help identify the girl, but had no success.

Roby said police have asked for help from police in Virginia, Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia in identifying the body.

State medical examiners found no sign the girl had been assaulted sexually but said it would be 10 days before they have the results of tests for alcohol or drugs in her blood.

Maryland Republican Executive Director Announces Resignation

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Thomas L. Buckmaster II, executive director of the Maryland Republican Party since May 1979, said Tuesday he will leave the post at the end of 1980.

Buckmaster, 24, said he turned in his formal resignation two weeks before last Tuesday's general election. He said he has not yet accepted a new job, but plans to remain in Republican politics.

"With the massive changes in Washington (as the result of the election of Ronald Reagan) and the various opportunities that may become available, I'm, at this point, keeping my options open," he said.

Buckmaster, who was apparently the youngest state GOP executive director in the nation when hired, said his decision had nothing to do with the fact that Maryland was one of the few states carried by President Carter.

"I made a specific effort to resign prior to the election so my resignation would be perceived neither as opportunist should there have been a Reagan victory, nor as a result of any failures in the campaign," he said.

State party Chairman Allan C. Levey said Buckmaster has "done a fantastic job and gained a lot of experience and has helped the state a lot. Everybody I've talked with in the state has been happy with the work he's done and the rapport we've set up with the (news) media. Tom has broadened the base of the Republican party in Maryland."

Levey said Buckmaster "feels he wants to try some other part of the Republican Party — either on a congressional committee for the House or the Republican National Committee — to widen his experience.

"He's a dynamic young man who is going to go far in a career in politics," said Levey.

Buckmaster got his political start while in college in Tennessee, where he worked in the unsuccessful 1976 reelection campaign of Sen. William Brock, R-Tenn., now the national GOP chairman.

"I think the most exciting thing that has happened — and much of the credit needs to go to Allan Levey — is that the state party, since 1978, has grown from an organization with a budget of $70,000 and being $20,000 in debt to an organization that this year will be debt-free and with a budget over $300,000," Buckmaster said.

"Of course, we've also increased the overall perception of the state party as a viable political force in Maryland," he said.

Levey said no replacement has been named, but said he has begun reviewing applicants.

Man Accused Of Political Blackmail Faces January Trial

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A Maryland man who pleaded innocent to charges of trying to blackmail Rep. Robert E. Bauman, R-Md., will be tried in mid-January.

James Regina, 26, entered the innocent plea in U.S. District Court Monday. He was arrested Oct. 8, the same day Bauman told reporters he was an alcoholic who had homosexual tendencies.

The alleged blackmail scheme involved charges by Bauman that Regina wanted $2,000 to keep quiet about a homosexual love affair between the two. Regina said the affair had been going on for several years and that he wanted the money to leave the country.

Court papers show that Bauman, who was defeated in the Nov. 4 election, claimed Regina asked for the cash on Oct. 3, the same day Bauman pleaded innocent in a District of Columbia court to a charge of soliciting sex from a 16-year-old boy.

The solicitation charge will be dropped upon Bauman's successful completion of a voluntary court program.

The charge against Bauman was a result of a grand jury investigation of child pornography. Court papers have shown Regina was working as an informant for the FBI as part of the investigation.

Regina, of Fishing Creek, is free on $25,000 bail.

MHPC Suggests Community Care For The Retarded

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The Maryland Humane Practices Commission has recommended the state focus its care of the mentally retarded in community based centers instead of existing institutions, the commission's chairwoman said Tuesday.

The report concluded the state Mental Retardation Administration has sacrificed quality for quantity and is poorly managed. And while the agency has assumed responsibility for institutional care, it has negelected community services, the report said.

The study was undertaken at the request of the 1978 General Assembly and took nearly a year to complete.

State Sen. Rosalie Abrams, D-Baltimore, the chairwoman of the commission, said the commission strongly supports community services and is encouraged by Gov. Harry Hughes' commitment to "deinstitutionalization."

"The isolation and confinement of institutions is counterproductive to helping retarded people and violates their constitutional rights," Abrams said. "A more productive and humanitarian way to help mentally retarded citizens is to assist them through the provision of needed services to live as normal a life as possible in their communities."

The report also said:

—The MRA doesn't know who exactly it is trying to serve;

—The management of the MRA is not sophisticated enough to provide adequate services.

—Legal advocates, parent organizations and other groups represent "considerable resources" which need to be directed.

The commission recommended a ban on building more mental health institutions and more financial support for community based organizations.

It also suggested the MRA and the state Health and Mental Hygiene Department appoint advisory groups including consumers and hospitals, review court cases in other states that have established boundaries for mental health care, and help the mentally retarded achieve the "highest degree of possible independence."

Funds Proposed To Help End Nursing Shortages

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A state regulatory agency is backing a proposed plan to give hospitals about $1 million to help them end a nursing shortage.

Dr. Harold A. Cohen, director of the Health Services Cost Review Commission, said under the plan general hospitals would submit ideas on how to attract nurses. If the commission approves a proposal, it would allow a hospital to increase patient fees.

"The commission can't give away money," Cohen said. "We only can approve that the public be charged more."

Maryland hospitals are currently short about 1,400 nurses, or 14 percent below ideal levels.

Couple Attacked By Trio Of Men

(UPI) — A 40-year-old Seat Pleasant man was killed and his girlfriend raped early Tuesday morning by three men, Prince George's County police said.

Police said Horace Jerry was killed and his girlfriend was raped three times by the men. No arrests have been made.

Police said Jerry's girlfriend arrived at his home on Quarry Street about 5:15 a.m. and was met at the door by one of the suspects. Police said she was taken to the rear bedroom and raped by two of the men. She told police she saw Jerry lying on the floor, but did not know if he was dead or alive.

The woman told police she was then forced to the basement where she was raped again. When she came back upstairs, she found Jerry in a bathtub, apparently drowned.

FRIENDS IN NEED — Home Health Services, a division of the Garrett County Health Department, meets the special needs of county residents who are homebound due to illness. A staff of five nurses, home health aides and specialists spend their working hours making home visits for the treatment and care of about 36 patients each month. Pictured above left, standing, Eileen Beitzel, registered nurse, cares for Ethel Jane Stiles, far left, while Pat Pannone, Home Health Aide, kneeling right, works with Viola Stiles, seated. The Stiles sisters have been with the Home Health Program for nearly two years.

Health Department Staff Still Makes House Calls

By Kathy Railey

The Home Health Services aspect of the Garrett County Health Department offers alternative health care to homebound or terminally ill persons in Garrett County, by visiting them at their own bedsides. The department provides skilled nursing care, physical therapy, speech therapy, home health aide and nutrition consultation to county residents, regardless of age, who are confined to their home due to an illness or injury.

During fiscal year 1980, Garrett County Home Health Services made about 1200 visits for nursing care alone, and about 1700 combining physical therapy, speech therapy, nursing and home health aide. The department's average monthly case load is about 36 to 37 patients, divided among five registered nurses.

Norma Bolding, coordinator of Home Health Services, explained that care is often short-term, although the program carries some patients for years. Many of the Home Health patients require follow-up treatment after release from the hospital, while others, such as terminally ill persons, receive regular long-term care.

Home Health Services is a sub-division of Adult Health Services, under the direction of Sara Fredlock. Other staff members are Helen Heath, Service Staff Nurse; Pauline Faucett, Community Health Nurse: Eileen Beitzel and Linda Miller, part-time Registered Nurses; Pat Pannone, Home Health Nurse; Thomas Graybill, Speech Pathologist; Scott Eutsler, Physical Therapist, and Alice Sines, secretary. Several of the staff members work under contract with the Garrett County Health Department, serving in other areas as well as Home Health Services. The department also makes use of volunteer Home Health Aides under the Garrett County Commission on Aging.

The Home Health staff works under written orders from a physician. Ms. Bolding explained that they will visit a patient one to seven times a week, whatever the doctor feels is necessary, to administer treatments in the home. The staff nurses inform the doctor of the patient's symptoms, and compile a patient report every 60 days, describing any change, treatments administered and assessments of the patient.

Home Health Care is primarily covered by third party payments, such as Medicare, Medicaid or private insurance. Charges for cash patients are based on the patient's personal ability to pay. A unique aspect of the department is that no patient will be denied services for inability to pay, demonstrating sincere dedication of the entire staff.

Many of the services administered by the staff are taught to family members,

Dress: formal

Annoying, isn't it? We who love to think of ourselves as FREE are always being asked to conform. And if we show our spirit of independence by ignoring some stuffy convention — the shock wave registers on society's seismograph like an earthquake.

Despite manners and customs shouldn't each of us be making his own decisions?

Important decisions — moral and spiritual, should never be based on conformity. They must express our faith, always keeping God's purposes in focus.

Every one of us is free to search the Bible's truth. In God's Word we find foundations on which to build our lives. In His promises we discover our hope and destiny.

Decisions we base on the Bible's truth today will be an influence for good in society tomorrow.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ON BEING QUALIFIED

November 16, 1980

Background Scripture:
Acts 13:13-52; 2 Corinthians 3:1-6.
Devotional Reading:
Acts 26:9-18.

Rev. Althouse

I came into the Christian ministry by the normal route: four years of undergraduate college, licensure by my denomination as a "probationer," three years of seminary, doctrinal examination by ecclesiastical officials, and finally: ordination.

I have no regrets about that route, nor am I in favor of abolishing these and other qualifications for the Christian ministry. Yet, at the same time I am disturbed from time to time that our ecclesiastical system that has been designed to protect the church from an unqualified ministry, has, at the same time, become somewhat of an airtight pressure chamber that keeps out of the church any ministry that does not fit into the system. I have no doubt that we need safeguards and order, but I worry that we frequently exchange safety for inspiration and order for God's Spirit.

NOT SELF-SUFFICIENT

We need to be reminded of what lies at the basis of any ministry — clergy or lay. Paul helps us in 2 Corinthians when he says: "Such is the confidence that we have through Christ toward God. Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to claim anything as coming from us; our sufficiency is from God who has qualified us to be ministers of a new covenant . . ." (2 Cor. 3:4,5).

Whatever covenantal ministry any of us have for Christ it is not dependent upon our own adequacy. To be sure, we bring some qualifications to that task: we may be good communicators, we may have an easy way with people, etc. But, although the ministries of Christ need our God-given gifts, they are not wholly dependent upon them. Anyone who becomes involved in ministering to people knows that he or she is sometimes — perhaps oftimes — personally inadequate for the task. Even less are we made adequate or qualified by the education we receive or the stamp of approval which the church puts upon by ordination. All of these may build upon, add to, and enhance, but never replace the only adequacy we ever have: the sufficiency of God. Our education, our training, our ordination — these are but tools, not the source of the power by which we minister.

THE SPIRIT GIVES LIFE

We must constantly be creating and perfecting our man-made systems to help us in the performance of our covenantal ministries for Christ, but, when we have reduced something to an organizational chart, a confession of faith, a procedure for equipping one of Christ's workers, let us not be so arrogant to think that our organizations, confessions, and procedures are equivalent to the Holy Spirit. For our ministry, as Paul puts it, is not that of a "written code but in the Spirit; for the written code kills, but the Spirit gives life" (2 Cor. 3:6).

The first and last qualification of anyone who ministers in the name of Christ is to know, then, that "our sufficiency is from God."

HOMEBOUND PATIENTS IN GARRETT COUNTY OPEN THEIR DOORS to nurses, home health aides and speech and physical therapy specialists, working under the Home Health Services division of the Garrett County Health Department. The department's average monthly case load is about 36 to 37 patients, divided among five registered nurses. The number of visits is determined by the patient's doctor, as well as the treatments administered.

who can maintain the comfort and needs of the patient in the absence of the staff. The department can provide psychological evaluations and counseling for Home Visit patients, as an additional referral service through the Mental Health division of the Health Department.

In reference to the many terminally ill patients served by the department, Ms. Heath said the nurses often become "patient advocates," and strive to "keep the patient functioning, alert and oriented as long as possible."

All of the Home Health staff nurses have gone through Hospice care training, geared strictly to cancer patients with the intention of keeping the patient at home, living "normal" lives. Many terminal patients are in and out of the hospital, but are provided with regular care, treatments and counseling while at home, through Home Health Services.

Home Health Services recently relocated to Route 219 north of Oakland, in a red brick building next to Bauer Lumber Company. A patient's family or physician may contact the office for entry into the program.

The department fullfills the special needs of many county residents, in working to help patients maintain the optimum level of health for their age and condition in a comfortable environment, at home.

Brethren Academy Honor Roll Noted

The Swallow Falls Dunkard Brethren Academy announces its Honor Roll students for the first term.

The requirements that must be met in order to achieve Honor Roll status are: a total light unit average of ninety percent or more; monthly Scripture passage for the quarter memorized and recited; and not more than seven demerits for the quarter.

Students who met those requirements include Rebecca Sines. Lavinia Mellott, Willie Johnson, Bonnie White, Erica Lewis, and Wendy Brode.

The extrinsic motivation for students who attained honor status for this term is a field trip to the Smoke Hole Caverns in Petersburg, W. Va.

Zelman Named To Academy Of Family Physicians

Dr. Jared B. Zelman, Oakland, has been named a Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians.

The degree of Fellowship may be attained in either of two ways: successful completion of 600 or more hours of accredited continuing medical study, or achievement of diplomate status in the specialty of family practice as a result of passing a certifying examination administered by the American Board of Family Practice.

Fellowship entitles the conferee to use the title, "Fellow of the American Academy of Family Physicians," or "FAAFP." The degree was conferred October 7 upon more than 1100 members of the Academy in conjunction with AAFP's annual convention and scientific assembly in New Orleans, Louisiana. Ceremonies were held in the Grand Ballroom of the Marriott Hotel before some 2,500 persons. Fellowship candidates were recognized according to state chapter groups and the oath of fellowship was recited en masse.

The Academy, comprising more than 49,000 members in practice and in training, was the pioneer national medical group requiring members to take continuing study, a minimum of 150 accredited hours every three years. The AAFP, headquartered in Kansas City, is the largest of medicine's specialty groups.

Youths At Long Stretch Home Form Dairy Club

Students at the Long Stretch Youth Home have organized a dairy science club with the aid of their advisor, former professional football player Bob Maddox, two Frostburg State College fraternities and several private citizens.

Maddox, physical education instructor at the youth home, said he hopes the club will someday help its members to secure employment, and he believes this is the first club of its kind to be organized at a Maryland youth home.

He added that, if the home received accreditation next year, the club hopes to be affiliated with the national Future Farmers of America.

Residents of the home have, for at least a year, been involved with Heifer Project International, which presented the youth home with 40 heifers. Since that time, youths at the home have been actively involved in the sale of milk.

An organizational dinner was held recently at Happy Hills Restaurant, attended by John Deiterly of Heifer Project International's Arkansas offices.

John J. Hafer, member of the board of the youth home, installed the club's new officers and explained their duties.

Members of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity at Frostburg State spoke to the group regarding organization of the club, writing a constitution and strengthening the group Maddox was a member of that fraternity at FSC.

Additional help was provided by Delta Phi Omega fraternity, of which Doug Oxford, the home's special education instructor, is a member. Members of that organization acted as advisors and helped with election of officers for the club.

Census Bureau To Conduct Survey

Did you vote on November 4? Were you registered but did not vote.

The Bureau of the Census will ask these and other questions about voting in the 1980 elections in a sample of households in this area during the week of November 17-21.

Porter S. Rickley, Director of the Bureau's Regional Office in Philadelphia, stressed that no questions will be asked about party affiliation or for whom a person voted. The survey will provide a profile of American voters and non-voters by characteristics such as age, sex, residence, education, and labor force status.

These voting questions are in addition to the usual ones asked in the monthly survey on employment and unemployment conducted nationwide by the Bureau for the U. S. Department of Labor.

Results of the monthly employment survey provide data on conditions in the labor force, prime indicators of the economic health of the country.

Information supplied by individuals participating in the survey is kept strictly confidential by law and the results are used only to compile statistical totals, according to the Bureau.

Conversations on Carpeting
Sale on many in-stock ROLLS and Carpet Remnants

Brought to you by Carolyn & Butch Helbig
Who say
"A Floor without a Rug is like a Kiss without a Hug."

IF YOU ASK ME . . .
My husband feels that wall-to-wall carpeting is fine for the living room but it's impractical to carpet other rooms in our home. What can I say to convince him that carpet is practical for other rooms too?
There are so many advantages to carpeting that I hardly know where to begin. You can tell your husband that carpeting is a great insulator. Wall-to-wall carpeting throughout your home will mean extra warmth and lower heating bills. Another practical reason is that it will increase the resale value of your home. Carpeting in every room is very attractive to prospective buyers.
Carpeting will lessen the noise in a recreation room or child's play room too. It's also a safe, healthy play surface for children. Carpeting will lessen your work load because vacuuming is much easier than scrubbing and waxing. The price of today's carpeting isn't out of line and the liberal credit terms offered here at Roderick's will let you enjoy your carpet as you pay for it.
Want to know exactly how new carpeting will look in your home? Why not select it at home? I'll arrange for samples of many patterns and colors to be brought to your home for your selection; in your lighting and around your furniture. It's our free "SHOP AT HOME" service in action. Want to know exactly what this carpeting will cost? We'll let you know that too. Phone me today at 334-9598.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.
For a very personalized appointment with Butch or Carolyn call today at 334-9598, who will give you the best in price, quality and service.

Energy Tip

Use less gasoline in your car by keeping your tire pressure at the maximum recommended weight, which is marked on the tire.

Choosing a Turkey

November often brings thoughts of Thanksgiving and along with that, visions of a delicious turkey dinner. Turkey is a special treat and to top it off it is one of the most economical meats we can buy. Many different factors should be considered when buying a turkey, therefore, I thought it would be good if I would share with you some things to think about when making that purchase.

*When determining the size of turkey to buy, decide the number of people who will be eating the turkey and if you want leftover turkey. It you allow at least one pound of turkey per person, you can be assured of moderate leftovers.

*The tenderness of a turkey depends on the age of the bird when processed, not on the size of the bird; therefore, a 24 pound turkey can be just as tender as a 6 pound turkey. Also, you must remember that turkey is high in protein and all protein is heat-sensitive, therefore, if the turkey is overcooked it may seem tough and dry. Cook the turkey just until "done" to be at its best.

*To be assured that the bird came from healthy flocks, contains no harmful chemicals or additives and has met a uniform standard of wholesomeness, check for the inspection circle on the bag of the turkey which will read: Inspected for wholesomeness by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

*Read the label for information on the kind or class of bird, the weight of the bird, the price per pound, the total price of the bird, and the USDA grade and inspection stamp. Also, any additional ingredients that are added will be on the bag.

*Basically two types of packaging will be available: fresh-dressed turkey, which are chilled, but not frozen and frozen turkeys. The choice is yours — fresh turkey will not keep as long as frozen, so the time-elapse between when you purchase the bird and when you plan to cook it may enter into your decision.

*Turkeys can be purchased which are pre-basted or self-basting. These turkeys have been injected with basting ingredients which distribute themselves through the meat as the turkey cooks. This is added to help keep the breast meat moist.

*Pre-stuffed birds can also be purchased. This could save you time if you prefer a stuffed bird, but it is important for you to follow preparation instructions which will be on the wrapper.

*Some turkeys are sold with pre-inserted cooking timers which are placed in the whole turkey when it is processed. The two types of timers are: the one which is designed to pop-up when the internal temperature of the turkey reaches 180-185°F indicating it is done and the one that is pulled up for presetting and withdraws as the turkey approaches doneness.

Good luck in choosing your Thanksgiving bird — next week's article will deal with preparing your turkey.

Here is an idea for your turkey leftovers:

Turkey Tetrazzini

¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
2 cups milk
1½ teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1½ cups diced cooked turkey
1½ cups cooked spaghetti (¾ cup uncooked)
½ cup cooked mushrooms
¼ cup chopped pimiento
¾ cup shredded cheddar cheese
¾ cup dry bread crumbs
¼ cup melted butter or margarine

Melt ¼ cup butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Add four and stir until blended. Gradually add milk and cook over low heat for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add salt and pepper. Combine white sauce with turkey, spaghetti, mushrooms, pimiento and cheese. Place in buttered 2-quart casserole. Combine bread crumbs and melted butter and sprinkle on casserole. Bake at 325°F for about 25 minutes or until well browned. Makes 6 servings.

CABLE LOG

CBN offers evening of family viewing

Jean Claude Baker (right), executive v.p. of "Telefrance-USA," and Edward Taylor, president of SPN's parent company, Satellite Syndicate Systems.

On Thanksgiving Day (Thursday, Nov. 27) the Christian Broadcasting Network will feature "Hazel's People," a film starring Geraldine Paige, Pat Hingle, Graham Beckel and Rachel Thomas. The movie, which was first released for cable audiences earlier this year, tells the story of a man disenchanted with the world and with life who meets and falls in love with a young Amish woman in Pennsylvania.

Through her family he discovers love, respect and a simpler life among the "plain people," the Mennonites and Amish. However, he must decide if he can turn back the clock, tune out his past and lead a lifestyle that has almost disappeared from the 20th century.

Following "Hazel's People" CBN will offer a special "700 Club" featuring Bill and Gloria Gaither and their music. The whole evening is geared for family viewing.

In case you haven't heard, "Telefrance-USA" is a nightly three-hour offering of French movies, TV series, documentaries, interviews and music hall variety programs, aired on the Satellite Program Network. According to Jack Mann, vice president of SPN, "Telefrance-USA" is making the deaf community sit up and take notice of cable TV.

"Over half of the 'Telefrance' shows have captions and at least one of these shows runs almost every day. No special equipment is necessary and these French shows are great. Deaf people now have a TV show to watch and 'hear' every day — not just now and then.

"At first we thought the captions would only be important to those viewers who didn't understand French, never suspecting how useful they are to the deaf. I was astounded to find out that over 14 million people in the U.S. are deaf."

Mann says SPN is contacting the deaf association in each cable area to familiarize them with "Telefrance" and the availablity of these shows on cable TV.

Anheuser-Busch, Inc., has recently signed a multi-year, multi-million dollar contract to sponsor sports programming on the Entertainment and Sports Programming Network, making it the largest sponsorship commitment in the history of cable television.

ESPN broadcasts on a 24-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week basis, concentrating on major college and professional sports. The network expects 30 million subscribers by 1985.

"If you consider what this means in terms of an advertiser's ability to target his message toward a key audience, that's awesome," said the company's president, Chester R. Simmons, "especially if you realize how sports can reach beer-drinkers."

Young paraplegic has her first TV role

Working with legendary Bette Davis is the most cherished memory 14-year-old Suzy Gilstrap has of her acting debut as a disabled teenager in "Skyward," on NBC's "GE Theater," Nov. 20.

Suzy, confined to a wheelchair since an accident three years ago, plays Julie Ward, a sheltered 16-year-old paraplegic whose wheelchair imprisons her spirit as well as her body until she finds freedom at the controls of an airplane.

Bette Davis plays a former stunt pilot and airport cafe owner who teaches Julie how to fly, and Howard Hesseman (Johnny Fever in "WKRP in Cincinnati,") is an airport nightwatchman who helps expand Suzy's horizons skyward.

"It was quite a thrill to meet Bette Davis," says the blue-eyed young woman with no prior acting experience (not even a school play) before director Ron Howard and producer Anson Williams (both of "Happy Days" fame) discovered her. "I must admit I was quite intimidated by her at first, like I'm sure anybody would be. She just said, 'Nice to meet you' and I'm sure it will be good working together.' After a while I really relaxed 'round her."

Suzy Gilstrap

Like most teen-agers, Suzy is an avid TV watcher and movie-goer. She's been an admirer of Ms. Davis for as long as she can remember, and Dustin Hoffman is "El Toppo" in her book.

Before she met Ron and Anson, she "kind of expected" they would be the Richie and Potsie she knew in "Happy Days," but they surprised her. "They're real neat," say Suzy, "sometimes serious, and then they've got their joking moments too."

Suzy is grateful for Ron's guidance. "He kept me concentrated," she says. "The character of Julie is very withdrawn. She's very into herself and not ready to take chances. I'm definitely the opposite of her."

Indeed she is. Suzy, who lives in Irvine, Calif., with her parents and two younger siblings, is an active teen-ager, unlike Julie in "Skyward." She plays wheelchair tennis and recently placed second in the first annual National Wheelchair Tennis tournament. She is also stage manager for her school's production of "Of Mice and Men."

Suzy always fantasized about becoming an actress, but now acting is part of her life. Even if she doesn't continue to perform, she'd like to teach drama on the high school level.

"Skyward" opened up another new horizon to Suzy. In addition to acting, she "learned a lot about flying, and maybe some day I'll be a pilot," she speculates.

Why not, when as Suzy knows, the sky's the limit?

Disability isn't bar to some acting jobs

By RUTH THOMPSON

Should would-be actors with marked physical handicaps be overlooked at casting time in favor of a seasoned professional who yearns to plumb the depths of a rich role? Or — to be fair and flip the coin — should a career actor, who may have nearly starved and done odd jobs waiting for a big break be left on the sidelines because another hopeful has a genuine affliction matching what's written into the script?

Even Solomon might find this a hard choice. Maybe it's just as well that with the best of intentions — sometimes in favor of proven acting ability in a non-afflicted person, sometimes in favor of a gifted, often charming, handicapped person — decisions are split between the two.

Mention able-bodied actors who have brought compassion and insight to the plight of a paraplegic and you'll hear tributes anew for Marlon Brando in "The Men."

On television, in his post-"Perry Mason" series, Raymond Burr brought dignity and authority to his "Ironside" role, moving about almost majestically in a wheelchair.

Coming up this season, the very athletic Robert Conrad takes to a wheelchair for his role in NBC's "The Coach."

Now the coin's other side: Suzy Gilstrap, a vibrant, pretty teen-ager who has been confined to a wheelchair since an accident three years ago, is rapturous that those two "Happy Days" graduates — Anson Williams as producer and Ron Howard as director — wanted a true paraplegic to co-star (with Bette Davis) in their Nov. 20 NBC special, "Skyward."

In a recent talk with Suzy she said she realizes this might be a one-shot experience. On the other hand, she's becoming active in dramatics at school, and she's interested in so many things that she expects to keep profitably busy, once she's finished her education, even if it is a long time between roles.

That's the way it has worked for Harold Russell, who, at 66, recently described himself as a happy man. It's been 33 years since Harold, who lost both hands in World War II, gave a performance any professional actor might envy as the sensitive Homer getting used to iron claws in the film classic, "The Best Years of Our Lives."

After finishing the film he went home to Massachusetts, into the consulting business and has given generously of his time and energies to help other handicapped persons. Right now he is the volunteer chairman of the President's Committee on Employment for the Physically Handicapped.

In the three decades since his movie debut, he has been in demand as a lecturer and dinner speaker. But not until earlier this year did a second movie offer come his way. He said yes to "Inside Moves," because it shows that handicapped persons can be achievers.

3-D home video

For those who remember 3-D at the movies, here is good news: MCA Videocassettes has recently introduced 3-D for home viewing. Last month the company released "Creature From the Black Lagoon" and "It Came From Outer Space" in both Beta and VHS format. The black-and-white films, released in 1954 and 1953 respectively, each come packaged with four pairs of special 3-D glasses. By the time you read this, the videocassettes should be in retail outlets nationwide.

Radio City telecast

What tourist can leave New York City without making a trip to Radio City Music Hall? Now television viewers will see the grand old theater when the Grammys return to New York for the 23rd Annual Grammy Awards Show, to air Wednesday, Feb. 25, on CBS. This will mark the first time that a major awards show has emanated from the Radio City stage.

'Evita' to air

Faye Dunaway and James Farentino are teaming for the first time in the NBC-TV movie, "Evita! — First Lady," a drama on the life of Eva Peron that will air next spring before overseas theatrical release. The four-hour presentation, to be shown over two consecutive nights, is being directed in Mexico by Marvin Chomsky, who received Emmys for his direction of "Attica" and "Holocaust." The film will depict events in the life of Eva Peron, who virtually ruled Argentina with her husband, Juan Peron for six years before dying of cancer in 1952 at the age of 33.

Dance, TV style

"We try to break the proscenium," says Emile Ardolino, producer and director of "Dance In America," which begins its new season this week with a production featuring Pilobolus at the American Dance Festival. By bringing dance to television, Ardolino hopes to free the art from its rigid spatial relationship with the audience. In the second episode of the series, which has Rudolph Nureyev interpreting Nijinsky, the camera is placed on stage, among the dancers, and moves in and out of the crowd. "Ultimately we want to have a generation of choreographers who understand and use television," says Ardolino. "There will be a marriage of television and dance. It's not enough to just have video documentation."

The compleat cartoon

Anyone weaned on and warped by Saturday morning television will enjoy a new book by 29-year-old Leonard Maltin, "Of Mice and Magic: A History of American Animated Cartoons." Maltin has written before (his first book was published when he was 18) on movie comedians, cinematography, TV movies and the Little Rascals. Now he covers cartoons, start to finish. Generously illustrated, "Of Mice and Magic" is a fun reference book.

THE BIRTH OF DISCO — Karen Gorney is a lovely dancing partner, but every eye is riveted on John Travolta as he shows the world how it's done, defying every boring moment of life by living to the fullest on the dance floor, in "Saturday Night Fever," the television premiere of the international blockbuster, which airs on "The ABC Sunday Night Movie," Sunday, Nov. 16.

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

'DOOL' shuffles cast; soaper does Dracula

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

HOLLYWOOD — "Days Of Our Lives" did a little cast shuffling in the past few weeks, and Brett Williams has been replaced by Paul Keenan in the role of Kellam Chandler's son, Tod. On her way out (by the time you read this column) is Deborah Dalton from her role of Cassie Burns, Tod's girlfriend.

Stefan Schnabel (Stephan Jackson on "Guiding Light") just returned from Bermuda where he received rave reviews for his portrayal of Dr. Von Helsink in "Dracula." This is a very familiar role to Stefan, who also played it on Broadway in New York City. Right now the actor is doing double duty on "GL" and in the play "The Dragon," in Stamford, Conn. Starring with Stefan in this production is his wife, Marion, who recently did some under-five work on "GL." For those of you who don't know what under-five work is about, it's when an actor has fewer than five lines of dialogue as an extra or day player on a soap opera.

When "Search For Tomorrow" recently needed two little babies to complete a scene where Sissy went to a baby boutique, the casting department didn't have to "search" very far afield. The show's executive producer, Mary-Ellis Bunim and her assistant, Gail Starkey, agreed to let their infant daughters take the roles. The girls are Julie Bunim and Alexandra Starkey.

Phil Carey (Asa Buchanan) has been appearing so regularly on "One LIfe To Live" that he's had very few chances to take time off to spend with his wife Colleen and baby daughter Shannon. However, when he was given four days off recently, the actor headed west, to Reno, Nev., to tape a commercial for (what else?) a bank. Those Buchanans just seem to attract money.

Phil Carey (Asa Buchanan) of "One Life to Live" was photographed by Clint Ritchie (Clint Buchanan).

MONDAY

The history of an overlooked radical movement, composed of Jewish emigrants to the U.S., is explored in the documentary, "Free Voice of Labor — The Jewish Anarchists," Monday, Nov. 15, on PBS.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

LOTS OF FANS — I am a big fan of Tony Geary, who plays Luke Spencer on "General Hospital." I think he is a terrific actor and I would like to know if he is married and where I can write him. — Sue Baker, Youngstown, Ohio.

I'm getting a lot of mail about Tony, who has made such an impact recently that his picture was on the cover of a national magazine, a big accomplishment for a daytime star. Genie Francis, who plays Laura, also had her picture on a national magazine. This pair is one of the best things yet to happen to daytime TV and help keep the soaps' ratings very high. Anyway, to get to your question, Tony says he is single "and intends to stay that way." Write him in care of the show at ABC-TV, Sunset and Gower Studios, 6065 Fountain Avenue, Los Angeles, CA 90028.

BIRTHDAY PRESENT — I hope you can help me. I have a daughter who will be 8 years old in a couple of weeks, and since she saw "Grease" she has been crazy about John Travolta. She wants very much to write him, but all my attempts to get an address have brought no response. — Toby Brown, Skokie, Ill.

Sure can. Tell your daughter to write John at LeMond-Zetter, 5160 Genesta Avenue, Encino, CA 91316.

SHIELDED — Is there a book out about Brooke Shields? — A Fan, Glens Falls, N.Y.

Give her time. Granted everyone is rushing to a typewriter to spill everything from his or her past, but at Brooke's young age, her story would be short. Give her a few years.

INITIAL QUESTION — What does M.A.S.H. stand for? — Cindy Josephson, Evergreen Park, Ill.

Mobile Army Surgical Hospital.

YOU'RE CONFIRMED — Please tell me if "The Love Boat" captain, Gavin MacLeod, ever played on the old series, "McHale's Navy." I am sure he did, but I would like confirmation. — Lawrence Streck, Graterford, Pa.

You've got confirmation. When the "McHale's Navy" series began, Gavin was very fat. Then one year, during hiatus, he took off a lot of weight. When he returned to the series, he was nearly as thin as the Gavin we know today.

WEIGHTY QUESTION — My brother and my mom made a small bet about how much Tattoo of "Fantasy Island" weighs. My brother says he weighs about 160 and my mother says he doesn't weigh much over 100. Please settle the bet. — A Reader, Carthage, Ind.

Your mother is closer, although she is way over what Herve Villechaize weighs. He is all of 70 pounds and stands 3 feet 10 inches tall.

(Do you have a question about TV? Drop us a line in care of Newspaper Enterprise Assn., 200 Park Avenue, New York, NY 10166.)

'DANCE IN AMERICA' RETURNS — "As zany as the Marx Brothers and as clever as Houdini" is how Newsweek magazine described Pilobolus, the young dance troupe that is featured in the first episode of the returning "Dance In America" series, Monday, Nov. 17, on PBS. The company's choreography is characterized by various multiple body combinations that incorporate slapstick, mime, gymnastics and theatrics. Other performances this season will feature Rudolph Nureyev's interpretation of Nijinsky and the San Francisco Ballet.

Friday, Continued

Today's guests are Lou Ferrigno, Carla Ferrigno, Diane Kay, Pete Barbutti and Lilli Palmer. Where the show is aired for 90 minutes Mary Ellen Pinkham and Jurgen Wolff will be included.

CINDY SAYS

Quinn is an original; Lahr's book optioned

By CINDY ADAMS

Anthony Quinn is either trendy or shloompy. Recent wardrobe featured a dressy dinner shirt with a plaid scarf tucked in ... Bert Lahr's son, author John Lahr, has a new book, "The Autograph Hound" which Jerry Stiller and Anne Meara optioned. They'll produce the thing ... Harold Pinter in Omni magazine: "Apart from the known and unknown, what else is there?"

The late Walter Winchell's life, which gets the NBC treatment and stars Bob Hope, is getting a monkeywrench and a lawsuit thrown into it. Winchell's daughter, Walda, hired lawyer Marvin Mitchelson ... Ringo Starr and Greta Garbo — definitely not together — made it to Madison Avenue restaurant, Truffles.

A private jet flies Mickey Rooney to Canada every weekend where he's filming, then back again for his Monday night "Sugar Babies" show. Recently he made it back at 10 minutes before eight. Gurgles happy Mickey, "I'm hot. I suddenly got hot again. And when you're hot you're hot. Man, am I runnin' hot!"

Tony Curtis, trotting about in a snow-white suit and ear-to-ear black glasses, yawned to a journalist, "Oh, if only you knew how much I hate being recognized." ... Harry Crosby took a pad in Manhattan. Kid's serious about stage career ... A fan gave Gary Coleman a golf cart that has the grillwork of a Rolls.

To juice up their fifth year ratings, "Charlie's Angels" will book a tub of guest stars like Jack Albertson and the ex-Mrs. Ronald Reagan, Jane Wyman ... Burt Reynolds, who promises to tell how many times and with whom, is vacuuming up close to a million dollars for his autobio ... Ted Lange's writing a rock musical. He's also learning to sing ... "Heaven's Gate," the fictionalized saga of cattle rustlers at the turn of the century, stars Kris Kristofferson, Christopher Walken and Jeff Bridges. It is already seven times over budget at nearly $50 million. You've got to admit that is sure a lot of bull ... "We spend the first half of our lives trying to understand the older generation and the second half trying to understand the younger generation." That beauty is from Larry Hagman.

IN FOCUS

Delight and sorrow of owning a VCR

Now that home videocassettes have been popular for a few years, many owners are discovering the high cost of maintaining their machines. The initial purchase price of $750 to $1,500 is just the beginning.

According to a recent article in New York magazine, after a minimum of 1,000 hours your machine, no matter the brand, will probably need repairs costing an average of $150. The most common problem is that the heads wear out. They're simply not expected to last any longer than that, say repair technicians. A call to the Sony Consumer Service Center in New Jersey revealed that, "Yes, we feel that with normal maintenance and normal use they (the heads) will have a life span of 1,000 hours."

How long does it take to run up 1,000 hours? If the owner of a VCR records two three-hour movies a week and watches them each just once, the machine will log 1,000 hours in about 19 months. If you record two hours of soap operas every day for viewing in the evening, the life span will run out very quickly, probably in about a year.

There are two basic systems on the market: Betamax, developed by Sony, and the Video Home System (VHS), developed by the Japan Victor Company, a member of the Matsushita Electric group of companies. These two corporations, Sony and Matsushita, have licensed every American manufacturer of VCR's. The Beta system is sold under the brand names of Sony, Sanyo, Sears, Toshiba and Zenith; VHS is sold as Curtis Mathes, General Electric, Hitachi, JVC, Magnavox, Panasonic, Philco, Quasar, RCA and Sylvania.

What is the minimum you can expect to pay for such repairs? With the RCA system, for example, if the machine is left at an authorized repair center there is a $55 labor charge plus the cost of parts; with pickup and delivery, the charge is substantially higher. The heads alone cost an additional $90 to $180.

A Sony repair bill is approximately $100 on a carry-in, plus parts, or about $150 total.

Service contracts are available for many brands, but read them carefully. Carrying one for five years may cost as much as a new machine.

In the meantime, manufacturers recommend four steps to help lengthen the life of your machine and its heads:

(1) Whenever possible, use old tape instead of new — it's easier on the heads.

(2) Don't use head-cleaning cassettes, but do have the entire head unit looked at or cleaned about once a year.

(3) Be careful about what brand of tape you use. Inferior brands tend to chip and cause trouble with the unit.

(4) Keep the machine in a dry place.

Official Comments On Mastitis, One Of Dairymen's Worst Enemies

Mastitis is the most costly disease in the dairy industry, according to the University of Maryland Cooperative Extension Service. The National Mastitis Council estimates the economic loss is $2 billion yearly. Maryland alone loses $23.5 million per year.

The largest cost to the dairyman is in lost milk production, says Dr. Robert R. Peters, Extension Dairyman at the University of Maryland. He estimates that ten to 15 percent of production potential is never achieved because of subclinical mastitis. This type of mastitis accounts for over 90 percent of mastitis cases.

Subclinical mastitis is practically impossible to diagnose without testing the cow's milk. The milk and udder of infected cows appear normal; therefore, dairymen assume these cows are healthy and producing at their highest.

The National Mastitis Council estimates that 40 to 50 percent of the cows in a typical herd are infected with mastitis. The average cow with subclinical mastitis produces 12.5 percent less milk, a $294 loss per infected cow (using current milk prices of $13.05/cwt and average milk production of 15,000 lb/cow/year). In a 40-cow herd, for example, the dairyman loses $5,292 per year without realizing it.

Maryland Dairy Herd Improvement Corporation now offers a new option to assist dairymen in managing udder health. The somatic cell count (SCC) program, Dr. Peters says, is designed to initially establish the extent of mastitis infections in a herd and later to serve as a constant monitor of each cow's udder health.

The program costs 12 cents sample/month and has been operating in Maryland since October 1. A herd with 40 cows would pay $19.20 per month to use the SCC program. This is a small amount when compared with the $5,292 losses from subclinical mastitis, Dr. Peters says.

The SCC measures the number of body cells found in milk from individual cows. The two major types of somatic (body) cells found in milk are epithelial cells (sloughed secretory cells from the mammary gland) and leucocytes derived from blood. Leucocytes are present in milk to help the mammary gland fight against mastitis or other infection. Normal milk contains less than 300,000 somatic cells per mililiter. If the udder is injured or infected, the somatic cell count increases dramatically.

A high SCC would indicate that a problem has developed in the herd management. However, a particular SCC value will not identify the mastitis problem. Dr. Peters says the cause of the problem must be identified and corrected by the dairyman.

Dr. Peters recommends the following for a sound mastitis control program:

—Proper installation, use and maintenance of milking equipment and at least an annual inspection by a qualified person.

—Proper milking procedures including teat dipping with an effective teat dip.

—Treating all quarters of all cows at drying off with an effective dry cow product based on bacterial sensitivity and culture results.

—Good sanitation in the housing area of lactating and dry cows and also in the maternity area.

—Culling any cow with a SCC of 1,000,000 or more throughout lactation if she does not respond to treatment.

—Conducting a thorough check for subclinical mastitis before purchasing lactating cows.

—Housing replacement heifers in individual pens or tying them during milk feeding to prevent the spread of mastitis-causing organisms to the immature mammary gland of the suckled heifer.

Good management with a rigid mastitis control program is the diaryman's best defense against mastitis infection. Mastitis control is best approached through prevention not treatment, says Dr. Peters. Controlling this disease can significantly increase income by increasing milk production, reducing veterinarian costs and decreasing labor costs involved with treating infected cows.

Price Index For Farmers Declines

The Index of Prices Received for all commodities declined one percent during the month of October, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. This decline for the first month in the past seven, dropped the index below the previous month.

The All Crops Index, at 264 percent of the 1967 base, increased two percent from last month and up 21 percent from last October. Livestock and Livestock Products Index fell 1 percent during the month, but was 24 percent above the October 1979.

Prices received by Maryland farmers rose above last year for all items except beef cattle. Feed prices during the month rose for all items, but middlings and laying feed.

Massie Unit Receives JCAH Accreditation

The Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) recently approved accreditation of the Joseph S. Massie Unit, Western Maryland's regional residential drug/alcohol treatment unit. Representatives of the Garrett County Addictions Program and interested county citizens were complimented by the Joint Commission for their participation in the accreditation.

The Joint Commission inspects programs that voluntarily request a survey. The survey tests program performance against standards established for a maximum level of care.

The Massie Unit Advisory Council was praised for its committment to the treatment network, and its high level of community involvement directed toward quality care for the recovering alcoholic and recovering drug abuser.

Achievement of accreditation allows for treatment at the Massie Unit to be covered by Blue Cross and Blue Shield. Persons wanting further information should contact the Garrett County Addictions Program at 334-8111.

TIME VERSUS MILES

Looking for a new home for your family? Just moved to a new job in a new location? Then commuting distance is an important consideration.

There was a time when the simple method of locating a home was to draw a circle on the map around your place of employment and look for a house in that geographic area. No longer is this the case.

With today's super highways, you might commute to a job 20 miles away in less time than it would take from an inner-city location of only five miles.

Today, you should draw your circle in terms of minutes rather than miles. You may be passing up some wonderful home-buying opportunities, lower taxes, and better schools in distant suburban locations - only because you THOUGHT they would be too far away. Don't talk miles . . . talk minutes and you may just find your right house at a better price. Makes sense - doesn't it?

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Western Maryland Reading Group To Host Workshop

The Week of Nov. 16 will be National Children's Bookweek and the Western Maryland Reading Association will hold a reading workshop for teachers and parents on Saturday, Nov. 15 to celebrate.

The Western Maryland Reading Council is composed of reading teachers and interested citizens from Allegany and Garrett counties. It is an affiliate of the International Reading Association, a professional organization of classroom teachers, reading specialists, psychologists, librarians, administrators, parents and others interested in the teaching improvement of reading.

This year the Western Maryland Reading Council anticipates that more parents will join. The November meeting, in fact, was designed to aid parents and teachers who work with parents.

R. Margaret Hamilton, Allegany County Board of Education member and an authority on children's literature, will discuss ideas for selecting books for children.

Following Hamilton's address the participants may attend one of three workshops dealing with helping children read at home. The three areas are pre-school children and junior-senior high children. Registration will begin at 9 a.m. The meeting will be held at Parkside Elementary School in LaVale and is open to the public. There is no admission fee for members of the council, but a small donation will be requested of non-members.

Another service for the council will be the tutor referral service. "parents are constantly calling me for references for reading teachers that they could hire as tutors for their children," said Dr. Judie Thelen, council president and coordinator of graduate reading programs at Frostburg State College.

"This year the council will have on file the names of persons with expertise in teaching reading and who are interested in tutoring." Dr. Thelen said. She anticipates that the service will be in full operation in January.

Other officers of the organization are Louise McCoy, immediate past president; Elaine Clark, president-elect; Judy Pula, vice president-elect; Louise Van Meter, secretary; Marilyn Brock, treasurer; and Mary Kay Finan, publicity chairman.

American Black Bear Sightings Increase

An increase in the number of black bears seen this fall by individuals in the Western region has been reported by Western Maryland Regional Wildlife Manager Ed Golden.

"We are concerned", said Golden, "that people encountering a bear may overreact, an eventuality to be avoided.

"It should be remembered", he added, "that these are wild animals and that they are on the protected list in Maryland.

Persons sighting bears should not attempt to approach them, especially if bear cubs are present at which time the mother bear may become protective of her young."

The reports have included incidents of bee-hives being destroyed and one report told of cubs being seen.

"To date, sightings have been reported in all four western counties", added Golden.

Events Above The Mountaintop

November 13-18 1980
Paul S. Frank, Jr.
Leonid Meteors

The maximum of this meteor shower will be on Sunday at 7:00 pm. A single observer will be able to observe 15 meteors in an hour. This is twice the average number that can usually be observed. These meteors will collide with the Earth at a velocity of 71 kilometers (44 miles) per second. We call these objects falling stars. Sometimes a large meteor will fall close to the Earth's surface. It will be seen as a fireball.

MOON

On Saturday, the Moon will pass through its First Quarter phase at 10:47 AM. At this time, the Moon will be 90 degrees east of the Sun. Moonset will be at 9:02 tonight. Next Tuesday moonset will be at 2:24 AM.

VISIBLE PLANETS

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be visible during this week. Mercury will be above the southeastern horizon at sunrise for about an hour. Venus will be higher than Mercury in the morning sky. It will be visible for about 3 hours. Both of these planets will be among the stars of Virgo. Jupiter and Saturn will rise about 4 hours before the Sun rises. They too will be among the stars of Virgo. Mars will be the only evening planet, visible for a short time after sunset very low in the southwest sky.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

Next Tuesday, there will be 11 minutes less daylight than there will be today. Sunrise was at 6:58 this morning. Sunset will be 10 hours 6 minutes later at 5:04 PM. Next Tuesday, the Sun will rise at 7:05 AM. Sunset will be at 5:00 PM.

Today is the 317th day of this year. The autumnal equinox was 51 days ago. At noon today, the Sun will be in the same position it was last January 29th.

Sisler, Ridder Exchange Vows

Joyce L. Sisler and Thomas L. Ridder were united in marriage July 3 at St. Johns Lutheran Church, Red House. The double-ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Bernard Carl.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Sisler. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Ridder. Both families reside near Red House.

Wedding music was provided by Patricia Martin, who played the organ and accompanied Richard Ridder singing "Where Thou Goest," "We've Only Just Begun" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the alter by her father, the bride was attired in a gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace. The raised bodice featured a sweetheart neckline trimmed with lace and seed pearls. The sheer Bishop sleeves featured lace cuffs. The bouffant skirt of organza tiers swept to a chapel train. A Camelot headpiece of matching Chantilly lace and seed pearls held a fingertip mantilla veil of bridal illusion.

The bride carried a bouquet of cascading pink silk miniature roses and white carnations, outlined with pink net, and pink ribbon streamers tied in love knots, holding pink miniature roses.

Jenny Sisler, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a light yellow lace gown and a white floppy hat trimmed with yellow ribbon. She carried a white basket of yellow silk carnations with white net and greenery.

Bridesmaids were Vicki Sweitzer, niece of the groom, who wore a mint green gown, and Rose Fries, who wore a light blue gown.

Flower girl was Monica Miller, cousin of the bride. She was attired in a pink organza dress and carried a basket of pink silk carnations.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo with a pink miniature silk rose and white carnation boutonniere.

Richard Ridder, brother of the groom, served as best man. Cheston Miller, uncle of the bride, and James A. Sisler, brother of the bride, served as ushers. They were attired in light gray tuxedos with ruffled shirts and carnation boutonnieres matching the attendant's gowns.

Brandon Sweitzer, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer. He was attired in a light gray tuxedo with a pink ruffled shirt and carnation. He carried a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

The mother of the bride wore a cream-colored gown with a flowered bodice, off-the-shoulder sleeves and spaghetti straps, flowing to a pleated skirt. The groom's mother wore a dusty rose gown with a lace jacket and pleated skirt. Both wore corsages which matched their gowns.

The fathers were attired in light gray tuxedos with white ruffled shirts trimmed in black. Their boutonnieres matched the mothers' gowns.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church basement. A three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink roses and featured a blue fountain. It was baked by Mrs. Margaret Sanders, and served by Ethel Ridder and Patricia Martin.

Mrs. Brenda Miller registered the guests and served the coffee. Mrs. Debra Sanders, sister of the bride, attended the gift table.

Prior to the wedding, a bridal shower was given by Mrs. Jean Sweitzer and Mrs. Clara Ridder.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Pittsburgh, Pa.. They now reside on his father's dairy farm, where he is employed.

Orders for the candy are now being accepted, and anyone interested in buying candy should contact Martha Sebold at 895-5372, or Hazel Klotz at 895-5545, no later than November 18, for delivery for Christmas.

Associate Professor At GCC Earns Doctor Of Arts Degree

George Dailey, Associate Professor of History at Garrett Community College, has completed the requirements for the Doctor of Arts degree at Carnegie-Mellon University, and will be awarded his doctorate in history at the May commencement of that institution. Dailey was notified last July that his dissertation had been accepted, and he subsequently received a letter of completion for the degree.

The Doctor of Arts degree is the culmination of a program designed for community college instructors in which the emphasis is on scholarly teaching rather than on scholarly research.

Dailey entered the program at Carnegie-Mellon in 1975. He spent three summers in residence there and took independent study courses for two years. His research paper, completed at the end of his third summer in residence, was titled "Perspectives on the Origin and Growth of the Medieval Forest System." This paper examined the Christian ethic as it related to the environment and considered attempts made during the Medieval period to preserve the environment.

Dailey's doctoral dissertation was on the topic: "Modernization of Western Society: A Curriculum Unit for Community College Students." It has been the basis for a new history course which he teaches at the college: Modernization of Western Society. This course examines values, attitudes, and behavioral changes that took place among the common people of Western Europe and the United States as a result of modernization and industrialization. According to Dailey, the course presents a sociological-psychological perspective of history that relates the present to the past. He stated, "You cannot understand and evaluate the here and now without understanding the yesterday."

Dailey was appointed as transfer counselor and Assistant Professor of History on the first faculty when the college opened in 1971. In 1972 he was appointed Registrar and continued in that capacity until 1976 when he became transfer coordinator and Associate Professor of History. Last year he served as Athletic Director, and this year he is Assistant to the Director of Intramurals, in addition to his teaching duties.

A graduate of Franklin and Marshall University with a Bachelor of Arts degree in history, Dailey later received a Master of Arts degree in American Colonial History from Temple University. He attended graduate school at the University of Maryland for three years where he completed the course work in a doctoral program on European and British History.

Dailey lives in McHenry with his wife, Carol, and three children, George, Lani, and Jenny.

Community Action Garden Project Results Are Given

The Community Food and Nutrition Program of Garrett County Community Action, Inc., reports results of their gardening project for the 1980 growing season.

There were 100 low-income families selected to participate from the applications received from throughout the county. There was a total of 334 people involved, 54, of whom were elderly.

The Extension Service tested soil samples for nearly half the gardens and conducted two training sessions on the preserving of fruits and vegetables.

John Guthrie, a senior citizen from the Crellin area, acted as a garden Advisoty Volunteer for the project. He accompanied Ray Teets, C.F.N. Nutrition Aide, to conduct garden analysis. He offered possible solutions to the garden participants who were experiencing difficulty with their gardens.

The vo-ag departments from Northern and Southern High Schools supplied the tomato and cabbage plants.

The following approximate yields were harvested by the 100 families: 1,794 pints of corn; 564 pints of peas; 4400 pints of tomatoes; 26 gallons of tomato juice; 3,017 pounds of cabbage; 5430 pounds of potatoes; 1,039 pints of carrots; 1,561 pints of beets; and 53 bushels of turnips.

For further information or an application for the garden project for spring, 1981, interested persons may contact the Community Food and Nutrition Staff at the Community Action Office at 334-9431.

He quoted the following statement from the "Game News Letter" concerning the careful hunter: "The day of sentencing will soon be here, I need your help, I was judged guilty before all the facts were known, I ask you for the right to appeal the verdict, to relate my side and ask for a fair and reasonable verdict based on all the facts, you are the judge." ## State Commits $3.5 Million To Veteran Program

"The State of Maryland has committed $3 million, 500 thousand to the veterans' cemetery program recognizing our debt to those who have guarded our freedom," was State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein's Veterans Day message to the Southern Maryland District of the American Legion.

Speaking at a Veterans Day ceremony and chapel dedication at the Cheltenham Veterans Cemetery in Prince George's County, one of the facilities paid for through the program, the Comptroller also noted that "three out of five state veterans cemeteries have been completed, including this facility, one near Hurlock, on the Eastern Shore, and the cemetery in Crownsville Anne Arundel County. Another state veterans cemetery in Rocky Gap, Allegany County, will be completed this sping, and a site at Garrison Forest, Baltimore County, is being prepared. The Cheltenham Cemetery is the first to have a chapel completed and dedicated.

"Today, we all have a unique opportunity to pay tribute to those who have made this great nation possible," Goldstein said. "Our veterans still stand head and shoulders above the rest for their courage, their success, and their sacrifice. We can only try to show our appreciation and gratitude for all that they have done for us."

Seventh-Day Adventists To Canvass Area

A door-to-door canvass of Oakland and vicinity heads the priority list of the Seventh-day Adventist Church this month. The church has separated the business area from the residential section and will assign teams to visit both sectors during its annual World Service Appeal beginning November 15.

Betty Sisler, director of the special humanitarian outreach program this year, says, "Each solicitor—an unpaid volunteer—will carry an identification card signed by Eugene Remmers, treasurer of the Mt. View Conference of SDA. This begins the local church's 11th campaign since the program's beginning in 1908."

Sisler says only 10 percent of the total budget for Adventist relief programs is received through this type of community Ingathering campaign. Overhead expenses are eliminated when the funds are processed through existing church channels. This permits the entire gift to be funneled into the welfare, disaster relief, medical and educational projects Adventists support in 190 countries, she said.

SCOUT NEWS

Cub Scout adult leaders held a Pow Wow recently at the Cash Valley school in LaVale. The all-day training session attracted 73 leaders representing 23 Cub Scout packs, with participants from Moorefeild, Petersburg, Oakland, and Grantsville.

Rev. Merle Correll of the Grace United Methodist Church, Cumberland, offered the luncheon invocation, and Thomas Bilger, Nemacolin Trail District chairman was the guest speaker. Master of ceremonies was James Gentry, Potomac Council Executive.

Units having displays were Pack 69, Pack 91, and Harrison Lewis, Scoutmaster, Troop 11, LaVale Baptist Church. Mrs. JoAnn Allen secured all gifts and prizes from area businesses. The Order of the Arrow Indian dance team performed at the opening assembly, and the Webelos of Pack 91, Rawlings, formed the Color Guard for the closing ceremony.

Potomac Council served youth in Allegany and Garrett counties in Maryland, and Mineral, Hampshire, Hardy, and Grant counties in West Virginia.

Awards Banquet Planned By EMS

The Region I Office of the Maryland Institute for Emergency Medical Services Systems announces the Awards Banquet for emergency medical service providers to be held on November 20th at the Maplehurst Country Club.

Bob Kerr and Ms. Grace Fleming of the Region I EMS Advisory Council are serving as the planning committee for the banquet. Kerr stated that the awards banquet will be one of many activities carried out at the state and local level during Emergency Medical Services Week, which has been proclaimed by both Gevernor Hughes and the Commissioners of Allegany and Garrett Counties for November 16-22nd.

"The purpose of our EMS Week and our banquet", stated Kerr, "is to honor the many First Responders, EMT-As, CRTs, Central Dispatch operators, and hospital personnel, who provide emergency care in our area."

Guest speaker at the banquet will be Michael Olsen. Olsen is in charge of the Division of Emergency Medical Services at the U.S. Fire Administration in Washington, D.C.

Prior to taking this job, he assisted in the development of the Seattle Medic Program, which was featured on CBS's 60 Minutes. Olsen has also lectured and provided consultation on EMS systems in 37 states, and served as a teaching associate at the University of Washington.

In addition to Olsen's presentation, organizations and individuals who have made outstanding contributions to the development of emergency medical care will be recognized at the banquet.

Persons interested in obtaining more information about EMS Week should contact Mr. David P. Ramsey at the Region I EMS Office in Grantsville at 895-5934.

State, County Jobless Rate On The Decline

Maryland's unemployment rate continued to drop, as did Garrett County's, in September declining from the August rate of 6.3 percent to 5.9 percent in September, according to statistics released by the Maryland Department of Human Resources.

The September rate is slightly above the September 1979 rate of 5.4 percent. Maryland's unemployment rate continues below the national rate, which was 7.1 percent in September.

In September, Maryland's civilian labor force dropped by nearly 23,000 person, with decreases in both the number of employed and unemployed persons. Employment declined without producing corresponding increases in unemployment, as many summer workers left the labor force. In addition, seasonal layoffs began in agriculture. Recalls occurred in trade, education and manufacturing, particularly in the non-electrical machinery, electronic equipment, transportation equipment, and plastic products industries.

The unemployment rate also fell in the Baltimore Metropolitan Area, from 7.6 percent in August to 7.0 percent in September. The drop in the unemployment rate in the metropolitan area was caused by trends similar to those found statewide. Carroll County's unemployment rate dropped from 10.4 percent to 4.7 percent in September, as recalls occurred in the non-electrical machinery industry.

In the Maryland suburbs of Washington, D. C., the unemployment rate increased slightly, from 3.5 percent in August to 3.6 percent in September. The number of unemployed persons in the area rose somewhat, with layoffs in agriculture and government.

The unemployment rate decreased in Western Maryland, as the rate declined from 8.3 percent in August to 8.0 percent in September. The number of employed persons in the area fell, as layoffs occurred in the plastics products industry, in recreation and tourism, and among summer workers with city and county governments. In Garrett County the jobless rate fell from 9.9 to 9.3 percent. In Frederick County, the unemployment rate dropped from 7.5 percent in August to 6.0 percent in September, with the end of brief layoffs in the instruments, textile products and leather products industries. Only Washington County experienced an increase in unemployment, due to layoffs in manufacturing.

The unemployment rate also fell in nearly every county on the Eastern Shore and in Southern Maryland. However, unemployment increased in Worcester County, with the layoffs of agriculture and summer tourism and recreation workers. Cecil County's unemployment rate declined from 10.1 percent in August to 6.2 percent in September, as recalls of workers continued in the transportation equipment industry.

Somerset County continued to have the state's highest unemployment rate, with 16.0 percent. Howard County again had the state's lowest unemployment rate, with 2.8 percent.

Oakland Council Changes Parking Violation Fees

The Oakland Town Council agreed to change parking violation fees at its November 3 meeting.

The fee for parking overtime on a meter will remain 50 cents, however each summons for overdue parking tickets will be raised to $5, with the Garrett County District Court fine ranging from $10 to $50.

The fee for parking at reserved spaces and fire hydrants, as well as all other parking violations, will be raised to $10. Each summons for those tickets will be $5, with the District Court fine ranging from $10 to $50.

The changes in parking violations fees will be effective November 20, 1980.

In other town business, Wendell Keaton, Muncipial Assistance Coordinator, addressed the council on the subject of its proposal for the Housing and Urban Development Community Block Grant Program.

The Town's original proposal totaled $110,500, with priority placed on 800 feet of water line extension along Route 135 to serve present commercial needs and future housing developments. The estimated cost of the water line extension, including materials and labor, is $20,000.

The other items included in the proposal are 2500 feet of water line replacement on Liberty Street, and 100 feet of water line replacement on Third Street. These items were originally submitted to include both materials and labor.

At the November 3 meeting, Council agreed to utilize local labor and to submit the Liberty Street and Third Street requests for materials only. Those items originally totaled $90,500. Excluding labor the revised proposal now totals $49,000 for those two items, making the total package proposal $69,000. According to Keaton, the reduced proposal is intended to increase the Town's opportunity to receive funding for all three projects.

In other Town business, James Stanton read a letter which he has written to the Office of the Fire Marshal of Maryland in reference to the "outstanding work" being done in Garrett County by Fire Investigator Robert H. Shimer.

STATE DELEGATE WINNER — Melanie Ryan, Mt. Lake Park, entered state competition and won the honor of Maryland delegate to the National 4-H Congress, to meet in Chicago, November 30 through December 4. Ms. Ryan was a winner in the 4-H Marksmanship project, and is one of 43 Marylanders competing for national honors in Chicago. The Maryland Cooperative Extension Service and the Maryland 4-H Foundation, Inc. joined in citing outstanding 4-H'ers at the Maryland 4-H Recognition Day ceremonies on Sunday, October 26, in Timonium. Ms. Ryan is a 1979 graduate of Southern High School.

October Sales Tax Revenues Show Increase

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein announced recently that retail sales tax revenues for the month of October 1980 totaled $62,260,822, an increase of 3.5% over the $60,126,111 collected for the same month last year.

"There are two factors that make these figures important," Goldstein said. "First is the fact that the revenues continue to show increases over the same months of last year - months which were reflecting high levels of consumer spending before the onset of the recession. The second important factor is the increase in revenue from the Building and Contractors category. This category of collections is showing an increase of nearly 9.6%, the first increase reported since March 1980."

The Building and Contractors category is important because increased construction activity usually forecasts additional sales tax revenues as homes and other facilities are furnished and equipped.

For the first three months of Fiscal Year 1981, retail sales tax revenues amount to $181,770,453, up 4.1% over the $174,611,870 collected for the identical period of the previous fiscal year.

PUBLIC NOTICES

IN MEMORIAM

In Loving memory of Claude Lorn Wilkins, who passed away November 16, 1977. Did you know you were brave? Did you know you were strong? Did you know there was one leaning hard? Did you know that I waited and listened and prayed and was cheered by your simplest word? Did you know that I longed for that smile on your face. For the sound of your voice ringing true? Did you know I grew stronger and better because I had merely touched shoulders with you? I may not have wealth, I may not be great, but I know I shall always be true. For I have in my life that courage you gave when once I touched shoulders with you.

560 Relocation Project Draws Some Opposition

A design public hearing regarding the preliminary design study on the relocation of a portion of Maryland Route 560 was conducted last Wednesday evening, November 12, at Southern High School. The hearing was conducted by the Maryland State Highway Administration. The portion to be relocated begins south of the intersection of existing Maryland Route 560 and Garrett Road, and terminates at Maryland Route 135, west of Wright Street, in the vicinity of Loch Lynn Heights. The project is eligible for federal aid participation.

The proposed project roadway construction will consist of a 36-foot roadway with 10-foot shoulders, and will provide a grade separation with the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

The proposed project recommends the closing of the railroad crossing at Paul Street. This will eliminate the grade crossing that exists, and will also eliminate through traffic from the community of Loch Lynn Heights. Access to Loch Lynn would be via Relocated Maryland Route 560 and Lothian Street.

There reportedly was no opposition raised to the project itself, however, strong opposition was raised regarding the closing of the existing railroad crossing to local traffic. One spokesperson said that this closing would have a severe impact on businesses in Loch Lynn, and could contribute to the relocation of Kelly's Appliance and Furniture 5, which would have a serious effect on the town's tax base.

Another point raised is the number of people who walk to the town post office and Richfood grocery store.

The state said it will consider these oppositions. Written

Weather Conditions Contribute To Outbreak Of Brush, Structure Fires

Weather conditions played a major role in the cause of numerous fires over the past week in Garrett County. The dryness of last week prompted several brush fires, while the sub-freezing temperatures of the past several days resulted in two structure fires.

Oakland and Deer Park firefighters were summoned to the Larry Glotfelty residence at 511 Shenandoah Avenue, Loch Lynn, at 3:07 Saturday morning after fire broke out in the living room of the two-story wood frame house. Glotfelty was awakened by dense smoke in the bedroom and climbed out a window. He then attempted to enter the house through the front door into the living room, however he was turned back by flames and smoke, which singed his beard in the process.

There was a smoke alarm in the residence, however it failed to operate due to a dead battery. Glotfelty's wife and children were not at home at the time of the fire.

Firefighters contained the blaze in the living room, however all the contents of the room were destroyed and much of the rest of the house and contents sustained smoke damage. The kitchen also sustained some fire damage. The house had just recently been remodeled, both inside and out.

Buzz Updyke, chief of the Oakland Fire Department, stated that the cause of the fire seemed to be an improperly installed wood burning stove pipe. Heat from the pipe ignited the paneling where the flue went through the wall.

Firefighters remained on the scene for about one and one-half hours. Oakland and Deer Park each responded with one pumper. The Southern Rescue Squad was also on the scene. There were no injuries.

Oakland firemen were called out again at 2:55 p.m. on Monday when fire broke out in a trailer owned by Miss Mary Junkins, located about one mile off U.S. Route 219 on the Ben DeWitt Road. The fire, which had originated in the kitchen, was discovered by Miss Junkins, who call Garrett Central Alarm.

A neighbor, David Moon, who heard the alarm on a scanner, went to the scene and removed Miss Junkins from the trailer. According to Robert Shimer, fire investigator for Garrett and Allegany counties who investigated the blaze, "Had it not been for Mr. Moon's actions, Miss Junkins possibly could have died as a result of

TCC Expresses Concern Over Future Funding

The Tri-County Council of Western Maryland met Wednesday, November 12, in Oakland. Concern was expressed at the meeting regarding proposed federal budget cuts of the incoming administration of President-elect Ronald Reagan, and its possible effects upon the council.

Stephen E. Kocses, Executive Director, said he is confident that even if funding for such an important source as the Appalachian Regional Commission is eliminated, there is still a need for many of the council's programs.

Annual Thanksgiving Service Scheduled

The Mt. Top Ministerial Association will sponsor the annual Interdenominational Thanksgiving Service, open to all county residents, on Wednesday, November 26, at 7:30 p.m. This year's service will be hosted by the Deep Creek Baptist Church, Route 219, seven miles north of Oakland.

The service will be conducted under the leadership of several area pastors, and will feature musical presentations and a guest speaker.

Hospital Slates Re-Dedication, Groundbreaking

The Garrett County Memorial Hospital will be conducting re-dedication and groundbreaking ceremonies this Sunday, November 23, at 2 p.m., at the Southern Middle School. The ceremony was originally to be held on the hospital grounds, however the decision was made this morning to move the event to the school due to inclement weather conditions.

The program will include several speakers who will provide a brief history of the hospital, where the hospital is today and some outlooks on the future. The combined ceremonies will re-dedicate the original hospital building, which is now 30 years old, and officially break the ground for the building and renovation project, which is now underway.

Several area ministers will also participate in the program and refreshments will be served immediately following the ceremony.

All residents of Garrett County and surrounding West Virginia communities are invited to attend.

Commissioners Hear Testimony For State Forest Reserve Fund

Donald E. McLaughlin, Director of the Maryland Forest and Park Services, met yesterday with the Garrett County Commissioners to request that the board reconsider its position regarding pending House Bill #1861 for a Forest or Park Reserve Fund. The bill, which would insure state revenue re-investment in cutover state forest land, failed in Congress last year, and is being introduced again this year.

The bill would require that 10 percent of the revenues from state forest timber sales be put back into re-cultivating the land. Garrett County presently receives 25 percent of state forest collected revenue because of its vast amount of state forest land. The Forest or Park Reserve Fund would be a general fund, to be used for land in any part of the state, and that 10 percent would be taken off the top, leaving Garrett County with only 15 percent of state forest revenue.

This means that, had the bill passed last year, Garrett County would have received approximately $55,036 less in 1979 from collected State Forest revenue.

In 1980, Savage River State Forest generated $144,944.87 in timber sales alone, and Potomac-Garrett State Forest generated $72,768 in timber sales.

As Garrett County contributes highly to the state's timber sales revenue, the board agreed to consider endorsement of the bill, with the stipulation that the 10 percent monies be put back into the county where the cutover land exists, rather than a general fund. The Commissioners strongly requested that a clause stating that the fund be re-invested in each particular county, be included in the bill.

McLaughlin informed the Commissioners that he "doesn't think the bill will get through Economic Matters if both Garrett and Allegany counties oppose it." Hunter stated that, "if the money could be brought back here and spent on forests, we could probably live with it."

In regard to snowmobiling in Garrett County, McLaughlin said the state "is trying to be responsive to the county," and has been working to upgrade 19 miles of existing off-road vehicle (ORV) trails. State Forest personnel have also replaced two bridges, and several hundred signs are ready to be posted.

McLaughlin stated that a formal public hearing will be held within the next few weeks, to discuss the proposed snowmobile expanded trail system, to run from Meadow Mountain to Deep Creek Lake State Park. He said the Garrett County Forestry Board has advised the state to "move very cautiously," in lieu of possible budget cuts this year, and to be careful not to limit other management activities. He added that the Forestry Advisory Commission expressed similar precautions.

In regard to easement problems centered around the expanded trail system, McLaughlin stated that his department is considering short term easement agreements, to provide liability protection to the owners of private land in the path of the proposed trail.

Connellsville Man Drowns While Vacationing At Lake

A 23-year-old Pennsylvania man drowned last Wednesday, after a canoe in which he was riding was washed over on Deep Creek Lake.

The victim, Joseph Carbonara, South Connellsville, Pa., and a companion, Eileen Johnson, 25, Pittsburgh, were vacationing at the lake when the incident occurred.

Garrett County Central Alarm received a call of a possible drowning about 3:30 p.m., after Ms. Johnson had donned a life jacket and swam to shore to seek help. She told the Garrett County Sheriff's Department investigators of the incident, that neither she nor Carbonara were wearing life jackets when the boat tipped over at about 3 p.m.

The victim reportedly was attempting to don a life jacket when he drowned. Members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, the Department of Natural Resources Police, and scuba divers from the Deep Creek Volunteer Fire Department recovered Carbonara's body about 4:25 p.m., after his red life jacket was spotted about 150 yards out from shore. The incident occurred in the Route 2, Swanton area of the lake.

Police said that members of the Rescue Squad worked for 20 minutes in an attempt to revive the victim. Dr. James Feaster, Garrett County medical examiner, was called to the scene at 5:10, and pronounced the man dead. The victim's body was reportedly taken to Cumberland for an autopsy.

Ms. Johnson was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital, where she was reportedly treated for shock and later released. She told the police that high winds blew water into the canoe, which was then blown over by a wave. Police said winds that day were 15 to 20 mph, and the shoreline water temperature was 45 degrees.

Funeral services were conducted this morning at St. Paul's United Methodist Church, Oakland, for John Olin (Jack) Durst Sr. 84, owner and operator of the John O. Durst Funeral Home in Oakland for many years, who died suddenly early Sunday morning. SAVED BY NEIGHBOR — Miss Mary Junkins is carried by members of the Southern Rescue Squad and the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department after she suffered smoke inhalation when her trailer caught fire Monday afternoon. Miss Junkins was pulled from the burning trailer by a neighbor, David Moon, after he heard the fire call over his scanner. She was listed in satisfactory condition this morning at Garrett County Memorial Hospital. See story.

IS IT REAL? — This scene is only a mock disaster, but it very well could be a reality, and in view of that possibility, members of the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad, the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department, and the Deer Park Volunteer Fire Department staged a mock mass disaster drill, known as a Code 1, in conjunction with the staff of the Garrett County Memorial Hospital, on Sunday afternoon in the parking area of the Broad Ford Elementary School. The scene is the supposed result of a two-vehicle collision which was struck by the loaded school bus, producing multiple injuries of more than 30 victims. After evaluating the degree of seriousness of each victim, the patients were then transported to the hospital, where staff members and emergency facilities were waiting to receive the mass influx, requiring concentrated effort of emergency employees, doctors, nurses, and staff of operating rooms, x-ray areas, and even the morgue. The training sessions are held at least once each year as a first aid and rescue training exercise in preparation for any emergency. GREAT AMERICAN SMOKEOUT — Garrett County Commissioners Ernest Gregg, Truman Paugh, and Lester Hunter are shown signing a proclamation in observance of the American Cancer Society's fourth annual "Great American Smokeout" on November 20. The observance is being honored natinally in hopes that if smokers can quit for one day, they may quit permanently. Last year, Commissioner Paugh guit smoking for two weeks as a result of the pledge, and hopes to break his record this year. Commissioner Hunter has agreed to help. A Gallup Poll taken last year after the Smokeout found that 15 million persons joined nationwide, with 5 million succeeding in their effort to quit totally. The Smokeout is being sponsored by the Garrett County Unit of the American Cancer Society with the help of the Oakland Lions Club.

Lung Disease Among Women On The Rise

The rate of smoking-related lung diseases among women is on the rise, according to the American Lung Association. This fall, many lung associations will redouble their efforts to convince women to quit smoking.

Some associations are encouraging women's groups to sponsor no-smoking resolutions at their meetings, or at least to set up separate no-smoking sections. Others are urging physicians in their areas to make a point of discussing quitting with their women patients who smoke. Some are starting programs in prenatal clinics to show pregnant women the hazards of smoking to their unborn babies.

Still other lung associations are encouraging businesses to sponsor employee workshops to reach women smokers on the job. Women who work outside the home are more likely to smoke than non-employed housewives, according to recent surveys. Smoking rates among women managers are higher than those for women in other positions.

Smoking is also a problem for women nonsmokers who take jobs in places where others smoke near them. Discussing the dilemma with bosses and coworkers who smoke is not easy for anyone, but it is especially difficult for women new to their jobs. And recent research shows that long-time exposure to other people's smoke, even if it is just at work, can damage the small airways in the lungs of nonsmokers.

Some lung assiciations sponsor workshops where smokers and nonsmokers can discuss mutual feelings and work out satisfactory solutions. Inviting the two groups to switch roles, to act out situations where a smoker must play a nonsmoker and vice versa, can help people develop different perspectives that can change confrontation to accomodation.

To find out more about women and smoking and programs in your area this fall, contact your local American Lung Association—the Christmas Seal people. It's a matter of life and breath.

DNR To Provide New Service For Area Snowmobilers

The Maryland Forest and Park Services will provide a new convenience to Garrett County snowmobilers this year, by making the purchase of off-road vehicle (ORV) permits available at area parks. Off-road vehicle permits are required to operate snowmobiles on Department of Natural Resources lands, and can be purchased at New Germany, Herrington Manor and Deep Creek Lake State Parks.

Off-road vehicle trails are located in state forests, however there is some parking and access to the trails in state parks.

The permit is valid for one year, and must be affixed to the off-road vehicle. The money received from permit fees is returned to the Forest Service for maintenance of the off-road vehicle trails.

The Forest and Park Services reports that 25 percent of all revenue collected in state parks and forests is returned to Garrett County in lieu of County property tax. The first quarter payment in fiscal year 1981 totaled $32,595, from July 1 through September 30.

The bridal veil was first used to disguise the bride's identity from evil spirits who hate weddings and do all they can to make trouble.

THE ARTS

The 1981-82 Maryland Migratory Waterfowl Stamp competition is open and entries are being accepted, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

In the short space of six years, the Maryland contest has grown to become second only to the national contest in prestige.

Conducted by the Assistance and Information Unit of the Department of Natural Resources, the Maryland contest annually attracts more than 125 entries.

Judging of entries in the 1981 contest is scheduled for 11 a.m., March 20, 1981 in the Tawes Office Building, Annapolis. All entries, if hand delivered, must be received at the Office of Assistance and Information in the Tawes Building by 4 p.m., March 13, 1981, or, if mailed, postmarked no later than March 13.

Artists wishing to enter may request copies of contest rules and entry agreements by writing:

Waterfowl Stamp Contest, Assistance & Information, Department of Natural Resources, Tawes State Office Building, Annapolis, Maryland 21401.

Rules state that artists must be Maryland residents and may not submit more than three entries.

Pintails, Wood Ducks and Redheads are not eligible for the 1981 contest.

In 1974, the General Assembly enacted a bill requiring all who hunt waterfowl in Maryland to purchase a $1.10 stamp which must be signed by the hunter, affixed to his statewide license and carried while hunting. Funds from the sale of the stamps are used for the propagation of waterfowl in the state. Generally, the program raises nearly $40,000 a year.

The contest is held to call public attention to the requirement that a State stamp is required by law.

Throughout the competition, identity of artists is unknown except to the contest director and his assistant. There is absolutely scrupulous observance of this provision, the DNR said.

From the outset, Maryland decided to offer no prize for the winner of the contest. The DNR says ample opportunity for financial reward from sale of prints exists from the triumphant artist.

Add Some Spice . . .

There is much wisdom behind the old cliche "variety is the spice of life," wisdom which, unfortunately, escapes or is at least not heeded by many persons.

Good parents encourage their children to learn to eat a large variety of foods. They do this because they know that a variety of foods is good for them, supplying them with needed vitamins and minerals. It also adds to the enjoyment of dining.

Too often, we allow ourselves to follow such a narrow pattern of interests and activity. We limit our experiences to just a few aspects of life and don't even attempt to enjoy something new. We feel that our few well-rooted activities which we enjoy so much will be threatened somehow if we become too flexible in our attempting new things.

We worry about what others may think if we're seen deviating too far from our normal course. It is sad and it is wrong to think that a lover of symphony music can't enjoy a blue grass festival, or a weight-lifter can't enjoy knitting, or one who does the waltz can't enjoy square dancing, or one who usually wears a suit and tie can't be seen in a pair of blue jeans, or one who is an avid sports enthusiast can't enjoy, with the same enthusiasm, the band's performance at halftime. Expand your horizons!

Because of our discomfort with too much variety, we also limit our friendships and acquaintances to just those persons who seem to fit our own mold. We reject those who dress differently, think differently or are colored differently. This is even more disheartening, for God gave us a world filled with different types of persons, all beautiful in his sight, and a world full of variety. Life is too short not to take advantage of that variety.

We conclude on another cliche: "Try it, you might like it."

Bedsheet Terror . . .

by Carol Kapel

Several weeks ago, on a hillside not far from here, a gathering took place - a gathering of white-robed individuals wearing hoods who base their existence on appeals to prejudice against race, religion, and color . . . a group which would deny to entire masses of men and women dignity under human nature, equality under the law, and spiritual fellowship under God. Beneath a blanket of darkness, members of the Ku Klux Klan stood at the foot of a burning cross on a farm in Pennsylvania, less than forty miles from Garrett County.

This is a scene that's been played and replayed again and again as recorded in the pages of history. This organization has reared its ugly head for decades, causing pain, fear, and even death. The ironic claim that acts of violence and words of terror are spoken and done in the name of justice is an insult to the intelligence of those opposed to white supremacist organizations, or groups driven by discrimination and blinding hatred.

Citizen reaction to the presence of the Klan ranges from disbelief, to fear, to anger, to indifference.

It is ridiculous to assume that disregarding activities of diabolical organizations such as the Klan means they do not exist. It is even more ridiculous to suppress one's own beliefs and heartfelt feelings convinced that the problem belongs to someone else.

There is no place for the burning cross or bedsheet terror in America. We all have rights, guaranteed rights under the framework of our Constitution, but do we have the right to ignore our bond with one another?

We are all created by one God. This concern should extend to the hearts of all members of the human family. The time to stand up and be counted is now.

Rules Set Down For County Teachers

By Carol Kapel

In honor of American Education Week (November 17-24), elementary school conferences have been scheduled, curriculum guides have been developed, and instructors and students have prepared projects.

Over the years, the role of the teacher has developed and grown from that of a substitute parent to a guiding force in career choice to a real and caring friend for millions of children. Although the duties of a teacher have often been expanded, and sometimes abused, teachers have been subjected to strenous regulations of their own.

The following list of rules for teachers has been revived to assist educators thoughout the county:

1. Teachers each day will fill lamps and clean chimneys.
2. Each teacher will bring a bucket of water and a scuttle of coal for the day's session.
3. Make your pens carefully. You may whittle nibs to the individual taste of the pupils.
4. Men teachers may take one evening each week for courting purposes, or two evenings a week if they go to church regularly.
5. After ten hours in school, the teachers may spend the remaining time reading the Bible or other good books.
6. Women teachers who marry or engage in unseemly conduct will be dismissed.
7. Every teacher should lay aside from each pay a goodly sum of his earnings for his benefit during his declining years so that he will not become a burden on society.
8. Any teacher who smokes, uses liquor in any form, frequents pool or public halls, or gets shaved in a barber shop will give good reason to suspect his worth, intention, integrity, and honesty.
9. The teacher who performs his labor faithfully and without fault for five years will be given an increase of twenty-five cents per week in his pay, providing the Board of Education approves.

Fortunately, the rules no longer apply, but were actively enforced in 1872 in some parts of the country.

The council administers federal funds throught the ARC, as well as the Economic Development Administration, for Allegany, Garrett and Washington counties. Council has anticipated cuts of about $1 million, 20 percent of its normal ARC funding for area development.

At last week's meeting, the council took action to formally set up a Loan Review Committee composed of nine individuals, three from each county, to manage a $625,000 revolving loan fund to be granted by EDA. The committee will notify area banks and meet to determine a set of underwriting requirements, to be presented at the December meeting of EDA for consideration. If approved, the revolving loan fund would offer low-interest, short-term loans to area developers, private individuals and profit-making firms. It was tentatively decided that the funds will be divided equally among three counties.

In other business, Jack Meyer, the council's Energy Program Consultant, provided an update on the Synfuel Plant, a coal gasification/liquefaction project, being undertaken by the council, as part of the newly-formed Westmar Energy Corporation. Other members of the corporation are Delta Mining, Inc. and Potomac Edison.

Meyer reported that a contract for a $95,000 pre-feasibility study of the project was signed last Tuesday with Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation of Boston. The Synfuel Plant is one of several coal conversion projects up for possible U. S. Department of Energy (DOE) funding. It has been established that, even if DOE support is denied, the corporation will move forward by exploring other funding sources.

A TCC Steering Committee met recently with Governor Harry Hughes and his staff, to submit an application to ARC. The corporation is looking at a figure of at least one billion dollars for the completion of the plant, which could produce millions of barrels of fuel oil equivalent each year, and would provide a boom to the area coal industry. Project planners are looking at a possible site owned by Potomac Edison, Black Oak Bottom, near Tri-Towns.

The council and Delta Industries will meet November 19 in Annapolis with nearly 17 different state agencies, to discuss the proposed project.

The group heard a report on the Western Maryland Area Agency on Aging (AAA) which is housed through TCC. It was noted that $31,000 will be granted to Garrett County through Title 3-B of the Older American's Act, to continue its Homemaker/Home Health Program under the Garrett County Commission on Aging. The program provides training and supervision through the Garrett County Health Department, for aids to perform such duties as housecleaning and limited personal care for the county's elderly citizens.

Council agreed to have the executive director utilize his staff in preparing a report on the use of general revenue sharing in the three counties, to be used during lobbying efforts on Capital Hill. On the motion of Garrett County Commissioner Ernest Gregg Jr., the council endorsed the expedient completion of the National Freeway, which would provide transportation benefits to many county businesses.

The council will not meet in December, and the January meeting date will be announced at a later date.

State Police Are Investigating Numerous Reports

Maryland State Police are investigating several breaking and entering complaints in the county, and have charged an Ohio man with assault during the last week.

Walter William Wachter, Bloomington, reported the attempted theft of a Royce 23 channel C.B. radio and a Medallion Am/FM 8-track tape player from his Ford Van while it was parked along Rt. 135, near Bloomington.

Unknown culprits broke the right door window in a futile attempt to steal the equipment.

Damage is estimated at $90. The investigation is continuing.

Howard Sylvanus Butler, 71, Grantsville, reported the theft of approximately $530 worth of merchandise from the basement of his home on U. S. Rt. 40 near Grantsville.

Unknown persons broke into the basement door, taking a purse containing $110 in cash; two chain saw bars; two kerosene lamps; a set of knives; and damaged two door latches.

Police are continuing the investigation.

Damage was reported to a glass door and two glass storm windows at St. John's Lutheran Church, Swanton, on November 13.

According to police, a gun was used to shoot out the glass in the church building, causing damage in the amount of $840.

Police are continuing the investigation.

Christina Lu Duckworth, whose addess is listed as Point View Inn, was reportedly sitting on a stool in the lounge last Saturday evening when, according to the police report, Robert Edward Petright, Canton, Ohio, allegedly struck her and then poured a beverage on her head.

Police charged Petright with assault, and placed him in the Garrett County Jail.

Years Take Their Toll

By Harry Fox

A note in the corner of a desk calendar reminds us that it has been seventeen years since that third week in November, 1963, when a President of the United States lost his life to an assassin's bullet in Dallas, Texas. A long time. Time enough, as Ecclesiastes reminds us, for many to be born. Time enough for those young to mature, and those old to die with their memories. Certainly time enough for much rejoicing and mourning, laughter and weeping.

A case could be made that the years since November, 1963, have not been kind to us as a nation. The flush of optimism that characterized John Kennedy's brief tenure in office has evaporated, like the oil reserves that kept the oil sheiks under our thumbs in those innocent days. From unparalleled leadership to dubious compromise we have gone, from "solid" alliances like SEATO to precarious SALT treaties. To ask that, in the face of present crises, our young remember old wrongs seems cruel, if not unreasonable.

But "yesterday's madness" is still very much with us, as today's headlines witness. Racists of all colors are still at war. Extremists do their politics in the street, shunning the ballot box. If the nation is not divided into warring camps, it certainly is strained to accommodate the competing needs of its people.

Those who were youthful witnesses to the madness at Dallas are now "picking up the torch", as John Kennedy reminded us. Ours is the next generation of Americans. And we do have much laughter and joy, along with the tears.

And over it all, the flag whips and cracks in the chill November air, on an Arlington Hillside across the Potomac from Washington.

Property Owners And State Reach Agreement In Easement Dispute

The Maryland Forest Service, Department of Natural Resources, and a group of about 20 private landowners have reached a possible easement agreement over a tract of land known as "Batiste's Discovery," located in central Garrett County approximately four miles northeast of Deep Creek Lake.

The agreement is the end result of about eight years of negotiations between the two parties.

Batiste's Discovery came about when a partnership of five men purchased 182 acres of land on Meadow Mountain from Peter Bittinger, on November 21, 1970. The partnership selected tracts for their own use, subdivided the property in 20 lots, and sold parcels to others interested in recreational property.

On January 21, 1972, the partnership was advised by Clinton Irwin, Enviromental Specialist, that a 50-acre corner of Batiste's Discovery is owned by the State of Maryland. Partnership owners of that portion were relocated on other parcels of land.

The 50 acres claimed by the State covers the entrance portions to the only two access roads into Batiste's Discovery, a matter which caused a deadlock dispute between the partnership and the State. After years of unsuccessful negotiations, the roads were barricaded on June 30, leaving the landowners without access to their property.

In compliance with a recommendation by Delegate DeCorsey Bolden (R-Allegany-Garrett) the barricades were lifted August 13, to renew negotiations. The two groups are now in the process of concluding a formal agreement.

The first part of the agreement states that the lot owners of Batiste's Discovery will give up all right and interest in the upper, longer road, while granting the Forest Service the right to develop this road as part of an extended snowmobile trail network. Also, all parties involved in Batiste's Discovery will agree to no further subdivision of their lots.

The lot owners will be permitted to use the lower, shorter road in its existing alignment and not greater than 25 feet in width. After leaving the State Property, this road winds around to meet with the upper road, therefore providing access to all the landowners' tracts.

Douglas W. Spaulding, of Spaulding Real Estate, landowner and agent for the partnership, is in the process of contracting all of the landowners to obtain a formal written agreement based on these conditions.

The major issues discussed in the lengthy negotiations dealt with rightful claim to the 50-acre tract, responsibilities of both parties, and the controversial use of the roads crossing that tract.

The property owners affected by the decision are from Rhode Island, Kansas, and various cities in Maryland.

heavy smoke in the unit."

Miss Junkins was transported to Garrett County Memorial Hospital by the Southern Rescue Squad for treatment of smoke inhalation. She was listed in satisfactory condition this morning.

Shimer stated that the fire originated near the kitchen stove when the flame from a gas burner ignited some combustibles located nearby. Miss Junkins reported that the trailer is covered by insurance.

The living room and kitchen areas sustained moderate fire damage, while other sections of the trailer received smoke damage. It was necessary for firefighters to cut into a living room wall to extinguish fire trapped inside the wall. Several pieces of furniture were destroyed or severely damaged.

Allso alerted were Deer Park, Gorman and Aurora fire departments, however they were all cancelled after Oakland arrived on the scene. Oakland remained on the scene for about one hour and 15 minutes.

The latter part of last week was plagued by brush fires, most of which occurred in the northern section of the county.

On Thursday at 6 p.m. Grantsville VFD responded to a brush fire on Amish Road, three miles off Route 40. They were on the scene for about ½ hour.

Friendsville, Grantsville, Accident, Deer Park and Deep Creek firefighters were called out to five separate brush fires on Friday. Friendsville responded at 2:04 p.m. to a fire on Route 48 at the Rest Area. They were out for about ½ hour. Grantsville was summoned at 3:29 p.m. to extinguish a brush fire along the Lower New Germany Road. They were on the scene for about 45 minutes. Accident VFD was called at 5:38 p.m. to extinguish a fire along the Accident-Bittinger Road. They were out for one hour and 15 minutes. Deep Creek firefighters were called to douse a brush fire at 7:20 p.m., which was located along Brant Road. They were out for one hour. Moments later, at 7:42, Deer Park VFD was called for a fire located along Green Glade Road, which was extinguished in one hour.

Deep Creek was again called out Saturday, at 2:24 a.m., to return to the scene of the fire along Brant Road, which had rekindled. They were out for about one hour.

The Department of Natural Resources fire personnel also responded to all of these alarms.

ARC Housing Workshop Held At Grantsville

An Appalachian Housing Workshop, coordinated by the Appalachian Regional Commission (ARC), began last evening at The Casselman Inn, Grantsville, and will run through tomorrow afternoon. The workshop is being attended by housing coordinators and other representatives from the 13 states in the Appalachian Region. The counties participating from Maryland are Allegany, Garrett and Washington.

Marjorie Coning, State Housing Development Advisor, met yesterday with Diana Wawzinski, Garrett County Housing Coordinator, to discuss general housing programs in the county. She explained that ARC is set up as a joint federal, state and local partnership to work on the problems in Appalachia. Various county coordinators and ARC staff at state and federal levels focus on several different categories of problems, and seek new funding sources for possible solutions. The housing program is one of these categories.

Ms. Coning stated that monies in the housing program are available for Technical Assistance, for development and planning; Project Planning Loans, for anyone wanting to develop a housing project; and Grant Funds, to help cover site development costs. Funds are administered through the state, and then at the county level in some states, such as Maryland, allocated through the county Housing Office. Local governments play an active role in ARC housing projects, and each state deals with its problems differently, said Ms. Coning.

The purpose of this week's conference is to share all differences in housing problems, and how various government bodies deal with them. Topics to be covered at the workshop include project administration, technical assistance strategies and methods, housing and rural development strategies, personnel administration, multi-family housing, single-family housing, and fiscal administration and management.

Attending the conference from Garrett County, besides Ms. Wawzinski, will be Duane Yoder, Director of Community Action Committee, Inc., and Tim Dugan, Garrett County Planning Director. Garrett County Commissioner H. Lester Hunter presented the opening remarks at this morning's meeting.

Although the local Housing Office deals primarily with developing new housing, Ms. Wawzinski explained that housing consultation services are available for moderate-income people, as well as low-income families.

Pumpkin More American Than Apple Pie

"As American as pumpkin pie" may not be as familiar as the long-standing cliche about apple pie, but, indeed, it may be more accurate.

The truth is that apple pie may well be the nation's best-selling dessert pie, but its origin lies across the Atlantic; whereas, the pumpkin variety is truly an American innovation. So, it seems more appropriate to coin the phrase, "as American as pumpkin pie," in honor of its domestic heritage.

In France, the cradle of cookery, the pumpkin is used for soup, jam and some desserts, according to its epicurean bible, "Larousse's Gastronomique." It goes on to state that in the United States, pumpkins are used primarily as filling for pies.

But what Larousse doesn't mention is that Americans have been baking and eating huge quantities of pumpkin pie ever since 1621, when the Pilgrims were taught to grow the great orange fruit — "cucurbita," by family name.

So important was this dish to the early New England settlers that one Boston wag proclaimed:

"We have pumpkins at morning, pumpkins at noon.

If it were not for pumpkins, we should be undoon."

These pumpkins were especially valuable in the early American diet because, as a crop, they ripened early in the season when many other foods — particularly grains — were scarce. Colonial farmers learned quickly how to stagger their planting to maintain a steady supply from August through October. In addition, pumpkins could be easily stored in root cellars and used during the wintry months when other foods were unavailable.

It's not surprising, then, that the first recorded recipe for any American dish was for pumpkin pie. It was published in the 1672 edition of "New Englands Rarieties" by Englishman John Josselyn, who had visited the colonies twice during the mid-1600s.

Later, in the first truly American cookbook, "American Cookery," published in Connecticut in 1796, it's author, Amelia Simmons, considered pumpkin pie the ultimate American recipe and offered these directions for her custard-like filling:

One quart of milk, 1 pint pumpkin, 4 eggs, molasses, allspice and ginger in a crust, bake 1 hour.

Then, for her crust:

Rub one third of one pound of butter, and one pound of lard into two pound of flour, wet with four whites well beaten; water q.s. to make a paste, roll in the relidue of shortening in ten or twelve rollings — bake quick.

In the 170 years since, no self-respecting American cookbook has been without a pumpkin pie recipe. One of the best reasons why is detailed in "The House Mother," a much-reprinted 19th century cookbook:

"A perfect pumpkin pie eaten before the pie has gone out of it, is one of the real additions made by American cookery to the good things of the world. For the first pumpkin pie of the season, flanked by a liberal cut of creamy cheese, we prefer to sit down, as the French gourmand said about his turkey: with just the two of us; myself and the turkey."

Today, pumpkin pie tops the list as the unequaled favorite during the fall months. From September through December alone, Americans consume an estimated half billion slices in homes and restaurants across the nation.

After all, it's as American as ...

New Ideas For Thanksgiving Traditions!

SESAME SEED BATTER ROLLS

1 cup milk
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons vegetable shortening
3 1/4 cups all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1 pkg. active dry yeast
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup quick or old fashioned oats, uncooked
1 egg, separated
Sesame seed

Scald combined milk and water in small saucepan; add shortening. Cool to lukewarm. In large bowl, combine 1 cup flour, sugar, yeast and salt. Add milk mixture; beat well. Stir in remaining flour, oats and egg yolk. Fill 18 greased medium-sized muffin cups about 1/2 full. Lightly brush tops with beaten egg white; sprinkle with sesame seed. Cover; let rise in warm place about 30 minutes or until nearly double in size. Bake in preheated hot oven (400°F.) about 12 to 15 minutes or until golden brown. Makes 1-1/2 dozen rolls.

SAGE 'N SAUSAGE CORN BREAD DRESSING

One pan corn bread, cooled, crumbled
6 cups dry bread cubes
1 lb. bulk pork sausage, cooked, crumbled, drained
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons sage
3/4 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 cups chicken broth
2 eggs, beaten
1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted

Combine corn bread, bread cubes, sausage, celery, onion, sage, salt and pepper. Stir in remaining ingredients; toss lightly. Place in 3-qt. casserole; cover. Bake in preheated slow oven (325°F.) about 1 hour. Makes 2-1/2 qt. of dressing.

*CORN BREAD

1 cup milk
1 egg
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1 cup enriched corn meal
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Add milk, egg and oil to combined dry ingredients. Beat until smooth, about 1 minute. Bake in greased 8-inch square baking pan in preheated hot oven (425°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. Makes 8-inch square pan of corn bread.

Tradition dictates the Thanksgiving menu: basted turkey, bursting with dressing, warm from the oven homemade rolls, and your favorite pumpkin pie. After a number of years of this, however, the creative cook is ready for something a little different. Adding a few subtle flavor changes, these Thanksgiving traditions can do the trick.

Sage 'N Sausage Corn Bread Dressing is the "stuffing" to try this year. It bakes in a casserole to speed up roasting time for an unstuffed turkey. The special grain taste of this recipe is due to the corn bread, made the traditional way with enriched corn meal. Poultry seasoning and sage further enhanced the corn bread, sausage and vegetable flavor combination. Topped with your traditional giblet gravy, this dressing recipe is one to cherish year after year.

For those homemade rolls everyone will expect you to serve, put your creativity to work on Sesame Seed Rolls.

Savory Chicken Spoonbread

Our founding fathers knew a good thing when they found it. And now you can sample their savory discovery in a simple penny saving luncheon dish.

Savory Chicken Spoonbread — a cut above the colonial varieties — still relies on the same basic ingredients — corn meal, eggs and milk. With today's vast supply of herbs and spices, you can create a colonial dish with contemporary flair.

With our version of spoonbread, there's a built in bonus. Enriched self-rising corn meal supplies the B-vitamins — niacin, thiamin and riboflavin — plus the minerals, iron and calcium. Add this to the protein, vitamins and minerals supplied by the other ingredients, and you'll come up a winner!

Savory Chicken Spoonbread
6 servings

1 cup enriched self-rising corn meal
3 cups milk
1 can (4 oz.) mushrooms, stems and pieces, undrained
2 tablespoons butter
1 tablespoon dried minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon basil
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon tarragon
2 cups cooked chicken, diced OR 2 cans (5 oz. each) boned chicken
4 egg yolks, beaten
4 egg whites
Chicken gravy, optional

Measure corn meal; set aside. Heat milk, mushrooms, butter, onion and seasonings in large saucepan until butter melts. Gradually stir in corn meal. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils; cook, stirring constantly, for 1 minute more. Remove from heat and cool. Stir in chicken, then egg yolk; mix thoroughly. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into corn meal mixture. Pour into greased 2-quart casserole dish. Bake in preheated 350° oven 45 to 50 minutes or until golden brown. Serve immediately. Top with chicken gravy, if desired.

Cheesey Egg Noodle Bake
6 servings

5 hard-cooked eggs*, sliced
1 1/2 teaspoons instant minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon Italian seasoning
1 package (7 to 8 oz.) spinach or egg noodles, cooked and drained
1 cup ricotta or drained cottage cheese
2 cups (8 oz.) shredded Mozzarella cheese
1 1/2 cups milk, heated until very warm
3 eggs, beaten

Reserve 8 center egg slices for top layer. Combine onion, salt and Italian seasoning. Set aside. Layer ingredients in buttered 2-quart casserole as follows: 1/3 of the noodles (about 1 1/4 cups), 1/2 of remaining egg slices, 1/3 cup ricotta (dropped by spoonfuls), 2/3 cup shredded cheese and 1/3 of the reserved seasonings (about 1 teaspoon). Repeat with remaining ingredients.

Gradually add hot milk to beaten eggs. Pour over layered casserole. Bake in preheated 350°F. oven 1 hour. Let stand 10 minutes before serving.

Hard-Cooked Eggs

Pierce eggs with an egg piercer or punch, if desired. Put eggs in one layer in saucepan and add enough tap water to come at least 1 inch above eggs. Cover; bring rapidly just to boiling. Turn off heat; if necessary, remove pan from burner to prevent further boiling. Let stand covered in the hot water 15 minutes for Large eggs — adjust time up or down by about 3 minutes for each size larger or smaller. Cool immediately and thoroughly in cold water — shells are easier to remove and it is less likely you will have a dark surface on yolks. To remove shell: Crackle it by tapping gently all over. Roll egg between hands to loosen shell; then peel, starting at large end. Hold egg under running cold water or dip in bowl of water to help ease off shell.

Carol Wengerd Awarded Grant

Carol Wengerd, 18, Grantsville, was presented a $200 recruitment grant at the October meeting of Alpha Alpha, held recently at Will O' the Wisp.

Ms. Wengerd is a graduate of Northern High School and is presently attending Frostburg State College, where she is majoring in teaching. Each year Alpha Alpha presents a scholarship to a deserving student who plans to go into the teaching field.

At the meeting, Lillian Reckner and Anna Bishop presented a program designed to review the purpose of the society, and the meaning of its symbols, publications, scholarships and fellowships.

Music was furnished by Lucile Sines, Jean Wolfe and Lillian Reckner, who sang "Lullaby of the Leaves". The business meeting followed with committee reports.

The group's next meeting will be held December 6, and will feature an auction to raise money for next year's recruitment grant.

Social Security Manager Discusses Survivor Benefits

Whenever a family member dies, one of the survivors should inquire to see if social security benefits may be payable on that person's record, Frank Tomko, social security assistant district manager in Cumberland, said recently.

"It is important to apply promptly, because in some cases benefits cannot be paid for months before the month of application," Mr. Tomko said. This pertains to widows and widowers who wish to start benefits before they reach 65.

If the worker had credit for enough work covered by social security, benefits can be paid to:

•Unmarried children under 18; 18-22 if full time students; over 18 if disabled before 22.

•A mother or father caring for a child under 18 or disabled.

•A widow or widower 60 or older.

•A disabled widow or widower 50 or older.

•A dependent parent 62 or older.

A survivor's divorced wife can receive the same benefits as a widow if the marriage lasted 10 years or more. This time limit does not apply to a divorced wife caring for an eligible child under 18 or disabled.

In addition, there is a $255 lump-sum death payment that can be made upon the death of a person who worked and earned enough credits.

When applying, it is helpful for the person to have certain proofs available, including: worker's social security number, proof of age for applicants, proof of marriage for widows or widowers, children's birth certificates, income tax forms or returns for the two years before death, proof of support for parents. Do not delay applying if all of these are not available. People at the district office may be able to suggest substitutes.

The Cumberland office is located at 316 Paca Street, and the telephone number is 724-0970. Residents of Garrett County may call collect.

GCC Laker Basketball Season To Open Saturday Against Alumni

The Garrett Community College Men's Basketball team will open its 1980-81 season this Saturday, November 22, with the annual Alumni game. The game will begin at 8 p.m. on the McHenry floor.

The Lakers, under second-year head coach Randy Hess, will be playing a 24-game schedule, with 13 home contests and 11 away. Garrett competes in the American Division of the Maryland JUCO Conference with such perennial powers as Community College of Baltimore, Catonsville Community College and arch-rival, Allegany Community College.

The team is composed of five sophomores and seven freshmen, with Jerome Hampton and Valin Yaw being the only returning lettermen. Other sophomores are Perry Lee, Miguel Rojas and H.A. Savage. According to Hess, Lee is a strong rebounder, Rojas is one of the team's top shooters and Savage is a "solid fundamental player."

The new recruits bring a wide variety of credentials to GCC. Bill Bender and Brian Black both averaged over 20 points per game in their senior high school campaigns. Bender, a graduate of Northern High School, was a first-team All-Area pick last season after shattering numerous Husky records. Black was the leading scorer in the Kanawha Valley, West Virginia, last year with a 22-point average.

Dave Hershman, a graduate of Southern High School, is one of the better passers on the team, according to Hess. Ron Fisher and Roger Cornwell are former high school teammates and should play key roles this season, Hess stated. "Fisher is an excellent ball handler and is very quick, while Cornwell is a fine shooter," Hess said.

Mike Lonigro and Sean Finney, according to Hess, are "excellent hustlers and will add depth."

Hess expects his team to have excellent depth and good quickness this season, however, he feels the greatest problem for the young Lakers will be the lack of a big man. The tallest players on the roster is only 6-5. "Our aggressive style of play will have to make up for our lack of size. We must give a maximum effort every game and execute the fundamentals to have a successful season," Hess stated.

The Lakers will be playing this season without the all-time leading scorer, Steve Liller, and two-year lettermen, Clint Bradley and Richard Hardesty.

Assistant coach is Dennis Gibson.

North Garrett Bowlers Capture Western Maryland Championship

The 22nd annual Western Maryland Bowling Association Championship Tournament was held at The Bowler in LaVale, last weekend, with North Garrett Lanes Team 2 rolling a total of 3,130 pins to take the handicap team championship.

The championship team was led by Steve Macak, who rolled a 657; Bill Green had a 644 series; Don Hetrick came in with a 633; Dan Green had a 593; and Ron Kimble rolled a 573.

Southern Rams Mash Linganore, 22-6; Will Face Snow Hill For State Title

The Southern Rams took one more giant step towards winning their first state football championship when they whipped the number one rated Class C team in the state, Linganore, Saturday afternoon, 22-6. The contest was played on Linganore's field, which is located near Frederick.

Meanwhile, in the eastern part of the state, third ranked Snow Hill was routing number two Mt. Hebron, 45-0. The Rams will travel to Snow Hill this weekend for the final showdown, which will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Senior running back Paul Cornish, who was forced to sit out last season's playoff final against Smithsburg due to an ankle injury, had vowed to lead the Rams back to the playoffs this year. He upheld that vow against Linganore by rushing for 150 yards in 23 carries and scoring all three of the Rams' touchdowns.

This is the second consecutive year the Rams have fought their way into the finals. Last season's bid for the title was wiped out, however, as powerful Smithsburg destroyed the Rams, 41-6.

Southern took the opening kickoff and marched right down the field against Linganore, however the scoring threat was stalled when Linganore's Mike Semelsberger jumped on a Todd Lewis fumble and the Lancers took over on their own 14. The Rams had moved the ball as close as the one-yard line on that drive.

Behind the running abilities of Charles Dorsey, who had rushed for over 1,600 yards and 19 touchdowns for Linganore this season, and fullback Mark Matulia, the Lancers proceeded to take the ball down into Ram territory. Defensive end Pat Rodeheaver stopped the drive, however, by diving on a Matulia fumble at the 38.

The ensuing Ram drive was short-lived, as Lewis fumbled the ball and Scott Bequette recovered, to give possession to the Lancers on the 50-yard line. Linganore managed to move the ball down to the 20, only to have Rodeheaver crash through the line again and throw Mike Chavez for a ten-yard loss. The Rams eventually took over on downs at their own 18.

After a 32-yard gain by slotback Wayne Scott on a reverse and a 26-yard pass play from Lewis to tightend George Scheffel, the Rams found themselves on the four-yard line. On the next play, with 4:47 remaining in the half, Cornish went into the end zone and sophomore fullback Ron Bosley crashed through for the two-point conversion.

Another drive by the Lancers was stopped with just three seconds remaining in the second quarter when Wayne Scott picked off a Mike McCalla pass on the Rams' 33.

The third quarter was a standoff, as several Lancer drives were stopped on downs and penalties.

With about ten minutes remaining in the game, the Lancers were again stopped and forced to punt. The snap, however, sailed over Scott Bequette's head and Pat Rodeheaver tackled him for a 20-yard loss and the Rams took over on Linganore's 24. Three plays and a five-yard penalty against the Lancers later, Cornish took the ball over for the score. The attempted pass for the two-point conversion failed and the Rams held a 14-0 lead with 9:11 remaining.

Linganore responded quickly, however, and finally got on the scoreboard, as the 5-10, 175-pound Dorsey went up the middle for a 31-yard scoring dash. The two-point conversion attempt failed.

During the next three minutes of play, it appeared as though the momentum may have swung in favor of the Lancers, as they stopped the Rams on downs and, following a muffed punt, took over the ball at midfield.

However, on the first down, linebacker Jim Lyons ripped through the line and forced a fumble during the handoff from McCalla to halfback Jeff Musselman. Lyons fell on the ball for the Rams at the 50. On the next play, Cornish broke free for the longest run of the ball game and notched his third touchdown, which iced the win for the Rams. Todd Lewis added two more points by connecting with Wayne Scott for the conversion.

Dorsey led all rushers, recording 156 yards on 22 carries. The Lancers netted 186 yards rushing, compared to 246 yards on the ground for the Rams. Bosley contributed 67 yards on 16 carries for Southern.

In the passing department, Lewis completed two of four attempts, both to Scheffel, good for 43 yards. Linganore connected on only one of seven tosses, for 12 yards.

Defensively for the Rams, Kevin Flanagan had seven tackles, Rodeheaver and Adam Wolfe each had six.

"This was one of our best efforts all season," Coach Tom Woods stated. "We were well prepared, extremely high emotionally and healthy. We went into the game following perhaps our most intense weeks of practice all season, and it paid off."

Woods said that Linganore was "stronger than I thought they'd be." He said he had "underrated" Dorsey.

"Linganore is an impressive team. They have many fine athletes and a lot of depth. I feel we won because we were more emotional and it seemed that winning was just a little more important to us," he said.

Snow Hill, the Rams' opponent this Saturday, will be seeking revenge, as they were knocked out of the playoff picture last season by the Rams, 26-16. Paul Cornish rushed for 207 yards and four touchdowns in that win, which pitted the Rams against Smithsburg in the finals.

This will also be Snow Hill's seventh appearance in the playoffs, however they are still seeking their first title.

"Snow Hill is a senior-dominated team and has the most explosive offense we will have faced all season," Woods said. "They are talented, experienced and extremely quick."

Snow Hill's offense is led by 5-10, 180-pound junior fullback, Ed Snead, who has rushed for over 1,300 yards this year, and wingback Ed Johnson, who has recorded over 1,000 yards. They use limited passing, "just for surprise, or when they have to . . . pretty much like we do," Woods said. They use the wing-T formation with many misdirection plays. Woods compared their offensive formation to that of Musselman.

They also show strength at tight end with 6-3, 200-pound Maurice Ames.

The Snow Hill defense is paced by 6-2, 210-pound Charles Dennis. They utilize a 6-2 defense, as well as a 5-2 invert, where the defensive backs move up between the line and linebackers.

"Snow Hill has the talent to blow us off the field," Woods said. "However, if we play with the same confidence and enthusiasm as we did against Linganore and some of our other tough opponents, we will have an excellent chance of coming out on top. We have shown that we often play our best when our backs are to the wall."

Woods said his team is some-

"WHY DON'T THEY JUST GIVE EACH TEAM A BALL?"

Southern Rams

what battered and bruised, but he expects all of his starters to be in good shape by Friday. "The boys and the staff are truly excited, not only about the game, but the trip to the Eastern Shore. Two dozen of our kids have never even seen the ocean. So we feel the trip is a great opportunity in more ways than one."

The team will leave Thursday, on what is expected to be at least an eight-hour drive. They will be staying in Ocean City, which is about 12 miles from Snow Hill. Woods said donations from fans made it possible for the team to leave one day early, because the state only provides funding for Friday night's stay.

Speaking of fans, Woods said that the five to six hundred "loud" fans at Linganore "inspired the team beyond belief." Although he said he realizes it is a long trip to Snow Hill, he hopes the fans who do make the trip will be "equally as loud." At least two charter buses for fans are expected to make the trip.

Six Southern Rams Chosen For PVC Team

Six Southern High Rams were named to the Division One Potomac Valley Conference football team last evening at the PVC's annual fall meeting at the home of the Keyser Moose, Keyser. Southern High coach Tom Woods also received a trophy for his team's winning the division.

Named to the squad were running back Paul Cornish, offensive lineman Kevin Flanagan, offensive end George Scheffel, linebacker Jim Lyons, defensive end Pat Rodeheaver and safety Ron Bosley.

Dean Daniels, of the Southern Golf Team, was also recognized for shooting a low 80 in the PVC Golf Tournament last May in Canaan Valley. Berkeley Springs edged the Rams by three strokes in that contest.

The only team to place more gridders on the PVC list was Franklin, with eight.

Two Qualify For Hotshot Playoffs

Two Mt. Lake Park youths have qualified for the Pepsi Cola/NBA Hotshot area playoffs, to be held on November 22 in Washington, D. C.

Max Hill, pictured right, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, will compete in the 9-12 age group. Scott Stem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stem, will compete in the 13-15 age group.

These boys could qualify for the Pepsi Cola/NBA National Championships. The finals will take place during half-time of the nationally-televised NBA Championships.

In the Pepsi Hotshot competition, participants are given one minute to sink as many baskets as they can from predetermined "hotspots" around the key. Points are awarded for each basket and subtracted for violations, such as walking, palming or double-dribbling.

The local event was held in cooperation with the Washington Bullets, the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company of Cumberland, and the Garrett Community College Basketball Camp.

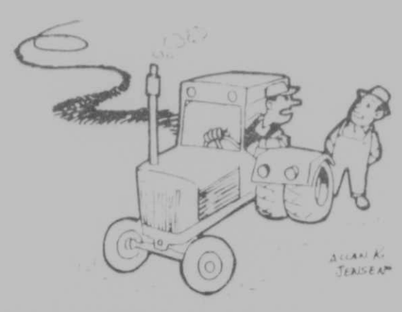
Commission On Law Enforcement Meets In Easton

At a recent meeting of the Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice held in Easton, Richard W. Friedman, executive director of the Commission, reported on the activities of the Commission's Task Force on Family Violence. The Task Force was formed in answer to a charge by Governor Hughes to the Commission for a comprehensive study of the entire problem of family violence. Members include representatives of the Maryland Sheriff's Association, Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services, Department of Human Resources, Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the judiciary, Attorney General's Office, and Maryland States Attorney's Association.

Friedman, chairman of the Task Force on Family Violence, noted that two major issues identified for Task Force involvement include spousal abuse and abuse of the elderly. In an attempt to disseminate information regarding these topics, Task Force members have each taken the responsibility of distributing information concerning family violence and, where necessary, the domestic violence law to the agencies or organizations they represent.

Other areas of current Task Force involvement include: 1. evaluation of training for law enforcement agencies in the area of family violence; 2. exploration of possible solutions to the problem of limited resources for programs and services addressing family violence treatment and prevention; 3. evaluation of the strengths and weaknesses of existing laws as well as monitoring of HB 1945 (i.e., a bill introduced during the 1980 Maryland legislative session which would amend existing legislation relating to domestic violence); 4. attempts to obtain involvement of advocacy groups and individuals who have expertise in family and domestic violence; and 5. contacts with educational agencies regarding the possible inclusion of information about family violence in school curricula.

Also at the Commission meeting, Friedman, chairman of the Ad Hoc Task Force on Prison Overcrowding, reported on the recent activities of that group. He noted that the Division of Correction had substantially complied with the October 1, 1980 deadline on prison population restrictions imposed by the U. S. District Court, but added that "maintaining compliance with current population ceilings would be extremely difficult." In an effort to deal with the situation, the Task Force urged all correctional agencies to review the criteria adopted by the Task Force in April to identify potential parolees. Additionally, the Task Force has written to Governor Hughes urging him to maintain sufficient personnel in the fiscal year 1982 budget for the Division of Correction, the Parole Commission, and the Division of Parole and Probation.



"I haven't been able to get a straight furrow since I started using gasahol."

Friedman reported to the Commission that the projected completion dates for prison construction were as follows: House of Correction, Annex (512 beds), April, 1981; and Reception, Diagnostic, and Classification Center (400 beds), February, 1981.

In other Commission activity, Kenneth Hines, chief of the Commission's grants program and Commission staff liaison to the newly reconstituted Juvenile Justice Advisory Committee (JAC), reported on that Committee's activities. Hines advised that at its last meeting, the JAC had reviewed and approved the 1981 Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention application for Federal funds for submission to the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP).

Meetings of the Juvenile Justice Advisory Committee are scheduled to be held on the third Thursday of each month.

In further action at the Commission meeting, the Commission approved over $700,000 in Federal grants to State agencies and local units of governments in Maryland for projects aimed at reducing crime and improving the criminal and juvenile justice systems.

Prince George's County received $22,500 in Federal funds to implement a program to reduce overcrowding at the County Detention Center. Initial project activities will involve efforts toward developing an inventory of existing alternatives to incarceration. A major project objective will be the development of a current data base and an updated profile of the inmate population.

Another grant to Prince George's County was a refund award in the amount of $66,159 for their Criminal Justice Information System On-Line Development project.

A grant in the amount of $147,535 was awarded to Montgomery County to establish a central intake and referral unit for juvenile alcohol and drug abusers. Youths referred to this program will be evaluated at the intake level by specially trained drug and alcohol counselors. Based upon the assessment, the juvenile and his or her family will be referred to treatment agencies within the community. In conjunction with the treatment services, a four-session workshop will be offered.

The Department of Public Safety and Correctional Services received two second-year refund awards. One, in the amount of $31,698 for the enhancement of the Maryland State Police Crime Laboratory; and the other, in the amount of $42,438 for the Maryland House of Corrections Crisis Clinic. The primary function of the crisis clinic is to provide crisis intervention services to any inmate of the Maryland House of Correction who is experiencing emotional stress of a crisis or pre-crisis nature.

Funds in the amount of $54,973 were awarded to the Juvenile Services Administration for continued operation of their Northeast Maryland Transportation Corps. This project enables Harford and Cecil Counties to comply with the State law regarding the separation of youths from adults in detention facilities by providing transportation on a 24-hour, seven day a week basis to youths who would otherwise be placed in adult lock-ups.

Other grants awarded were $250,286 to Baltimore City for the continuation of their concentrated juvenile crime reduction program; and $80,000 in supplemental funds to the Office of the Public Defender for the continuation of a project to provide legal services to Division of Correction inmates in filing habeas corpus petitions and civil rights petitions. This program is being administered by the Legal Aid Bureau in Baltimore City.

The Governor's Commission on Law Enforcement and the Administration of Justice is the State agency responsible for comprehensive criminal justice and law enforcement planning and for administering anti-crime funds made available to Maryland from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration under the Crime Control Act of 1976 and the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Acts of 1974 and 1977.

Southern High Marching Band Florida-Bound

Marching Bands of America announces the participation of the Southern Garrett High School Band in the MBA Grand National Parade and Field Championship Competition in Jacksonville, Florida.

The two-day event, taking place on the 28th and 29th of November, will be bringing together bands from 13 states for national level competition in both field show and parade marching.

"We are really pleased with the caliber of bands participating in this year's Grand Nationals," says Dr. Nicholas Valenziano, Executive Director of Marching Bands of America. "This should truly be a top level national contest."

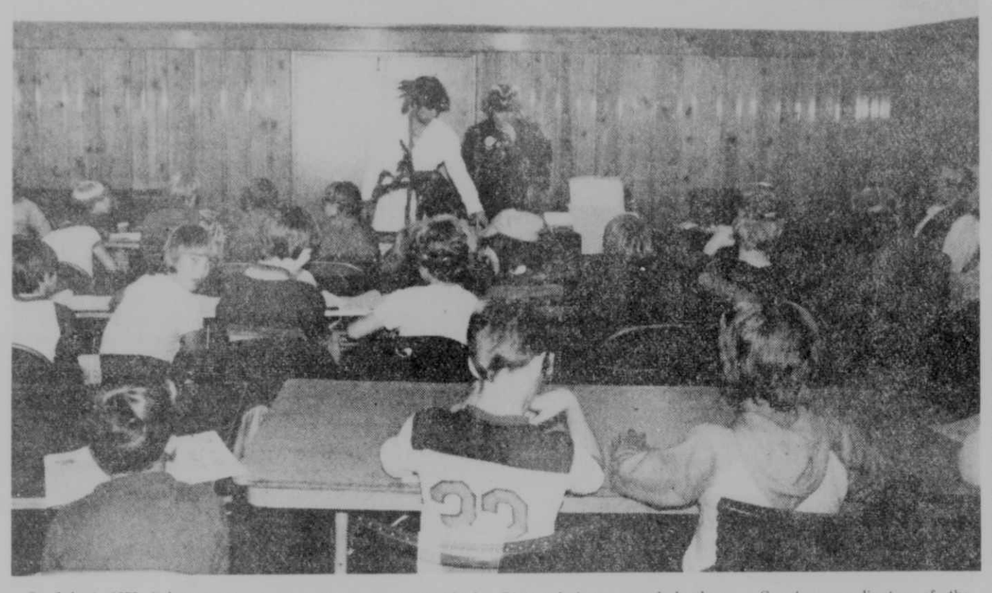
Two days of preliminary contests on Friday and Saturday, November 28-29, in the famed Jacksonville Gator Bowl will determine the top twelve finalist bands. These twelve bands will draw for positions in the MBA Grand National Finals Contest to be held in the Gator Bowl Saturday evening, November 29, beginning at 7 p.m.

An added feature in this year's Grand Nationals is the MBA Championship Parade on Friday evening, serving also as the City of Jacksonville's Christmas Parade. The parade, winding through downtown Jacksonville, beginning at 6:50 p.m., will conclude with a gala party for the participants and parade award ceremonies.

Tickets for the MBA Grand Nationals preliminary and finals competitions are available from the MBA office, 800-323-5201 or 312/398-7270, the Gator Bowl ticket office, 904/633-2140 and selected ticket outlets in downtown Jacksonville.

For additional information, interested persons may call Marching Bands of America, 800-323-5201 (toll-free).

Maryland Hunter Safety Program Underway In Garrett County



On July 1, 1979, it became a Maryland state law that all persons under 18 and persons who have never before had a hunting license must enroll in the Maryland Hunter Safety Program.

The course is a minimum of nine hours of classroom instruction and culminates in a written, as well as practical, exam and includes such topics as gun safety, rifles, shotguns and handguns; archery; black powder and muzzle loaders; survival; conservation; hunter ethics; game laws; and care and recognition of game animals.

There are presently a number of courses being conducted in Garrett County. One is now underway at the Oakland National Guard Armory with about 26 students and one in Grantsville with 27 students.

Pictured above, muzzle loaders Milton Proudfoot and Charles Nolan, who is also a county deputy, explain the operation and construction of a muzzle loader, as well as the proper use of black powder.

Courses are also held at both campuses of Garrett County Community College and some are planned for the county school system, in particular, the Crellin school.

County co-ordinator of the program, William Ferry, stated that approximately 300 persons took the course in Garrett County the first year.

Ferry said that courses are taught by certified volunteer instructors and that Maryland's program is recognized by all 50 states. A total of 44 states have similar programs.

Sorry, Dave . . .

In the Southern Garrett Athletic Association ad which appeared in The Republican last week, Dave Goldsborough was inadvertently omitted. We certainly regret overlooking Dave, but the pictures were taken at Southern High School at a time when Dave could not be present. We congratulate Dave and all the Ram players, coaches and cheerleaders.

The Maryland Newsfront

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — Teachers are leaving the Baltimore County school system at an increasing rate, the head of the county teachers' association says.

Speaking at a conference with County Executive Donald Hutchinson, teachers' leader Janice Puccinni also said more and more teachers are taking second jobs to support their families.

Lloyd Russell, assistant principal of Loch Raven High School, said schools arehaving a hard time getting teachers to accept tasks beyond their classes, such as after school activities and coaching athletic teams.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A city attorney said the light sentence given a million-dollar embezzler will hinder future prosecution of small-time thieves, shoplifters and welfare cheats.

Prosecutor David Bortz had asked for the maximum 15-year sentence for Robert Wright, a 37-year-old former stevedoring official convicted last month of stealing $1.1 million from the John T. Clark and Sons company.

Judge Elsbeth Bothe Monday gave Wright a three-year sentence with the prospect of work release and early parole, a sentence city attorney William Swisher says is so light it will hamper the prosecution of cases where less money is involved.

—BALTIMORE (UPI) — City Council members are considering a drastic change in the city's much-debated low-interest mortgage loan program.

The change would make homeowners eligible for the $85 million loan program. Under the current plan, only new home buyers are allowed to get the loans, which are at interest rates of less than 12 percent.

The bonds to finance the program are to be sold before the end of the year.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A plan that would force landlords to justify rent increases above 5 percent will likely replace a stricter rent control bill now before the city council, Councilman Norman Reaves said Tuesday.

Reaves, who is sponsoring the new plan, said it has the support of 11 of the 19 council members.

There have been three recent hearings on the strict control plan and it is unlikely to pass, Reeves said. The new plan would make landlords document any increase above 5 percent.

BALTIMORE (UPI) — A fear of cuts in federal funding under the incoming Reagan administration has led Mayor William Donald Schaefer to issue his toughest budget-cutting warning to date.

The warning came in a letter sent to department heads Monday and was the opening salvo in eight months of budget preparation. City officials believe the Republican administration will cut revenue sharing funds and block grants.

Schaefer said, "Departmental requests should be below current year appropriations."

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Homeowners will be spared the increased costs of building and financing water and sewer systems in Anne Arundel County because of a decision by the county council to reexamine the way it pays for the projects.

The decision, made Monday at a council meeting, means the county will stop passing along the costs of new projects to owners of property where the improvements are made.

The immediate effect of the policy is that assessments won't increase on 18 projects totaling nearly $24 million that are to be finished in 1980.

County Residents Succeed In Closing Landfill Dump

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Community activists who live near the Cold Spring trash dump scored a victory Tuesday when the city ordered the landfill closed.

Mayor William Donald Schaefer said, however, the dump would be reopened if an emergency disposal problem arose. The landfill had been closed for two years but was reopened Sept. 5.

The reopening prompted a lawsuit by a community group called the Coalition to Close Cold Spring Dump and sent city officials to the state capital to try to work out a compromise where various jurisdictions would help each other dispose of garbage until new facilities could open.

An agreement was reached that put Baltimore, Anne Arundel and Harford Counties and the Baltimore city under the administration of the Northeast Maryland Waste Disposal Authority.

The city began dumping 600 tons of trash a day in other jurisdictions last week, most of it at the Norris Farm Landfill in Dundalk.

Residents near the dump, which is between planned townhouses and a shopping mall, said it caused noxious odors, noise and heavy truck traffic.

Nuclear Plant Employees Discover Release Of Leaking Radioactive Gas

By ROBERT F. BUCHANAN

BALTIMORE (UPI) — It's unclear how long it took employees at the Calvert Cliffs nuclear power plant to find out radioactive gas was leaking from the plant, a Nuclear Regulatory Commission official said Tuesday.

"There is no way of knowing," said Gary Sanborn, a spokesman for the NRC's King of Prussia, Pa. office.

Plant employees discovered the leak at 11:25 a.m. Sunday, but Sanborn said he cannot say for sure when the release began. But a spokesman for Baltimore Gas and Electric Co., the plant owner and operator, said the leak could only have occurred for a "minute or two," before being detected.

"As soon as the gas was released by the valve, it almost immediately could be picked up by the vent monitors," said the spokesman, Charles J. Franklin Jr.

Sunday's leak into the plant ventilation system, caused by a valve malfunction, was the fifth at Calvert Cliffs this year.

BG&E reported .017 millirems escaped in the plant itself, with only .000015 millirems recorded at the edge of the plant grounds.

The federal safety limit for exposure to radiation is .2 millirems per hour.

"In a case like this where it is a minor leak and the cause is readily apparent, we wouldn't do any special investigation," Sanborn said. "We will follow it up in regular inspections."

A BG&E investigation ruled out human error, Franklin said.

"It was a mechanical problem, that may be caused by the binding of the valve," he said, adding an automated indicator fooled employees into thinking the valve had closed.

Company and NRC officials said there is no provision for a visual check.

"We don't consider it a problem plant," said Sanborn, saying there have been no major leaks.

"I think we have a perfectly safe plant," said Franklin. "We don't like leaks, but the fact is all of these are low levels."

"The quality control is excellent and the plant is in good shape," said Harry Cooke, chief site engineer for the Bechtel Corp. which built the plant

Local residents and elected officials did not seem especially concerned abut the plant's safety record.

"Sure, it bothers me, but I'm not hiding under the bed," said Carol Scott, a resident of nearby Waldorf.

Dorchester County Commissioner Leonard W. Dayton said, "I don't see anything out of the ordinary. The way I hear it, you get more (radiation) by sitting in front of your television set."

Common Causes Of Infertility Being Treated With Tiny Balloons

(UPI) — Doctors at Johns Hopkins Hospital are treating one of the common causes of infertility in men with tiny balloons, a process they said Tuesday is safer, faster and possibly cheaper than surgery.

Dr. Robert White, a radiologist, said inserting the silicone balloons in blood vessels can help reduce varicose veins around the testes. The process replaces a surgical operation performed 12,000 times a year to achieve the same effect.

White, a pioneer in the use of balloons to treat vascular problems, said a study of 50 men indicated the balloons successfully reduced varicoceles, a vein abnormality that often causes sterility. He said it will take at least three years to tell if the men can father children.

About half the men in the U.S. who are sterile have varicoceles, studies indicate.

Doctors thread a catheter — a hollow, narrow tube — through a vein or artery until it reaches its destination, then send a narrower tube with a balloon attached to its end through the catheter.

A special X-ray dye is injected into the balloon to inflate it until it fits snugly against the blood vessel.

The balloon is sealed off and the catheter is removed. Within 20 days scar tissue forms around the balloon and the affected vein is blocked permanently.

"The traditional surgical method requires general anesthesia and a two-day hospital stay. Balloon catheterization is an outpatient procedure which can be accomplished in an hour under a local anesthetic," said Dr. Patrick Walsh, who helped conduct the study. "The new technique is faster, safer and therefore easier on the patient."

Walsh said even though a man's sperm count may increase within three months after the process, it may take longer to determine if he is fertile.

"We may not improve sperm count, so it can take many months to accomplish a pregnancy," he said.

Re-Trial Plans For Convicted Killer Offer Nothing New

By BRUCE OLSON•

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The prosecutor in the murder-for-hire trial of David Wayne Robertson said Tuesday a defense motion for a re-trial contained "nothing new" and would not sway the court.

Assistant State's Attorney Lawrence Rosenberg said all the questions raised in the defense motion had already been dealt with during the two-week trial.

Robertson, 19, was convicted Friday of four counts of murder and conspiracy in the killings of 23-year-old Mary Thompson and her 83-year-old grandmother Maria Zisser in Baltimore last Thanksgiving weekend.

In papers filed Monday, defense lawyer Joseph Murphy said the judge in the case had made 14 errors that prejudiced the case in favor of the state. Robertson remained free on $100,000 bail pending a hearing next Monday.

The motion for a retrial will be argued at that time and if the judge rules no new trial is necessary, Robertson will be sentenced. Robertson, a former church choir tenor and grocery clerk, faces a maximum sentence of four life terms in prison.

In his motion, Murphy said Supreme Bench Judge Joseph Pines did not instruct the jury properly, that the introduction of photographs of the victims "were so inflammatory as to hopelessly prejudice the jury," and that the search warrant obtained for Robertson's car was illegal.

Murphy also said the jury should have been able to review a tape recording of an undercover police officer's conversation with Robertson's partner in the crime, 18-year-old Michael Schindler. Schindler and the mastermind of the plot, appliance repairman Tony Thompson, are both serving life sentences for the killings.

Rosenburg said, "The motion filed by the defense contains nothing new."

Speaking of the photographs, he said they "were introduced on the discretion of the judge and I don't think there was anything inflammatory about them. They could have been a lot worse. They could have been in color."

Rosenberg showed the jury the pictures of the mutilated bodies of the victims during his closing summary. The jurors were visibly shaken by the sudden display.

Murphy also asked that Melvin Day, a prisoner at City Jail last January with Thompson, be allowed to testify. Day apparently would have said Thompson told him he didn't know Robertson. But Pines said Day's testimony would be hearsay and did not allow the defense to put him on the stand.

Rosenberg said Day's testimony wouldn't have swung things in favor of Robertson because Day is a police informant and would not have been a credible witness.

Commissioners

county roads was discussed. Mention was made that snowmobile registration may be required for this convenience, under the Transportation Code, and McLaughlin indicated that the Forest and Park Services would be willing to register snowmobiles, if it is provided for in the law.

In other business, members of the Maryland Coal Association met with the board to discuss considered legislation to shift taxing authority on coal to county governments. Representing the Coal Association were George Edwards of Delta Mining, former Garrett County Commissioner; Matthew Skidmore, Sr., president of the Coal Association; and George Shropshire, vice-president.

The legislation being considered would enable county governments to impose an added coal percentage tax. The group expressed that the Coal Association is opposed to a percentage tax, but would endorse a flat monthly tonnage tax paid directly to the county.

The possibility of eliminating personal property tax on coal mining equipment was discussed, to be replaced by the monthly tonnage tax.

The commissioners stated that the county collected 18 percent of that personal property tax as of October, adding that the personal property tax results in a yearly county loss of about $100,000. The Board of Commissioners is also in favor of a different method of taxing, rather than the personal property tax.

The commissioners plan to discuss the county's approach to coal tax with the two local legislators and the Board of Allegany County Commissioners. Allegany County is the only other coal-producing county in the state.

Commissioner Ernest Gregg, Jr. also expressed that he sees "some very real dangers" in allowing the county government to have coal taxing authority.

In other business, two bids were awarded yesterday by the board.

A bid for the bridge inspection for 63 bridges on county roads was awarded to Duffy, Montgomery and Associates, Inc., of Baltimore. The company was the low bidder, at $11,850. This bid is subject to the approval of the State Highway Administration.

The bid for two new buses containing wheelchair lifts, for the Garrett Bus system, was awarded to Watson Automotive Equipment Corporation of Mt. Airy. Watson was the low bidder, at $52,232 for both buses. This bid is concurrent with the decision of the Maryland Department of Transportation.

The board was notified of the governor's appointment of Arthur R. Butler, Accident, to the Garrett County Property Tax Assessment Appropriations Board. Butler will replace Max Messinger, and will serve as the board chairman. His term will run until June, 1984.

In other business, Tom Jones, Director of Economic Development, met with the board regarding an aspect of the Route 135 Industrial Site. The board approved the submittal of an Industrial Development Grant application of Farmers Home Administration, requesting funding up to $55,000 for an access road and sewer line extension into the industrial site.

Dr. William Pope, Garrett County Health Officer, met with the board to review the Garrett County Health Department budget, specifically, matching county funds. The board approved a contract between the state and the county for the Health Department's partial case formula budget for fiscal year 1981, totaling $483,546. The county's levy under the contract will be $244,200.

The Commissioners granted $500 in financial assistance to the Southern High School football team yesterday, to help defer the cost of the team's trip to Snow Hill, located at the extreme eastern shore, this weekend.

Ed Green, assistant principal, informed the board that the Southern Rams football team learned Monday that they would be required to travel to Snow Hill this weekend, to play in the State Championship playoffs. The state will pay the cost for one day's lodging and meals, however, as it will be a nine-hour bus trip, the school administration feels that two nights' lodging is essential.

As it is a state-sanctioned tournament, and there was no time for fund-raising activities, the board agreed to the financial assistance. Dennis Colaw, also present at the meeting, stated that the Southern Garrett Athletic Association will honor its commitment to provide additional financial assistance for the trip.

In other business, Scott Ward and Mike Kildow of the Garrett County Health Department, met with the board to re-clarify and re-iterate the need to establish a program in Garrett County to meet the needs of people with social problems. Having the endorsement of the Alcohol Advisory Board, they are looking toward a halfway house in the county.

Mention was made that state grant monies are available for operating costs of a treatment facility, and mortgage payments would be the responsibility of the county.

Ward said he believes a 16-bed facility would run at consistent full capacity in Garrett County. He will further explore the state's funding participation, and will report back to the board at a later date.

The 504 Transition Plan, as it relates to the Garrett Bus System, was officially adopted yesterday by the board. Anna McNallie, Senior Planning Officer, met with the commissioners regarding requirements set down by the U. S. Department of Transportation. The Garrett Bus System is the first in the state to meet the requirements, by making public transportation accessible to the handicapped, through two new buses having wheelchair lifts.

SSA Claims Problems Are Under Control

WOODLAWN, Md. (UPI) — The deputy commissioner of the Social Security Administration said Tuesday the agency has its problems under control and does not need outside management help as was suggested in a report last week.

Herbert Doggette Jr., whose agency was criticized for mismanagement by a national commission's report last week, said the SSA has "a very good handle" on its problems.

The National Commission on Social Security report said an outside management team should be appointed to correct "serious managment problems" at the agency's suburban Baltimore headquarters.

"Many studies have been made; many solutions have been proposed; little progress seems to have been made," the report said.

The report criticized, among other things, the SSA's old computer system and the large number of people who report directly to Commissioner William Driver.

But Doggette said the agency has developed a plan to buy the data-processing equipment over a 10-to15-year period. He also said Driver is "pleased to have open and free access; this is not a problem."

The commissionwas was appointed by President Carter and the Congress to study the "serious administrative problems" facing Social Security.

General Assembly Issues For 1981 Being Previewed By Legislators

ANNAPOLIS (UPI) — Legislative leaders Tuesday previewed many of the issues to be debated by the 1981 General Assembly — cradle to grave issues as divergent as drunk driving laws, insurance regulation, and nuclear waste disposal.

Committee chairmen from the House and the Senate who make up the Legislative Policy Committee listened for three hours to reports on what his or her committee had done since the 1980 legislature adjourned in April.

No votes were taken. The committee reports were merely informational.

But the session provided legislators with a glimpse of the topics they and their colleagues will be asked to consider once the 90-day session opens Jan. 14.

One proposal that immediately prompted controversy was a recommendation by Sen. J. Joseph Curran Jr., D-Baltimore, chairman of the Judicial Proceedings Committee, that Maryland's Health Claims Arbitration Board be abolished.

Since the board was created in 1976 to arbitrate medical malpractice suits that had been clogging court dockets, 630 cases have been filed with it, but only 115 have been decided and only 75 of them through arbitration.

"The big problem is that it is not doing what it is supposed to do," said Sen. John J. Bishop, R-Baltimore County. "It is costing plaintiffs twice as much and they're having to wait twice as long."

But Delegate Daniel Minnick, D-Baltimore County, said to eliminate the board would merely renew the old confrontation between doctors and lawyers, to which Sen. Edward Mason, R-Allegany, added that he thought the lawyers would win.

Sen. John Carroll Byrnes, D-Baltimore, raised an even more somber topic: The problem Maryland and most other states face in disposing of radioactive wastes.

Byrnes said the Maryland Commission on Intergovenmental Cooperation, which he co-chairs, plans to sponsor legislation that would prohibit the storage of high-level nuclear waste in Maryland, except when preempted by federal law.

Storage of low-level nuclear waste in the state would also be prohibited except when permitted by a proposed interstate compact.

Byrnes said the state geologist had been asked to determine if there were any suitable storage sites for nuclear waste in Maryland, and that his answer was, "No."

Byrnes said the commission "is convinced that the federal government has not met its obligation to the citizens of this nation on the radiocative waste disposal issue."

"To avert a major crises, it is necessary for the state to take specific steps to establish an appropriate regional interstate compact," he said."

Byrnes predicted that without a suitable storage site for the nuclear wastes generated by Maryland's lone nuclear power plant, that "it will ultimately reduce our reliance on nuclear energy in this state."

Among the other topics briefly discussed were proposals to:

Modify the rules governing the confidentiality of adoption records.

—Study whether the judiciary has abused its authority to make court rules by making rules that are essentially legislative in nature.

—Stop the legislature from mandating that insurance companies offer certain specific types of insurance.

—Eliminate the 6 percent ceiling on the amount property assessments may increase in a year.

—Require banks and lending institutions to periodically report to the legislature the interest rates they charge for various types of loans.

—Override various gubernatorial vetoes, including one of a bill that would have provided state lottery agents with more money for cashing winning tickets.

Artillery Shell Is Discovered In Chesapeake Bay

EDGEWOOD, Md. (UPI) — A boat dredging the Chesapeake Bay near Poole's Island Tuesday found a high-explosive artillery shell but an Army bomb squad disposed of the shell without incident, authorities said.

The dredge, under private contract to the Army Corps of Engineers, accidentally picked up the eight-inch shell. The boat notified the Coast Guard, which called ordinance experts at nearby Edgewood Army Arsenal. Coast Guard spokesman Mike Waller said.

The bomb squad went in a boat to the dredge and transferred the shell, using sandbags to shield itself in case of an explosion. The shell was taken to Edgewood, where it was disposed of.

Waller said the shell did not have a fuse but was considered dangerous because its age and condition were unknown.

Season's First Snowstorm Dumps Three-inch Accumulation And Sleet

By United Press International

The first snowstorm of the fall dumped up to three inches in western Maryland and caused hazardous driving conditions for many motorists Tuesday.

Authorities reported three inches of snow fell on Frostburg and Cumberland and Garrett County reported one to two inches of accumulation. In addition, sleet and ice slickened roads, keeping state road crews busy for most of the night.

Temperatures ranged from the high 20s overnight in the west to low 40s in the Baltimore area. The National Weather Service said the winter-like cold probably would continue through Wednesday.

State police blamed icy roads for an accident near Cumberland that killed an elderly West Virginia couple late Monday. John Winterstein, 80, and his wife Nettie, 75, of Ridgely, W. Va. died when the driver of a tractor trailer lost control of the truck, crossed the median and struck their car.

Glenndon Bendzen, the truck's driver, was charged with failing to reduce speed to avoid a crash and failure to keep to the right of the road, police said.

Police said both occupants of the truck suffered minor injuries. The Winterstein had to be cut from their car by members of a volunteer fire company, police said.

A sleet and ice storm struck the Baltimore area Monday, making the afternoon rush-hour traffic dangerous and leaving about 14,000 homes without electricity. A spokesman for Baltimore Gas & Electric Co. said the majority of those had power restored by daybreak.

The snow was greeted with mixed emotions in western Maryland, which had been without significant precipitation for several weeks.

Official at the state Natural Reosurces Department said rain or snow was welcome because of the danger of forest fires. Fires broke out last week in Kentucky and West Virginia, which like Maryland have had extremely dry autumns.

But Cumberland city officials, beset by fiscal problems, were not pleased to see the early snow. Some of the city's snow removal equipment is in poor shape and new snow plows ordered last winter are not due to arrive until next week.

SQUAD RECEIVES DONATION — The Deer Park Civic Association recently made a cash donation to the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. Presenting the check for $100 to Frank Eberly, left, president of Southern Rescue, is Arleigh Hauser, vice president of the Association. The funds were derived by the Association's annual Ice Cream Social, as well as other benefit activities.

WVU Study Indicates Railroads Should Return To Coal Power

Can America's railroads return to burning coal? Some people consider railroads a bit old-fashioned but more than a third of the nation's ton-mileage is carried by rail.

And America's railroads are fueled almost exclusively by oil — at least 50 percent of which is imported.

A West Virginia University study indicates not only that railroads could convert to coal but that they should.

"It is technically, economically and environmentally feasible to convert 90 to 95 percent of the nation's rail system to coal-fired locomotives," according to M. Dayne Aldridge, director of WVU's Energy Research Center.

According to the WVU study, railroads last year consumed about 4.3 billion gallons of diesel fuel, which costs an average of 82 cents per gallon. The total fuel costs, including fuel handling by the railroads, were $3.66 billion. If the railroads had used coal, assuming Eastern coal prices, they would have saved about $1.27 billion.

"Besides these direct economic benefits for our railroads, the conversion to coal locomotives would provide other advantages," Dr Aldridge observed.

"Among these would be a reduction of oil imports and thus a positive effect on the nation's balance of trade; the domestic consumption of an additional 35 to 50 million tons of coal a year; jobs for an additional 15,000 to 20,000 coal miners; and freeing the railroads from the political uncertainties associated with foreign oil and the associated adverse effects of drastic price increases.

"In addition, conversion by the railroads would provide some badly needed stability for coal demand," Aldridge said.

The study, which is entitled "Coal as a Rail Fuel: An assessment of Direct Combustion," was funded by the American Coal Enterprises, Inc. It was co-authored by Dr. Aldridge, economist Thomas Campbell and Alfred Galli, professor of chemical engineering at WVU.

"According to our findings, and coal-fired locomotive using that firm's design could be built and in operation by 1983 if a tightly scheduled development and construction program was started now," Aldridge said. "And we think that in five years such a locomotive would have a significant impact on the importation of oil and the consumption of domestic coal."

Railroads consume from 100 to 110 million barrels of crude oil each year. This amounts to about 6.2 percent of the middle distillates (diesel fuel and heating oils) consumed in the U.S. each year. If these liquid fuels could be saved, they could be used in trucks, tractors, airplanes and other sources where the use of a solid fuel such as coal would be impractical.

"In our study, we considered other alternatives to coal as a way to reduce the railroads' dependency on diesel fuel," Aldridge said. "These included improving the efficiency of present diesel-electric locomotives; the use of synthetic liquid fuels in present diesel locomotives; and the electrification of rail systems.

"However, the other alternatives are not very promising from an economic point of view or as a timely solution to our energy problems," Aldridge said.

The overall drawbar (pulling) efficiency of a modern diesel-electric locomotive is about 32 percent and it's generally thought that to improve this would require considerable research and development. In addition, improved diesel efficiency wouldn't provide any impact until the mid-1990s at the earliest.

Synthetic liquid fuels are certainly a viable solution for the long term. However, it isn't expected that synthetic crude production will reach a half million barrels a day until 1987 and two million barrels a day until the mid 1990s. In addition, the railroads would still be competing with truckers, farmers and industry for a limited supply of liquid fuel.

It is thought that not more than from five to ten percent of the total U.S. rail system can be electrified economically. Today less than 1 percent of the rail mileage is electrified. A 1979 report estimates that the capital investment for the electrification of Conrail's main track between Pittsburgh and Newark, N.J., would be about $1.2 billion. And this huge initial cost would cause a negative cash flow for at least five years.

"On the other hand, coal-fired locomotives could offer timely, substantial economic benefits without hurting the environment," Aldridge observed.

"The fuel cost saving by using coal for equal work performed under equal conditions is 34.7 percent," Aldridge said.

The coal-fired locomotive proposed by American Coal Enterprises is a two-stage, combustion, reciprocating type. It's planned for heavy-duty freight service and is comparable to a diesel locomotive designed for similar service.

Aldridge said this coal-fired locomotive should be capable of hauling 20 percent more ton-miles per train-hour, which means that a coal-fired fleet could be about one-fifth smaller than a diesel fleet and thus make the initial cost of the two fleets about the same.

The study also indicates that the coal-fired locomotive is likely to have lower maintenance costs and the same size crew as a diesel locomotive.

"The two-stage boiler should reduce peak combustion temperatures and thus the formation of oxides of nitrogen," Aldridge said. "In fact, the coal-fired locomotive should produce considerably less oxides of nitrogen than a diesel locomotive.

"Present federal regulations do not cover sulfur dioxide emissions from boilers under 250 million BTU per hour heat input rates," Aldridge observed. "However, to meet the air pollution regulations of many states, which do cover boilers of the 50 million BTU class (the size of the proposed coal-fired locomotive), coal with a sulfur content of less than 2.1 percent would have to be burned. To meet the most stringent state regulations would require the use of coal containing no more than 1.5 percent sulfur."

Although the sulfur content of locomotive diesel fuel is not readily available, it appears that the sulfur dioxide emissions of current diesel locomotives is about the same as that of the proposed coal-fired locomotive.

"The two-stage combustion boiler of the coal-fired locomotive also should place it well within the limits of current smoke emission regulations," Aldridge said.

A cyclone separator, placed before the locomotive stack, would remove from 85 to 90 percent of the particulate matter from the exhaust, which is well within the limits of current air pollution standards.

Fugitive coal dust and ash emissions would be controlled by a closed, modular container arrangement. Closed coal hoppers would be filled at the mine and placed on the locomotive service unit. Coal ash would be collected from the grate and from the cyclone separator and conveyed to a closed container.

QUESTION:
"I turn my thermostat down, but our gas bill still goes up. How come?"

ANSWER:
"Most of the increase comes right from the well— the higher prices Columbia has to pay."

Most of Columbia's natural gas supplies do not begin as ours, but must be purchased. And since passage of the 1978 Natural Gas Policy Act, which allows gradual lifting of wellhead price controls to encourage gas exploration, the price Columbia pays for gas has been steadily increasing.

Added to that are the rising costs of maintaining and improving pipelines, storage facilities and services.

So rates have been going up. However, at Columbia we're doing all we can to hold down costs. We're investing in more efficient equipment and streamlining operations. Bi-monthly estimated bills are one savings you're probably familiar with.

In short, we're cutting where we can to keep your gas bill increases to a minimum.

And though your gas bill may be higher than you or we would like to see it, natural gas still costs you less than other energy forms.

For ideas on ways to make natural gas work even more efficiently for you, ask for our free pamphlet, "The Everyday Energy Saver's Guide".

What is forever?

Last week there was all the tenderness of young love. Today they broke up. And there is hurt in the wake of love — disillusion and bitterness.

What about you? Did you marry your high school sweetheart? Few of us do. Most of us have been through experiences like this, yet we survived.

And some of us who did marry our high school sweethearts lived on to find that it didn't work out. We had the trauma of divorce, which inflicts much deeper wounds.

Where did we turn? What did we do? It depends on how long ago it was. Because there was a time when you didn't turn to the church about divorce and other problems which, like it or not, are a part of life.

No longer. Today's church is with you in all things. Try it and see!

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ON THE DOTTED LINE

November 23, 1980

Background Scripture:
Ephesians 2; 1 Peter 2:4-10
Devotional Reading:
Isaiah 2:1-5

What does it mean to be a Christian?

Ask that question today and you get a variety of answers.

Some will say that being a Christian means being a member of one of the churches. Others will maintain that it means believing in Christ, although not necessarily belonging to a church. Still others will answer in terms of the beliefs to which they subscribe. And some people will maintain that being a Christian is synonymous with simply believing in God.

Rev. Althouse

A CHOSEN RACE

Some people believe that a Christian is one of those elect whom God has called to be one of his children. This language comes from the Bible itself and has led to many theological disputes. Why does God "elect" some and not others? Why would he "elect" his children before they were born, as some maintain. Wouldn't that be terribly unfair to the rest of us?

This is a hard question to resolve because the language of the Bible is not always easy to understand. Nevertheless, I believe that our problem is not one of God's exclusive and capricious love for some of us, but the semantics, the terminology which we use to describe that love. For example, the Jews thought of themselves as God's chosen people. All others were in another class altogether. A Gentile was something to be despised and avoided.

Yet, early Christianity attempted to show the world that all people everywhere were called by God, all were invited to participate in the covenant, to come into the kingdom — not just the Jews. The writer of the Epistle to the Ephesians says to the Gentiles: "So then you are no longer strangers and sojourners, but you are fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God . . ." (Ephesians 2:19,20). It appears that God chooses or elects all of us to be his chosen people, but not all of us accept that invitation. All of us can belong, but all of us do not choose to do so.

THAT YOU MAY DECLARE

But belonging to God as one of his chosen people is not a matter of having our names on a membership roll, nor is it even of knowing whose side we're on if it comes to declaring ourselves. God wants something more of us than merely knowing that we believe in him and identify ourselves in some way with him. Being a Christian is not to be just one of a number of affiliations that appear on our obituary. Listen to what he expects of us:

But you are a chosen race, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, God's own people, that you may declare the wonderful deeds of him who called you out of darkness into his marvelous light.

What God really wants from us is a covenantal relationship, a commitment to be what he wants us to be. A nodding acquaintanceship is not enough. What he requires is our lives on the dotted line.

DIABETICS MUST BE CAREFUL WITH THEIR TEETH

Any focus of infection is harmful, but especially so for a diabetic. Higher blood sugar levels lessen resistance to infection. Still a diabetic can, like anyone else, develop deep root abcesses, or pyorrhea, both of which are infections. And, you don't have to have a toothache to have a root infection, or loose teeth before your physician can diagnose infection.

Have dental checkups at regular intervals and be sure and tell your dentist, if you are a diabetic, so he can take extra precautions if an extraction is needed. He can't tell by looking at you. We carry complete stocks of diabetic and dental medications and supplies.

New Management Assistance Now Offered By ISB

A new management assistance service is now available from the Institute for Small Business to existing businesses in the area.

According to Dan L. Zink, senior management assistance specialist, the new Management Audit Program (MAP) is being offered to meet the special management needs of small business. "What we will be doing is providing consulting services using an intensive team approach. The objective is to focus our resources on the situation facing a given small business," he said.

The Institute for Small Business has been providing management assistance in Western Maryland for over seven years. Although existing businesses have always been eligible for and have received assistance, no special programs have been established for them. Even in the best of times, small businesses have difficulty keeping up because of their limited resources; it is even more difficult to remain competitive when economic conditions are as uncertain and changing as they have been recently, Zink noted.

The purpose of the MAP is threefold: first, to develop an awareness of the management policies and procedures used in a small firm; second, to provide a means to measure the quality of those policies and procedures against proven methods; and third, to point out the need to assess, improve and change such policies to respond to the changing conditions of business.

This service is free and confidential, as are all institute management services. The MAP team will provide a written final report and discuss it with the owner. This enables the owner to address frankly and candidly the conditions, strengths and weaknesses, and outlook for the business.

As a result of the written report and the review with the MAP team, the owner should be able to draw specific conclusions about the adequacy of the planning, organizing, directing, coordinating, and controlling activities for the firm's operations. The report should result in the pinpointing of areas which require management attention both immediately and in the more distant future. The discussion should trigger the owner's thinking as to the methods to correct weaknesses and to renew strengths, Zink stated.

To take advantage of the new program a business owner must write or call the institute to arrange an initial interview at the place of business. Because of the in-depth nature of the audit, access to financial records, employees, suppliers, customers, and the business premises may be necessary.

Since its founding in August 1975, more than 4,800 clients have taken advantage of institute services and more than $8,000,000 has been secured for local small firms by the efforts of institute counselors. Presently, the institute receives most of its financial support from the Western Maryland Consortium under Title VII of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act.

The institute also receives technical and financial assistance from Frostburg State College, the Regional Education Service Agency, U.S. Small Business Administration, U.S. Department of Commerce and Appalachian Regional Commission.

Any small business owners or managers who would like additional information about this new MAP service or about any of the services of the Institute can call or write Zink at the Institute for Small Business, Frostburg State College, Frostburg, 21532. The telephone number is 301-689-4417.

Locally, interested persons can call Dave Berry or Pete Hinz at the Garrett Community College, Oakland Center, at 334-8366 on Thursdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Both counselors from I.S.B. are on hand each Thursday during this time to offer free and confidential management assistance to small businesses in the area, appointments are necessary.

Special Training Sessions Held For County Policemen

A group of nearly 30 police officers from Garrett and Allegany counties met November 10 through November 14 for an in-service training school designed to bring them up-to-date on a variety of police related topics and skills.

The school was held in the training room of the Cumberland Police Department, and featured nine speakers throughout the five-day event. The program was coordinated by Sgt. Byron Shelton, Cumberland.

The session topics dealt with criminal law, CDS (controlled drug substance), policemen's rights, rape and sex crimes, criminal investigation techniques, search warrants, testifying in court, and juvenile procedure.

Potomac Edison's

allows you to pay your electric bill in

EQUAL MONTHLY PAYMENTS

Most Potomac Edison customers are billed every other month for their electricity. Now residential customers may choose to be billed under our monthly Uniform Payment Plan.

Under this plan, we estimate the total annual charges for your electric service and determine from this your "monthly payment" amount. You then receive an electric bill for the same amount every month, thus leveling out seasonally high bills.

After six months participation in the plan, we will review your account to make sure our estimate is in line with your actual use. If it is not, we will make an adjustment in your monthly payment. In the twelfth month, your account will be brought up to date. If the charges for electric service actually used are less than you have paid, we will either credit your account or issue a refund if you prefer. Should the charges be more than you have paid, we will bill you for the difference.

To get more information about our Uniform Payment Plan, just call or stop in at your nearest Potomac Edison office.

Bizarre Star

A star has been discovered that seems to be traveling both toward the Earth and away from it at the same time. An explanation of the phenomenon states that the star is two stars revolving around one another. One of the stars is an X-ray star that emits two gas jets in opposite directions. A wobble in the gas jets cause the line of sight between them and the Earth to constantly change. This constant change causes the light from the star to appear receding or approaching Earth.

Moon

At 1:39 AM, Saturday, the Moon will pass through its Full Moon Phase. At this time, the Moon will be opposite the Sun as observed from the Earth. Moonrise will be at 3:41 this afternoon. Next Tuesday, Moonrise will be at 8:33 PM.

Tomorrow at 8:00 PM, the Moon will be 359,259 kilometers (223,281 miles) from the Earth. This perigee will be the closest the Moon will be to the Earth during November.

Visible Planets

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be visible this week. Mercury will be low in the southeast for about an hour before sunrise. Venus will rise about 3 hours before the Sun. Jupiter and Saturn will rise about 4 hours before the Sun. All four of these planets will be among the start of Virgo. Mars, the only evening planet, remains low in the southwest among the stars of Sagittarius.

Daylight Decreases

Sunrise was at 7:06 this morning. Sunset will be at 5:00 this evening. By the end of the week, Tuesday, there will be 10 minutes less daylight than there will be today. Next Tuesday, there will be 9 hours 44 minutes of daylight. Sunrise will be at 7:12 AM. Sunset will be at 4:56 PM.

Today is the 324th day of 1980. The path of the Sun will be the same today as it was last January 22nd.

Grantsville PAC Meets November 5

The Grantsville School Parent Advisory Council held its second meeting, Wednesday, November 5 in the Title I room. The meeting began with an explanation by Anna Miller, Title I Resource Teacher, of the Title I program for the kindergarten parents. A question and answer session followed. Learning materials for both school and home were displayed and demonstrated by Mrs. Miller and Rose Lee Folk, home-school aide.

The regular PAC meeting followed with "Parent Volunteers" as its theme. Anna Miller gave an overview of how this program would operate in the school. Parents asked questions and contributed ideas toward the development of the program. Francis Harris, Garrett County Title I Director, also shared suggestions.

Mrs. Mary Susan Norris, kindergarten teacher, explained how she would like the Volunteer Program to work in her classroom. She also suggested some ideas for future PAC programs. Some of the ideas were: a field trip to the Planetarium; a visit to the "Craft Corner" in LaVale; a program on health involving a local doctor and/or Title I nurse; a cookie and recipe "swap;" a program on homework; a train ride for parents and children; a program involving our Media Center; a "careers" program led by Mr. Novak;more craft workshops, etc.

Lula Belle Shives, Angela Wiland, and Linda Upole comprise the county PAC Cookbook committee. Mid-January was suggested as the deadline for all recipes. The cookbook will be divided into sections, such as seasonal recipes, children's recipes, and weight watcher's recipes, etc.

Harris suggested that the "clothing drive" for needy children be continued by making a listing of available articles and sizes on hand.

After lunch a craft workshop was held. Judy Shoemake and Anna Platter provided the crafts. Crafts with which the children could help were emphasized.Another craft workshop is scheduled for December 10.

Twenty-four persons were involved in the day's activities. The next PAC meeting will be held Wednesday, December 3.

Mrs. Cogley was born in Oakland in 1885, and is the widow of Joseph Cogley. Her favorite hobby is crocheting. Mrs. Cogley has been a resident at the home since February, 1979. The silk corsage and boutonniere worn by the couple were donated by the Arts 'N Crafts Center in Oakland.

Gasoline Consumption Higher In September

Maryland State Comptroller Louis L. Goldstein reported recently that gasoline consumption during September 1980 was up 3.8% over the same month of 1979, the largest monthly increase since January 1979 and only the second increase reported in 20 months.

Goldstein noted that the 160,200,331 gallons of gasoline used during September 1980 generated an unusual increase in part because gasoline use was exceptionally low during September 1979.

"The 154,276,860 gallons consumed during September 1979 was even less than the amount of gasoline used during June 1979, when lines reappeared at service stations in Maryland," Goldstein said.

Comptroller Goldstein noted that, while September 1980 gasoline use was up in comparison with September 1979, it followed the usual seasonal pattern of declining when compared with the heavier summer driving month of July and August.

The increased gasoline use helped to fuel a surge in motor fuel tax revenues which total $63,491,163 for the first four months of Fiscal Year 1981, down by less than one-half of one percent when compared with the $63,763,448 collected during the same period last year.

CARPET BRIEFS

I always enjoy talking with my carpet customers. I like to answer their questions and assist them with their carpet purchases. Today, let's discuss some questions about carpeting that seem to be of interest to many of my customers.

Many people are worried about mildew. This was a legitimate concern in years past but it shouldn't be a worry anymore. Today's synthetic carpets are "mildew proof". When you choose your synthetic carpet, be sure the backing and under padding are also made of synthetic material if they're going to be subjected to warm, humid atmosphere.

So many people want to know, "How do I recognize a quality carpet?" I usually tell them to pick it up and feel it. Bend it and examine the pile. How close together are the strands of yarn? "The closer the better," is a good guide. Another way to be sure of buying quality carpet is to choose a respected brand name. Also, buy from a reputable dealer.

Roderick's has been a respected name in the community for 15 years. We'll be happy to help you select a quality carpet that meets your budget requirements.

Each week we will tell you more about carpeting for your home. Watch for these columns.

Salem Children's Open House Noted

The Maryland Salem Children's Trust welcomed friends and supporters on November 9 to its first Open House since moving to Garrett County last November. About seventy people attended the event from Oakland, the communities surrounding the children's home, nearby Pennsylvania, Cumberland, and Washington. All the Salem staff, children, and members of the Board of Directors were on hand to talk about the Salem program and its plans for expansion.

According to directors, the Salem Children's Home gives a permanent home to abused, neglected and abandoned children who have nowhere to turn. The Home is licensed by the Maryland State Social Services Administration and can receive children from any county in the state. The children have a family in Salem with boys and girls and their houseparents, and attend Garrett County public schools and local churches.

Some of the special guests were Delegate DeCorsey Bolden, members of the Woodmen of the World, and the teenage Sunday School class from the Shaft United Methodist Church.

The Woodmen of the World worked during the month of October to purchase and install new storm windows for the old farmhouse. The funds for this jurisdictional project came from the Maryland Jurisdictional Fraternal Fund, including all Woodmen of the World units in Maryland, Delaware and the District of Columbia. A special effort to raise the needed extra funds was made by the Woodmen Alcamp #41 in Grantsville, according to Louise Sutermeister, representative.

Jurisdictional past presidents George Parker, and Walter Younkin, members of the jurisdictional Fraternal Service Fund, and Harold Butler, president of Alcamp #41 were responsible for this project, according to Mrs. Walter Younkin.

Anyone wishing further information about the Salem Children's Home should call Louise Sutermeister at 689-8176 or write to her at The Maryland Salem Children's Trust, Lower New Germany Road, Star Route Box 60C, Frostburg, MD 21532.

NEW MEMBERS INSTALLED — The Garrett County Business and Professional Women's Club met Thursday at the Will O' the Wisp Restaurant, Deep Creek Lake, to welcome new members into the organization. Pictured, left to right, are Stephanie Smith, membership chairman; Priscilla Wolfe, Barbara Thomas, and Patricia Manown, the three new members; and Eleanor Deal, president of the group.

About Nutrition

Editor's Note: Few areas of medicine are more basic to health than that of human nutrition yet the complex interaction of nutrients and body metabolism is only now beginning to be understood. Physicians and scientists at the West Virginia University Medical Center are developing a unified program in human nutrition. In an effort to share these advances with the community, they are participating in a series of interviews describing recent advances in nutritional aspects of disease.

This enterview is with Dr. Robert M. D'Alessandri of the department of medicine. He is chief of comprehensive medicine and medical group practice at the WVU Medical Center and is involved in the treatment of elderly patients.

Q. Why do older people - those over age 65 - generally hace poorer appetites?

A. With aging comes a lessening of taste and smell and frequently loss of teeth and decreased intestinal function. As a result, foods lose some of their taste and the elderly are less able to chew certain foods. Because of this, dietary habits change, often for the worse. It's not unusual to see an elderly person in the supermarket buying baby food – not for their grandchildren but for themselves.

Q. Do older people utilize food as well as younger ones do?

A. No. There is decreased absorption of nutrients because of decreased intestinal function. Activity and body metabolism frequently decline as a result of aging so caloric requirements decline. One may view decreased absorption of nutrients as protective to counteract the decreased need for calories. Unfortunately, many older people – because of poverty, ignorance or isolation – eat foods of low nutritional value and high fat and carbohydrate content. The result is vitamin and nutritional deficiency.

Q. Do a large percentage of older persons suffer from malnutrition?

A. It's a very common problem, particularly in the hospitalized elderly patient. Elderly patients don't come to us complaining of being malnourished but rather they present multiple problems including sore mouth, bone pain, joint pain, irritability, poor vision or feeling poorly. These problems may result from dietary deficiencies and careful questioning concerning the patient's dietary habits is essential.

Q. Is a relatively thin body better for good health and longer life?

A. Studies in experimental animals show that animals allowed to eat as much as they wanted had a significatly shorter life span than those whose food supply was restricted. Individuals with a small lean body mass at younger ages tend to survive longer than obese individuals. It's very unusual to see a truly obese person over the age of 70 and I never have seen one over the age of 75.

Q. Older persons generally take more medicines. Can this affect nutrition?

A. Drug-induced nutritional deficiencies are common and important problems in the elderly since they often take a variety of drugs. Malnutrition and vitamin deficiencies may be a side effect of a drug because some drugs interfere with absorption of important vitamins and minerals. Other side effects include fever, diarrhea and allergic reactions. It's important that any patient taking medicines for a prolonged period remain under the care of a physician.

Q. Many older person take diuretics or water pills. Can these affect nutrition?

A. This is perhaps the most common form of drug-induced malnutrition or deficiency. Diuretics give rise to a loss of minerals such as magnesium, potassium and zinc in the urine. Long-term administration of diuretics may lead to deficiencies in one or more of these minerals. Persons particularly vulnerable to this problem are those whose nutritional state is marginal and those taking medication for long periods of time.

Q. Are vitamin tablets or other dietary supplements normally needed by older persons?

A. Nutritional supplements are generally not necessary with a few exceptions such as pregnant women and persons with specific vitamin deficiencies. Maintenance of a good diet including protein sources like meat, poultry, fish, eggs or nuts and fruits, vegetables, and cereal grains in appropriate portions eliminate the need for vitamin therapy. Megavitamin therapy so popular today is useless, potentially harmful and a giant rip-off.

Q. Do most elderly people get enough protein?

A. At one time protein malnutrition was believed to occur almost exclusively in young children, but it's increasingly recognized as common among the elderly. They are particularly prone to this type of malnutrition because of inadequate diets and decreased absorption of food elements. Foods high in protein are frequently expensive. It's cheaper to exist on a high carbohydrate diet than it is to eat foods rich in protein. Even obese patients may be protein-malnourished, which may lead to sever liver and dental disease, decreased mental abilities and even convulsions.

Q. What general advice do you give your older patients in regard to dietary needs?

A. The message is basically a common sense one. I caution patients about food fads, discuss the general elements of the diet including the four basic food groups, the importance of portion size and the need for special diets as necessary. I frequently caution patients about eating too much fat and too much sugar and remind them that dietary fiber is important to their well-being. Those patients requiring special diets are referred to nutritionists and dietary specialists.

TV TATTLE

Rental is best

Can't decide which home videodisc player to buy? Confused by the different formats? Robert Whitehouse, a general manager at Sharp Electronics, recommends renting. It can be advantageous to both consumers and makers, he says.

Selling requires a company to make a large front-end investment that in turn dictates high retail prices, says Whitehouse. "The rental mode, on the other hand, would bring the cost of the video disc down low enough for the average consumer to consider the disc as a viable alternative to cable TV or going out to the movies. As a consumer, wouldn't you rather rent 'Kramer vs. Kramer' for $5 than pay $25 to own the disc?"

Similarly, renting hardware to play the disc would encourage the systems' use by people who are reluctant to spend $1,000 or more on an unproven type of video.

Return of 'Edward & Mrs. Simpson'

"Edward and Mrs. Simpson," which won the 1980 Emmy Award as best limited series, will have an encore showing on "Masterpiece Theater" next summer. The dramatization of the story of Edward VIII of England and Wallis Simpson, the American divorcee for whom he relinquished his throne, will be seen on Sunday evenings on PBS.

'Sesame St.' news

— Counting "Countess Dahling Von Dahling," whose addition inevitably adds up to rain, and reporter "Warren Wolf," the only TV newsman with braces on his teeth, lead a host of new Muppet characters who will make their debuts when "Sesame Street" begins its 12th season on Monday, Nov. 24, on PBS. The series continues to top all ratings among pre-school audiences and returns with two new Emmys to its credit.

— Children and adults will enjoy "In Harmony," a new album of 12 songs written and performed by some of the most respected artists in contemporary music, including Linda Ronstadt, George Benson, Carly Simon, Bette Midler, the Doobie Brothers, Al Jarreau, James Taylor and "Sesame Street's" Cookie Monster (Frank Oz) and Ernie (Jim Henson). The album is the brainchild of Lucy Simon,

Cookie Monster and Ernie

Carly's sister, and was sparked when she wanted to express her appreciation to the Children's Television Workshop for "Sesame Street."

"Initially the theme of the album was caring and friendship," says Ms. Simon. "As we got into the project the emphasis broadened, but I think that's still the message."

Adoption special

Of the 200,000 children waiting for adoptive homes, 50,000 are black. Yet only 4 percent of the people polled in a recent Child Welfare League survey would even consider an older black child, says Sidney Duncan, executive director of Homes for Black Children.

"Adoption in America" is the third program in the PBS series, "Cover Story," scheduled to air Wednesday, Nov. 26. The hour magazine special focuses on new directions in American adoptions and features segments on adoption of black children, a profile of a family who adopted two Downs Syndrome children, two contrasting emergency adoption stories and an emotional reunion between a young adoptee and her birth mother.

Viewers will be able to write for a free copy of "Adoption in America: Help Directory."

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

MEMORIES — In 1945 I was in the Navy, stationed at Long Beach, Calif. I had the privilege of attending a Bob Hope radio show with Pat O'Brien as his guest. Pat gave a speech that was a take-off of his Knute Rockne speech, only he was sending us off to war. I don't know of anything that impressed me as much. Even today I think of it. I'd like to write Pat O'Brien and thank him, if he remembers the event. If he does, I would love a copy of that speech. — Jay Wickstra, Muskegon, Mich.

O'Brien has been in Europe with Jimmy Cagney, filming the movie "Ragtime." But he should be back soon, and then after the first of the year, he and his wife Eloise will go out on tour again in "The Second Time Around." There are a lot of places where you can write him, but I suggest you send him a letter in care of an actor who tours with him and is in constant touch. His name is William Lithgow and his address is 4671 West 63rd Street, Los Angeles, CA 90043. He will hold the letter until Pat and Eloise return from Europe.

SCHOOL'S OUT — Why was the show "Detective School" fumigated? Was it because of bad ratings? — TV Viewer, Calgary, Alta.

I love your word, "fumigated." It seems so accurate when a series is cleaned out of the schedule. And yes, after a rousing start, the ratings slipped and thus it was "fumigated."

SPACED OUT — As a child, my favorite television show was "Lost in Space," but I can't remember the names of the characters. Please list them for me. Also, about 10 years ago there was a series in which Julie Newmar played a robot. Can you tell me the name of that show? — Gina Kazioushas, East Harris, Conn.

The characters in "Lost in Space" were John Robinson, Maureen Robinson, Donald West, Zachary Smith, Judy Robinson, Penny Robinson and Will Robinson. And the Robot. They were played by Guy Williams, June Lockhart, Mark Goddard, Jonathan Harris, Marta Kristin, Angela Cartwright and Billy Mumy. Bob May was the Robot. Julie's series was called "My Living Doll," and Bob Cummings co-starred. It was on CBS for one year beginning September 1964.

WHO'S CRAZY NOW? — I swear Walter Matthau had a TV series a long time ago. But most of my friends say I am crazy. Please tell me I'm not.

You're not crazy at all, and you have a super memory. Matthau was in a series called "Tallahassee 7000," and it was syndicated in 1961. Matthau played a special agent for the Florida Sheriff's Bureau; the title was the bureau's telephone number.

JOKESTER — How can I get in touch with Johnny Carson and Bob Hope? I would like to submit some jokes to them that I made up and tried on my co-workers. I like to tell these jokes to people I work with and see them laugh. — James Czuprynski, Chicago.

Since both men have a staff of writers, it is doubtful they would accept any jokes or even have a member of their staff read them. But for the record, you could write both at NBC-TV, Burbank, CA 91505. But before sending them jokes, write to see if they will accept outside material.

REPEATS OF A TALL STORY — Please straighten my family out about those three very tall actors, the ones who were on "The Addams Family," "The Munsters" and in the James Bond films. I know one of them is dead, but we have been arguing over which one. Please help us and preserve peace in the family. — Jane B., Port Walton Beach, Fla.

Consider your family peaceful again. Ted Cassidy, who died several months ago, played Lurch on "The Addams Family." Fred Gwynne was the head of "The Munsters," and Richard Kiel, who is frequently seen on TV, played Jaws, who was out to bite James Bond.

MISSING SERIES — What happened to "Salvage One" and "How the West Was Won"? I would like to see both of them back on TV. I also enjoy "Galactica," "The Love Boat," "Fantasy Island," "Eight Is Enough," "Vega$" and "Family." — Patricia Killingsworth, Chicago.

"Salvage One" and "How the West Was Won" rode off into the sunset of canceled TV shows. It is unlikely you'll see either again. "Galactica," in both its versions, is gone too and so is "Family." But at least you still have four shows you like and, who knows, the new season, which is finally dribbling onto the screens, may bring you something else you like.

Three TV productions as big as the movies

By RUTH THOMPSON

Is it possible for television specials ever to be produced on the grand scale of a major theater-release film? The answer is "yes." Right now we can cite three. The chances of any of them getting on the screen at all were iffy because their producers insisted on recreating the mood of the periods in which the stories happened.

"The Bunker" — due on CBS in January — traces the last days of Adolph Hitler, who triggered World War II. Based on the carefully researched book by James O'Donnell, Hitler (as played by Anthony Hopkins) frightened one member of a preview audience not by his rantings, but because he liked dogs, played with the children of a friend (the fanatical Joseph Goebbels) and joked at parties. Says gentle George Schaefer, producer of 85 major works before this, "That is precisely what we were after, the way things really were, that there was something about him that magnetized supporters."

Or charisma can be evil, and loyalty can be misplaced.

NBC's "Enola Gay: The Men, The Mision, The Atomic Bomb" (Sunday, Nov. 23) was turned down repeatedly as unsuitable by networks if told straight. Co-exeutive producer Franklin R. Levy (a history buff and adamant about getting facts into the unphonied frameworks of their eras) explains why.

In the wake of Vietnam the only way to get it on the air was to slant it. "We said no, that would not have been telling the true story," about the training of the airmen and their carrying out of President Harry Truman's orders that inaugurated the Atomic Age with the bombing of Hiroshima. "Now there is a new interest in understanding that period."

Col. Paul Tibbets, then 27 and the crew commander, served as technical consultant for the special. A quiet-spoken man, he believes that the bomb actually saved thousands more lives than it cost. Patrick Duffy portrays Tibbetts in the film, which also stars Gregory Harrison, Gary Frank and Billy Crystal as crewmen and Kim Darby as Tibbets' wife, with whom he was forbidden to discuss the project.

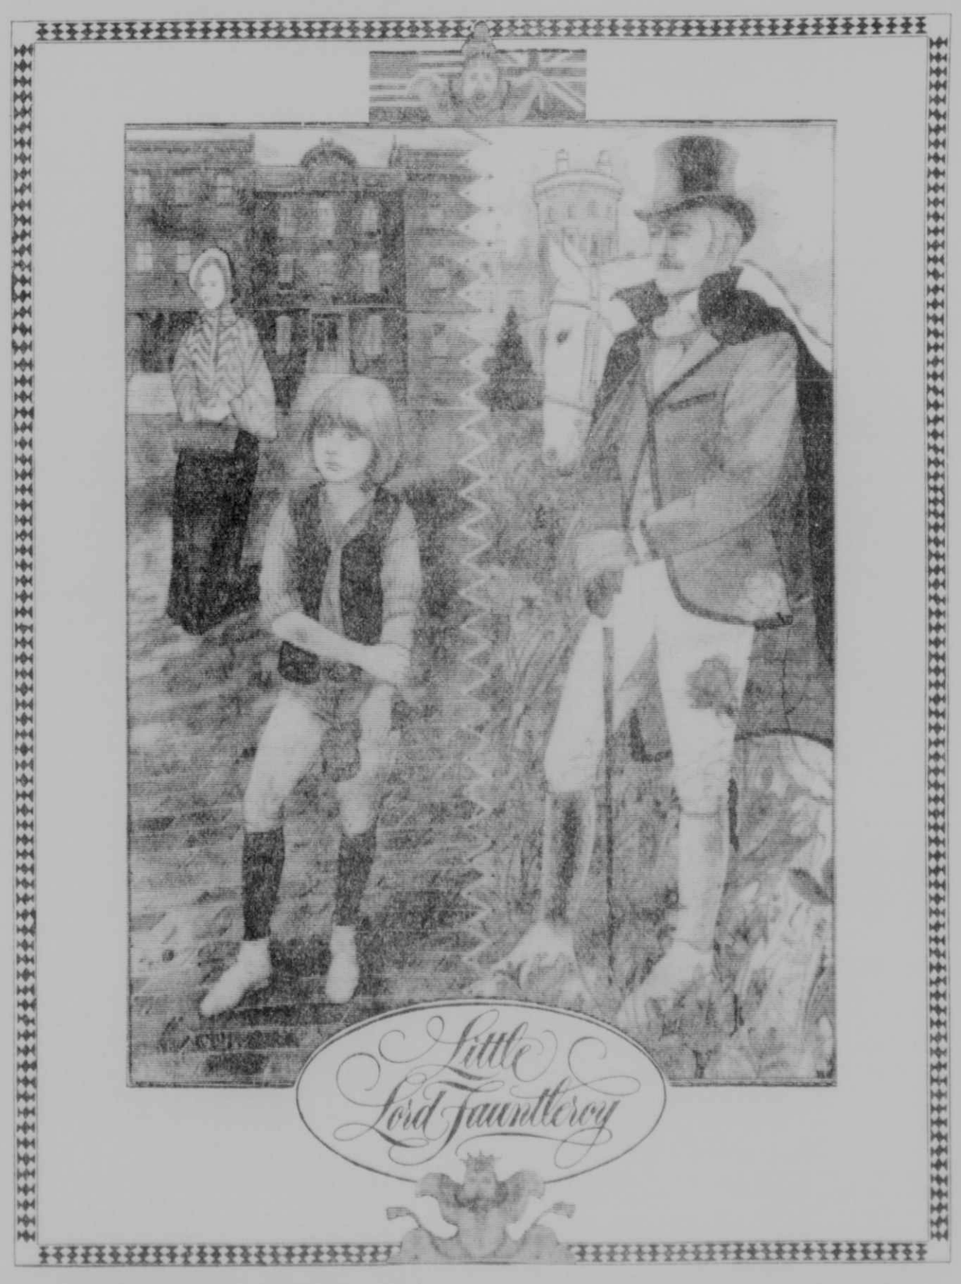
"Life on The Mississippi" (PBS, Monday, Nov. 24 in the "Great Performances" time slot) dramatizes Mark Twain's fictionalized memoir of his youthful struggle to become a river boat pilot. The production — starring Robert Lansing as master pilot Horace Bixby and David Knell as young Sam — called for more costumes then "Gone With the Wind." But that was the least of it.

A modern river boat was found of the right proportions. But it is made of steel and had to be encased in wood to evoke the look of the pre-Civil War originals — which had a bad record of exploding and burning, as the film shows.

All in all, this is the most expensive made-in-America project attempted by Public Broadcasting Service and could not have happened at all except for a funding consortium of public agencies and corporations.



FAUNTLEROY RETURNS — Ricky Schroder and Sir Alec Guinness co-star in "Little Lord Fauntleroy," a new version of Frances Hodgson Burnett's classic story, Tuesday, Nov. 25, on CBS. Ten-year-old Ricky, recently in the film, "The Champ," is making his dramatic television debut in the two-hour special. He plays Ceddie, a New York tenement youngster who's suddenly taken from his Lower East Side home to live in his English grandfather's castle, which he will someday inherit. Sir Alec is the crusty Earl of Dorincourt, whose cold austerity gradually melts as he and Ceddie learn to understand each other.

THURSDAY

Howard Hesseman plays an airport nightwatchman who helps wheelchair-bound Julie Ward (played by real-life paraplegic Suzy Gilstrap) learn that disabled doesn't mean unable, in "Skyward," Thursday, Nov. 20, on NBC.

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

Mouseketeer alumni gather for reunion

Thirty Mouseketeers were at Walt Disney Studios recently to rehearse a television special celebrating the 25th anniversary of "The Mickey Mouse Club," which will air on "Disney's Wonderful World," Sunday, Nov. 23, on NBC. With Mickey Mouse ears perched on graying heads and white T-shirts block-lettered CUBBY or SHERRY stretched across 37-year-old chests, they should have seemed ridiculous.

That they didn't, writes Aljean Harmetz in The New York Times, is both a measure of the joy they still take in remembering their years in the club and a measure of Walt Disney's shrewdness in picking the well-scrubbed children who represented him for three years on television.

"The Mickey Mouse Club" had its premiere Oct. 3, 1955, on ABC. It went off the air in 1958 but was immensely successful in syndication until the 1960s. There were 39 Mouseketeers altogether, men and women who now range in age from 33 to 41.

"It was like being in fantasyland, Disneylandish, everyday," says Annette Funicello, who was eventually acknowledged the star of the Mouseketeers and remained under contract to Disney for 12 years. She didn't begin to recognize her celebrity until midway through the second year, since "they never gave us our fan mail because some kids got so much more than others." Now happily married, Miss Funicello has a 15-year-old daughter and two sons and does commercials for Skippy peanut butter.

Of the other Mouseketeers, Cubby O'Brien is a drummer, Bobby Burgess a dancer on the Lawrence Welk show, Lonnie Burr a dancer and occasional television writer, Tommy Cole a makeup artist who won an Emmy for "Backstairs at the White House," and Sharon Baird plays Charley the Owl on "The New Zoo Revue."

Doreen Tracy was a freelance entertainer in Vietnam during the war and a technical adviser on "Apocalypse Now." Darlene Gillespie is a registered nurse in Nashville, Tenn., and Karen Pendleton a housewife in Fresno, Calif., while Cheryl Holdridge, the widow of the multi-millionaire Lance Reventlow, spends half the year in her home in Aspen, Colo., and half cruising on her yacht.

None of the 39 Mouseketeers are dead, none disabled by drugs. There have been some divorces but no suicides, and most seem at least reasonably happy. Even Miss Tracy, who considers herself "the rebellious black sheep of the Mouseketeers" and whose career includes nude photo layouts, says that "anything that helped me through life, I learned here," she says.

"I sang a Rolling Stone song to the G.I.'s in Vietnam and then they sang 'M-I-C- ... K-E-Y ... M-O-U-S-E!' to me."

Bert Parks is a star; touch-up for Morey

By CINDY ADAMS

Chums trying to invite Bert Parks to a party are now told to call his agent. Ask why and how come all the screening and you're told, "He's a star now, that's why!" ... Morey Amsterdam had a little facial surgery ... Jack Nicholson and a jet full of putters, drivers and mashie niblicks shlepped to downtown Marrakesh in the private plane of the king of Morocco. Seems his kingship's a golf freak and imports golfing celebs to his annual tournament, free.

After Detroit and Tennessee, Ginger Rogers brings her hit show to her own backyard, Beverly Hills ... After six weeks in the hospital, Arthur Godfrey says New York's cold weather is like Russian roulette for him, so he's off to winter in New Mexico and Florida. He's also got his own private jet.

Allan Carr: "A man may be supporting two wives and not be a bigamist. His son may have gotten married!" ... Dolly Parton's going to shimmy, shake and sing at the Diplomat in Florida come New Year's Eve ... Shelley Winters is lonely for New York gossip, phoned a girl chum from Berlin at five in the morning Berlin time, croaking in a whisper. The pal asked if she had laryngitis. "No," hissed Shell, "I'm under the covers because the people in the next room are complaining about the noise I make."

Julius Erving's salary increase from a piddling $600,000 to almost a million "just about allows me to keep up with inflation," he yawned ... Dean Martin Jr. and his lady, skate queen Dorothy Hamill, made it to the Assembly Steak & Fish House ... David Merrick, producer of the super musical comedy, "Forty-Second Street," was stopped by a tourist who asked how to get to 42nd Street. "Buy a ticket," said Merrick.

Barry Manilow sure knows how to budget; paid about $10 million for his Beverly Hills mansion, which is complete with tennis court, golf course and three pools — hot, cold and luke ... John Belushi's taking dramatic lessons. Now that's funny.

"A wise man never laughs at his wife's old clothes," says Dick Patten ... Did anybody know that Redd Foxx manages fighters? ... "A dentist is the only guy who can tell a woman when to open her mouth and when to shut it and get away with it," says Marty Allen ... Farrah Fawcett, who dumped the Majors part of her name unofficially is now looking to do it legally ... Alan Alda's idol was his dad, Robert Alda.

TV PEOPLE

New waves for the 'good news'

Like most of his guest performers, Tennesee Ernie Ford began singing gospel as a youth in church. He also used to sing at funerals when, as he says, "My daddy would hear from the preacher that old so-and-so had passed away and he'd ask would we come sing for the service. So we'd march up the hill and send him on his way."

Through the years, Ford has maintained his love of gospel music, and he's now put together a sequel to his dream-come-true of a television special, "More of That Great American Gospel Sound," a 90-minute special of upbeat music on Saturday, Nov. 29, on PBS.

Over a 40-year-plus career as singer-actor-story teller-TV host-commercial spokesman, Ernie has become one of America's foremost musical ambassadors to the world. When putting together a TV special, Ford is concerned that his guest performers be presented in their best light. He will re-arrange a song, drop entire numbers, re-position his guest or do whatever is necssary to improve the look and feel of the show, right up to the dress rehearsal.

Twenty years ago there were five publishing companies and about 30 groups producing gospel music. Today there are more than 40 publishing companies and well over 100 groups in the field. Gospel is growing.

While often referred to as Christian music, gospel is not what many people think of as "God music." As Ford says, "You don't have to put on sackcloth and sit in a pile of ashes to sing gospel. It's people music, it's happy music." As the nation endures economic misery and social malaise, more and more people are turning to music that offers relief from bad news.

A large measure of gospel music's popularity is due to its message; the meaning of "gospel" is "good news" (from the Old English "godspell"). Also, it has become much more musically sophisticated and open to contemporary expression; it offers people a textual alternative to the downbeat message of so much popular music.

Tennessee Ernie Ford

The uplift derived from gospel music's message may well be the reason for the recent surge in gospel's popularity. In 1979, as overall record sales slumped, gospel kept growing. Even some secular labels started signing gospel artists, and the giant MCA formed a partnership with Songbird Records to promote more crossover between secular and Christian music. Bob Dylan became one of the best-known artists to make the crossover to religious music, joining such other performers as B.J. Thomas and Dan Peek. Coming from gospel to the popular world are such performers as Edwin Hawkins, the Dixie Hummingbirds and Andrae Crouch.

Gospel-religious radio stations are also helping spread the word. There are currently more than 100 stations programming full-time gospel-religious music; there are also more than a dozen full-time Christian television stations.

This music special is a sequel to a 1979 program, "That Great American Gospel Sound," which surprised TV professionals by demonstrating that the public would tune in to an entire program of gospel music. It was the 10th highest rated program of all time on PBS and raised more pledge dollars per minute than any other program in the history of the network. It also vindicated Ernie Ford's long-standing belief in the popularity of gospel music.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Soaps' hot romances require sacrifice

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

HOLLYWOOD — The world of soap opera has produced several romantic duos in the past, but it's evident that the current leaders in this department are Luke Spencer (Anthony Geary) and Laura Baldwin (Genie Francis) of "General Hospital." Both actors recently appeared at a special press conference in New York City.

Genie Francis and Anthony Geary

Genie Francis has literally grown up on "GH," having begun her role of Laura at the age of 14. But being a teenage idol hasn't always been easy, and Genie has given up a lot, including a part of her childhood and a "normal" family life.

"But," says Genie, "I love what I'm doing. I've always wanted this and I knew I'd have to make sacrifices." Meanwhile, the 18-year-old actress is managing to sandwich in college classes in psychology and general education in between her long work days on "GH." Genie says that she believes her classes in psychology have helped her to better understand the complicated, controversial storyline surrounding Luke, Laura and the rape sequence that brought them together.

Anthony Geary came to daytime television after performing in more than 40 stage productions and on more than 50 nighttime television shows. He also had roles on "Bright Promise" and "The Young and The Restless" before joining the cast of "GH." Geary has worked hard to achieve the popularity that he's now enjoying, but admits that as a result of it, "I don't have a personal life right now. But I'll give that up for as long as it's necessary because I'm here on this earth to be an actor."

If and when he ever leaves the role of Luke, Tony's ultimate goal is to produce and direct. He's already moderately successful at producing since he recently received a bronze "Cindy" award for his radio production of "Sound of Sunshine, Sound of Rain," which was about a day in the life of a blind black boy.

Whatever they're doing, the chemistry is just right between Genie and Tony, and it's a sure bet that as a result, a Luke and Laura will be on "General Hospital" for a long time to come.

A slick plan for a rainy day.

Some people manage to go through life without ever having a rainy day. But most people run into a storm now and then.

So it pays to plan for a storm and then hope it never happens.

The Payroll Savings Plan is one sure, safe, easy way to force yourself to start saving. And savings are a must to keep any financial plan from going on the skids.

The little you set aside each payday for U.S. Savings Bonds will grow. And help to keep you covered come rain or come shine.

And if you're lucky enough to miss the rain, it might help you plant a few shade trees.

Take stock in America.

Change in Design Of License Plate Being Considered

Maryland Delegate Robin Ficker has prefiled a bill in Annapolis to require that the General Assembly of Maryland approve by joint resolution the issuance by the Maryland Motor Vehicle Administration of any new series of vehicle license plates.

"Millions of out-of-staters see Maryland license plates every day. It seems to me that the license plate is an excellent way to impart a good impression to others about our state. A drab black and white plate which simply has some letters and numbers on it and the name of the state falls short of that goal. I am sure that we can use much more imagination in the design of our license plates through the use of color, and perhaps a message."

"I am sure that one of thousands of voting citizens or school children could design a license plate that is more appealing to them than the present black and white plate we will be stuck with for four years. This bill to require General Assembly approval of the future Maryland license plates will insure that a favorable image of our state will be seen daily by millions of people."

"I would like to see school teachers throughout our state ask their classes to design attractive plates and send it to my office in Annapolis. I would offer a $50.00 prize for the most attractive design submitted," Ficker commented.

Dr. Ruhl Speaks To AAUW Group

Dr. Donald Ruhl, President of Garrett Community College, was guest speaker at a November 11 meeting of the Garrett Branch of the American Association of University Women (AAUW), held at the home of Janice Hutchinson.

Dr. Ruhl addressed the national topic, "Families Facing Change," and spoke on GCC's influence on change in the community and its families. He explained the diversity of programs which encompass all levels of continuing education for the high school student as well as adults at every level of learning, and its effect upon families in the 1980's. A question and answer period followed the speech.

Ms. Hutchinson, Kathryn Helbig and Mary Clark were hostesses for the evening meeting.

During the business meeting, president Kathie Smith announced that the Towson Branch requested support of the Maryland Division and its branches, for legislation regarding drunk driving. At an October 18 Division Board meeting, the executive committee approved a motion to support the recommendations of the Governor's task force on the drinking driver. Garrett Branch voted also to support that recommendation.

There will be a Board meeting of the local group held on Tuesday, November 25, at 7 p.m. at the home of Kathie Smith. All board members are urged to attend.

Birthday Party Held To Honor Former Pastor

Among those attending the event were Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bernard and son, Boyd Hardesty and son, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Zimmerman, George Zimmerman, Mr. and Mrs. Orval Kitzmiller and son, Mr. and Mrs. Bink Compton, Mrs. Alvin Kyle and Brenda and Kendra Kyle.

State Corn Crop Far Below That Of Previous Years

Corn growers in Maryland expect to produce 44,800,000 bushels of corn for grain in 1980, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's October crop production report.

The production compares with 58,905,000 bushels in 1979 and 57,230,000 bushels in 1978.

Maryland producers expect to average 70 bushels of corn per acre this year, compared with 99 last year, and 97 two years ago.

Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, said the Maryland corn crop is over 90 percent harvested.

He noted that nationally, the USDA forecast showed a 6.47 billion bushel production this year. The figure is down one percent from the September 1 forecast and 17 percent less than last year's record crop. Average yield is predicted at 90.8 bushels compared with last year's record yield of 109.4 bushels.

Corn prices have risen sharply since June, with farm prices in mid-September surpassing year-ago levels by about 50 cents a bushel. The commodity averaged about $3.69 per bushel at the end of October.

With lower production this year, corn stocks are projected to decline nearly 50 percent from the 1979/80 carryover. Farmer-owned reserve stocks could be virtually depleted by the end of the current marketing year, USDA officials said.

State growers expect to harvest 640,000 acres of corn in 1980, compared with the total 595,000 acres harvested in 1979 and 590,000 acres in 1978.

According to one resident, all the tenants are pleased with Lloyd's wildlife mural and many other persons have been stopping by the apartment house to see it.

Does the Bible actually speak of world events of our day? Many feel that the Bible is not relevant in contemporary life, and yet, it actually reads like today's newspaper. The scriptures tell us that Jesus Christ is going to evacuate the true believers from the world. (1 Thes. 4:16,17). This event, which is most often referred to as the Rapture, will result in world wide chaos. The following seven years will be mankind's darkest days; two thirds of the remaining human beings will die. You may say "That is just religious gobbley goop, there is no proof that these things will happen," or is there? The Bible goes out on the limb by telling us of world events that will transpire before mankind's great tribulation. The following are just a few things to remind us to get our lives in order. Man's mismanagement of the ecology - Romans 8:22. A general decay of morals - 2 Tim. 3:1-5. (In our society, there is a free attitude about homosexuality, abortion, and pre marital relations, and the list goes on and on.) The power big business has today - James 5:1-8. (Who do you think really runs the world?) The increase of travel and knowledge - Daniel 12:4 (It took Columbus several months to cross the Atlantic, today it takes four hours.) A great Apostacy - 2 Thes. 2 & 3, 2 Peter 3:3,4. A revival of the occult - 1 Tim. 4:1-3. (Books on astrology, witch craft, and biorhythm patterns have become best sellers in recent times.) The revival of the nation of Israel - Jer. 30:11, Matt. 24:22-34, Luke 21:34. (In May of 1948 Israel became a nation again for the first time in almost 2000 years.) The political and military build up of Russia - Ezekial 39:2. The revival of the Roman pattern in Europe - a federated state complex - Daniel 2. (This sounds a lot like the ECC, European Economic Community, formerly known as the Common Market Nations.) The Charismatic Renewal Movement - James 5:7, Acts 3:19. (Testimonies of divine healing have been well documented.) Experiences in glossolalia - speaking in tongues - are no longer confined to the pentecostal churches, but have become accepted among every mainstream Christian denomination and group.

As you can see, God has given adequate warning. We can read the signs of the time. What then, if anything, can we do? The Bible tells us that Jesus is coming for "those whom love His appearing". This encounters turning to Him and repenting of our sins. He, in turn, will forgive us and make us ready for that day - 1 John 8:31-36. It is very important that you bind yourself to a Bible believing church. This will strengthen you and enable you to find a place of service unto the Lord - Luke 19:13, Hebrews 10:25.

Garrett County School Board Topics Noted

As a result of further discussion at their regular meeting on November 13, the Board of Education agreed to continue working towards the development of a needs assessment in the area of vocational education.

The idea of needs assessment was first recommended to the Garrett County Board of Education by the Vocational Advisory Council, chaired by Tom Earley. After a thorough review of the subject by a Vocational Education Task Force, chaired by Albert Ringer, Assistant Superintendent in Curriculum and Instruction, the Board of Education directed the Superintendent of Schools to discuss the matter of a comprehensive needs assessment to include both the public school system and the community college with Dr. Donald Ruhl, President of Garrett Community College. As a result of their discussion, the Board feels that work toward this end should continue. A time table for this work would include the selection of an agency to conduct the needs assessment during the school year 1980-81, with the actual needs assessment being completed during the school year 1981-82.

Another concern dealt with by the Board of Education at their November 13th meeting was a review of the new Accident Elementary School. In order to stay within the state funds allocated for site development work the Board directed the architectural firm working on this project, Altman and Altman, Uniontown, Pa., to further study the way in which vehicles enter and exit the school site. It was the Board's contention that in making this review, additional dollars could be saved in site development costs.

As part of the regularly scheduled meeting, the Board of Education heard a report on the curricula presently being implemented in the county schools, presented by Albert Ringer. This portion of the meeting was held at the Broad Ford Elementary School. In commenting on the presentation, the Board expressed concern that more of the general public did not attend that portion of the meeting to hear more about this important topic.

In other action, the Board of Education heard several appeals concerning bus stops, accepted informal reports on maintenance inspections, the work planned for the Southern High School athletic fields, the library holdings of each of the county schools, and a position paper developed by the Association of Administrators and Supervisors of Garrett County concerning the existing administrative and supervisory residency requirement.

Dr. Pope Urges Local Smokers To Participate In Smokeout Thursday

Dr. William W. Pope, Deputy State Health Officer for Garrett County, has urged Garrett County smokers to join in pledging a day of freedom from cigarettes on Thursday, November 20.

That's the date the American Cancer Society has set for the Great American Smokeout. The campaign in Garrett County and across the nation is aimed at getting millions of smokers to try a day without a cigarette.

"Many smokers are overwhelmed by the thought of quitting outright," he said. "The Americn Cancer Society is asking us to try just one day at a time. Even if a smoker goes back to the cigarette habit the day after Smokeout," Dr. Pope added, "they will have established a good feeling of control that may help in a decision to cut back or give up smoking altogether."

Dr. Pope explained that the American Cancer Society's concentrated effort to focus attention on this single aspect of cancer control offers an opportunity to develop positive health attitudes, not only in Garrett County, but throughout the country.

Any person interested in participating in the Smokeout may obtain a pledge card from Wendell Beitzel at the Garrett County Health Department or Ms. Kathy Eiswert, American Cancer Society spokesman at 334-8511. However, it isn't necessary to sign a card in order to participate in the Smokeout.

According to Dr. Pope, an estimated 30 million people have quit smoking in the United States and there is a strong trend towards the use of low tar and nicotine cigarettes. However, 54 million Americans still smoke. Nine out of ten of them have said in surveys that they would like to quit smoking.

Kimberly Bowman Becomes Bride Of G. Michael Brady October 4

Kimberly Anne Bowman and George Michael Brady exchanged wedding vows during a double-ring ceremony on Saturday, October 4. The wedding took place at 1:00 p.m. at the United Methodist Church, McHenry, with the Rev. Ellis B. Harvey officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Bowman, McHenry. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brady, Kitzmiller.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride was attired in an early twentieth century antique ivory satin gown. The modified V-neckline was edged in a valance of wide gathered Chantilly lace; the ruched sleeves tapered to pointed tips at the wrists and were enhanced with round pearl buttons. Identical buttons secured the back opening from the neck to the dropped back waistline. The hooped crinoline skirt was decorated in the rear, from the waist to the end of the chapel length train, with wide tiers of Chantilly lace. A lace petticoat was revealed in front. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls and dropped pearl earrings. The broad brimmed bowler hat, turned up on one side, was designed and made by the bride. It was covered with chiffon, trimmed with ivory lace and appliques and accented with tiny pearls. The veil of ivory netting was attached in a bow at the back. An antique topaz hat pin held the hat to her coiffure.

The bride carried a bouquet of cascading silk roses of peach, beige, and dark brown, accented with stephanotis and baby's breath and trimmed with ivory lace. These and all the flowers of the wedding party were designed and made by the bride.

Lisa Phillips, Elkins, W. Va., served as matron of honor, wearing a long gown of gold satin, enhanced with a full round lace collar. She carried a bouquet of beige, gold, and orange roses, edged in ivory lace, with streamers of lace and satin.

The bride's attendants were Linda Niederberger, sister of the bride, Spencer, W. Va.; Kathy Fauber, cousin of the bride, McHenry; and Addie Brady, sister of the groom, Kitzmiller. Their full-length gowns were a rainbow of autumn colors, enhanced with full round collars of ivory lace. Each carried bouquets of silk flowers coordinating with the colors of their gowns and trimmed with ivory lace.

The groom was attired in an ivory tuxedo with tails. The jacket was trimmed in a medium shade of brown with a peach rose boutonniere.

Acting as best man was Gary Lucas, brother-in-law of the groom, Shallmar. Ushers were Roger Welch, Kitzmiller; Randy Chirillo, Morgantown; Lawrence Nesselrodt, McHenry, all friends of the groom. They wore rust colored dinner jacket tuxedos trimmed in a matching shade of satin. All wore ivory rose boutonnieres.

The guest book was attended by the bride's great aunt, Grace King, McHenry.

Lynn Newman, organist, Grantsville, provided the wedding music. Selections included the Bridal Chorus, Wedding March, A Time For Us, Wedding Song, Little Prelude in G Minor, Speak Softly My Love and Whither Thou Goest.

A reception followed the ceremony at Will o' the Wisp, Deep Creek Lake. A buffet luncheon was served amid autumn leaves and other fall colored decorations.

The four-tiered cake was decorated in autumn colored cameo designs and was baked by Mrs. Margaret Sanders, Oakland.

Following a trip to Virginia Beach, the couple is residing on Deep Creek Drive, McHenry.

A surprise bridal shower was given by the groom's mother and his sisters at the Deep Creek Firehall in McHenry.

The bride is a graduate of Northern High School and Garrett Community College and is employed by Jan Florists, Oakland. The groom graduated from Southern High School and Garrett Community College and is employed by Recreational Industries, McHenry.

Fratz, Bonar Exchange Vows

Lisa Gwynn Fratz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fratz, Accident, and Gary Ray Bonar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bonar, Uniontown, Pa., were united in marriage by Rev. Fred Illick, August 23, at Zion Lutheran Church in Accident.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore an A-line gown trimmed in lace with a sheer lace bodice and long chiffon sleeves. Her matching headpiece held a waltz-length veil with matching lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses and blue carnations.

Julie Fratz, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Ruth Wilson, friend of the bride. Flower girl was Nikki DeWitt, cousin of the bride. The bride's attendants both wore cotillion blue off-the-shoulder-style crepe gowns with matching headpieces of blue baby's breath. The flower girl wore a blue peplin-style knee length dress with white tights and a matching headpiece.

Best man was Jeffrey Snyder, East Waterford, Pa., friend of the groom. Ushers were Jim Sivits, friend of the groom, Mike and Steve Fratz, brothers of the bride. Ring bearer was Shawn Fratz, brother of the bride. All were dressed in baby blue tuxedos with matching carnation buttonieres.

The mother of the bride wore a floor-length blue gown with a long cape. The mother of the groom wore a floor-length cream-colored gown with a lace jacket. Both mothers wore a corsage of red roses and blue carnations.

At the close of the ceremony, Mrs. Bonar presented a long-stemmed red rose to each mother.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Will O' the Wisp. Cake was served by Ruth Georg, friend of the bride, and Agnes DeWitt, aunt of the bride. The cake, a three tiered white layer, decorated with blue daisies, was baked by Martha Bishoff. Vickie and Donna Wilburn, cousins of the bride, attended the guest book.

For her going away outfit, the bride chose a two-piece turquoise velour outfit, along with her corsage, lifted from her bouquet.

A rehearsal dinner, given by the groom's parents, was held at Will O' the Wisp. A bridal shower was given by the bride's sister-in-law, Nancy Fratz, and Shirley Sivits, friend of the bride.

After a honeymoon in Bermuda, the couple now resides in Accident, where the groom is employed by Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, and the bride is employed at W. H. Fratz, Inc., Petroleum Division.

REALISTIC RETIREMENT PLANNING

There are two approaches to retirement planning for the homeowner. One is to sock money away in the bank and have a good-sized nest egg with which to buy a retirement home when the time comes. The other approach is to buy that retirement home now and have it well paid off when retirement arrives.

Economically and emotionally, the best answer is to buy that home now. Not only will you have a good cash investment in it when you retire, but the value of that home should keep increasing with the inflation rate. Better still, invest in a second rental home. Let your renter help pay for your retirement.

Interviews with retirees reveal that one of the last things they desire to do upon retirement is withdraw a sizeable amount of cash from savings. The bank account is a must at a time when expenses climb and income remains flat.

Do you think real estate will ever cost less than it does now? The time to start retirement planning is today!

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Energy Tip: Try to open the oven door as little as possible during the baking process. The opened oven door lets 25°-75° escape each time and slows the cooking time as it increases the electricity or gas used.

PREPARING THE THANKSGIVING TURKEY

Turkey is one of today's best buys, both nutritionally and economically. Even though this is true, many people are still hesitant about preparing a turkey, but it is really very simple. I hope the following information from the National Turkey Federation will help you as you prepare your Thanksgiving bird.

THAWING TIPS

*Thaw the turkey using one of these methods: place it on a tray in the refrigerator for 3 or 4 days (24 hours for each 5 pounds of turkey) or cover the turkey with cold water, changing the water frequently (½ hour per pound of turkey).

*The Turkey must be cooked or refrigerated as soon as it is thawed and for maximum eating quality, do not refreeze uncooked turkey.

*Do not thaw commercially stuffed turkeys before roasting.

*Remove plastic wrap from thawed turkey.

*Remove giblets and neck from the body and neck cavities.

*Rinse the turkey inside and out with cool water, then pat dry with a paper towel or clean cloth.

*If you prefer to stuff the turkey, spoon stuffing loosely into body and neck cavities.

*Tie or lock the legs and tuck the tips of the wings under the back of the turkey. Hold the neck skin down with a poultry pin or a round toothpick.

*An unstuffed turkey can be prepared much more quickly if it is not stuffed. If dressing is desired, it can be roasted in a covered casserole during the last hour of the turkey's roasting period.

ROASTING TIPS

*Place turkey breast side up in shallow open roasting pan. If a meat thermometer is used, insert it into the center of the thigh next to the body but not touching the bone.

*Place a tent of light weight foil, shiny side down, loosely over the turkey to prevent overbrowning.

*Roast in 325° oven. Baste if desired and for final browning, remove tent during last half hour of roasting.

Approximate Roasting times 325°F, unstuffed and stuffed: 8-12 lbs., 3-4 hrs., 4-5 hrs.; 12-16 lbs., 3½-5 hrs., 4½-6 hrs.; 16-20 lbs., 4½-6 hrs., 5½-7 hrs.; 20-24 lbs., 5½-6½ hrs., 6½-7½ hrs.

*Roasting times can be affected by variations in ovens, shape of turkeys, and degree of thawing. Therefore, doneness should be checked one hour before end of recommended roasting time.

*The Turkey is done when the meat thermometer registers 180°-185°F, the thick part of the drumstick feels soft when pressed with thumb and forefinger, or when the drumstick moves easily. Stuffing in a turkey needs to be 165°F to be sufficiently cooked.

Cranberries prepared in a variety of ways are an excellent accompaniment for a turkey dinner. Here is a cranberry salad I think you'll enjoy trying:

FROZEN CRANBERRY SALAD

1 (1 lb.) can jellied cranberry sauce
1 (8¾ oz.) can crushed pineapple
1 c. miniature marshmallows
1 tablsp. lemon juice
1 c. heavy cream, whipped
¼ c. Mayonnaise
¼ c. confectioners sugar

Combine cranberry sauce, pineapple, marshmallows and lemon juice. Spread in bottom of ice-cube tray.

Combine whipped cream, mayonnaise and sugar. Spread over cranberry mixture. Freeze. Cut in squares and serve on lettuce. Makes 6 servings.

EXTENSION HAPPENING

A Holiday Breads Workshop will presented on November 20, from 7:00-9:00 p.m. and again on November 21 from 9-11:00 a.m. at the Garrett County Extension Office. All interested persons are invited to attend.

Peck Honored At Retirement Dinner

Joseph A. Peck was the guest of honor at a dinner sponsored by the employees of the Oakland post office in honor of his 25 years of service.

The dinner was held November 4 at a local restaurant with 43 persons in attendance. A retirement gift was presented by the post office employees and by his family.

Joe was born and raised in Garrett County, and served more than four years in the U.S. Infantry, 71st Division, Panama Canal Zone, and the European Theatre of Operations in World War II as a staff sergeant. He also held a position as message center chief in communications.

Mr. Peck and his wife, Leota M. Bowser, pictured above, were married in 1946, and are the parents of four children, Joseph E. Peck, Delores E. Bateman, Carolyn Thrasher, and Patricia D. Lewis. They have six grandchildren.

Peck is a member of the Crellin Assembly of God Church, where he served as treasurer for more than 20 years. He also serves as a Sunday school teacher, and is a member of WOW, Camp II, Oakland. He enjoys fishing and hunting.

Sunday Sales Law Violations Heard In District Court

Three residents of Accident were found guilty of violating Sunday liquor laws during the November 10 session of Garrett County District Court.

Julie Ann Fratz, 25, the manager of Fratz Super Market, Accident; Donald H. Fratz, 50, and E. Wayne Fratz, 46, both named as license holders of W. H. Fratz, Inc., were charged by Maryland State Police undercover officers with Sunday sales violations on August 3 and August 10.

Judge Lewis R. Jones fined the trio a total of $75, plus court costs.

The second charge for each defendant was declared nolle prosequi by State's Attorney James Sherbin.

In a similar case, Nell Hope Clemens and Ward Denver Clemens, both of Deer Park, were found guilty of Sunday liquor sales violations as a result of selling to a Maryland State Police undercover officer on August 24 at their place of business, the Deep Creek Exxon and Grocery, Rt. 219, at Mayhew Inn Road.

Judge Jones levied a fine of $75, plus court costs.

Four men were sentenced during Monday's session.

William Harry Madigan, Jr., 20, Deer Park, was found guilty of charges of battery, trespassing, and malicious destruction of property filed against him by Henry Armstrong, Sr., also of Deer Park.

Judge Jones sentenced Madigan to 60 days in the Garrett County Jail, commencing November 10, on the first charge of battery; two 60-day sentences for battery and malicious destruction to run concurrent with the first; and a $10 fine for trespassing.

In other court procedures, Judge Jones sentenced John Scott Lough, 18, Oakland; William Joe Smith, 19, Deer Park; and Raymond Carl Helmick, 19, Deer Park, for their part in the destruction of personal automobiles belonging to several Deer Park residents, a Ravenna, Ohio man, and the H-P Stores, Inc., Oakland.

Lough and Smith were sentenced to six months in jail, which was suspended, and placed on 18 months supervised probation.

Helmick was sentenced to 24 months in jail, with credit for six months already served. The additional 18 months were suspended, and Helmick was placed on 24 months supervised probation.

Klotz Couple Celebrates 40th

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Klotz, Star Route, Frostburg, were honored at a surprise 40th wedding anniversary celebration August 24th at the Mt. Zion United Methodist Church. The party, held in the social hall, was given by Mr. and Mrs. William Klotz, and Dr. and Mrs. Ronel Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Klotz were married August 24, 1940, at the Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church at Frostburg. Mrs. Okarita Teater and the late Marshall Layman were the couple's only attendents. They are the parents of two children, William Klotz, Bel Air, and Mrs. Sally Williams, Backbone Mountain.

Mr. Klotz is the son of the late Daniel and Sadie (Beitzel) Klotz, Grantsville. He is a retired employee of the Casselman Motor Company, where he worked for 43 years. Mrs. Klotz, the former Laura Turner, is the daughter of the late William and Emma (Blocher) Turner, Star Route Frostburg. Mrs. Klotz is a member and president of the Route 40 Homemakers, a member of the Frostburg Hospital Auxilary, and the Mt. Zion Methodist Woman. They are members of the Mt. Zion Church.

Decorations of ruby and white were carried out in the social room. A ruby and white floral centerpiece, given to the couple by the United Methodist WSCS group, adorned the couple's table. The three-tiered cake, topped with the "40" decoration was made by Shelby Gable of Cresaptown. Mrs. Virginia Galica served the cake and Mrs. Judy Bohn served the punch. Mrs. Patricia Clevenger registered gifts and Mrs. Emma Pope registered guests.

Approximately 100 guests attended.

Straight Talk About Aging

By Dr. Matthew Tayback, State Director of Aging

HELP FROM WASHINGTON

Older Marylanders who are having trouble making ends meet (and who isn't these days?) may not know all they should about certain Federal programs which exist to help them meet their most basic needs. Let me tell you about a few of them.

People who have been employed long enough in jobs covered by Social Security are eligible, as you know, for monthly cash benefits. But, in addition, under the Supplemental Security Income Program (SSI), some people 65 and over who meet certain income eligibility standards may receive additional payments.

According to latest U. S. Administration on Aging calculations, SSI benefits, when combined with other income (if any), will usually amount to $238.00 a month for an individual, or $357.00 a month for a couple (these are the highest payments).

Application for SSI assistance may be made at any local Social Security Administration office. These are usuallly listed in the telephone book under "U. S. Government."

Older people looking for income-producing jobs may be able to participate in one of several Federally sponsored programs. One of the largest, operated by the Department of Labor, is the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP). Through SCSEP, poor individuals 55 or over are employed in part-time community service jobs which pay an average of $3.00 per hour. Work may be in day-care centers, schools, hospitals, senior centers or the like.

In addition to wages, SCSEP workers receive yearly physical examinations, job training and personal counseling.

Another program through which older citizens may be helped is the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA). CETA's purpose is to help people of all ages compete for, get and hold jobs that are both challenging and meaningful.

Information about CETA and SCSEP can be obtained from the U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., 20210 or through the local office on aging.

Rewarding (in several ways) opportunities are also available to low-income older individuals through the Federally-administered Foster Grandparent Program.

As Foster Grandparents, men and women who are 60 or over and in good health give affection and attention to physically, emotionally and mentally handicapped children. The children may be either in institutions or in private settings.

Foster Grandparents serve four hours a day, five days a week. They devote two hours each day to each of the two children in their care. What that "care" involves varies considerably from child to child, but here are some examples: Foster Grandparents help with speech or physical therapy, play games and read stories—just what real grandparents do.

Volunteer grandparents receive a 40-hour training period, a stipend of $36 a week, an allowance for transportation, free meals while in service, accident and liability insurance and an annual physical examination. In situations where uniforms are required, they are provided. For more information, write to ACTION, Foster Grandparent Program, 806 Connecticut Avenue, N.W., Washington, D. C. 20525; or contact the local office on aging.

It will probably take up to a year to determine the status of these and similar programs under our newly-elected Federal Administration. In the meantime, the information presented is valid.

Rock, Mud Slide Blocks Portion Of Big Savage Road

A massive earth and rock slide, which occurred between Monday night and early Tuesday morning on the Big Savage Road, between Big Run and Westernport Road, has blocked the roadway in that area.

Herbert McCrobie, director of the Garrett County Roads Department, reported that more than an acre of surface area slid into the roadway with a vertical depth of 20 feet.

McCrobie reported there are no homes near the slide, which has a crevice approximately 20 feet wide on either side, and approximately 20 feet deep at the top of the slide. Looking inside, crushed rocks can be seen.

The exact cause of the slide is not known at this time, but officials are scheduled to look at the slide from its starting point in an effort to determine the cause.

Work has begun today to clear the area, however, McCrobie said clean-up operations may be hampered by continuing slides.

Residents needing to use the road will have to alter the pattern of travel for the present.

Santa Claus Is Coming To Town

Santa Claus is coming to the town of Oakland at 10 a.m. this Saturday, to greet area boys and girls in preparation for the Christmas season. As his sleigh is being tuned up for the Christmas Eve run, the Oakland Volunteer Fire Department will offer transportation to the jolly giver of gifts, who will ride through town on a fire truck.

The parade of sorts will end at the First National Bank lower parking lot, however activities will continue. Area boy and girl scouts will distribute free popcorn balls. Some of the popcorn balls will have tags attached, which can be redeemed at downtown businesses for free gifts.

A concert will be provided after the parade at the FNB lower lot by the bell ringers from Southern High School, under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Wilt.

At 3 p.m. the first drawing for the downtown Christmas give-away will be held, and five $100 gift certificates will be awarded. Five drawings will be held up through Christmas Eve, and 27 gift certificates will be awarded by participating merchants. Shoppers can register to win a gift certificate in downtown stores.

The downtown activities this Saturday are sponsored by the Greater Oakland Merchants Association.

RE-DEDICATION AND GROUNDBREAKING ceremonies were held Sunday at the Southern Middle School and at Garrett County Memorial Hospital to observe the 30th birthday of the hospital and officially break ground for Project G, the building and renovation project of the hospital. Phase 1 of the project has been underway for a number of weeks, however, the official ceremony was delayed, pending positive funding of the overall project. Highlights of the ceremony were talks provided by Dr. James Feaster, local physician, and George H. Hanst, former editor of The Republican newspaper and original fundraising chairman for Garrett Memorial, on the history of the hospital. Chairman of the Board of Governors, Irvin Feld, spoke about the present status of the hospital, while Dr. George Stoltzfus, president of the medical-dental staff, Rose Baker, president of the employee committee, and Dorothy Frame, president of the Loar Auxiliary, offered thoughts about the future of the institution. In the photo, left to right, are Dr. Stoltzfus, Mrs. Baker, Charles Morris, vice chairman of the Board of Governors, Mr. Feld, Jacquelyn Shirer, chairman of the building project, Joyce Bishoff, chairman of the public relations committee, and Bob Piccalo, project manager for Mellon Stuart Company, the construction manager.

Former Resident Shot and Killed; Wife Facing Charge of Murder

Funeral services were held Monday morning for a former Deer Park resident who was alledgedly shot and killed during a domestic altercation.

Elijah Junior Friend, 45, Cumberland, was reportedly shot by his wife, Mrs. Beulah Jane Friend, during an alleged domestic dispute involving the couple's son.

According to reports, the victim apparently was administering a beating to the son in the kitchen of their home, when Mrs. Friend escaped to another room in search of a gun and returned to the scene, shooting Friend just above the left clavicle. The bullet traveled through the victim's throat and lodged in the upper right arm. After being shot, according to investigating officers, Friend struggled with his wife for possession of the gun, which went off two additional times, striking the refrigerator and the wall. Friend's lungs apparently filled with blood from the wound, and he apparently drowned in the blood during the struggle.

A warrant charging first degree murder is expected to be served on Mrs. Friend after her discharge from Sacred Heart Hospital, where she was admitted for treatment of shock.

The victim was born in Deer Park, and was a son of the late Andrew and Anna Mae Friend. He was a former employee of Cumberland Cement and Supply Company, and a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are his wife, Beulah Jane (Mullenax) Friend; one daughter, Mrs. Judy D. Perts, Hyndman, Pa.; three sons, Clifford J. Friend, Cumberland; Theodore P. Friend and Michael F. Friend, both of RD 4, Cumberland; one brother, Delbert Friend, Oakland; and three grandchildren.

Friends were received in the George Funeral Home, Cumberland, where services were held Monday morning with Rev. Ken L. Korns officiating. Interment followed in Deer Park Cemetery.

Deer Season To Open Saturday

by Al Bourgeois, District Wildlife Manager

The Saturday after Thanksgiving is a long awaited time for many sportsmen in Maryland. It is the opening day of the modern firearm deer season. Hunters throughout state look forward to deer season as a chance to relax and enjoy the fall woods, and have the opportunity to bag a deer for the freezer or find excuses why the big buck got away.

This year several notable changes in the deer seasons in Western Maryland have been passed and have created many questions and misunderstandings. To clarify things, hunters should note the following season changes:

The regular or modern firearm deer season runs from Saturday, November 29 through December 6, 1980. Only bucks with antlers greater than 3 inches can be harvested during this season. No antlerless deer may be taken during this season, regardless of whether hunters have an antlerless permit or are exempt from needing one. Several persons with permits have asked whether they can fill their permit in this season since the permit is for the firearm season. They must wait for the antlerless firearm season.

A separate antlerless firearm season will be held on December 12 and 13, 1980, when person possessing an antlerless permit or those exempt from needing a permit are allowed to shoot an antlerless deer (if they have not killed a buck previously in the regular firearms season). No bucks or antlered deer can be harvested during this season, except with bow and arrow.

Muzzleloader season will be open from December 15 to December 22, 1980, for those hunters who have not taken a

ONE OF THE LARGEST BUCKS in the area in recent history is this nine-point, 195-pound beauty which was bagged last Thursday by Don Ringer, of Gorman. Ringer shot the deer in the Gorman area, striking the animal in the shoulder. The 25-year-old hunter said he has been hunting for about ten years and this was the tenth buck he has brought down in his career, the fourth by bow. The animal was checked in at Naylor's hardware in Oakland. Regular firearms deer season opens this Saturday in Maryland.

Natural Gas Well Drilling Begins In Avilton Area

Exploratory drilling efforts for natural gas began in Avilton last Friday by Pan American Petroleum, a subsidiary of Amoco, according to Ken Cole, director of public and governmental affairs.

The well is the first to be drilled in Maryland in more than five years, although another drilling permit is currently being processed for the Columbia Gas Transmission Corp., of Charleston, W. Va., which wants to drill an exploratory well near Mountain Lake Park.

The Pan American well is known as a wildcat, or outpost well, because it is being drilled away from known gas production areas. The well was prompted by a drilling rights lease that expires within the next two years and by gas price deregulation.

If gas is discovered, drilling rights leased from private landowners or the federal government would be extended for the life of the wells.

Natural gas deposits have already been found by Amoco in Pennyslvania, according to Cole.

Cole further stated that massive amounts of natural gas are not expected to be discovered in Western Maryland, but the money for domestic exploration is now available, and markets are ready and available in the area.

The Pan American drill site will extend 5400 feet through sandstone to a limestone belt, with drilling expected to take approximately 25 days. Estimates indicate a 95 percent chance of success in hitting gas if, indeed, it is there.

Although Garrett County is best known for coal production, natural gas was recovered from the ground for a 20-year period, ending in 1964.

Elderly Couple Falls Victim To Unknown Thieves

It promises to be a sad Thanksgiving for an elderly Grantsville couple who fell victim two weeks ago to unknown thieves.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Butler, located along Route 40 three miles from the town, was ransacked by unknown culprits who broke into the locked basement door to gain entrance.

Among the items stolen was a purse in which Mrs. Butler had been saving money for more than year from their meager income to buy a new pair of glasses. She had managed to save $110, which is now gone.

Mr. Butler attempted to supplement their small fixed income by cutting firewood for neighboring families. To compound their misfortune, his chainsaw was also stolen, thus eliminating the possibility of earning extra money for their needs.

State police are making an all-out effort to locate the missing merchandise, as well as those responsible. Anyone with information, no matter how slight, is asked to contact Trp. Gary Berkebile, McHenry Barrack, Maryland State Police at 387-5511.

Two Charges of Murder Included In Grand Jury Indictments

The Garrett County Grand Jury returned ten indictments against area residents in a special recalling procedure held Friday afternoon in Garrett County Circuit Court.

An indictment stating a general charge of murder was returned against Robert Scott Groves, Loch Lynn, in connection with the shooting death of John Wayne Rowan, 33, Mt. Lake Park. Groves was also charged with false imprisonment and assault and battery against Sharon Louise Rowan.

A second indictment stating a general charge of murder was also returned against Arthur Edward Scarpelli, 44, Brookville, in the shooting death of Charles William Harmon, 41, Olney, who was killed while hunting in a wooded area off Rock Lodge Road.

An indictment was returned against Owen Bradley Kinsinger, Grantsville, charging six counts of sexual abuse, including second degree rape; second degree sexual offense; incest; child abuse; perverted sexual practices; and assault.

Three members of a Kitzmiller family also received indictments on charges of theft.

Alice May Riggleman, her daughter Vicki Lee Riggleman, and her son, James Riggleman, Jr., were all charged with two counts of theft involving a 1968 GMC tractor truck and a variety of tools.

Trial dates will be announced when made available.

Mt. Lake Park Threatens To Sue County Commissioners

A public hearing on Friday, regarding the sale of $850,000 in bonds for the Mt. Lake Park-Loch Lynn Water Rehabilitation Project, turned into a forum for outraged Mt. Lake Park residents. The hearing was conducted in the meeting room of the Garrett County Commissioners.

Russell Alexander, mayor, spoke on behalf of the citizens of Mt. Lake Park, and raised questions regarding damage done to the town's streets during the course of the rehabilitation project, and increasingly high water bills in that area.

Alexander indicated that, since the commissioners are assuming financial responsibility for the bond issue, in the event of default, the Town of Mt. Lake Park holds them responsible for repairing the streets.

Alexander told the commissioners that "Mt. Lake Park intends to bring suit against the county government for repaving of the streets". Dick Nace, Sanitary District Administrator, stated that the Sanitary District plans to repair pavement over the trenches cut across the streets, next summer.

The recent billing by the Garrett County Sanitary District was based on a new rate, with a ready-to-serve charge attached. Nace stated that the public's reaction to the ready-to-serve charge is generally favorable, when people understand that it is required under the Maryland Annotated Code, governing the Sanitary District, to help pay for the system.

The amount of the charge, $7.20, was set by the Garrett County Sanitary Commission, based on Nace's calculations. The surcharge is to cover fixed costs associated with the operation of the project, such as reading meters, posting, and billing.

Alexander stated that a number of people in Mt. Lake Park are "outraged over high water bills." The Garrett County Commissioners said that "hundreds of people" are complaining about their water bills, and the board is aware of "dozens of people" with a 25 to 30 percent increase in the amount owed the Sanitary District.

Residents present at the hearing indicated that families are being charged for more water than they claim they are using, at the new rate of two dollars per thousand gallons. One resident cited an example of a family of two, charged for using 26,000 gallons of water, when they should have used about 6,000 gallons.

Nace indicated that some of the residents charged for

Destruction of Traffic Signals Posing Threat to Lives of Drivers

The deliberate destruction of the amber flashing lights erected on Rt. 135 along Backbone Mountain has posed a threat to the lives of truck drivers descending the steep grade.

According to George Small, District Traffic Engineer, the lights, service meters, and control cabinets have been wantonly destroyed on several occasions over the past few months, causing undue expense and a very real danger to drivers in that area.

The lights are necessary to warn truck drivers, in particular, of the sharp descent. They play a critical part in the fog conditions, heavy rain, and snow. They serve as a warning to drivers unfamiliar with the area, as well.

The lights and controls have been destroyed by shotgun fire in the past, and more recently were destroyed by blows from a sledge hammer or similar object. Police have been notified, and area residents are asked to report any suspicious happenings seen or heard by them. The area is isoloated on portions of the route, and apprehension of these vandals will be difficult without help, according to Small.

Persons with information are asked to contact the Maryland State Police at 387-5511, or the State Highway Administration office at 334-2133.

Sheriff's Deputy And Dispatcher Are Suspended

A Garrett County Deputy and a dispatcher for the Sheriff's office have been suspended from duty for a total of five weeks and ordered to work an additional five days without pay as a result of "conduct unbecoming of law officers." Deputy Thomas Beeman and dispatcher Delmas Warnick allegedly engaged in sexual activities in the courthouse earlier this year with a womar employed by Triple-A Cleaning, an employment program which is under the direction of the Appalachian Adult Activities Center in Oakland. The center offers employment and organized activities for the mentally handicapped.

David Koontz, director of the AAA Center, stated he was made aware of the incident on May 1 by the young woman's supervisor. On July 14, after having monitered the actions of the woman and gathering more information about the incident, including a confession from the woman, Koontz contacted the county commissioners to arrange a meeting. He also removed the woman from the courthouse cleaning crew.

A meeting was held, with the county commissioners Ernest Gregg, Lester Hunter and Truman Paugh; Koontz; Jack Turney, counsel for the county; Sheriff John Evans; Marjorie Fratz, county clerk, and the 23-year-old woman involved in the incident in attendance. At the meeting the commissioners and Turney directed Sheriff Evans to conduct an investigation of the incident and carry out, what he felt, was appropriate disciplinary action. "We are elected officials and the sheriff is an elected official," Commissioner Gregg stated, "and we felt it was the sheriff's responsibility to handle the matter."

It was learned that the involvement with the woman, to which she consented, occurred on at least two occasions, according to Gregg, in one of the offices of the Sheriff's Department. Triple-A Cleaning is employed by the county and cleans the courthouse during the night hours, which is when the incidents allegedly occurred. Gregg said the officers confessed to the allegations.

Several weeks later, in late September, the commissioners received a copy of the letter which Sheriff Evans sent to Beeman and Warnick, spelling out the disciplinary action to be taken. The men were to be suspended for five days without pay and ordered to donate an additional five days of work without pay.

Commisssioner Gregg and Paul Shockey, personell director for the county, told The Republican they felt this was not nearly severe enough punishment. "It was not even a slap on the fingers, as far as I'm concerned," Gregg said.

However, Sheriff Evans stated that this was the disciplinary action suggested to him by Commissioner Hunter and Koontz. "Commissioner Hunter said that the county had a fairly substantial amount of money invested in the training of these two men and Mr. Koontz said he did not want to see anyone lose his job over this matter," Evans said. "I wanted to fire them immediately, but they talked me out of it. I assure you, that will never happen again."

In response to Evans statement, Koontz said the comment he made about persons losing their jobs over the incident did not refer specifically to the jobs of the officers, but to the jobs of the others affected by the case, including the remainder of the Triple-A Cleaning crew which cleans the courthouse.

Also at the meeting, Koontz agreed to remove the woman from the cleaning crew, on the basis that the sheriff would carry out the investigation and disciplinary action.

James Sherbin, state's attorney for Garrett County, was made aware of the incident approximately one month ago, and expressed outrage that he had not been informed earlier. According to the Maryland Code, Section 464A, a person engaging in a sex act with a person who is mentally deficient, incapacitated or physically helpless is guilty of a second degree sex offense, which is a felony and punishable by up to 20 years in prison. The woman involved in this case is classified as mentally retarded, according to Koontz. However, Sherbin stated that he has decided not to prosecute the officers. He said that, while tests show that she is mentally retarded, he believes that she falls into a "grey area" between normality and abnormality.

Sherbin did, however, recomment to Sheriff Evans that he impose a stiffer penalty on the officers and suggested that they be suspended an additional month without pay. Evans agreed, and the suspension was effective November 10.

The young woman, having been removed from the courthouse cleaning crew and no longer having steady employment, recently left the AAA Center. However, Koontz said she recently returned and is occasionally working parttime.

In his presentation he demonstrated to faculty members techniques for evaluating objective tests and for achieving a fair and equitable grading practice.

In the second session, Crowl discussed legal and ethical aspects of grading practices. He cited a number of specific court cases involving students and faculty members that evolved from disputes over grading practices.

The workshop was scheduled by Associate Dean of the College, O. Randall Harman, as part of the staff development program of the college.

Saying thanks isn't enough

The more a person owns, the more for which he has to be thankful. Thus, persons who own much are considerably more thankful than those who own little.

We all know that, while the above analysis seems logical, human beings do not usually operate that way. In fact, we often do just the opposite. The more things we own, it seems, the less thankful we become. We lose our appreciation of things, take them for granted and either forget, or begin to feel little need, to give thanks for what we have.

The poorest persons among us often express the greatest thanks for things, for even the smallest token is so valuable and appreciated. Extreme wealth many times lead to discontentment and unhappiness, because when persons have nearly everything they ever wanted materially, they lose sight of the much finer, spiritual values of life.

One of those virtues which often becomes submerged in the sea of materialism is giving. Thanksgiving, obviously, is a time of giving thanks, and this is a good practice. However, Thanksgiving represents more than that. It should be a time of giving in general. Before there is thanks, there must be giving. Just as our Creator has given so much to us, so should we give to our neighbor. He has set an example which he hopes we will follow. He does not want us to do all the taking and thanking, and not participate in the giving.

We Americans, on the average, have a standard of living far above most of the rest of the world. Therefore, we should be among the most thankful in the world. More importantly, we should be among the most generous.

Let us attempt to observe Thanksgiving, and all that it means, every day of the year.

A Can of Worms . . .

by Carol Kapel

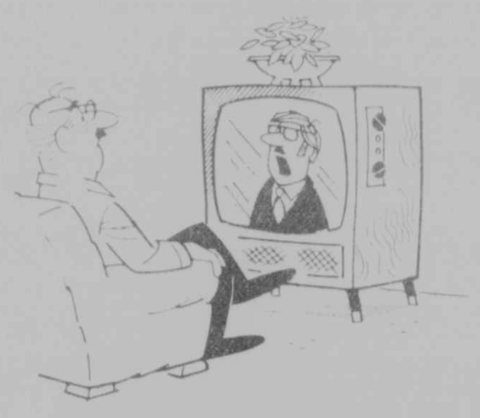
The thought has come to mind that a moment of misguided generosity on the part of the Garrett County Commissioners has now set a dangerous precedent.

The recent $500 donation to the Southern High School Football team, given to help defer the expense of the trip to Snow Hill, came at the height of an exciting season — one the county is, and well should be, proud of. The winning team brought state-wide recognition to Garrett County and deserved support. If the commissioners felt the team had insufficient time to raise the needed funds, would not a short-term loan have been more appropriate?

Can an explanation of this gift of impulse be offered, for instance, to members of the Southern High School Band, who recently spent several months of exasperating effort raising an astronomical sum of money to support themselves and their trip to Florida? Are they not in Florida this very day performing in nationwide competition to bring recognition home to Garrett County? Where was their financial support from the county commissioners?

Are we to understand from this action, as tax-paying citizens, that all clubs, groups, and organizations are now in line for donations of tax money as needed for similar purposes? According to this recent action, no one in the entire county can be justifiably denied the same benefit afforded the Rams football team.

Can we, the county with the highest tax rate in the state, afford to play Santa in November??



"Portions of the preceding show were recorded live before an audience of trained seals."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Mr. Sincell:

I have to let the public know, if they don't already, of the recent waste of their tax dollars by the county commissioners, and I feel compelled to make this complaint.

A $500 donation was received by the Southern High football team, so, I'm told, they could spend another night on their trip to the state playoffs. Was this money given without first being justified by the public? And what of the Southern band, who had to work for all the money they could, in every way they could, and finally raised approximately $19,000 dollars? Where was their five hundred dollar donation?

In the other end of the county, the Viking, Northern High's school newspaper, which has won statewide recognition, is in great need of a new typewriter. May we expect one under our tree this Christmas? And the Northern collectors club could put $500 to use quite nicely, purchasing new magazine subscriptions. May they look forward to it?

I could go on and on with perfectly eligible organizations, but I don't think that's necessary. You do get my point, don't you?

An Angry Citizen,
Jeffrey Cooley

Editor:

I think it's fine for the county commissioners, along with the rest of the county, to be enthusiastic about the Southern High Rams making the finals in the Class C playoffs.

Nevertheless, enthusiasm is not the standard by which county money is spent. I'm referring to the $500.00 given to the team by the commissioners. Are we to assume that this is to be standard procedure? Will similar amounts be given to other county organizations? After all, it costs them to travel, too. Since Garrett Countians have interests other than football, it hardly seems fair that the giving of funds be restricted to just that particular area.

Obviously, the county cannot subsidize all of the worthy organizations in the area. Therefore, funds should not be given to any of them.

When you consider some of the decisions that are made by our county government, it's no wonder the eastern part of the state looks upon us as a bunch of country bumpkins.

In my opinion, there are too many far more important things which need to be done than for the commissioners to be setting such ridiculous monetary precedents.

Sincerely,
Jerry Stewart
Oakland

Dear Sir:

I feel that something must be said about the arbitrary spending of tax dollars by our county commissioners. It seems that we have elected officials who have a hard time saying "no" to anything. Of course there are many "worthy causes" and many groups and organizations need money for good community projects. However, the commissioners are setting some dangerous precedents by recent decisions. The matching fund which gave the Finzel area $5,000 for a park set one such precedent, but when the Southern football team received $500 for their trip to the state play-offs, this constitutes arbitrary and irresponsible spending of tax dollars.

In a county with a tax rate second only to Baltimore City and a state which ranks seventh in the nation for increasing taxes on state and local levels, it would behoove our commissioners to tighten rather than expand the guidelines for extravagant spending. If so much money is available, I suggest the tax burden on the citizens be lightened accordingly. Also, how can the commissioners justify cutting the educational budget which affects every student in the county and yet spend tax dollars to benefit so few?

I think it's high time the taxpayers of Garrett County make it known that we don't like the way our tax money is being used.

A concerned citizen,

deer in the firearm or antlerless season. During the Muzzleloader season, hunters are restricted to bucks only, unless they have an antlerless permit which was not filled during the antlerless season or are exempt from needing a permit.

Deer production appears to be good this year and hunters should find several deer roaming the woods. Based on crop damage complaints from area farmers, deer appear plentiful in and around farmland, which may prove to be a good choice to hunt. All hunters should keep in mind, however, that written permission is required to hunt deer on private property not owned by them in Garrett County, and violations are subject to a fine. Flourescent orange outerwear is also required when deer hunting in Maryland.

Hunters are reminded that all deer harvested must be checked in at a designated check station in the county where the animal is killed within 24 hours (this pertains also to landowners hunting on their own property and exempt from buying a hunting license). When checking in deer, the deer must have an attached field tag and the hunter must have his license and buck tag if required.

The designated check stations in Garrett County are: Walt's General Store, McHenry; Buckel's Market, Grantsville; A. D. Naylor and Company, Oakland; Stuart's Grocery, Swanton; Johnny's Bathouse, Deep Creek Lake; and Mill Run General Store, Friendsville. Deep Creek Lake State Park can also check in deer harvested in the state park.

Westvaco

Morris and Young stated that this negotiation was the first time in recent memory that Westvaco company officials and union negotiators had ever settled a contract agreement without a federal mediator. This was also the first time an agreement had been reached ahead of the contract expiration date.

Monday deliberations resulted in the first negotiated agreement since the 80-day strike by Westvaco employees, in 1978-79. Members of the Luke Local #678 negotiating committee were Gary Morris, president; Tom Caldwell, first vice-president; Michael Amoroso, second vice-president; Leslie Guynn, third vice-president; Ray Beckner, recording secretary; Tony Sullivan, chief shop steward; David L. Young, personnel manager, and William McMihn, assistant personnel manager.

Commissioners Approve Housing Grant Application

The Board of Garrett County Commissioners yesterday approved a grant application to the Appalachian Regional Commission, to be submitted by the Garrett County Housing Office, for supplemental funds for housing rehabilitation.

Diana Wawzinski, Garrett County Housing Coordinator, explained that the application will be submitted through the Maryland Housing Office, to supplement the Housing and Urban Development Community Block Grant Application and Farmers Home Administration grants for housing rehabilitation.

If approved, the grant would cover expenses for site development, including water, digging of wells and connecting wells, sewage disposal, drainage, excavation and windbreaks. The amount to each individual could be up to 10 percent of the property's value, after initial rehabilitation.

Ms. Wawzinski explained that there is a "clear need" to provide individuals with the supplemental rehabilitation, which is not provided for financially through other funding sources.

In other business, Charlotte Griffith, who was recently designated as liaison person for Garrett County for the United Nations International Year of Disabled Persons, 1981, met for the first time with the board to review her preliminary plans for carrying out this program in Garrett County.

Ms. Griffith presented two primary ideas to approach the program. The first is to focus on public awareness of existing county programs for the handicapped. She also suggested that the county form a working committee to identify services needed, and to explore funding for these services.

In other business, John Nelson, liaison officer for Program Open Space, presented the Program Open Space Annual Program for Acquisition and Development.

The program presented represents the Garrett County Parks and Recreation Committee's schedule for allocation of funds within Garrett County for fiscal year 1982.

The board approved the program as presented, and it will be submitted to the Department of Natural Resources and the Department of State Planning.

Dick Nace, administrator of the Garrett County Sanitary District, Inc., presented a bond anticipation note to the board, in the amount of $55,000, for the Mt. Lake Water System Rehabilitation Project. The board deferred action on approving the note, pending further information from Liberty Trust Company, who will process the bond for interim financing.

In other business, the board took appropriate action to reappoint Mrs. Elsie Brady, Kitzmiller, to a five-year term on the Board of Trustees for the Ruth Enlow Library. The term will begin in January, 1981.

A Quiet Hero

by Harry Fox

They buried John W. McCormack yesterday, from the neighborhood he had represented in Washington for 42 years.

"Southie" — the tough ethnic enclave of South Boston probably will have to wait a long time for another funeral like this one. The list of mourners at the funeral mass in St. Monica's Church included former President Gerald Ford, Vice President Walter Mondale, and the Vice President-elect George Bush. They came to say goodbye to one of their own.

Many of us remember John McCormack from the eight years when he served as Speaker of the House of Representatives. His was the face that appeared behind the President's during televised addresses to Congress. From 1962 to his retirement in 1970, the nation was made aware of the immense power this quiet statesman wielded in the halls of government.

As McCormack and his generation die, it is easy to overlook the vital contributions these persons made in the life of the nation. In an age when television was still suffering growing pains, before charisma and image became a requisite part of every national figure's political game plan, they lived out long and fruitful careers with little personal recognition beyond the boundaries of their own districts.

The labors of statesmen before the electronic media gave them instant recognition will be forgotten with the years. The death of John McCormack, late Speaker of the House, slips by us with little impact, in stark contrast to the unwarranted visibility of some contemporary figures.

If, "the whole earth is the tomb of heroes," then yesterday it embraced one of this generation's finest. Hazlett observed that those who deserve monuments have no need of them. Perhaps that is a fitting reminder of the quiet passing of John W. McCormack.

Sanitary Commission Reviews Proposed Engineering Contracts

Representatives from Rummel, Klepper and Kahl Engineering Firm, Baltimore, presented a revised contract and a proposed new contract to the Garrett County Sanitary Commission at its meeting Thursday in the Grand Jury Room at the courthouse. Both contracts are for work on the Deep Creek Lake Sanitary District Sewerage Facilities, and were presented for consideration.

The last contract proposal for the design of the basic system was presented by R, K&K in the early 1970's. Thomas N. Lash and Ralph Marquiss explained to the commission that amendments must be made in that contract because of the adoption of a grinder pump system, rather than a vacuum system, the extended work schedule, the company's increase in salary costs, and changes in the basic system, which add about 17,000 additional feet of sewer lines. The original contract was in the amount of $275,000, and would now amount to $809,000, with the proposed amendments.

Lash and Marquiss explained that the grinder pump system involves a "substantial amount of property work," such as additional surveys for grinder pump installation, and securing easement on private property. Dick Nace, Sanitary District Administrator, stated that the commission is hoping that the property surveys, which is the main increase in the local share, may be grant-eligible under the Environmental Protection Agency. The local share of the contract would be $224,248, if EPA determines the survey portion not grant-eligible. However, if EPA officials agree to its eligibility, the local share would be $81,110. About 575 property surveys are required.

The revised basic system will include Rock Lodge Road and Lake Shore Drive, while abandoning the Mayhew Inn Road portion of the facilities. R, K&K added that if the schedule extends past March, 1982, assuming the company begins work in March, 1981, R, K&K would negotiate the right to extend the contract on the basis of increased salary rates.

At a September hearing enthusiasm was expressed by property owners at the possibility of an expanded system, which was shown to be cost-effective. The areas considered for the expanded system are Glendale Peninsula and areas near Deep Creek State Park, Gravely Run Road, Harvey's Peninsula, Beckman's Peninsula and Paradise Point.

The Maryland Department of Health has agreed to a study of these areas, to produce documented information which could be used for an application for a grant amendment on the design of the basic system. R, K&K presented a proposal for the study, which would include an abbreviated facilities plan, documentation of need and cost-effectiveness, identification of failing septic tanks and contaminated wells, and alternative methods of treatment. Marquiss said the study would take about eight weeks to complete, with the use of existing records at the Garrett County Health department and deed descriptions at the courthouse.

The cost of the study is $9600, a local cost which would ultimately be paid by the users. The alternative to this study, Nace explained, would be to do a full-blown study of the entire system, including the expanded portion, through a grant process. This option would take two to five years to complete, and would cost about $100,000, of which the local share would be $12,500. Inflation would also take its toll, he said, as the project would be delayed a number of years.

The proposals are based on the company starting work in March, 1981, however, Lash and Marquiss said R, K&K would like to begin work in about eight weeks. As only five members of the commission were present Thursday, the commission held a special meeting Monday to discuss the proposals. Robert Fousek, assistant administrator of the Sanitary District, stated that many questions were generated at Monday's meeting, and the commission decided to meet with R, K&K at least twice more before approving the proposed contracts.

In other business, Nace announced Thursday that the in-house portion of the Mt. Lake Park-Loch Lynn Water Project will be completed this month, "well within the budget." He stated that all of the mainline pipes are installed, and all but extreme amounts of water could have leaks somewhere in their systems. He said that the Sanitary District is willing to conduct investigations of some of these systems, to check the meters and check for possible leaks.

Nace added that the current policy of the Sanitary Commission states that water bills must be paid, no matter how high, even if leaks are evident. He said that the possibility of changing this policy will be discussed at the commission's next meeting.

Alexander claimed that many resident's meters are old, and people want them replaced. Charles O. Morris, chairman of the Sanitary Commission, stated that the Sanitary District will investigate these problems.

The bond issue has been adopted and ratified by the Board of County Commissioners, however the effective date was delayed pending the Friday hearing.

GARRETT COUNTY TREES GO TO THE WHITE HOUSE — Holler's Wholesale Trees and Shrubbery recently honored a contract to send 80 trees from the Yough Tree Farm, near Crellin, to the White House in Washington, D.C., for the Christmas season. Jim Holler, Oakland, explained that 50 of the Norway Spruce trees are to symbolize the 50 states, one tree is for president-elect Ronald Reagan, one tree is for President Jimmy Carter, and the rest will be planted around the big White House tree. Holler said his company has been supplying trees to the White House for the past five years, taken from various farms in Garrett County. The trees were transported to Washington, D.C. by Fratz Trucking in Accident, to be planted in an open lot directly across from the White House. Pictured below, left, Holler ties one of the trees with the help of Larry Crosco, right, an employee of the Holler company. A large piece of machinery is used to dig the trees, pictured above, operated by Kenneth Diehl, with Holler assisting.

two workers have been laid off. The remaining work includes connections to the existing system and clean-up. Nace added that the installation of new water meters will be a "priority item next year."

The commission agreed that a backhoe which was purchased for the project be put out to bid. Farmers Home Administration requires that the backhoe be sold before the project is closed out.

In other business, a group of citizens from the Table Rock area addressed the commission on the matter of the Gorman Water Project. Harold Uphole, Gary Wotring and Roy Zimmerman expressed that a survey conducted by that group showed that the majority of the residents from Alt House Curve to Table Rock, the extent of the survey, do not want the proposed water system.

The project is now in the planning stage. Tom Jones, director of the Garrett County Development Corporation, conducted at least one survey, including residents from Gorman to Table Rock, which showed that the majority of the people in that area are in favor of the project.

Body of Christ?

The Church of Jesus Christ is his body. Consider it this way. Jesus no longer walks the earth. He no longer reaches out his hand to feed . . . or heal . . . or teach.

But his work of feeding, teaching, healing is still being done through the people he calls together through baptism.

That's us. The Church is the Body of Christ . . . banded together to do the work of our Lord. That is the Gospel. It brings us together. It is our reason for being. You will be welcome to join us in partnership with Our Lord.

Would you like to know more of this confessional and ecumenical church? A cordial welcome will be yours.

The NOW Account

Interest on Checking

WHAT IS A NOW* ACCOUNT?

A NOW Account is a service that allows you to earn interest on checking deposits. A NOW Account operates just like a checking account. Except that you also earn interest.

If you now have a checking account with First National, there's no need to open a new account or order new checks. Simply sign up and you'll automatically start earning interest.

WHO MAY HAVE A NOW ACCOUNT?

Any individual, non-profit organization or sole proprietorship may legally have a NOW Account. Federal regulations prohibit other types of businesses from opening NOW Accounts. If you're unsure about your eligibility, please ask us.

SHOULD YOU COMBINE YOUR SAVINGS AND CHECKING DEPOSITS INTO A NOW ACCOUNT?

It really isn't necessary. Many people don't like to get their "savings funds" mixed up with their "spending funds." So we offer you a choice. Look over the "TWO WAYS to Qualify" and pick the option that best suits your situation. Either way, you'll earn interest on all your money.

There are lots of advantages to the NOW Account. But you must determine whether it's right for you. We'd like to help you make your decision.

TWO WAYS to Qualify

1. With Checking . . .

You may qualify for a FREE NOW Account by agreeing to maintain a daily balance of $1,000 or more in your First National checking account.

If your checking balance should fall below $1,000 anytime during the month you would continue to earn 5¼% interest, however, service fees would be assessed according to this schedule:

| Balance Level | Monthly Service Fee |
|---|---|
| $1,000 and above | No Charge |
| $ 500 to $999.99 | $4.00 |
| $ 0 to $499.99 | $5.00 |

This new service is specifically designed for customers who keep fairly large checking balances.

The NOW Account might be a very good way for you to increase your income. Let one of our professionals help you determine whether this new service is for you.

2. With Savings . . .

You may use your First National Passbook savings account balance to qualify for a FREE NOW Account. By agreeing to keep $2,000 or more in your Passbook savings account, you can avoid all monthly service fees, regardless of your NOW checking balance.

This unique feature is designed for those who prefer to keep most of their money in a savings account, while maintaining only a minimal amount in their checking account.

There's no need to move funds from one account to another. Just tell us which Passbook account you wish to use as a qualifier for your FREE NOW Account. It's that simple!

In this option your NOW Account combines the convenience of your checking account with the earning power of your savings account, without the mixing of funds. You continue to maintain two separate accounts.

There are lots of advantages to our NOW Account with this unique savings option. We'd like to help you evaluate your situation. May we serve you today?

*The term NOW stands for "negotiable order of withdrawal" . . . the legal term for a money instrument that's like a check. NOW Accounts are legally effective after December 31, 1980. Interest is computed on the minimum balance of the statement cycle, and is paid on each statement date.

Rams' Second Bid For Class C Title Dashed By Snow Hill Eagles, 32-14

For the second year in a row, the Southern High Rams' hopes of a state football title were dashed in the championship contest, as they fell to the Eagles of Snow Hill on the Eastern Shore Saturday afternoon, 32-14. The Rams provided a superior defensive effort in the first half and the Southern offense engineered two long drives, resulting in a 6-0 Ram lead at intermission. They also took advantage of an excellent kicking game in the first two quarters, which resulted in poor field position for Snow Hill.

The Yardstick

| Snow Hill | | Southern |
|---|---|---|
| 16 | Total First Downs | 8 |
| 10 | Attempted Passes | 11 |
| 7 | Completed Passes | 4 |
| 0 | Passes Intercepted | 2 |
| 99 | Yards on Passes | 47 |
| 2-1 | Fumbles-Lost | 2-0 |
| 5-65 | Penalties-Yards | 1-4 |
| 313 | Yards Rushing | 111 |
| 412 | Total Yards | 158 |

However, the Eagles switched game plans in the locker room, returned to the field and overpowered the Southern squad for most of the second half. The Eagles had made their way into the playoffs five out of the past six years, including the finals two previous seasons, however the win over the Rams was their first Class C state title.

Southern scored first in the contest, as senior tailback Paul Cornish capped a 48-yard drive with an eight-yard run around the right side with 9:34 remaining in the first half. The pass by quarterback Todd Lewis for the two-point conversion failed.

The Rams continued to keep Snow Hill in poor field position, utilizing the quick kick by Cornish on three occasions to get themselves out of poor position. The Rams' defensive game plan worked to perfection, stopping the Eagles on every option and misdirection play.

Late in the second quarter, the Rams achieved another drive downfield, and with just under two minutes to play, had a first down on the Eagles' 11-yard line. Snow Hill's defensive tightened, however, and with just 27 seconds remaining in the half, the Rams found themselves faced with a fourth and two at the three-yard line. During a timeout, Coach Tom Woods decided to attempt a field goal, but George Scheffel's kick was wide.

Snow Hill's first score came with 8:33 remaining in the third quarter when quarterback David Hall connected with tightend Maurice Ames on a 23-yard scoring toss. The kick for the extra point was partially blocked and went wide, thus the score was knotted at 6-6.

Moments later Hall displayed his defensive capabilities by picking off a Lewis pass and returning it to the Rams' 20-yard line. Snow Hill coach Mo Barber then called a halfback option play and senior halfback Eddie Johnson fired a 20-yard scoring pass to Hall. The run for the conversion failed.

The Rams were again unable to move the ball on the ensuing drive and were forced to punt. Snow Hill marched down the field and, when the third quarter ended, they had the ball on the Rams' one-yard line. The Eagles' fullback David Snead reached paydirt on the second play of the fourth quarter and Hall ran for the two-point conversion. This extended the Eagles' lead to 20-6.

Southern quarterback Matt Scheffel then managed to get the Rams' offensive unit rolling once again and engineered a 68-yard drive in three and one half minutes for the Rams' second score. The touchdown came on a fourth down and goal on the Eagles' six as Scheffel hit his brother, tightend George Scheffel, with a toss into the end zone. Cornish then ran for the two-pointer and the gap was closed to 20-14, with 7:50 left on the clock.

The rally by the Rams was short-lived, however, as Snow Hill took only two plays after the kickoff to score their fourth touchdown. The score came on a 55-yard run by Johnson. Once again, the conversion attempt failed.

Defensive back Trip Early put the icing on the cake for the Eagles when he picked off a Matt Scheffel pass with 5:40 remaining. The Eagles put the clock on their side and used all but 46 seconds of the time remaining to score a four-yard run by Johnson. The conversion attempt again failed.

Cornish, whose rushing average is well over 100 yards per game, was held to 76 yards on 17 carries, a statistic which Coach Barber felt weighed heavily in the Eagles' success.

Ron Bosley, the Rams' sophomore fullback who, as Cornish, exceeded the 1,000-yard mark this season, saw only limited action in the contest due to a slight shoulder separation which he suffered the week before against Linganore.

The leading rusher for Snow Hill, David Snead, was also held far below his average by the Southern defense, recording only 56 yards on 15 carries. Leading all rushers was Eddie Johnson, who raced for 160 yards on 17 carries. Hall, the Eagles' quarterback, accounted for 86 yards on 12 attempts, and completed six of nine passes.

Overall, Snow Hill racked up 412 offensive yards, nearly three times the Rams' total of 158.

"Our defensive plan worked to perfection during the first half" Woods stated. "We had two good offensive drives and our defense came through with several big plays. We weren't fooled by any of their offensive moves. The quick kicks by Paul (Cornish) were also a key factor to our success in the first half.

"However," he continued, "they totally changed their game plan in the second half and went to a conventional, power offense, with little misdirection. Man for man, they were bigger and stronger then we were and they simply outman-handled us. We lost to a very good team."

Woods said he was extremely pleased with the performance of second string quarterback Matt Scheffel. He said that Todd Lewis, the first string signal caller, was hindered by a two-week old thumb injury and, because of lack of practice, his timing was off. "Todd showed great character, though," Woods said. "He helped Matt along the sidelines all afternoon with tips and pointers."

Woods also said that Ron Bosley showed "tremendous courage" by playing with his shoulder injury. "Obviously, it, was impossible for him to be able to provide his usual performance," he said.

Woods hopes to return for another shot at the state title next season, as all coaches do, but his chances should be excellent, for the Rams will be losing only six seniors, one of whom, David Goldsborough, has been out for most of the season. Snow Hill, on the other hand, will be losing 25 senior ball players, most of them starters.

Losing the final game was tough enough for the Southern coach, now in his fourth year, however, he said perhaps the saddest thing for him is seeing six of his players whom he calls, "six of the most dedicated, courageous and outstanding seniors I have ever coached," ending their high school careers. He was referring to Paul Cornish, Kevin Flanagan, Mike Beard, George Scheffel, Wayne Scott and Dave Goldsborough. "This is the first group of boys that I have coached all the way from their freshman year. And although it's a small group, each one of them has contributed a great part in our success." The record of these six players in three years of ball at Southern is 26-8. Woods record is 30-14, with half of those losses coming in his first season.

In looking ahead to next season, Woods believe his greatest problem is one that has been present for a couple of years, namely, the average size of his players. "We need to increase our overall weight. In all the games we lost this year, our lack of physical size was a leading factor. We have strength, but we need mass," he said. Thus, Woods plans an intensive weight gaining program for his players throughout the winter months.

"Our injuries and lack of depth also contributed to our losses this year," Woods concluded.

The Rams finished the season with a 8-4 record.

Letters to the Editor

I would like to use this opportunity to wrap up our football season at Southern by thanking many of the people who made it a wonderful success.

First of all let me thank The Republican newspaper for allowing me this space. I would also like to thank Don Sincell and his staff for our coverage this season.

On behalf of the coaches and players I would like to praise the entire community for your thoughtfulness, support, financial aid and prayers during our campaign. You have been the most loyal and considerate fans a coach could ever want. From the first scrimmage at Petersburg to the state finals at Snow Hill the supporters of our program have traveled hundreds of miles and cheered us to a state runner-up.

I would especially like to thank the Southern Garrett Athletic Association members for their encouragement and support when we most needed it. Another group of men who continue to amaze me with their support is that of the staff of WXIE and WMSG. Without your innovations during the playoffs I am sure each young man would not have been as excited as they were.

I also thank the members of the Southern Highlander Marching Band for their support and outstanding halftime performances. A special thanks goes to the Garrett County Commissioners and Western Maryland Coal Association for their badly needed financial assistance to pay the many unexpected bills during the state playoffs.

My most grateful appreciation goes to those men and women who continually donate their professional services, their time, their patience, their resources and mostly their thoughtfulness to both our team and school.

Finally let me add that nobody was more saddened by our final loss than the 41 young men and coaches that comprise our team. However, our sadness was especially felt due to our disappointing the hundreds of fans who drove to Snow Hill in our support. Words can in no way explain the swelling of tears in our eyes as we watched car after car of "Rambling Red Ram Fans" loudly enter the field at Snow Hill. The memory of your support will long outlive the disappointment of our loss.

Tom Woods

GCC Opens With Win Over Alumni

The Garrett Community College Laker Basketball team opened its season Saturday with a 65-60 win over the GCC Alumni.

Jerome Hampton led five of the Lakers in double figures, netting 16 points on five goals and six for nine at the line. Northern alumnus Bill Bender added 11 points, while H. A. Savage, Roger Cornweel and Valin Yaw contributed ten.

Dennis Gibson and Mike Saturday each netted 17 points for the Alumni.

The Lakers were down 31-25 at the end of their first half. Coach Randy Hess said his team was "nervous and seemed to lack concentration" until after intermission. The score was tied several times in the second half and the Lakers went ahead to stay with about four minutes remaining.

Hampton also led in rebounding for the Lakers, pulling down eight, while Yaw and Savage each grabbed seven.

The Lakers do not play again until December 4, when they travel to Potomac State College in Keyser to take on the Catamounts. Hess said Potomac State lost several key people from last season, "but they are extremely quick. We are also quick and we have a slight height advantage. It should, as usual, be an exciting game."

Garrett defeated Potomac State two out of three games last season, with the opener ending in an overtime win for the Lakers.

GCC will then play five consecutive home games before the Christmas break.

Kitzmiller HUD Preapplication Set

The Town of Kitzmiller held its first public hearing last Thursday, regarding its submittal of a preapplication for a Housing and Urban Development Block Grant for the amount $244,000. If approved, the money will be used to decrease the local cost of water line construction. No opposition to the preapplication submittal was expressed at the meeting.

Wendell Keaton, Garrett County Municipal Coordinator, explained that Farmers Home Administration determined that the local share of the proposed water project is too great, and therefore it cannot presently approve the project. The present local share is $370,000, Keaton said, and the town is "optimistic" at this point that funds could be obtained from HUD to alleviate the town's burden.

A second public hearing will be held December 4 at the community building to announce the intent of the town to submit the preapplication, to answer any questions, and to describe eligibility requirements and HUD procedures. The preapplication must be submitted to HUD by December 15.

Special Registration Conditions At Garrett CC Are Explained

With pre-registration for Intercession and spring semester at Garrett Community College scheduled for next week, some special registration conditions have been brought to the attention of prospective students, according to a release from the college.

The first of these concerns registration for senior citizens, all those persons age 60 or over. Tuition has been waived for persons in this age group, making it possible for them to take any courses at the college by paying only $1.00 per credit hour. This practice has generally been adopted by all community colleges throughout the state in an effort to make pursuit of learning a realization for older Americans.

A second condition of registration is the possibility for a student to audit a course. In this situation, a student pays the usual tuition, but is not subject to the tests, examinations, projects, or other assignments required to receive credit in the course. The student may attend all classes, or as many as he or she wishes to attend, but is not required to do any of the assigned work. In this way, the student may partake of the learning experience as far as he or she desires, knowing that there will be no evaluation for a final grade in the course. This practice is designed to lessen the intimidation many part-time adult students feel about taking college courses.

Anyone desiring further information about registration procedures may call the Registar's Office at 387-6666.

Seminar Set In Hagerstown For Health Officials

A seminar on the "Psycho-Social Aspects of Client Care" will be held for persons involved in the delivery of long-term care in the four-county area of Garrett, Allegany, Washington and Frederick.

The one-day seminar, co-sponsored by the Western Maryland Review Organization and the Cumberland Area Health Education Center, will be held at the Sheraton Motor Inn, Hagerstown, on Thursday, December 4, from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. The featured speaker will be Sister Michael Sibille, D.C.

Sister Sibille is a licensed nursing home administrator and registered nurse with a B.S. from Louisiana State University. Currently, she is the Special Consultant for Long Term Care under the Louisiana Health and Human Resources Department. Sister Sibille has been recognized across the country for her educational programs. Her honors include: recipient of the 1971 Service Award from the Missouri Health Care Association; Woman of the Year, 1972, St. Louis; Government Liaison Award in 1973 from the Louisiana Health Care Association; National Better Life Award, 1974 from the American Health Care Association; Educator of the Year Award, 1977 from the Louisiana Health Care Association; 1979 - "Personalities of the South"; and a joint recipient of the ACNHA 1980 Educator of the Year Award.

CAC Explains Maryland Energy Assistance Plan

The Garrett County Community Action Committee will be accepting applications for the Maryland Energy Assistance Program beginning December 1, 1980.

Unlike last year, this year's program will provide assistance only for a household's primary heating source, according to the CAC. The program is designed to be a benefit program, not an emergency assistance program. The amount of assistance will be determined according to household size, income, and the type of fuel used for each eligible household. The program will send a payment to only the vendor, the household's primary heating source supplier, the CAC said.

Interested persons should not wait until they are out of fuel to apply for assistance, the CAC said, since there will be at least a two week wait before payment will be made to the heating source supplier.

Beginning December 1, interested persons may apply at the Community Action Energy Assistance Office at 360 West Liberty Street, Oakland. Persons applying must present proof of their total household income and their account number from their primary heating source supplier. Persons wishing additional information should call the Energy Assistance Office at 334-2151.

Maryland Poultry Meets The End For Holiday Table

By ROBERT F. BUCHANAN

BALTIMORE (UPI) — For more than 50,000 Maryland turkeys, there will be no escaping the blade of fate this Thanksgiving week.

Poultry farmers expect to slaughter a projected 103,000 turkeys in Maryland this year, more than half between last Sunday and Thanksgiving Day. That's down slightly from 118,000 in 1979.

Maryland is not a big turkey-raising state, and gets most of its Thanksgiving entrees from Minnesota, North Carolina and California, said Dr. Elton L. Johnson, a poultry science professor at the University of Maryland.

He said most of the corn and soybean feed shipped to the state goes into chicken production on the Eastern Shore, with only a handful left for turkey farmers.

It's a matter of taste, say farmers at Schramm's and Clauss's turkey farms, both in Pasadena in Anne Arundel County, when asked why they keep at it.

"I hope so," said Evelyn Schramm, when asked whether her farm's turkeys taste better than those imported "Butterball" or "Top Frost Butter Basted" birds that line local supermarket shelves.

The Schramm's will sell about 5,000 turkeys this Thanksgiving, down slightly from last year. The demand is still there. The problem is on the supply side.

"A pack of dogs got in here last spring and killed about 100 breeders," said Mrs. Schramm.

The Clausses have been somewhat more fortunate.

This year "herd" has done well on a mixture of high-protein, vitamin-enriched feed, and about 1,000 will delight the palates of turkey lovers as far away as Virginia, said Cindy Clauss.

You pay $1.20 per pound for toms and $1.25 for hens at the Clausses, slighty more than what the Schramms charges — $1.10 for toms and $1.20 for hens.

Both farms are charging more than last year, as are supermarkets around the state.

Ray Jerman Jr., operator of Jerman's IGA Foodliner in Gambrills, reports steady demand, with the price range (between 79 and 83 cents per pound) about holding even with last year. But that's the exception.

Safeway, for example, charged 69 cents a pound for turkeys 16 pounds and up last year. This year the same birds go for between 79 and 85 cents. A&P stores are charging between 99 cents and $1.19 a pound.

Baltimore Co. Senator Opposes Hospital Closing

OWINGS MILLS, Md. (UPI) — A Baltimore County legislator says he will introduce legislation to keep the Mount Wilson Center open, despite an order from Gov. Harry Hughes that the hospital for the chronically ill be closed to save money.

Sen. Melvin Steinberg, D-Baltimore County, said Tuesday he will sponsor a bill in the General Assembly that would keep the center open unless the state gives "compelling evidence" that it should be closed.

Steinberg was angry over Hughes's announcement earlier in the day that Mount Wilson would close in seven months to save $2.5 million as part of budget cuts for the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. Maryland is facing a $127 million budget deficit next year and the governor has ordered cuts in all departments.

Mount Wilson's 177 patients, many of whom are elderly, will be transferred to the state's other three hospitals used for care of the chronically ill.

A spokesman for Hughes said the decision to close the hospital was made Monday.

"The health department thought that even without the budget cuts, it made good management sense to close Mount Wilson. We already had four such facilities that were not being fully utilized," he said.

Joseph Berman, the deputy health secretary, said "money" was the only reason the hospital was being closed.

Maryland News Brief

More Of Us

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Maryland's population is up 6.9 percent over 1970, preliminary census figures indicated Tuesday.

The preliminary state total is 4,193,378, compared to 3,923,897 in 1970, the Bureau of the Census said. That is a growth of 269,481 in the 10-year period.

Final population totals are expected to be announced in early 1981, the bureau said.

Go Downtown

BALTIMORE (UPI) — The nation's second largest shopping mall developer wants to rebuild Baltimore's ailing retail district, city officials said Tuesday.

Melvin Simon and Associates of Indianapolis presented a $100 million redevelopment plan Monday, proposing to renovate a six-block central city area with between 1.5 million and 2.5 million square feet of office space.

The development plan is in direct competition with a plan proposed by a Los Angeles firm last month. David Murdock Development Corp.'s proposal was almost identical to the Simon proposal.

Carroll Co. Wells

WESTMINSTER, Md. (UPI) — Developers of large subdivisions in Carroll County will have to test well water for contamination, health officials said Tuesday.

The new regulation, which goes into effect Wednesday, calls for developers to drill one test well for every 25 acres of development and examine bacteria, pH and alkaline levels and test for nitrates and nitrogen.

The health rule allows the developers to pass the cost of the tests along to homeowners. It came because of test results in 1979 that showed high levels of bateria in Carroll County water.

Suspect Hunted

ELLICOTT CITY, Md. (UPI) — A hunt for a second suspect in a murder of a 37-year-old woman has been launched by Howard County police, authorities said Tuesday.

The woman, Paulette Lintner, was stabbed repeatedly in the neck at her Ellicott City home Saturday. The home was ransacked and burglarized, police said.

A Baltimore man, Emerson Baxter, 19, was arrested Sunday, but the search was on for a second suspect, a man police say was identified by a bloody fingerprint inside the home.

Checks Held Up

TOWSON, Md. (UPI) — Financial aid checks for 1,200 Towson State University students have been delayed because of a computer error, university officials said

The error tied up $100,000 in funds that students should have received by the end of October. Some students will now have to wait until next month to get their checks.

About 35 percent of Towson's 14,116 students receive some form of financial aid.

Why America Gives Thanks

By United Press International

Thanksgiving? It's the day Americans give thanks for winning the Civil War by cruising in their cars with pumpkins on their heads before sitting down to feast on bread and wine. Or steak.

Or so UPI reporters around the world were told. They also were informed Americans arranged the day to mark Ronald Reagan's presidential victory and to remember the gods that made them so fabulously rich.

Several saw a connection with harvest festivals but many confused Thanksgiving with Halloween. Russians appeared to be the best informed, but almost nobody knew of the Pilgrims and American Indians joining in the first recorded joint Thanksgiving in the autumn of 1621.

"Indians?" asked a puzzled Hong Kong school teacher. "What do Indians have to do with Thanksgiving? Indians eat curry. Whoever heard of curried turkey?"

An 8-year-old, pig-tailed Indian, Kapila Nayer from New Delhi, had her own version. "It is when Americans pray to their gods because they got so rich."

Her brother, Ram, said Americans gave thanks "for plenty of sweets and TV games."

Christina Longhi, 12, of Treviso, Italy, said, "The Americans thank God for living so well. They eat a lot of food and they all put pumpkins on their heads."

Alfredo Marello, 57, a cafe owner near the Trevi fountain in Rome, heard about the holiday from cousins in America.

"They are giving thanks for winning the Civil War," Marello said.

A 10-year-old Helsinki boy, Esko Kankuri, said he had never heard of Thanksgiving, "but I think they are giving thanks that Reagan was elected president. Maybe they are also thanking God."

Jean-Yves Bizet, a radio producer in Paris, said, "Thanksgiving is the anniversary of the foundation of the federation of the United States."

The question, What is Thanksgiving Day? was put to a class of 12-year-olds at the Morpeth Comprehensive School in London's East End.

"It's Christmas, sir," said Louis Kavallier.

Classmate Catherine Marshall disagreed, "It is a remembrance day of the soldiers."

"Everybody puts together food and sends it to the poor people," said Mary Murphy, but Perry Sparks came closer, "It's a harvest festival, sir."

What do Americans eat? — "They eat bread and wine, sir."

Said Victoria James, 10, of London, "You give people presents. Then you say thank you for them, I suppose."

In Peking, Lin Yuyi, 11, was asked what Americans did on the holiday.

"They ride around in their motor cars."

What sort of food did they eat?

"Steak."

The replies of Chinese adults reflected their long isolation.

"Is it some kind of worship?" asked Shen Puiling, 46, the rotund proprietress of a food-stall. Told about turkey, she asked incredulously, "Do they actually like it? I don't. Too tough."

One who did know about Thanksgiving was Natasha Petrovskaya, 22, of Moscow.

"I read about it in a wonderful O. Henry story. It's an American tradition. People do good deeds for others and are thankful for it. They invite people over and eat well."

Another Muscovite, Boris Novchenko, 38, said, "It is one of the most popular holidays, recalling the time of the first settlers and giving charity to the poor. The Americans go to church and go home. Then the revelry begins."

Marja-Terttu Merilouto, a 58-year-old Finn, hadn't heard of the holiday but said, "When it is question of Americans, I think there must be something like a carnival."

"Isn't it something like Christmas?" asked Hilka Hartmann, a Hamburg secretary. "People give each other presents and eat — what is it — goose?"

London fireman Len Pascall said, "I know they eat turkey and that's about all. But I'm afraid we're somewhat insular here."

"Alien" Substance On Florida Coast

ORMOND BEACH, Fla. (UPI) — An "alien" substance in the misty sea air has nauseated beach-goers and residents and killed dozens of seagulls and other birds along a 45-mile stretch of Florida's east coast during the past week.

Scientists are puzzled by the source of the colorless, odorless substance, which causes stinging eyes, scratchy throats, coughing fits and nausea.

No one has been hospitalized as a result, but Volusia County Health Department Director Dr. Hubert King said Tuesday hundreds of people between Flagler Beach and New Smyrna Beach have experienced temporary discomfort since the problem was first reported Nov. 17.

King said Audubon Society members found "several dozen dead birds, primarily seagulls, a heron or two and some sandpipers" Sunday in New Smyrna Beach near the area where residents have complained of the hay-fever-like symptoms.

So far, scientists are baffled and say they have no idea what killed the birds or what the substance is except that it is some kind of "particulate or gaseous" matter.

"We are looking at air pollution per se — industrial, chemical or natural matter of some type," King said.

"It's totally alien," said Chuck McPherson, a scientist with the federal Environmental Protection Agency in Atlanta.

One dead seagull will be shipped to either the Florida Department of Environmental Regulation or the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta for testing.

Volusia County Environmental Health Director Frank Landrove and McPherson, the EPA scientist, went to Ormond Beach Tuesday to test the air.

Like people on Flagler Beach last week and New Smyrna Beach and Daytona Beach Shores over the weekend, they experienced coughing, burning eyes and the other symptoms. "When we got two blocks away, the coughing stopped," said Landrove.

King said Landrove's experience appeared to be common — symptoms disappear rapidly once a person moves inside and closes the windows or moves away from the water.

Metro Food Bills Increase Posted

By BRUCE OLSON

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Paced by increases in bakery goods, food prices in the Baltimore metropolitan area rose by 0.2 percent in October for a total increase of 11.7 percent in the past year, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said Tuesday.

Groceries that cost $10 in 1967 now cost Baltimore consumers $26.27.

Nationally, October food prices rose 0.8 percent, although the prices of beef, fresh fruits and vegetables fell.

Fresh fruits and vegetables in the Baltimore area were also down, by 3.3 percent from September.

Increases in the price of bread, donuts and sweet rolls helped the bakery category lead the way with an increase of 1.6 percent for October. Dairy products were up 1.4 percent and meats rose 1.1 percent.

The increases in bakery goods came at a time when bakers were gearing up for the holiday rush.

Kathleen Monaghan, the sixth generation of her family to own Arthur's Bakery in Baltimore, said she had been forced to make hefty price increases twice in the last year because of the cost of sugar.

She said a 100-pound bag of sugar that cost $44 in September was up to $50 in October and up again to $55.50 in November.

"When I worked for my father in 1956, a large fruit pie cost 60 cents. That same pie cost $1.39 last year, then it went up to $1.59 last summer and is now it's $1.89. I use no fake anything in my pies, but the price of sugar and shortening is killing me."

She said the bakery has been operating for 148 years in Baltimore, many of them at the same location across the street from the Lexington Market. She said her loyal customers were the people keeping her in business.

"People come in her for quality. Sometimes I'll get four generations of the same family in here the same day.

"The prices are constantly acting like a yo-yo. I can't raise the price three or four cents every week, so I hold them down as long as I can then give them a good jump. The customers don't get so edgy that way."

She said several other bakeries in the area have gone out of business because of the recent rise in sugar and shortening prices.

"And you have to blame the automated bakers, too. There are very few real bakers left. Most bakers just stand in front of a machine and push a button. You can buy a mix for everything now."

Mrs. Monaghan said, however, she had no plans to give up the business started by her family in 1832.

"I keep my prices a few cents lower than the competition. It has become a lot harder the past few years, but somehow you manage. And if people like the product they'll come back."

Iran's Reply

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. officials expect it will require several days of intense discussions to produce the "clarifications" Iran has demanded in the cumbersome dialogue that has developed in the hostage crisis.

An Iranian message, apparently asking for specific actions the United States will take to fulfill Iran's four conditions, was brought to Washington Tuesday by an Algerian delegation.

California Fires

(UPI) — Blustery winds fanning uncontrolled blazes through parched Southern California brush and timber for the past three days began to diminish today.

Eight separate fires have so far burned more than 50,000 acres and damaged or destroyed more than 500 homes. Four people died in the fires.

Driver Charged

KENNER, La. (UPI) — Negligent homicide charges will be filed against the driver of a gasoline truck that failed to beat a train through a railroad crossing and triggered an explosion that killed at least seven persons, police said.

The driver was being held in city jail and it was expected charges would be filed later in the day, the spokesman said. Police would not release the man's name.

The collision set off explosions Tuesday night that hurled a shower of fire into idling cars and a crowded corner bar. An infant and at least six other people were killed.

Gang Of Four

PEKING (UPI) — Mao Tse-tung's widow, Jiang Qing, star defendant in China's Gang of Four trial, stood defiant in a caged-in dock for an hour today charged with plotting character assassination of the late Premier Chou En-lai.

Jiang, 67, reportedly was composed during the session, and used her drama skills from her days as a Shanghai movie actress in the 1930s during her verbal sparring with the interrogator.

Quake Victims

NAPLES, Italy (UPI) — Tens of thousands of survivors of Italy's earthquake, which killed more than 3,000, slept in fields and tent cities for the third night.

At least seven towns reported more than 100 dead — Sant'Angelo dei Lombardo, Lioni, San Mango sul Calore and Teora, Laviano, Potenza and Balvano.

Dietary Therapy Vital To Diabetics

Editor's note: The following is another in a series of articles about diabetes, published in conjunction with November's designation as National Diabetes Month.

Diabetes is a metabolic disorder characterized by decreased ability, or complete inability, of the body to properly utilize carbohydrates. Carbohydrates are normally broken down within the body in the form of glucose, the body's main source of energy. Insulin, a hormone produced in the pancreas, is essential for the conversion of glucose into energy. In the diabetic, there is insufficient production of insulin and therefore glucose cannot be converted to energy, but instead accumulates in the blood resulting in various symptoms affecting one's health and wellbeing.

Although the current availability of several insulins with various durations of action and the oral hypoglycemic compounds give a significant contribution to the welfare of the diabetic person, proper dietary management still remains the most important factor in the practical treatment of diabetes. Dietary therapy for the diabetic has two main goals: (1) to provide in proper quantities and at regular intervals that food, especially carbohydrates, which meets the metabolic needs of the diabetic; (2) to maintain the diabetic at a body weight that is considered the ideal body weight for that person. For a large percentage of maturity-onset diabetics, it is possible to control blood sugar by diet alone. Though the secretion of insulin is diminished, there is enough to take care of dietary needs. Other diabetic patients need specific food restrictions plus the administration of insulin or an oral hypoglycemic agent.

The diet for the diabetic is expressed in terms of his/her total requirement of calories, and a ratio of these calories in grams of carbohydrates, protein and fat. Calorie specifications are based on ideal weight, with allowances for physical activity or added stress, such as growth. If the patient is obese, as many adult diabetics are, then the diet prescription would indicate a sufficient reduction in calories to effect a gradual weight loss (no more than 1200 to 1500 calories per day). If the patient is a fast-growing, lean, adolescent boy, the calories may need to be as high as 4000.

An accepted system in the realistic approach to the dietary management of diabetes has been formulated by the American Diabetes Association and The American Diabetic Association. In this system, foods commonly used are grouped according to like nutrient composition and called "Food Exchange Groups." Six food groups are listed: milk, vegetables, fruit, bread, meat, and fat. Within any one group, food items can be freely exchanged, since all foods in that group, in the portion indicated, are of approximately the same food value. Once one's caloric level has been determined, the exchange lists are used to plan meal patterns for each patient.

There has been much investigation done in recent years on diet therapy. One of the new concepts worth mentioning is the new theory that emphasizes a relatively high carbohydrate, low fat diet as well as restricting refined sugar intake. High fiber carbohydrates are also increased. This theory has been used successfully and is becoming more popular in health care facilities.

No matter which diet therapy concept is used, there are a few general rules that should always be followed: food should be measured. A standared 8 oz. measuring cup and teaspoon and tablespoon will be needed. Cooked foods are measured after being cooked. Meats should be baked, boiled, roasted or broiled. Foods should not be fried unless fat allowed in meal is used. The diet should be selected from the same foods purchased for the rest of the family—milk, vegetables, bread, meats, fats and fruit. Many special dietetic food should not be used unless they are figured in the diet plan. The labels of these foods should always be checked for protein, carbohydrate, fat and calorie content. Concentrated sweets should be avoided along with alcoholic beverages, unless permitted by the physician. Meals should be eaten about the same time every day. Only the amounts given on the diet plan may be eaten. The patient should not skip meals.

In summary, the fundamental principles of the diet for an individual diabetic patient may be stated simply. It is always based upon the normal nutritional needs of that patient. His/her diet is expressed in terms of his total requirement of calories, and a ratio of these calories in grams of carbohydrate protein and fat. The diet is the most important factor in the control of diabetes, but is closely interrelated with insulin and exercise in that control.

To Be Thankful

It used to be that a picture like this could only mean harvest time — big orange pumpkins, shiny red apples, colorful stalks of Indian corn. And, of course, a turkey in the pantry.

But what about today? You can buy apples almost any time. Pumpkins are available in a can twelve months of the year. And you can buy a frozen turkey as easily in July as in November.

We Americans take for granted what was a real treat in our parent's time. But in the midst of this material plenty, there is a danger of spiritual famine. To keep the proper perspective, to appreciate the gifts of life to the fullest we need the Church and the story it has to tell us.

Maybe you can't be a pioneer — a Pilgrim. But you can follow your forefathers' example at Plymouth that first November. You can utter genuine thanks in the church or synagogue of your choice.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

ON A CLEAR DAY...

November 30, 1980

Background Scripture:
Revelation 11:15-19; 21.
Devotional Reading:
Isaiah 11:1-9.

A few months ago I stood in the cave — now a tiny chapel — where, it is believed, John wrote the great Apocalypse, the Book of Revelation. A Greek Orthodox monk showed Valere and me the place where John knelt in prayer, the crack in the ceiling through which, according to tradition he heard the voice while "in the Spirit", and the writing-stand where his disciple Prochoros took down dictation from him to write the revelation he was receiving.

Rev. Althouse

A little pamphlet the monk gave us reads:

Dear visitor,

Your coming to this holy place is not a chance event in your life. God, who "wishes all men to be saved and to come to a knowledge of the truth" (1 Tim. 2:4), who directs all things for man's spiritual benefit, has guided you here for you to listen, deep within yourself, to the secret echo of the words that were spoken to St. John and to the seven Churches of Asia Minor. . .

FLASHES OF LIGHTNING

I agree. I have visited many "holy" places and shrines throughout the world, but seldom have I been so moved as I was in this tiny chapel. There was nothing exceptionally beautiful about the chapel, but there was an indefinable feeling there of God's presence. On the ceiling is a large crack, a fissure, it is believed, caused by "exceptional physical and supranatural phenomena that accompanied the vision," quoting Evthymios Koutsanellos, Superior of the Holy Cave of the Apocalypse. John himself speaks of the power with which the revelation came to him:

Then God's temple in heaven was opened and the ark of his covenant was seen within his temple; and there were flashes of lightning, loud noises, peals of thunder, an earthquake, and heavy hail. (Rev. 11:19).

Well, I heard no thunder, saw no lightning, and felt no earthquakes, but I did feel a quickening of the Spirit within me. The message of Revelation thundered inside me: Though the nations rage, God is in charge and the kingdom of the New covenant will be victorious in his own good time — so keep the faith.

SEEING THE HOLY CITY

John had been banished to the tiny, remote island of Patmos because of his effectiveness for Christ in Ephesus. But his punishment became an opportunity as, one by one, he converted the people of Patmos to Christ. And it was in this place of banishment that on a "clear day" of God's Holy Spirit John was able to see clear through to the holy city of New Jerusalem which was still to come.

For a few moments I too was granted a "clear day" to see beyond the present to the fulfillment of God's covenant, promised from the beginning in Abraham, manifest in Jesus Christ, and still firmly in the grasp of an omnipotent and loving God.

Board Of Education Announces New Policies On Attendance

Editor's Note: The following article from the Board of Education has been submitted as an aid to understanding the general statements now made for the Garrett County School System in regard to the attendance policy as part of the new total discipline policy.

One of the major areas of concern in our school community is the area of student attendance and how it relates to success in school. It is admitted that a desire to attend or like school cannot be forced upon a student by legislation or policies. Only when the school offers a course taught in a meaningful manner, when the school staff understands and respects the needs of the students, and when there is parent and student support for the educational objectives being promoted by the school, can we hope to be successful in our attempts.

After long and careful consideration the following general statements are made for the Garrett County School System:

1. There shall be a direct relationship between attendance and success in school.

2. Each school staff shall encourage and develop a positive attitude on the part of students for regular and prompt attendance.

3. It shall be the responsibility of each school staff to provide a meaningful school program and to attempt to insure a profitable experience for each student.

4. It shall be the student's responsibility to attend school every school day except for legitimate reasons as recognized by the school. Students should take full advantage of this educational opportunity and work toward career goals.

5. It shall be the responsibility of the parent and/or student to provide the school with a written reason for each absence.

6. It shall be the responsibility of the school staff and support personnel to provide attention to any student who has been absent excessively.

The following guidelines are hereby established or reaffirmed:

1. All individuals who are five years old or older and under 21 and/or any individual who comes under any other status of the State of Maryland, shall be admitted free of charge to the public schools of this county.

2. Who must attend. — Each child who resides in the county and is 6 years old or older and under 16 shall attend a public school regularly during the entire school year unless the child is otherwise receiving regular, thorough instruction during the school year in the studies usually taught in the public schools to children of the same age and/or in accordance with Maryland Laws and By-Laws.

3. Duty of parent or guardian. — Each person who has under his control a child who is 6 years old or older and under 16 shall see that the child attends school or received instruction as required by this section.

4. Age at entrance. — Every child admitted to the first grade in a public elementary school in Garrett County shall be at least 6 years old on or before December 31 of the year in which he applies for entrance.

5. The Maryland State Department of Education mandates that every school system in the state maintain a system of continuous enrollment for all students. This means that students continuing in Garrett County Schools, as well as those who registered during the kindergarten/first grade registration period and during the summer should be accounted for from the first day of school in each school year and should be marked absent until they come to school, if they enter before the end of September. If a student does not report prior to the end of September, he/she is considered a summer withdrawal and his/her name is forwarded to the Department of Pupil Services for appropriate follow-up.

6. A parent should make every attempt to send an absence note on the day of the student's return. The school will permit a three (3) day grace period in which to receive the absence note. After that time, the absence may be considered unexcused.

7. In addition to notifying parents when a student is truant or otherwise unlawfully absent, the school administration will notify the parents of any student who has accumulated five (5) days of unexcused absences and will request the assistance of the Department of Pupil Services.

In setting forth procedures which are intended to effectively address problems relating to absenteeism, we have attempted to look at the developmental stages unique to elementary, middle, and high school students, the incidence of absenteeism at the various levels, and the nature of the school programs.

Lawful Causes

Code 01 Death in the immediate family — certified by family.

Code 02 Illness of child — certified by a doctor or dentist.

Code 03 Quarantine — by order of the local State Board of Health and certified by a doctor.

Code 04 Court Summons — certified by court.

Code 07 Violent storms — determination made by the school.

Code 08 Work or activity accepted by school authorities as reason for excusing pupil — authorized by principal prior to absence.

Code 09 Observance of religious holiday — certified by parent.

Code 10 State emergency — certified by Superintendent.

Other Causes

Code 11 Indifference of parents.

Code 12 Indifference of pupil.

Code 13 Uncertified illness of pupil.

Code 14 Illness in family.

Code 15 Poverty.

Code 16 Illegal employment.

Code 17 Truancy.

Code 18 Suspension.

Code 19 Lack of authorized transportation.

Code 20 Student Travel — prior application made by parents to principal.

Elementary School
(Kindergarten — 5th Grade)

1. Parents of pupils who have missed 20% of the days during a given register period should be notified by the school administration concerning the effects of the absenteeism on the student's academic progress.

2. The recurrence of excessive absenteeism should be reported to the Department of Pupil Services for possible intervention or alternatives for the student's educational program.

3. Once a student's absenteeism has reached the 20% level, it should be monitored regularly.

4. The level of absenteeism is only one of several factors which must be considered when deciding between promoting or retaining an elementary student.

Sarbanes Expresses Concern About Hazards Of Nuclear Water Discharge

Senator Paul S. Sarbanes has expressed grave concern about the potential hazards of discharging radioactive water from the Three Mile Island nuclear plant into the Susquehanna River and the Chesapeake Bay.

In testimony submitted to a public hearing in Baltimore on the Three Mile Island clean-up effort, Senator Sarbanes urged the Nuclear Regulatory Commission to undertake a complete analysis of the environmental effects and costs of all options for disposing of the contaminated water now contained within the damaged nuclear plant.

The public hearing was held in response to a request which Senator Sarbanes submitted to Nuclear Regulatory Commission Chairman John F. Ahearne. The Senator asked that the Commission allow concerned citizens and public officials the opportunity to question commissioners and staff on the clean-up process, and on the Three Mile Island Draft Programmatic Environmental Impact Study now in preparation.

Senator Sarbanes said in remarks submitted to the Commission hearing:

"I remain concerned about the adequacy of the environmental assessment of the various disposal options for the contaminated water now being held at Three Mile Island. Release of this water into the Susquehanna River and thus into the Chesapeake Bay is clearly fraught with serious negative environmental consequences.

"The Chesapeake Bay is one of our nation's preeminent estuaries upon which Marylanders depend in a number of important ways. The Susquehanna River provides the greatest amount of fresh water for this huge estuary system, as well as drinking water for a substantial number of Marylanders. Under no circumstances can the integrity of the River, as a source of drinking water, or the Bay and its seafood products be compromised. Consequently I take strong issue with the draft Environmental Impact Study downplaying the effect of the release of the processed water on the Bay."

The Senator called also for continuing public involvement in the study process.

"It is my understanding," he said, "that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission plans to complete the final study by early 1981. While the public comment period on the draft study will end shortly it is my strong view that the Commission should actively continue to seek public participation in the clean-up decision-making process. The serious nature of the Three Mile Island accident and of the consequences of any clean-up activity require the opportunity for further public comment before a final decision is made on any of the various clean-up options. Maryland citizens, given their proximity to Three Mile Island and the possible consequences for our enviroment, are entitled to no less."

The Sarbanes statement was the latest in a series of actions that the Senator has taken in his active monitoring of the status of the Three Mile Island plant. Since the nuclear accident, Senator Sarbanes has continually pressed Commission officials to assure that Maryland will not be adversely affected by the measures taken in the clean-up process, and to maintain open lines of communication between the Commission and the public.

Route 40 Trail Blazers Hold Monthly Meeting

The Route 40 Trail Blazers held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, November 18.

The group voted to hold a Christmas party for the December 16 meeting. Each person attending is to bring a $2.00 jingle gift. Refreshments will be provided by Steve Malone, Betty and Ida Faidley, and Sandy Valentine.

Project folders were distributed, and Sandy Valentine and Chad Malone discussed recent projects they had taken part in.

Discussions were held concerning upcoming projects for November and December, as reported by Stacey Malone.

November Is Designated National Epilepsy Month

Members of the Epilepsy Association of Maryland join the Epilepsy Foundation of America officials in calling for expanded prevention efforts during November, National Epilepsy Month. The organization is seeking to involve the public in the prevention of the consequences of epilepsy, as well as the reduction of new cases that develop each year.

According to executive director, Carol Mallonee, "Solutions to many of the problems associated with epilepsy depend to a great extent upon the awareness and goodwill of the public. Diagnosis and medical treatment has improved dramatically in recent years. We are anxious to see similar progress on the social front.

"It isn't enough to create awareness that anyone can get epilepsy at anytime", she said. "It is essential that more individuals become aware of the symptoms of the more subtle forms of epilepsy. Parents, school personnel and day care workers should be especially familiar with these early signs of the disorder".

Broader public understanding is important, Ms. Mallonee said, to what she called "secondary" prevention. Early detection can mean that medical care will be more effective. It also provides a better opportunity for prevention of educational and emotional problems that sometime result from failure to recognize the basic medical problem.

Secondary prevention in adults includes seeking an end to the stereotyping and discrimination that leads to an exceedingly high rate of unemployment among workers with epilepsy. According to epilepsy officials, the unemployment rate among employable workers with the condition is two to three times the national average. As a result, both national and local epilepsy representatives are calling for a special effort on the part of employers to hire persons with epilepsy during Epilepsy Month.

Information about epilepsy, including several new pamphlets for patients and parents, can be obtained by contacting the Epilepsy Association of Maryland, 3121 St. Paul Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21218; (301) 243-4811.

Kathryn Moon Weds John Criss In September 14 Ceremony

Kathryn Marie Moon and John Wesley Criss, Jr., were united in marriage on September 14 at the Crellin United Brethren Church. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Kenneth Rice, assisted by Rev. Charles Teets.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester F. Moon, Oakland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wesley Criss, Sr., also of Oakland.

Wedding music was provided by Beckie Cosner, and vocal selection were offered by Joe DiSimone.

Given in marriage by her parents, and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride chose a gown of Chantilly lace, featuring a bodice of sequins trimmed with lace and seed pearls. The gown featured organza Shepherdess sleeves with lace cuffs and caps. The skirt was Chantilly lace with organza pleating, which swept to a chapel train.

A crown headpiece of matching lace held a chapel-length mantilla of lace-edged bridal illusion. The bride carried a pastel bouquet of pompons and baby's breath.

Bonnie Lewis, a friend of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a winter white gown accented with orange seed pearls and blue ribbon around the waistline. She also carried a colonial nosegay of pastel button pompons and baby's breath.

Jan Slaubaugh, friend of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She chose a pastel blue gown, and carried a colonial nosegay similar to the bride's.

Flower girls were Tamera Kelly, who wore a white gown trimmed in blue and Mary Dee Bolden, who chose a pastel pink gown. Each carried a colonial nosegay identical to those of the bride's attendants.

Leslie Moon, sister of the bride, and Janey Criss, niece of the groom, assisted with the bride's train. Leslie's gown was pastel blue, trimmed with lace; Janey chose a yellow gown accented with a matching shawl. Each wore corsages of white silk roses.

The groom chose a dark blue suit, and wore a white carnation boutonniere. Phillip Criss, brother of the groom, served as best man. David Moon and Mike Moon, brothers of the bride and Dick Criss, brother of the groom, served as ushers.

Scott Moon, brother of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a green suit with a white carnation boutonniere, and carried a satin pillow.

The bride's mother chose a pale green gown, accented with floral trim. The groom's mother chose a multi-colored print dress, and each wore corsages of white silk roses.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Crellin Community Building.

The four-tiered wedding cake, baked by Leota Martin, featured a miniature bride and groom, and was trimmed with pastel flowers. Betty Criss, sister-in-law of the groom, served the guests, assisted by Valerie Lewis. Mrs. Jenny Law registered those in attendance.

Following the reception, the bride's mother hosted an additional reception at her home.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Canada and Niagara Falls. They now reside in Oakland.

Marriage License Applicants Total 12 In Past Week

The office of the clerk of Garrett County Circuit Court reports a total of 12 marriage license applicants for the week of November 17. One couple asked that their name not be published.

Larry Douglas Taylor, 20, Newburg, W. Va., and Caroline Renee Pysell, 17, Tunnelton, W. Va.

Randy Scott Hoover, 22, and Cheryl Ann Stiffey, 20, both of Meyersdale, Pa.

Correction To A Correction

It's said that into every engaged or newly-married couple's life, a little rain must fall; however, a couple from Turner Douglas, W. Va., seem to be standing in the midst of a tropical downpour just attempting to announce the application of their marriage license secured during the week of November 3.

To set the record "perfectly straight", Paul Junior Workman, 35, and Barbara Connie Murphy, 26, both of Turner Douglas, W. Va., applied for a license to be married through the office of the clerk of Garrett County Circuit Court.

In an attempt to report this bit of information, we've managed to perpetrate two separate errors in as many weeks concerning the spelling of Ms. Murphy's name and the couple's address.

We equally regret both.

WHICH IMPROVEMENTS MAKE SENSE?

How much money should you put into improving your home? As much as you can afford IF you are doing it for your own enjoyment and don't plan to move for a long time. However, if you plan to make major improvements in order to get a better price when you sell, it often is economically unwise. Seldom do such improvements bring more than fifty cents on the dollar spent to make them. And all bets are off if you overvalue your house in relation to other houses in the neighborhood. An old real estate axiom says, in effect, that few people will spend $80,000 for a house in a $60,000 neighborhood. That's virtually true regardless of how large or good a house it may be.

The addition of an extra bedroom, inground swimming pool or central air conditioning, will increase the value of your home. But usually at a fraction of the cost. About the only money you should spend on a house to sell it at a higher price is for repairs and decorating that are obviously needed to put your best foot forward.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone one of our offices:

Events Above The Mountaintop

Nov. 26-Dec. 2 1980
Paul S. Frank, Jr.

PLANETARY APPULSE

This is a close approach of a star and a planet as seen from the Earth. If the planet passes directly between the observer and the star, the appulse is called an occulation. There were 40 predicted occulations this year, eight of which were visible through a telescope from North America.

MOON

Saturday at 4:59 a.m., the Moon will pass through its Last Quarter phase. At this time the Moon will be 90 degrees west of the Sun as seen from the Earth. Moonrise will be at 9:34 tonight. Moonrise next Tuesday will be at 2:25 a.m.

The Moon will be at apogee on Tuesday. This greatest distance between the Moon and Earth will be 405,641 kilometers (252,108 miles).

VISIBLE PLANETS

Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, and Saturn will be visible this week. Mercury will be visible for a few minutes before sunrise, low in the southeast. Venus, also low in the southeast, will rise about three hours before the Sun. Jupiter and Saturn rise about midnight. They will be among the stars of Virgo. Mars will be above the southwest horizon for about 2 hours after sunset. It will be among the stars of Sagittarius.

DAYLIGHT DECREASES

By the end of the week, Tuesday, there will be 8 minutes less daylight than there will be today. Sunrise was at 7:13 this morning. Sunset will be at 4:56 this evening. Next Tuesday, the Sun will rise at 7:20 a.m. It will set at 4:55 p.m. There will be 9 hours 35 minutes of daylight next Tuesday.

Today is the 331st day of this year. The Sun will follow the same path today that it followed last January 16th.

ASC Committee Local Election Now Underway

The slates of nominees for the upcoming ASC Committee election have been developed, announces Cecil L. Kight, chairperson of the Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee. The ASC Community Committee election will continue until December 1, 1980 by mail ballot. Farmers will be voting in seven communities for new committeepersons.

"Farmers should elect those individuals they feel would do a good job as a member of the ASC Committee. The election of concerned farmers is essential to the administration of farm programs," Kight said.

Eligible ASC voters will receive a ballot in the mail with instructions on how to vote. They should mail the voted ballot in the special reply envelope before December 1, 1980. Ballots are to be counted on December 3 at the county office in Oakland.

Crop Reporting Service Will Conduct Survey

The Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service will conduct a survey in late November and early December to develop current estimates of planted wheat and rye acreage, number of hogs and farrowing plans and cattle inventory.

The estimates will be based on survey results from mail questionnaires returned by producers, telephone and personal interviews with farmers. A substantial survey response improves the reliability of the data. The estimates form the basic for decisions by farmers in making production, storage and marketing plans. Reports on hogs and wheat will be released on December 23; Cattle inventory will be issued in late January 1981.

Survey results are available by calling Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service Office at (301) 344-2795. For more details, contact: M. Bruce West, Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service, P. O. Box AG, College Park, MD 20740.

Maryland Buys Recycled Paper

The State of Maryland, the national leader in the purchase of recycled paper, has just purchased 120,000 reams of recycled bond paper for use by State and local agencies. This purchase, by the Maryland Department of General Services, will use approximately 300 tons of waste paper which would otherwise have been landfilled, and will conserve about 16 billion BTU's, or enough home heating oil for about 114 homes a year.

In addition, the Department has purchased 8,500 cases of 100% recycled paper towels and 25,000 corrugated boxes for use by the State agencies. These purchases have saved an additional 5 billion BTU's, or enough home heating oil for an additional 36 homes a year. These purchases have not hurt competition; several companies bid on each of the products.

Due to the efforts of the Department of General Services and the Maryland Energy Office, the state of Maryland and its local governments have purchased $3,310,942 worth of recycled paper products since the program began, saving 207 billion BTU's, or enough energy to heat 1,478 homes for a year. The program also saved $17,000 over the cost of virgin paper products.

Safety Group Issues Book On Tire Care

A new consumer booklet on tire care, the updated tips for better mileage and safety, has been issued by the Tire Industry Safety Council.

"This new booklet contains useful information that will help you maintain your tires for maximum safety and economy," said Council Chairman Malcolm R. Lovell, Jr.

The 12-page booklet entitled, "Five Keys To Better Tire Mileage & Safety," stresses five essential areas of tire care. They are:

Proper inflation, regular inspection, good driving habits, replacement in time, and correct alignment and balance.

It also contains a diagram showing recommended tire rotation patterns for radial ply as well as diagonal (bias) and belted bias tires.

A free copy of the new pamphlet may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed, business-sized envelope to "Keys" Tire Industry Safety Council, Box 1801, Washington, D. C. 20013.

Lovell noted that the most important operation in tire care is proper inflation. "Check your tires at least once a month and before every long trip just as you check gasoline and oil," Lovell advised.

An underinflated tire, Lovell said, not only causes excessive tire wear and increases the chances of an accident but it also wastes gasoline.

"Properly maintained tires can increase gasoline mileage by up to three percent," Lovell said.

Farm Production Costs Are Noted

Farm production expenditures during 1979 in the Northeast, which includes Maryland and Delaware, totaled nearly $14.9 million, 11 percent of the Nation's total, announced the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Expenditures for Northeast farms averaged $46,586, compared with a $58,049 National average. In this region the cost of feed topped the list of expenditures, but on the U. S. level, the costs of livestock and poultry were greatest.

Feed costs, at $2.5 million, were the largest expenditure group, accounting for 16.7 percent of the total. Seed, plant, fertilizer and chemical expenditures totaled $2.0 million, 13.7 percent of the total, to rank as the second highest group. Motor vehicles and farm machinery followed in third place, accounting for $1.7 million or 11.7 percent of the total.

Other major expenses were: farm services, costing nearly $1.6 million or 10.5 percent; wages and labor at $1.5 million, 9.9 percent; interest and taxes at nearly $1.4 million and 9.2 percent.

Deadline To File For Wool Payments Is January 31

Wool and lamb producers have until January 31, 1981 to file for their 1980 incentive payments, according to Paul A. Crowl, Chairperson of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee. "Sales slips from 1980 wool and unshorn lamb marketings must be presented before producers can receive the payments", said Crowl.

Support prices for 1980 shorn wool marketing will be $1.23 per pound. Crowl said the 1980 support price for shorn wool is at 72.4 percent of parity.

As in past years, shorn wool payments for 1980 will be based on a percentage of each producer's returns from sales. The percentage will be the amount required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool in 1980 up to the $1.23 per pound support price.

Crowl said the Wool Program is intended to encourage a producer to improve the quality of wool.

Deductions of 2 1/2 cents a pound from 1980 shorn wool payments and 12 1/2 cents per hundred pounds of liveweight from 1980 lamb payments will be made to finance advertising, sales promotion, and related market development activities. These deductions were approved by a 75.3 percent favorable vote by sheep producers voting in an August 1979 referendum.

AURORA-EGLON NEWS

There will be weekend services on December 5, 6 and 7 at the Maple Grove Assembly of God church with the Rev. Louise Smeltzer, a former pastor, bringing the message each evening at 7:00 p.m. On Saturday evening, December 6, the Son Rise Quartet will be present with special music. Everyone is invited to these services.

A Tannebaum Festival will take place December 6 in the Kingwood Community Building from 10:00 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. This event is sponsored by the Preston County Extension Homemakers Council and involves most of the county clubs. Featured will be decorated trees with handmade decorations and baked goods, specializing in cookies. There will be door prizes and pictures with Santa. Everyone is invited.

Ezra Slaubaugh of Eglon was honored on Sunday with a dinner and testimonials to his service to his church and community at the Maple Spring Church of the Brethren.

This 93-year old citizen of the Eglon community was born here, a son of the late Fred and Saloma Fike Slaubaugh. He has been a member of the Eglon Congregation Church of the Brethren for 80 of those years and a deacon for 73 of them. He remains active in his carpentry shop and garden, is a regular attendant at church, and continues to drive his car and tell his stories in the Pennsylvania Dutch dialect. His wife, the late Martha Bucklew Slaubaugh, died two years ago and since then he has lived alone in his mobile home on a corner of the old farm.

Here for the occasion were his children: Nellie and Tony Kaminski of Warren, Michigan; Mrs. Zelda Snyder, Red House; Quinter and Eileen Slaubaugh, Beltsville, Md.; and Devaux and Geraldine Armentrout, Charleston. His grandsons, Robert Snyder and wife of Red House, and Bruce Armentrout, wife Renee and their two children of Charleston, also attended. His two sisters, Sadie Gnegy of Red House and many of her family, Fred and Vesta Stemple of Aurora, also were present.

Friends and relatives from the local church and from the Brookside and Gortner churches within the congregation also attended. A framed certificate denoting his service to the church and community and gifts from the local churches were presented to him. He also recited one of his stories, this one in the Negro dialect on "Noah and the Ark".

Mr. Slaubaugh voted at Precinct 41 in Eglon in the recent election, driving there in his own car.

Miss Linda Marie Brown became the bride of James David Martin in a 4:00 p.m. ceremony in the Central Highlands Community United Methodist Church, Elizabeth, Pa., on November 22. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brown of Elizabeth and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. (Bill) Martin, Aurora.

Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Andrew C. Harvey, pastor of the church. Attending the bride as her maid of honor was her sister, Susan Brown, and bridesmaids Dianna Mayne, sister of the groom and Denota DeCarlo, friend of the bride. J. Roy "Bud" Lipscomb served the groom as best man while groomsmen were Thomas Martin, his brother, and Russell Brown, brother of the bride. James David Martin II, son of the groom, served as ring bearer.

The bride is employed by the Preston County Board of Education as first grade teacher in the Aurora Elementary School. The groom is a farmer and millwright and has been employed at the Bloomington Dam project. The couple will reside at their Mountain Top home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Lewis of Horse Shoe Run announce the arrival of their second child on November 20. Their first daughter, the baby has been named Coriell Lane and she weighed eight pounds, twelve and one-half ounces at birth in Garrett County Memorial Hospital.

The mother is the former Debbie Rizer. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Rizer of Cleveland. Maternal great-grandparents are Mrs. Twila Clark of Kempton, Mrs. Thelma Rizer of Cleveland and William Rizer of Parsons. Paternal grandparents are Cecil "Whitie" Lewis of Aurora and Mrs. Nina Wallace of Houston, Texas. The paternal great-grandmother is Mrs. Edna Lewis, Parsons.

The Stemple Ridge Ladies Aid met November 5 in the home of Mrs. Eldean Harsh, where they knotted a comfort before beginning their regular business meeting. Fifteen members and five children were present and the hostess led the devotions using Psalm 86:1-11 as the basis.

The load of collected glass was hauled away by Glenn Harsh. Refinishing of the church floor has been postponed until after the winter months.

The Christmas party for members and their families will be December 14 at 6:30 p.m., a covered dish meal at the church. Names were exchanged for this event.

The mission project will be to send needed clothes to the family of the Glenn Harsh's daughter-in-law, which is in Thailand. All of the homemade applebutter has been sold. The ladies will be serving lunches to the deer hunters every day during the first week of hunting season, except Thanksgiving Day, at the former Grover White store on Stemple Ridge. Pig-in-the-poke of $2.82 was won by Bliss Harsh.

Claude Pennington of Eglon remains a patient in Garrett County Memorial Hospital where he is scheduled for surgery this week.

Also a patient there is Charles Lipscomb of Eglon who underwent surgery.

Alden Wilt of Eglon was taken last Monday to Garrett Memorial Hospital, but was able to return to his home on Friday.

On Thursday, Mrs. Helen Borcher of Aurora underwent surgery in Garrett Memorial Hospital. She has returned to the home of her granddaughter and husband, Dr. and Mrs. Greg Pinkerton.

Word was received here that Melvin Slaubaugh of Bridgewater, Va., is recuperating from recent surgery in Rockingham Memorial Hospital, Harrisonburg, following an accident at the Bridgewater Home where he was working. He is a former resident of Kingwood and native of Eglon.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hauser of Aurora received word that their son-in-law, Lester Kelly, is critically ill at the Shaw AFB, Columbia, S.C. His wife, Mary reports that he is now improving, but he was suffering from blood poisoning which resulted when he stepped on a nail.

The family and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hauser met in the Aurora Community Building on Sunday for their annual Thanksgiving Dinner. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Wade J. Houser and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Hauser and children, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Sisler and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Nice, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sisler and children, Ernestine Sisler, Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Wycoff, Mr.

State Among Leaders In Providing Financial Assistance To Industry

A study released this week by the Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development shows Maryland is among the nation's leaders in providing financial assistance to new and expanding businesses.

Prepared by the Departments Office of Development Planning, the 182-page study presents a detailed analysis of all of Maryland's available financial assistance programs, pointing out some of their strengths and weaknesses and drawing comparisons between similar programs elsewhere in the country. As an example, of 13 different programs available nationwide, two states offer eight of the programs, three offer seven, with Maryland and eight other states offering six of the programs. The remaining 36 states in the nation offer five or fewer of the programs.

The study shows the most popular assistance program is locally funded Industrial Revenue Bonds (IRBs) - - - 46 states offer this program - - - followed by 34 states offering medium-term working capital programs. Direct loans by states and state-funded IRBs were tied for third in popularity (24 states) with local programs for constructing shell buildings a close fourth (23 states). Only one state, Connecticut, offers a local loan guarantee program.

The study shows that in the past decade new and expanding industry in Maryland has received nearly $1 billion in federal, state and local financial assistance. Of that total, state and local programs have provided $801.9 million between 1970-79 with the federal government adding $177.4 million between 1975-79.

Of the $801.9 million in state and local assistance to industry, local IRBs provided $630.3 million with the Maryland Industrial Development Financing Authority (MIDFA) accounting for $159.2 million. The Development Credit Corporation of Maryland (DCCM) provided $6.6 million and the Maryland Industrial Land Act (MILA) allowed for $5.7 in assistance.

On the federal level, the Small Business Administration provided $123 million to Maryland industry between 1975-79 with the Economic Development Administration adding $29 million and the Farmers Home Administration providing $24 million.

Garrett County received approximately $196,000 of state and local financial assistance and $1.5 million in federal assistance. All of these funds were distributed through the Farmers Home Administration.

SOAP OPERA WEEK

Actor's exit creates another 'EON' mystery

By NANCY M. REICHARDT

NEW YORK — Lee Godart's exit from "Edge of Night" to pursue other acting outlets has left the crime-drama show with another unsolved murder mystery. Suspected in Eliot Dorn's murder are Raven Swift (Sharon Gabet) who was blackmailed by Dorn, Jody Travis (Lori Loughlin) a waitress at Dorn's Unicorn restaurant-bar, puppeteer Kelly McGrath (Allen Fawcett) and Jody's dance coach, Gavin Wylie (Mark Arnold). If the show's writing runs true to course, when the murder mystery is solved it could mean the end of the road for one of the four murder suspects, since most "EON" murderers end up dead themselves.

If you are a John McCook (ex-Lance Prentiss on "The Young and The Restless") fan, you won't want to miss seeing the talented actor in the Broadway hit musical, "Brigadoon." The New York City production is at the Majestic Theater.

Jerry Lanning (Justin Marshall on "Texas") and his lovely wife Sherry Mathis (Lisa Swanson, and Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schoenbeck, Miami, Florida.

Eliot Dorn (Lee Godart) of "EON" is surrounded by his murder suspects (upper left, clockwise) Lori Loughlin (Jody Travis), Allen Fawcett (Kelly McGrath), Mark Arnold (Gavin Wylie) and Sharon Gabet (Raven Swift).

Restless" following graduation from Northern Illinois University in 1976. Tomlin appeared on the soap, "Search For Tomorrow" as Bruce Carson and on "Another World" as Morgan Simpson before being signed as a writer on "DOOL."

Debby Boone, her husband Gabriel and their son Jordan will arrive by train, along with Glen Campbell, Tanya Tucker and Miss Tucker's mother, Loretta Lynn, husband Mooney and twin daughters Patsy and Peggy, with Tom Wopat and his friend Maryellen Aviano will arrive by hay wagon.

STARVIEW

Here are puppets for adults and children

By RUTH THOMPSON

Television has spawned opportunities for puppeteers that were undreamed of until the last two generations, with big budgets and audiences in the millions. Still, many of the major leagueers, at some point, crave getting back to live theater presentations now and then.

Burr Tillstrom has done it with "Kukla, Fran and Ollie," plus a few sophisticated creations that didn't fit into his television format.

Jim Henson, who has expanded into big-screen movies in addition to his weekly "Muppet Show" (currently in more than 100 countries) took time out to tackle Broadway, too, in a limited run a few years ago.

And Bill Baird, who had done seasonal Broadway shows — usually timed to children's school holidays — tried for years to get the funding to keep his puppet theater on Barrow Street in New York alive for the training of would-be puppeteers.

"It is a great sorrow to all of us, that he did not get the support he needed," says Eric Smith, a popular puppeteer on the other side of the Atlantic, in Israel, the mid-East and in South Africa, who is making his first tour of the United States.

Eric, now in his mid-30s but looking younger, doesn't have to explain who he means by "all of us." Talk to any creative puppeteer and words of praise pour out for other writers of the form, which is both art and craft.

Jim Henson, the daddy of the Muppets, speaks warmly of Tillstrom and Baird. And Smith speaks reverently of Henson as well.

But he does stiffen when his "Tamar's Hut" series is called "The Muppets of Israel." In his quiet way, he makes it clear that's unfair all around. He has also done syndicated shows from Munich. "The important thing is nobody is jealous of another puppeteer. We draw inspiration from the past, but we come up with our own things. The good thing for me was settling in Tel Aviv where art and culture are revered.

Even if a series for the United States, now under discussion, were to materialize in the near future, Eric gives no indication that he would migrate again from his Tel Aviv headquarters.

No need to, for one thing. All his productions are nonethnic and of international interest. He was born in South Africa and served an apprenticeship in London as a designer of stage sets, before finding Israel receptive to his dream of "Eric's Puppet Theater."

Eric is not Jewish, but he is learning Hebrew. A little Russian would help, too, since his six main associates are Jewish emigres from the Soviet Union.

One of the shows now touring the United States — with occasional forays into Canada — is Eric's version of the "Wizard of Oz" done to Scott Joplin music and with a saucy, blond Dorothy who wears glasses. He also has one production, primarily for adults, the full Rossini opera, "The Italian Girl in Algiers."

Right now, he's pondering ways to convert the huge arena in Westbury, Long Island, into a proper puppet proscenium for Christmas week. After that, any television logistics should pale by comparison.

ASK ME ABOUT TV

By VAL CAREW

JOB SEEKER — I am interested in the address of "The Lawrence Welk Show" to send the producers a resume. I am an actor and a singer. I've performed in plays in a high school level and I now work part-time at Sally's Stage in Chicago. — David Hickey, Chicago

If you have a good-quality voice tape that shows off your singing voice, that would be better to submit. The odds against you are very big, as I'm sure you know, but you have the correct attitude in that you are working at what you want to do. Keep doing that and don't get discouraged. Welk's office is Television, 100 Wilshire Blvd., Santa Monica, CA 90401.

DAY TIME — We've been talking about Doris Day and how we miss seeing her on TV and in films. But none of us could recall the name of the band she sang with when she began her career even though we all know she started as a big band singer. Can you help us? — Amy B. Anchorage, Alaska

Doris sang with two bands, Les Brown and Bob Crosby. Lots of other big names sang with bands, too. For instance, Rita Hayworth sang with Xavier Cugat, Mike Douglas with Kay Kyser, Art Carney with Horace Heidt, Betty Grable with Ted Fio Rita and Dale Evans with Anson Weeks. Ken Curtis, who played Festus in "Gunsmoke" for years, once sang with Tommy Dorsey. And this just names a few.

PHUNNY MEMORY — I have been discussing a favorite actor of mine — Peter O'Toole. I swear that I remember seeing him in a very funny movie a dozen years ago on TV. He played an English actor who was very egotistical and it concerned him and his friends and business associates. Please tell me the name of the show — if I didn't dream it — so my friends and I can get back to discussing O'Toole instead of arguing. — Mimi H., Glens Falls, N.Y.

Consider your problem solved. The show was Noel Coward's "Present Laughter." It was made for TV in England and showed on ABC here at least 20 years ago. You are right, it was very funny and O'Toole was great. The show is one of my favorite TV memories.

DEVINE DEVANE — William Devane was sensational in "From Here to Eternity" he was on TV recently, in "Marathon Man" and "The Missiles of October." Can you give me some information about him and where I can write to him. — Joanna Hendrickson, Elmwood Park, Ill.

Devane is a native of Albany, N.Y., and that's where, by working in little theater, he became interested in acting. He later studied in New York City at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. His career began when he was paid $10 a week as a spear carrier in "The Merchant of Venice." He first attracted attention in New York playing Bobby Kennedy in "Macbird," an adaptation of Macbeth into a look at the Kennedys and LBJ. He played the lead in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" in New York and later reprised his performance in Los Angeles. He was also in the movies "Family Plot" and "The Bad News Bears" and on TV he played John Henry Faulk in "Fear on Trial." Write him in care of his agent, William Morris, 151 El Camino Drive, Beverly Hills, CA 90212.

Ann Reinking dances and all that jazz

She has a half-dozen Broadway shows under her belt in which she was just plain dazzling, two movies, including "All That Jazz", and she turned down parts in both "Charlie's Angels" and "Three's Company." But she doesn't have a press agent. In fact, it wasn't long ago that the biography they sent misspelled her name.

None of which fazes Ann Reinking. She's home safe now, and you'll discover why when she does a Bob Fosse number in "Julie Andrews' Invitation to the Dance With Rudolf Nureyev," to be broadcast Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30 on "The CBS Festival of Lively Arts for Young People" series.

Right from dance class, she sits in a dusty little office massaging her legs. But the ache in her is something she lives with. "Anyone who does star dancing on side work," she says, "gets pulled muscles. You're really out there eight performances a week, trying to make it work and be the best. You have to give them more than step-kick-kick. It's like being a star football player. You get a few more injuries than the guy sitting on the bench."

Miss Reinking has spent little time on the bench. She arrived in New York from her native Seattle, Wash., at 18. Her first job was in the corps de ballet at Radio City Music Hall. "It was a good place to learn the ropes, to learn professionalism. She was quite a cut-up. 'I'd go on stage with a squirt gun or blacken my teeth.' But she got over that. 'On Broadway, I would have been fired. You don't have girls walking around with squirt guns.'

"Although classically trained, Miss Reinking had no qualms about going into show dancing, despite its rather low esteem in some quarters. "Would you say Fred Astaire isn't an artist?" she asks.

Her next job was in the chorus of a touring "Fiddler on the Roof." After those six months, she now says, "I'll never go on the road again. Happily she didn't have to. Bob Fosse cast her in "Pippin," in which he used dancers as individuals, rather than anonymous chorus members. Then it was on to the starring role of Joan of Arc in the flop musical "Goodbye, Charley." But who wouldn't want to play a saint?" she asks.

Then came "Coco," the Katharine Hepburn musical. Miss Reinking had a small part. "Katharine Hepburn said to me, 'You can act.' Wasn't that nice?" Then she went through her replacement period, taking over for Donna McKechnie in "A Chorus Line" and Gwen Verdon in "Chicago." Says Miss Reinking, "Someone said I was the replacement queen of Broadway."

Miss Reinking's last show was "Dancin", which led to "All That Jazz." The next stop is playing Grace Farrell, Daddy Warbucks's secretary, in the film version of "Annie." But she looks beyond that. Most dancers peak at about 35. Like Shirley MacLaine and Chita Rivera, Miss Reinking hopes to find her ultimate security in acting.

"It's all acting," she says. "We have a tendency to categorize things too much. But acting is something I can do. I'd like to be able to make a living for myself past the age of 45 or 50. I don't want to kill myself every night if I don't have to. You try doing this at 50. It'll hurt. It hurts now."

'Babe' cuts a figure; Coburn plays a heavy

By CINDY ADAMS

Six-foot-tall Margaux Hemingway was moving it along Park Avenue in purple spike heels, purple pants suit, blonde hair, bright blue eyeshadow — and a headset. What was piped into the earphones of Faberge's fabulous "Babe." I don't know, but figures it wasn't Bobby Short gargling "Charlie." A leading man since the Stone Age, James Coburn switches to playing a heavy in the soon-due Warners job, "Looker." To reach Iran's ex-Empress Farah Diba, a note first goes through Sadat's presidential palace staff in Cairo before it goes through to the empress' personal palace staff in Heliopolis, where she lives surrounded by armed guards in one of King Farouk's palaces.

Marie Osmond's Mormon mommy, daddy and kinfolk are mad at sister Marie for dumping Utah for her own Hollywood apartment. Sinful and wicked, they say. ... That romance between Bianca Jagger and that really young man, model John Samuels Jr., is going almost as well as her career.

Jim Hoffman mumble that in the next decade he sure is still Robert Redford vs. Warren Beatty for the presidency?

A gift from Mrs. George Bush to a chum was a homemade, handmade traveling sewing kit with 20 needles pre-threaded with 20 different colors pinned into a length of muslin folded like a belt. ... Burt Bacharach and a group of 15 dumped plans for their concert in Manila. They'll wait until the atmosphere there's a little friendlier. ... To reach Iran's ex-Empress Farah Diba, a note first goes through Sadat's presidential palace staff in Cairo before it goes through to the empress' personal palace staff in Heliopolis, where she lives surrounded by armed guards in one of King Farouk's palaces.

IN FOCUS

NBC special explores the inside of fashion

AMERICAN FASHION — NBC News correspondent Robin Young chats with designer Calvin Klein, who parlayed three dresses and six coats into a multi-million-dollar business.

"NBC Reports — American Fashion ... Rags and Riches" is an inside look at how fashions are dreamed up by famous designers, promoted skillfully as symbols of glamour and then copied by the millions. It airs Sunday, Nov. 30, on NBC.

The documentary, produced by Adrienne Cowles, features NBC News correspondent Robin Young as reporter. The program will take a close look at how the clothing industry's leading designers work and how they — through the fashion media — influence American consumers.

"It's a huge business," says Young. "The designers and their business managers not only can get big money from wealthy customers for clothing but they have found many other ways to exploit names with an aura of glamour. Designers of garments are licensing their names to perfume, neckties, leather goods and eye glasses, hundreds of products with huge earning potential.

"And the products are selling. For the designers and their associates it can mean millions of dollars. And for a public now apparently consumed by a mania for famous names on labels, it means a little piece of status."

A segment filmed in the garment center along Seventh Avenue in New York City, the fashion capital of the world, will focus on Michaele Vollbracht, a young designer whom experts think has new ideas that will show up soon in what American women will will be wearing. Young says he is just now beginning to get recognition.

The program will explore the impact of the "fashion press" on the fortunes of the garment industry. Colorful publications such as Vogue, Harper's Bazaar and Glamour tell upper-class American women what they are supposed to buy and wear, but it is Women's Wear Daily, the "bible" of the fashion trade, that designers consider the most influencial. Buyers for major retail outlets all over the country closely follow WWD to see what is going on in fashion, Young says, and it is their recommendations that decide what finally is sold in the stores.

Another area of the big business of fashion is represented by the manufacturer who "knocks off" (copies) the latest big-name designs and gets them into retail outlets for a fraction of the original's asking price. These "knock off" manufacturers reflect the largest sales by far to the American consumer. One entrepreneur interviewed by Young says his sales target is the average secretry, who has little money to spend on clothes.

Besides Vollbracht, designers Bill Blass, Halston and Calvin Klein will appear on the broadcast. Klein's story is the dream of everyone in the "rag trade." Starting in the Bronx 12 years ago, he and his friend, Barry Schwartz, a supermarket manager, parlayed three dresses and six coats into a multi-million-dollar business.

TV Circles

By Bob Bowie

Words in the list below appear across, up, down, backwards and diagonally in the diagram. Find each word and draw a circle around its letters, then cross the word off the list. Some circled letters appear in more than one word. The letters that form the answer will be left over. Unscramble and arrange them to create a word, or words, that will provide the answer.

TV TATTLE

Subject: divorce

Emmy-winner Fred Rogers, creator and host of "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood," recently produced five programs on the subject of divorce to be broadcast on PBS Feb. 16-20. A one-hour special, "Mister Rogers Talks with Parents about Divorce," is tentatively scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 15, to precede the week of programs.

The theme was chosen because of Rogers' concern that nearly every family in this country is touched by divorce in some way, either in the immediate family, through a relative, friend or classmate of the child's. Rogers will assure his young audience that parents can get angry and quarrel without the marriage ending in divorce. When divorce does occur, children often feel they caused it. "We want to clearly tell children a divorce is not their fault. Things such as buying houses, getting married or getting a divorce are all grown-up things. Children sometimes think a lot about them, but it's the grown-ups who do them," says Rogers.

'Project Peacock'

Four diverse shows are among the initial programs to go into production for NBC's "Project Peacock," a series of prime-time programs for young people.

— An hour with Phil Donahue talking with youngsters who survived catastrophic illnesses.

— An intimate look at the relationship between a famous wild-animal trainer, Gunther Gebel-Williams, and his son.

— A comedy-drama by writer Charles "Peanuts" Schulz about children, adults and a stuffed dog.

— A celebration of how the very young and the very old enjoy each other, starring Jack Albertson and Quinn Cummings.

The series will premiere in February 1981.

PBS retains ban

The executive committee of the Public Broadcasting Service recently decided that program underwriting by companies with an interest in cigarette and liquor products will continue to be prohibited. A proposal to broaden program underwriting to include companies that may own subsidiaries that have an interest in cigarette and liquor products, even if the corporate name is not the same as a product name, was turned down at the committee's meeting in Las Vegas last month.

However, the committee did approve the use of corporate logos for on-air underwriting credits, subject to approval by the Federal Communications Commission.

Video catalog

If you're strictly a just-the-facts-please individual and interested in the status of video, there's a new publication you should see. Video magazine has just published a 250-page soft-cover "Video Industry Directory" that lists and profiles virtually all companies involved in the manufacture of video hardware and software.

Included in the directory are listings of trade associations, consumer and trade publications, a glossary of video terms, a catalog of industry resources, a calendar of industry events and a history of the home video industry. Did you know, for example, that X-rated films accounted for 49 percent of cassette movie sales in 1979, with old-time classics following at 31 percent and recent blockbusters at only 28 percent?

The directory is indispensable for industry executives, libraries and video artists. Its publishers promise it will be updated annually. Copies of the 1980 edition are available from Savvy Management, 80 Fourth Avenue, Suite 800, New York, NY 10003. Single copy price is $25 postpaid.

There's no place like home for the holidays.

That's because Christmas is something special in America. And America is something special, too.

So why not give those you love a small piece of home this Christmas? Give them U.S. Savings Bonds. And help keep Christmas future as good and safe as Christmas past.

Meat Production Statistics Noted

Commercial red meat production in Maryland and Delaware totaled 11.0 million pounds in October, according to the Maryland-Delaware Crop Reporting Service. Production increased 2 percent above October 1979 and 7 percent more than September of this year. Accumulated production through the first nine months of 1980 amounted to 98.2 million pounds, 16 percent more than the same period last year.

Cattle slaughter in Maryland during October amounted to 6,400 head, an increase of 8 percent from last year and 16 percent more than last month. Live weight of cattle slaughtered in October averaged 1,107 pounds, 44 pounds more than last October.

Calves butchered, at 2,100 head were unchanged from last year and 11 percent more than the 1,900 head butchered during September. Live weights of calves averaged 328 pounds, 4 pounds heavier than last October.

Hog kill at 39,800 head for October was 3 percent less than October 1979 and 2 percent less than September 1980. Hogs slaughtered for October averaged 226 pounds, unchanged from last year's average.

"LOOK, ED, THERE GOES ONE OF THOSE SKI NUTS."

Pork Producers Approve Check-off Plan Continuation

Maryland pork producers who voted earlier this month have approved continuation of a check-off program for their commodity. The vote was 166 for to 41 against, representing an overwhelming (80.2%) margin of approval according to Tom Butler, Marketing specialist, with the Maryland Department of Agriculture.

Votes were cast in 18 of the state's counties. No votes were recorded from Garrett, Allegany, Harford, Cecil and Kent counties.

As a result of the referendum, effective January 1st, 1981, each hog sold for slaughter in the state of Maryland will have twenty cents (20c) checked off at the point of first sale.

"All hogs" include finished hogs, sows, boars, cull animals and swine of any type sold for slaughter. "Point of first sale" for slaughter includes the sale of hogs enroute for slaughter through auction markets, commission firms, dealers, slaughter houses or buying stations, Butler said.

The check-off does not, however, cover custom-slaughtered hogs.

There is a refund provision whereby pork producers who do not wish to participate in the program can file in writing for a return of assessments made against the hogs they have sold, Butler stated. The actual deduction for the assessment is automatic and is done by the sales agency or buyer involved.

Those with specific questions about the program are invited to contact Maryland Pork Producers Association President Russell G. Watson, Route 3, Box 238, Brandywine, Md., 20613 (301-579-6844); or Donald Morrison, Rural Rhythm Farm, Dayton, Md., 21036 (301-286-3351).

Maryland pork producers first voted in a check-off system in 1975. The monies raised through the program are used for product promotion and betterment purposes and is similar to many other voluntary producer check-off programs in agriculture.
